SPECIAL ORDER

HB 613-FN, exempting prepared take-out food items sold in supermarkets from the meals and rooms tax. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Peter H. Allen for Ways and Means: This bill would exempt from rooms and meals tax prepared food items sold by supermarkets. The concept came from an old court case, superseded by a 1985 Supreme Court decision, that the exemption of prepared take out food items sold in supermarkets was unconstitutional. Vote 15-0.

Rep. Field spoke against.

Rep. Peter Allen spoke in favor.

HB 671-FN-A-L, relative to an exemption from the real estate transfer tax. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Howie Lund for Ways and Means: This bill would exempt certain real estate transactions from the real estate transfer tax. The tax loophole proposed by this bill was closed by legislation a few years ago. At that time it was causing a loss of $4 million to $7 million in real estate tax revenues. With this loophole a lot of commercial properties would avoid the real estate tax. Twenty percent of the states real estate valuation is commercial property. Home ownership transferred from personal account to a family trust is not subject to the real estate transfer tax. Also, the majority of the committee felt this bill lacked clarity and would create interpretation problems for the DRA. The DRA estimated that the bills passage would again reduce revenues between $4 and $7 million per year. Further, the DRA stated there would be added staff and administrative costs associated with the bills passage. Vote 12-6.

Rep. Currier spoke against.

Rep. Jasper spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

On a division vote, 202 members having voted in the affirmative and 84 in the negative, the committee report was adopted.

RECONSIDERATION

Having voted with the prevailing side, Rep. Soltani moved that the House reconsider its action whereby it voted HB 665-FN-L, relative to the applicable minimum wage for hourly employees, Ought to Pass with Amendment.

Rep. Weyler spoke in favor.

Rep. Keans spoke against.

Rep. Herbert Richardson requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

BILLS REMOVED FROM CONSENT CALENDAR OF MARCH 30, 2005

HB 717, prohibiting cancellation of property and liability insurance on the basis of certain political activities. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Donald H. Flanders for Commerce: The committee felt this bill was unnecessary as ample markets are currently providing this coverage. Present homeowner policies do not exclude coverage for political activities and umbrella liability policies generally follow form with its underlying policies. Although some companies specifically exclude political coverage due to their underwriting criteria or reinsurance limitations, coverage can usually be obtained by shopping other carriers. In addition to this, elected members of the legislature have constitutional protection while participating in the meetings of the legislature or its committees. Vote 18-2.

Rep. Claudia Chase spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. DeJoie spoke against.

Reps. James Martin and Stepanek spoke in favor.

On a division vote, 143 members having voted in the affirmative and 133 in the negative, the committee report was adopted.

SPECIAL ORDER

Rep. O'Neil moved that HB 635-FN-L, relative to education funding, be made a Special Order in the Regular Calendar order for April 13, 2005.

Adopted.

HB 270, relative to procedures of the legislative ethics committee. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Michael D. Whalley for Election Law: This bill, as amended, establishes requirements and procedures for disqualification of and recusal by legislative ethics committee members. Testimony received by the committee indicated that appropriate guidelines were not presently in place. The committee felt that this oversight should be corrected. Vote 17-0.

Amendment (0797h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

I New Section; Legislative Ethics Committee; Disqualification and Duty to Recuse. Amend RSA 14-B by inserting after section 4 the following new section:

14-B:4-a Disqualification and Duty to Recuse.

I. No member shall participate in any matter which the committee is to decide in a judicial capacity if that member has a direct personal or pecuniary interest in the outcome which differs from the interest of another legislator, or if that member would be disqualified for any reason stated for jury disqualification under RSA 500-A:12. Reasons for disqualification shall not include knowledge of the facts involved gained in the performance of the member's official duties on the committee.

II. A member who is recused or disqualified shall not participate in any discussions of the committee nor make any public or private statements to any member of the committee or to any other person until the final determination of the committee has been made or until any final recommendation of the committee has been issued. Such member may attend public meetings or hearings of the committee; however, if so present, such member shall not be seated at the committee table nor take any actions whereby it may be perceived by another legislator or the public that the member is acting as a member of the committee.

III. The committee may, upon the request of a member or any other person, vote on the question of whether a member should be recused or disqualified in a particular matter. Any such request and vote shall be made prior to or at the commencement of any action relative to that matter or immediately upon the discovery of a reason for recusal or disqualification at any time during the course of committee action of a matter. Such vote shall be advisory and nonbinding.

IV. A violation of this section shall be considered a violation of the guidelines established by the committee.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes requirements and procedures for disqualification of and recusal by legislative ethics committee members.

Rep. Whalley spoke in favor.

Amendment adopted.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 371, relative to mercury reduction. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Suzanne S. Butcher for Environment and Agriculture: This bill bans the disposal of mercury-added products in a landfill or transfer station, requiring that they be separated for recycling or disposal as a hazardous waste. Industry already has strict recycling requirements; this bill covers household products such as fluorescent tubes, batteries and thermometers. The amendment allows more flexibility for implementation and extends the effective date to January 1, 2006. This bill is in keeping with joint efforts in New England to remove mercury from the waste stream and is supported by the Department of Environmental Services. Vote 17-0.

Amendment (0665h)

Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 149-M:58, V as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

V. Owners and operators of solid waste transfer stations and landfill facilities shall not be found to have knowingly accepted or disposed of mercury-added products if, at a minimum, the facility has implemented any of the following mechanisms:

Amend RSA 149-M:58 as inserted by section 1 of the bill by deleting paragraph VI and renumbering the original paragraph VII to read as paragraph VI.

Amend the bill by replacing section 2 with the following:

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 2006.

Amendment adopted.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 158, relative to the Auburn District Court. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Tony F. Soltani for Judiciary: This bill addressed three distinct issues with the district court. The Hampton and Exeter Courts are in a very difficult position. Their present location does not accommodate the space needs nor are the litigants and employees able to properly and efficiently carry on the business of the court. The bill temporarily locates the Hampton Court in a Seabrook facility and Exeter District Court in a facility in Seabrook. A permanent remedy is expected in the next three to four years. The Auburn District Court building is moldy, subject to leaks and flooding. The air quality is also substandard. The facility is also located in the southern most location of a district which is very inconvenient for most of the towns in the northern portion of the district. With the shifting population, the most central location of the district fall in Raymond or Candia. The bill places this court in either Candia or Raymond on a permanent basis with the ability to hold court in any town in the district from time to time. Vote 16-0.

Amendment (0861h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to Auburn, Exeter, and Hampton District Courts.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 District Courts; Auburn-Candia-Raymond District. RSA 502-A:1, IV is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

IV. AUBURN-CANDIA-RAYMOND DISTRICT. The Auburn-Candia-Raymond district shall consist of the towns of Auburn, Candia, Deerfield, Nottingham, Raymond, and Northwood. The court shall be located in Candia or Raymond. The court shall hold sessions regularly at the principal court location and elsewhere in the district as justice may require. The court shall bear the name of the city or town in which it is located.

2 District Courts; Hampton District; Exeter District. Amend RSA 502-A:1, II and II-a to read as follows:

II. HAMPTON DISTRICT. The Hampton district shall consist of the towns of Hampton, Hampton Falls, North Hampton, South Hampton, and Seabrook. The district court for the district shall be temporarily located in [~~Hampton~~] Seabrook, holding sessions regularly therein and elsewhere in the district as justice may require. The name of this court shall be the Hampton District Court.

II-a. EXETER DISTRICT. The Exeter district shall consist of the towns of Exeter, Newmarket, Stratham, Newfields, Fremont, East Kingston, Kensington, Epping, and Brentwood. The district court for the district shall temporarily be located in [~~Exeter~~] Brentwood, holding sessions regularly therein and elsewhere in the district as justice may require. The name of this court shall be the Exeter District Court.

3 Contingency. RSA 502-A:1, II and II-a as inserted by section 2 of this act shall remain in effect until the Hampton District Court and Exeter District Court are permanently sited in accordance with 2004, 236:8-10, or other provisions of law. In any event the court shall be permanently sited no later than January 1, 2011.

4 Effective Date.

I. Section 1 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2006.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill changes the name of the Auburn judicial district to the Auburn-Candia-Raymond district and requires the court to be located in Candia or Raymond.

The bill also temporarily changes the locations of the Hampton District Court and the Exeter District Court.

Amendment adopted.

Rep. Paul Smith offered floor amendment (0938h).

HB 536, relative to excluding deductions from compensation from all elected state, county, and local officials. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Anna Tilton for Legislative Administration: Although the committee felt there were some good points brought forward in the testimony, courts have determined that for purposes of compensation state representatives fall within the state guidelines for deductions to be withheld. The committee is retaining CACR 11, relative to the compensation of the legislature, and the committee agrees to also discuss the issue in this bill in conjunction with CACR 11. Vote 8-2.

Rep. Marple spoke against.

Rep. McKinney spoke in favor.

On a division vote, 205 members having voted in the affirmative and 63 in the negative, the committee report was adopted.

HCR 9, commending the New Hampshire Fisher Cats on their championship. OUGHT TO PASS
Rep. Caitlin A. Daniuk for Legislative Administration: We want to commend the New Hampshire Fisher Cats. Motion adopted.

HB 537, relative to liens filed with public servants. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Stephen G. Prichard for Municipal and County Government: This bill would prohibit public servants from accepting or recording liens that did not comply with Part II, Article 87 of the NH Constitution. The hearing's opening was delayed for several minutes, but the committee was unable to find any of the bill's sponsors when the hearing started. It was kept open throughout the day. Having no testimony from any of the sponsors and unable to be clear about the bill's intent and the circumstances which prompted its initiation, the committee closed the hearing at 4pm on that day March 17th. Vote 14-0.

Rep. Marple spoke against.

Rep. Patten spoke in favor.

Committee report adopted.

HB 710-FN, establishing property appraisals for the taxation of property based upon its current use as a residence for persons over 65. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Rep Eric G. Stohl for Municipal and County Government: This bill as amended addresses two issues dealing with assessing practices. In the first instance it deals with the stipulation in RSA 75-8-a that municipal property values on all real estate shall be assessed at least every five years. Due to changes in the department of revenue's method of reviewing the assessing practices within municipalities statewide there needs to be an opportunity for a municipality to show that a full revaluation is not necessary based on the results of DRA's review indicating that the municipality is in compliance RSA 75:1 regarding market value for all their properties. In the second instance it deals with the adjustment of the equalized assessed value in the town of Roxbury. A tax exempt property was reported as a taxable property which increased the tax burden to the citizens of Roxbury. This legislation does not seek to reduce the value reported in error for the last three years but it does reduce the inaccurate value that was reported to DRA. Vote 15-0.

Amendment (0885h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the 5-year valuation of municipal assessments, and relative to the total property valuation for the town of Roxbury.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Five-Year Valuation. RSA 75:8-a is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

75:8-a Five-Year Valuation. The assessors and selectmen shall reappraise all real estate within the municipality so that the assessments are at full and true value at least as often as every fifth year, beginning with the later of either of the following:

I. The first year a municipality's assessments were reviewed by the commissioner of the department of revenue administration pursuant to RSA 21-J:3, XXVI and the municipality's assessments were determined to be in accordance with RSA 75:1; or

II. The municipality conducted a full revaluation monitored by the department of revenue administration pursuant to RSA 21-J:11, II, provided that the full revaluation was effective on or after April 1, 1999.

2 Town of Roxbury; Total Valuation Adjusted By the Department of Revenue Administration. The commissioner of revenue administration shall adjust the 2003 total town valuation for the town of Roxbury to exclude the $2,143,500 of exempt property previously included as taxable property. Notwithstanding RSA 21-J:35, the department shall forthwith utilize such adjusted total valuation in all calculations of town, county, state education, and local education tax rates, and in the determination of equalized assessed valuation.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill clarifies the 5-year period in which municipalities reappraise real property to full and true value. The bill also directs the department of revenue administration to adjust the 2003 total valuation for the town of Roxbury.

Rep. Patten spoke against.

Amendment failed.

SPECIAL ORDER

Rep. Price moved that HCR 3, urging Congress to require the Department of Justice to conduct a review and release information to the public regarding mistreatment and restrictions placed on Italian-American citizens of the United States during World War II, be made a Special Order in the Regular Calendar order for April 13, 2005.

HCR 5, recognizing New Hampshire's ratification of the original Thirteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Kris E. Roberts for State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: The unintended consequence of this bill would be to repeal the current 13th amendment abolishing slavery. This bill states "honorary" knighted individuals such as former presidents and generals shall be stripped of their citizenship. The original 13th amendment stated no such thing. The original 13th amendment gave consent of congress for such titles and honors. Vote 13-1.

Rep. Marple spoke against.

Rep. Roberts spoke in favor.

Committee report adopted.

HCR 6, urging Congress to enact legislation to make English the official language of the United States. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. James E. Twombly for State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: In 1995 the State of New Hampshire passed a law making English the official language of the state. Almost all the comments during the executive session reinforced the importance of understanding and speaking the English language as a stepping stone to success. Encouraging speaking one's native language in the home was also felt to be important by the committee. One of the strengths of America has been the ability to communicate with one common language. Immigrating families to this country realized the importance of speaking English as quickly as possible to get ahead both socially and economically. Those in the committee that voiced some concern with this resolution felt that the intent might be to only hear English spoken throughout our communities. The committee felt that multi-lingual abilities was an absolute gift that if a person had, could not be taken away. This resolution simply states that English should be the common language for communicating in the United States. Vote 11-0.

Rep. Pilotte spoke against.

Rep. Twombly spoke in favor.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HCR 7, urging the United States Congress to establish and revise the current drug policy. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Barbara E. Shaw for State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: Despite government efforts in the War on Drugs over three decades, spending ½ trillion dollars, the stated objective of a drug free America has not been achieved. Although efforts are extensive, in these times of limited fiscal resources it is important to review the billions spent for re-evaluation of effectiveness and justification. It is time for Congress to establish a task force to review its policies and revise its current drug policy to better serve the citizens of our country. Vote 12-0.

Amendment (0255h)

Amend the resolution by replacing the title of the resolution with the following:

A RESOLUTION urging the United States Congress to establish a task force to review and revise the current drug policy.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This house concurrent resolution urges the United States Congress to establish a task force to review and revise the current drug policy.

Amendment adopted.

Reps. Pilotte and Wendelboe spoke against.

Reps. Ingbreton and Shaw spoke in favor.

HB 720-FN, relative to special number plates. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Brenda L. Ferland for Transportation: This bill would have required the Department of Safety to produce new legislative plates this year. There have been many concerns with the current plates especially with the looks and where the plates were manufactured. Although some of the committee may agree with the sponsors on the looks of the plates, the majority feels we would be setting a bad example to the public by passing special plate legislation for ourselves and asking the citizens to pay the extra cost. Vote 9-1.

Reps. Gibson and Soltani spoke against.

Rep. Packard spoke in favor.

On a division vote, 131 members having voted in the affirmative and 138 in the negative, the committee report failed.

His Excellency, Governor John H. Lynch, joined the Speaker on the rostrum for the day's opening ceremonies.

Prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain, The Reverend Angelo Pappas of St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church in Portsmouth.

Eternal God, in whose hands lie the destinies of all persons, help us to feel our sacred unity as members of the human family and children of a common Father. Make us alert, vigilant and in concord in our service to our communities.

May the spirit of love and goodwill possess and control our hearts as we bring blessedness to needy humanity and especially to those who look to us for guidance. Teach us to look to You for assistance. Direct our thoughts and decisions and allow us to have the awareness that You are the giver of every good worthwhile gift; that our lives are in Your keeping. That our endeavors are directed by Your leadership, that our successes and failures are known to You. Favor us with Your blessings and great mercy as we attempt to fulfill the assignments of this state legislature. We also ask You, Lord, to keep in mind and restore to good health those members who are lying ill. This we ask in Your name. Amen

CONSENT CALENDAR

Rep. O'Neil moved that the Consent Calendar with the relevant amendments as printed in the day's House Record be adopted.

Consent Calendar adopted by the necessary two-thirds.

HB 623-FN, relative to licensing requirements in the insurance and financial services industries. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Karl I. Gilbert for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill was referred to Criminal Justice and Public Safety as a second committee to review the increased penalties applied to those who practice without a license as real estate brokers, public adjusters, managing general agent, reinsurance intermediary, insurance producer, life insurance agent, health service agent, or securities brokers and dealers. The committee found no reason to change what the Commerce Committee has done and agrees with the March 9th House vote to pass this bill. Vote 18-0.

HB 257, relative to emergency medical and trauma service protocols and quality assurance program. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Ken Hawkins for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill will allow the Emergency Medical and Trauma Services to establish a quality management program. This will allow for the continuous evaluation and a measurement system to be established to help identify trends so corrective action can be taken in patient protocols. This bill also removes the ability of having local options for protocols. The committee felt very strongly that the Medical Control Board should be the entity to set patient protocols statewide. Vote 15-0.

Amendment (0951h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 4 with the following:

4 Emergency Medical and Trauma Services; Duties of Commissioner. Amend RSA 153A:7, II to read as follows:

II. The commissioner shall:

(a) Adopt rules, under RSA 541-A, with the advice and assistance of the coordinating board, the emergency medical services medical control board, and the trauma medical review committee, in accordance with RSA 153-A:20.

(b) Oversee the administration of the division by the director.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 6 with the following:

7 Emergency Medical and Trauma Services; Rulemaking. Amend RSA 153-A:20, II to read as follows:

II. Protocols recommended by the emergency medical services medical control board for provision of emergency medical care [~~which shall provide for the provision of local options under medical control~~]. The protocols shall address living wills established under RSA 137-H, durable powers of attorney for health care established under RSA 137-J, and patient-requested, physician generated orders relative to resuscitation.

8 Repeal. RSA 153-A:2, XII, relative to the definition of a local option, is repealed.

9 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 2006.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Directs the commissioner of the department of safety to adopt rules under RSA 541-A. The bill removes the reference in current law to the provision of local options under medical control and repeals the definition of "local option."

II. Establishes a quality management program for emergency and trauma service providers.

This bill is a request of the department of safety.

HB 59-FN-L, relative to municipal responsibility for septage disposal. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Kenneth L. Weyler for Finance: Just as a municipality must make solid waste arrangements for its citizen's waste, it also has responsibility for liquid waste arrangements. Problems have arisen when private septage haulers took most of a town's waste to another municipality. When the receiving municipality found its facility at capacity, it would refuse waste from out of town. This is a problem that each municipality must deal with, either by creating its own receiving facility or having a contract with an out-of-town facility or facilities, that will always be honored. The original bill had penalty fines for a town's non-compliance. That section was removed prior to its coming to the Finance committee. Vote 17-2.

HB 78-FN-L, relative to state funding of regional vocational education centers. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert K. Dodge for Finance: This bill clarifies the capital appropriation requirements for funding regional vocational education projects, provides that the state shall fund a maximum of 75% of the cost of renovation or expansion of a regional vocational education center, and adds a definition of a qualified project. Vote 19-0.

HB 210-FN, relative to the determination of absence and return of contributions of members of the retirement system. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Kenneth L. Weyler for Finance: The Finance Committee concurs with the policy committee, Executive Departments and Administration, that this bill ought to pass. The state retirement system is designed to provide for public employees in their retirement. One of its basic goals is to produce earnings of nine percent for its beneficiaries. When it fails to produce nine percent, the contribution rate for the employers (state, county and municipal governments) must increase. There are also occasions when the employee's contribution must increase. Formerly a member who left the system was allowed to leave his or her contributions in the fund, and be guaranteed nine percent for up to six years. Since the member was not expected to be a future beneficiary, and was not impacted by the increased contribution during the absence period, this was regarded as an unreasonable benefit to give a now, non-member. The allowed absence period is reduced from six to two years by this legislation. Contributions will then be distributed within three months of the termination after the two years. Vote 19-0. Rep. Robert A. Johnson declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

HB 216-FN, relative to the authority of the New Hampshire retirement system to purchase supplies and services. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert L. Wheeler for Finance: This bill continues the independent operations started with the relief from administrative charges to the state from the retirement system. With respect to purchasing supplies and services, it removes the need to obtain external approvals, which at times can slow the process, when the system needs to meet ever increasing demands of members and employers. Vote 19-0.

HB 433-FN-A, relative to planning for public access, recreation, and road management in the Connecticut Lakes headwaters working forest and making an appropriation therefore. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. MaryAnn N. Blanchard for Finance: The amendment reduces the appropriation to $1.00 due to the present uncertain financial situation. Hopefully, as revenues stabilize and the budget works through the process, the Senate may be able to fund this essential task. Vote 21-0.

Amendment (0992h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 2 with the following:

2 Appropriation. The sum of $1 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2006 is hereby appropriated to the division of parks and recreation, department of resources and economic development for the purposes set forth in this act. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill appropriates $1 for 2 plans, one for public access and recreational use and the other for road management in the Connecticut Lakes headwaters working forest.

HB 643-FN, establishing an integrated criminal justice information system. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. MaryAnn N. Blanchard for Finance: The amendment to this bill removes section 5 which is a budget, but not an appropriation, for the J-One system in the bill. There is no general fund money in this bill for FY '06 and '07. The amendment has no effect on the important policy of the bill. Vote 19-0.

Amendment (1013h)

Amend the bill by deleting section 5 and renumbering the original section 6 to read as 5.

HB 644-FN, transferring certain responsibilities from the department of transportation and the department of health and human services to the department of administrative services. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Beverly T. Rodeschin for Finance: This bill transfers public works from the Department of Transportation and the Department of Health and Human Services to the Department of Administrative Services. The amendment allows all transfers except for the following buildings – acute psychiatric services building, Anna Philbrook Center and all transitional house buildings, including Howard recreation building. The reason for excluding this transfer is the special training of these personnel. Vote 17-2.

Amend paragraph V of section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

V.(a) Except as provided in subparagraph (b), as of July 1, 2005, all personnel under the supervision of the department of health and human services whose function it is to care for and maintain state-owned buildings on the New Hampshire hospital campus as described in RSA 4:39-a shall be transferred to the department of administrative services, division of plant and property management, together with all of the books, papers, payroll, records, equipment, unexpended appropriations for personnel and all building and grounds maintenance functions relating to the New Hampshire hospital campus, or other available funds in any account or subdivision of any account of the department of health and human services related to building and property care and maintenance at the New Hampshire hospital campus.

(b) Personnel under the supervision of the department of health and human services who provide patient care functions and maintenance inside the following buildings shall not be transferred to the department of administrative services:

(1) The acute psychiatric services building.

(2) The Anna Philbrook center.

(3) All transitional housing buildings, including the Howard recreation building.

Amend RSA 21-I:11, X as inserted by section 5 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

X. Subject to the direction and supervision of the commissioner of administrative services, act as custodian of the state house, legislative office building, state house annex, state library, and, with the exception of interior maintenance of the acute psychiatric services building, the Anna Philbrook center and all transitional housing buildings including the Howard recreation building, all state-owned buildings located on the campus of the New Hampshire hospital as described in RSA 4:39-a, as well as the grounds connected with each of the foregoing properties, and have charge of all matters relating to the care, maintenance and repair of said property.

HB 662-FN-A, making an appropriation to the department of health and human services for family mutual support services. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Sharon Nordgren for Finance: The Finance Committee recommends an ITL motion on this bill and has instead inserted a line item in the budget that would appropriate money as requested in the bill, money moved from an existing line. The money would be allocated to a "family support organization." The committee supports a non-profit volunteer organization continuing this service to families of the mentally ill. Vote 21-0.

HB 686-FN, relative to the judicial branch family division. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Robert L. Wheeler for Finance: Since the family court is memorialized in the budget and trailer bills this bill is no longer necessary. Vote 20-0.

HB 687-FN, relative to free tuition at New Hampshire public institutions of higher education for children of veterans who die while on active duty or from a service-connected disability. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Daniel M. Hughes for Finance: This bill offers an academic stipend of up to $2,500/yr. for up to 4 years and free tuition at New Hampshire public institutions of higher education for children of veterans who die while on active duty or from a verified service-connected disability. The small cost of this expenditure is incomparable to the price that has been paid by the recipients of these stipends. Vote 18-0.

HB 302, relative to the mileage rate for service of documents by county sheriffs. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Kevin L. Camm for Ways and Means: This bill, as amended, establishes uniform mileage rates for the delivery of writs from the sheriff's office at the maximum rate per mile as allowed by the IRS. Vote 17-3.

Amendment (0936h)

Amend RSA 104:31, IV as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

IV. In every county for actual travel to serve any writ, notice, subpoena, process, or execution, to be reckoned from the place of service to the ~~[residence of the officer]~~ sheriff's office, and for travel to attend any court by the order thereof, to be reckoned from the ~~[residence of the officer]~~ sheriff's office to the court, each mile, each way, ~~[$45]~~ at the maximum rate per mile allowed by the Internal Revenue Code and regulations.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill allows the mileage reimbursement rate for service of any writ, notice, subpoena, process, or execution by county sheriffs to be the rate allowed by the Internal Revenue Service.

HB 313-FN, relative to registration of business entities. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Susan W. Almy for Ways and Means: Last term most fees of the Secretary of State's Corporate Division were standardized and updated, but a few were overlooked. This bill increases the few remaining fees from $10 to $25 and equates the fees for belated reinstatement of limited liability companies to those of ordinary corporations. Vote 19-1.

HB 407-FN-L, relative to licensing of dogs. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Roger G. Wells for Ways and Means: This bill would raise the tax on dog owners by 45 percent for each dog registered. The licensing of dogs was originally designed to provide a fund to reimburse livestock owners for damage by stray dogs. The fee has since become a source of funding numerous projects, including the diagnostic laboratory at UNH and the animal overpopulation (spay and neuter) program. The spay and neuter program has been so successful that there is now a shortage of dogs for shelters to sell. They now import dogs from other states and from out of the country to be sold. The shelters then grant certificates for discount neutering by veterinarians at state expense. Most of the neutering is now done on cats, which is being paid for by the tax on dog owners. All warm blooded animals can get and transmit rabies, yet dogs are the only ones required to be taxed through licensing. Raising the fee 45 percent will likely increase the amount of non-compliance by dog owners. Veterinarians must prepare and keep far more paperwork than town clerks, as well as mailing, at their own expense, vaccination certificates to each of the towns from which they have vaccinated dogs. This bill is unfair to dog owners and veterinarians. Vote 18-3.

HB 430-FN-A, establishing a one-day resident fishing license. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Steve Vaillancourt for Ways and Means: This bill would allow the Fish and Game Department to sell fishing licenses to in-state residents on a daily basis. The amendment does two things. At the request of Fish and Game, the effective date is moved from July 1, 2005, to January 1, 2006. Also, the committee lowered the fee from $10 for a one day license to $7. Note that the bill actually says $5 and the original bill said $8. The $2 difference is because $1 is added for the agent who sells the license and $1 is added for a habitat program. Thus, the committee amendment is $3 a day less than the original request. The committee felt this would actually encourage more people to get the license rather than fish illegally for a day. Also, the 365 day license is $35 (plus $2), so at $10, the one day fee would be more than 25 percent of the year long fee. The committee believed that was too much for one day of fishing. Those over 68 and under 16 would continue to fish free. Vote 20-1.

Amend RSA 214:9, II-b as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II-b. If the applicant is a resident of this state and wishes to fish for one day, $5, and the agent shall thereupon issue a one-day resident fishing license, which shall entitle the licensee to kill, take, and transport all species of freshwater fish, saltwater smelt, saltwater shad, and saltwater salmonoids, for said time only, under the restrictions of this title.

Amend the bill by replacing section 2 with the following:

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 2006.

HB 477-FN, increasing registration fees for pesticides and commercial feeds. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Susan W. Almy for Ways and Means: Registration fees for manufacturers of commercial pesticide and feed brands sold in this state have not been raised in 13 years. The increases in this bill still leave us below neighboring states, and are necessary for the functioning of our Department of Agriculture, Markets, and Food. The amendment corrects the name of a class of pesticide and was done at the request of the Environment and Agriculture Committee. Vote 21-0.

Amendment (0935h)

Amend RSA 430:38, III(a) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(a) For a [~~registered~~] restricted use pesticide, [~~$50~~] $80 per product per year;

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill increases registration fees for pesticides and commercial feeds, and makes a technical correction from "registered use pesticide" to "restricted use pesticide".

This bill is a request from the department of agriculture, markets, and food.

HB 651-FN-L, relative to federal lien registration. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT
Rep. Howie Lund for Ways and Means: The committee felt this bill, as amended, consolidated the federal lien process from local and state to just state filing. These are federal lien filings on personal property. The bill, as amended, would end federal lien filings with city and town clerks effective January 1, 2006. Cities and towns would retain federal liens in their possession thru 2017. All future federal liens after January 1, 2006 will be filed in the office of the Secretary of State. The amendment also has the $30 fee associated with filing a federal lien, collected by the Secretary of State's office, deposited in the Federal Lien Registration Fund. The administration, staffing and maintenance of the federal lien process shall be paid out of the Federal Lien Registration Fund. Vote 17-0.

Amendment (0953h)

Amend RSA 454-B:5, II as inserted by section 5 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. Fees collected under this section shall be deposited in the federal lien registration fund and allocated to the secretary of state for the purposes specified in this chapter.

Amend RSA 454-B:5-a as inserted by section 6 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

454-B:5-a Disposition of Funds. The expenses of administering, staffing, maintaining, and improving services provided by the secretary of state under this chapter shall be paid out of a fund to be known as the federal lien registration fund herein established in the office of the state treasurer.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Ends filing of federal liens and related notices with town and city clerks.

II. Contains provisions for town and city clerks to retain federal lien records already in their possession until 2017.

III. Establishes a federal lien registration fund for federal lien filing fees and allocates the fund to the secretary of state.

REGULAR CALENDAR

SPECIAL ORDER

HB 635-FN-L, relative to education funding. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Mark S. Carter for Education: At the request of the sponsor, the Education Committee took dispositive action on HB 635. The unanimous 18-0 committee vote to inexpedient to legislate is a clear indication of a lack of support for the funding method proposed by this bill. Vote 18-0. Committee report adopted by the necessary two-thirds.

HB 25-FN-A, making appropriations for capital improvements. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Robert K. Dodge for Finance: After making a few technical corrections and changing the agency request for funding for one program which was approved by the Public Works and Highways Committee, the Committee approved the excellent work of the Public Works and Highways Committee on HB 25, which made our work on Finance much easier. Vote 23-0.

CLERK'S NOTE

The constitutionally required two-thirds of the membership for action by majority vote was declared present.

HB 222-FN, relative to payment of medical benefits costs for disabled group II members of the retirement system. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Robert L. Wheeler for Finance: This bill would extend by one year the eligibility of Group II disabled members relative to their payment of medical benefits. However under the terms of the priority statement for special accounts the benefit is not affordable. The committee felt that under the current state of fiscal affairs the priority list should be observed. Vote 19-0.

Rep. Zolla spoke against.

Rep. Robert Wheeler spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

On a division vote, 194 members having voted in the affirmative and 135 in the negative, the committee report was adopted.

HB 304-FN-A, relative to federal highway grant anticipation bonds. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Robert K. Dodge for Finance: This bill will allow the state to issue bonds for the purpose of financing project costs related to the widening of Interstate 93 from Manchester to the Massachusetts border. These bonds are referred to as GARVEE bonds and the amendment will provide for overview by the Capital Budget Overview Committee. Vote 20-0.

Amendment (0994h)

Amend the bill by inserting after section 3 the following and renumbering the original section 4 to read as 5:

4 Report. The department of transportation shall submit a progress report on the construction and financing of the Interstate 93 widening project to the capital budget overview committee, established under RSA 17-J:2, at least every 6 months.

Adopted.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SPECIAL ORDER

HCR 3, urging Congress to require the Department of Justice to conduct a review and release information to the public regarding mistreatment and restrictions placed on Italian-American citizens of the United States during World War II. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. James E. Twombly for State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: The United States government has acknowledged the wartime campaign against Japanese-Americans and enacted a reparation law in August of 1988. For some reason, the Federal Bureau of Investigation refused to declassify 60-year old World War II documents of Italian-Americans. The committee felt that information released by the United States Department of Justice might not reveal the information that the sponsors of this resolution had hoped for. Vote 13-0.

Rep. Pepino spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Twombly spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

On a division vote, 190 members having voted in the affirmative and 144 in the negative, the committee report was adopted.

HB 597-FN-A, relative to the natural heritage inventory program. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Benjamin E. Parker for Ways and Means: The committee considered that portion of the bill related to a $25 fee for requests for environmental reviews by the Natural Heritage Inventory Program and a fee not to exceed $25 to offset the program's cost of providing publications and/or reports to the public. The amounts collected would be deposited in a non-lapsing fund for the purposes mentioned above. Estimated annual revenues through FY 2009 do not exceed $30,000. The majority of the committee believed the fees appropriate and supported the self-funding of the program's cost of publications and/or reports. Vote 12-9.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

RESOLUTION

Rep. O'Neil offered the following: RESOLVED, that the House now adjourn from the early session, that the business of the late session be in order at the present time, that the reading of bills be by title only and resolutions by caption only and that all bills ordered to third reading be read a third time by this resolution, and that all titles of bills be the same as adopted, and that they be passed at the present time, and when the House adjourns today it be to meet Wednesday, April 20, 2005 at 10:00 a.m.

HOUSE JOURNAL No. 13

Wednesday, April 20, 2005

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

Prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain, Reverend D. Melvin Burrowes, Pastor of the United Community Church in Canterbury.

Great God, Holy One, Creator of all that is, we begin our work here by turning to You. You have placed us in these positions of power and considerable responsibility to deliberate and decide on behalf of all the citizens of New Hampshire. We admit the limits of our own knowledge and understanding and we look to Your spirit for true wisdom and guidance. Keep us, O God, from the evils of self-righteousness and pride. Teach us Your ways of respect and consideration for the differences of others. In the words of Rev. David Cousins, "may we always put duty before pleasure, principle before popularity, goodness before greatness, and humanity before money."

We thank You, Creator God, for this state which You have entrusted to our care. Thank You for the natural beauty and the economic opportunity that has drawn us here. Make us faithful stewards of the resources and people for which You have made us responsible.

As Your prophets remind us over and over, Great God, we promise to You that we will consider always the needs of the poor, the sick, and the downtrodden in every part of New Hampshire. Give us courageous souls for justice and fairness in all our decisions. As we seek Your guidance, God, enable us this day to make small, but significant steps that will bring closer Your true rule on earth; as it is in heaven. Amen.

COMMUNICATION

Honorable W. Douglas Scamman, Jr.

Speaker of the House

Dear Mr. Speaker:

It is with deep regret that I must tender my resignation to the House of Representatives. Due to changes in my employment, I will need to move out of the state of New Hampshire. It has been an honor and a privilege to serve in the House and to represent the people of the city of Keene. It is my sincere hope that I will have the opportunity to serve the people of New Hampshire someday in the future. Until then, I thank you for your kindness and courtesy and wish you and all the members a fruitful and productive session.

Sincerely, Stephanie Sinclair, Cheshire District 3

REGULAR CALENDAR

HB 535-FN-A, increasing the tobacco tax. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Shawn N. Jasper for the Majority of Ways and Means: The amendment sets the tax per pack of cigarettes at 80 cents, an increase of 28 cents, the same amount as endorsed by the Governor and Speaker of the House. The amendment specifies that the first $100 million dollars raised by the tobacco tax will be distributed as in the current formula, with 71.1 percent going to the General Fund and 28.9 percent going to the Education Trust Fund. All monies raised above $100 million dollars will go to the Education Trust Fund. It is estimated that this increase will raise $87 million dollars over the next two years and is the amount needed to fund the education funding bill recommended by the Finance Committee. Vote 17-5.

Rep. Sharon M. Carson for the Minority of Ways and Means: A minority of the committee had several objections to the passing of a 28 cent increase in the tobacco tax. A bipartisan minority believes this to be a regressive tax that disproportionately penalizes the poorest citizens of New Hampshire. Additionally, we believe the state will be sending a mixed message in that we want people to stop smoking for health reasons by funding smoke cessation programs while encouraging smoking because we need the revenue. The minority feels that our dependence on funding our education system with an unreliable and potentially declining revenue source is bad policy. Cross border sales will be affected by an increase in the tax and potentially affect other revenue sources such as business profits, rooms and meals, gasoline, beer and wine and employment opportunities. Most disturbing of all was that raising the tobacco tax was the only revenue source considered to fund the education funding bill recommended by the Finance Committee. Others in the minority wanted a higher tax to support the budget. At the 28 cent increase we are still way under Maine, and could easily raise more without losing revenue. At 28 cents, the message to our teens to stop smoking or never smoke is weak. The General Fund budget has been devastated by our loss of federal revenues, and we need to replace them in order to maintain minimal services. This tax is supported by the vast majority of our constituents, and part of the minority feels we need to use it at a higher level for the sake of our budget.

Majority Amendment (1090h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Tobacco Tax Increased. Amend RSA 78:7 to read as follows:

78:7 Tax Imposed. A tax upon the retail consumer is hereby imposed at the rate of ~~[52-cents]~~ $.80 for each package containing 20 cigarettes or at a rate proportional to such rate for packages containing more or less than 20 cigarettes, on all cigarettes sold at retail in this state. The payment of the tax shall be evidenced by affixing stamps to the smallest packages containing the cigarettes in which such products usually are sold at retail. The word "package" as used in this section shall not include individual cigarettes. No tax is imposed on any transactions, the taxation of which by this state is prohibited by the Constitution of the United States.

2 Distribution of Funds. RSA 78:32 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

78:32 Distribution of Funds.

I.(a) For the amount of annual revenue produced by the tax imposed by RSA 78:7 up to the amount of $100,000,000, 71.1 percent shall be deposited in the general fund and 28.9 percent shall be deposited in the education trust fund established by RSA 198:39.

(b) Any annual revenue greater than $100,000,000 raised by such tax shall be deposited in the education trust fund established by RSA 198:39.

II. Such estimates shall be certified on June 1, September 1, December 1, and March 1 of each year.

3 Applicability. Section 1 of this act shall apply to all persons licensed under RSA 78:2. Such persons shall inventory all taxable tobacco products in their possession and file a report of such inventory with the department of revenue administration on a form prescribed by the commissioner within 20 days after the effective date of this act. The tax rate effective July 1, 2005 shall apply to such inventory and the difference, if any, in the amount paid previously on such inventory and the current effective rate of tax shall be paid with the inventory form. 4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 2005.

PROTEST

Pursuant to Part 2, Article 24 of the New Hampshire Constitution, Rep. John M. Gibson, Hillsborough District 19, requested that his protest be entered on the Permanent Journal.

Today the House of Representatives approved a 50% increase in the tobacco tax. This increase of the tobacco tax is the beginning of the end of the New Hampshire Advantage because it targets cross border sales. Cross border sales of tobacco products account for nearly 50% of tobacco tax revenues and revenues received from the Master Settlement Agreement between the tobacco companies and the state.

The supporters of the tax hike have failed to recognize that people come to New Hampshire to buy tobacco products from as far away as New York and New Jersey, with the high price of gasoline in their home states, the New Hampshire savings may not be attractive enough and many state revenues will see a corresponding reduction with less cross border activity.

The rationale for this tax hike is to fund the education funding formula included in HB 616. This funding plan is unconstitutional and reduces state funding to the majority of the communities where the tobacco tax is raised from. This tax hike is unfair to say the least besides the fact it will harm working families through higher taxation.

The most insulting part of this tax increase is simply that so many in the leadership of this House failed to honor their promises. Senior Republican leadership in the House stated early in the season their opposition to any new taxes or tax increases, now to curry favor with the Democrat Governor, they have gone back on their word.

The tobacco tax today and tomorrow which tax will House leadership endorse to feed big government? The New Hampshire Advantage is in very grave danger and it is members of senior House leadership who are knowingly or unwittingly leading the charge to destroy the one thing our neighboring states envy, our tax advantage. I hope a future legislature will take up an active role in defending or re-creating what has come to be known as the New Hampshire Advantage.

(Speaker Scamman in the Chair)

REGULAR CALENDAR

HB 1-A, making appropriations for the expenses of certain departments of the state for fiscal years ending June 30, 2006, and June 30, 2007. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Elizabeth S. Hager for Finance: The state budget as presented in HB 1 is an adequate budget for FY 2006 and FY 2007. The Finance Committee has worked long hours since the Governor's presentation on February 15 in order to assure the provision of basic state services within the revenues available as projected by the Ways and Means Committee. In order to meet deadlines for the introduction of HB 1, many cuts were made which the committee viewed as temporary. This amended version of the bill restores many, but not all, of those cuts. For instance, in the Department of Corrections, 50% of the original cuts have been restored. In this budget, we establish a positive working relationship with the Judicial branch and have adopted successfully a new, more detailed approach to budgeting for the courts. We also have provided lean but operative budgets for all the smaller state departments. In the huge Department of Health and Human Services we have accepted the more efficient of proposals for caring for the most needy. For instance, we have held nursing home appropriations down while we have conservatively increased home care budgets. We have provided enough money for the Division of Juvenile Justice to open the new Youth Development Center but have challenged them to do it with fewer funds. The Finance Committee urges your support for this document which keeps the state government in New Hampshire functioning well for the next two years. Vote 12-8.

HB 2-FN-A, relative to state fees, funds, revenue and expenditures. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Elizabeth S. Hager for Finance: HB 2 contains the changes to the laws of the state of New Hampshire needed to support the state budget. It continues sections which we have adopted for several years now, such as the cap on county payments for nursing facilities, and it contains other sections needed to approve a balanced budget. Vote 19-2.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Transfers Among Accounts; Office of Information Technology. Notwithstanding the provisions of RSA 9:17-a or any other provision of law to the contrary, the office of information technology may, subject to the approval of the fiscal committee, transfer funds within and among all PAU's within said office as necessary for the efficient management of the office.

2 Lease Agreements. Notwithstanding RSA 6:35, for the biennium ending June 30, 2007, the department of fish and game, the department of transportation, and the department of regional community-technical colleges may enter into lease agreements for vehicles and equipment at the discretion of the agency head. In this section, "lease" includes a lease-purchase, sale and lease back, installment sale, or other similar agreement.

3 Local Highway Aid Fund Apportionment. Amend RSA 235:23, I to read as follows:

1. APPORTIONMENT A. In each fiscal year, the commissioner shall allocate an amount not less than 12% of the total road toll revenue and motor vehicle fees collected in the preceding fiscal year to a local highway aid fund. Notwithstanding RSA 9:9-a, the commissioner shall calculate the allocation to the local highway aid fund prior to deducting collection and administrative costs. This fund shall be distributed to each city, town, and unincorporated place on a formula in which $\frac{1}{2}$ of the amount is based on the proportion which the mileage of regularly maintained class IV and class V highways in each municipality, as of January 1 of the previous year, bears to the total of such mileage in the state; and $\frac{1}{2}$ of the amount is based on the proportion which the office of energy and planning population estimate of each municipality bears to the latest estimate of the total population of the state as of July 1 of the year of the estimate. The aid to be distributed under this paragraph shall be in addition to all other state and federal aid specifically authorized by statute.

4 Collection of Highway Fund Revenue; Reporting Requirement. Amend RSA 9:9-a to read as follows:

9:9-a Collection of Highway Fund Revenue; Reporting Requirement. Pursuant to part II, article 6-a of the New Hampshire constitution, any costs associated with the collection and administration of highway funds by the department of safety shall be deducted by the department before such funds are credited to the highway fund. On or before January 1, the department shall provide an annual accounting of such administration and collection costs to the president of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives. No current fiscal year collection or administration costs shall be expended until the previous year's collection cost report has been received.

5 Town of Merrimack; Kindergarten. There is hereby appropriated the sum of $275,000 for the biennium ending June 30, 2007, to the department of education for the support of the kindergarten program in the town of Merrimack. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

6 Special Education Program of the Youth Services Center; Lapse to General Fund. Notwithstanding RSA 186-C:20, the balance of unexpended funds as of July 1, 2005, received by the department of health and human services under RSA 186-C:20 for the special education program of the youth services center, shall lapse to the general fund.

7 Department of Health and Human Services; Program Eligibility; Additional Revenues; Transfer Among Accounts.

1. For the biennium ending June 30, 2007, the department of health and human services shall not authorize, without prior approval of the fiscal committee of the general court and governor and council, any change to program eligibility standards or benefit levels that might be expected to increase enrollment in the program or increase expenditures from any source of funds; provided, however, that no such prior approval shall be required if a change to a federal program in which the state is participating as of the effective date of this section is required by federal law.

II. Notwithstanding any provision of the law to the contrary, for the biennium ending June 30, 2007, the fiscal committee of the general court and the governor and council may authorize the commissioner of the department of health and human services to accept and expend additional revenues in excess of $100,000, that are in addition to the budgeted amounts, from any source, which become available to the department. Such additional revenues shall be available to the department of health and human services to supplement funds in the following programs and services: provider payments, provider rate increases, and any other program or service that requires deficit reduction or for which revenue has been specifically obtained to improve program operations; provided, that such improvements do not increase eligibility standards or benefit levels.

III. Notwithstanding the provisions of RSA 9:17-a or any other provision of law to the contrary and subject to the approval of the fiscal committee of the general court and governor and council, for the biennium ending June 30, 2007 the commissioner of the department of health and human services is hereby authorized to transfer funds within and among all PAUs within the department, as the commissioner deems necessary and appropriate to address present or projected budget deficits, or to respond to changes in federal laws, regulations, or programs, and otherwise as necessary for the efficient management of the department.

17 New Chapter: Judicial Branch Family Division. Amend RSA by inserting after chapter 490-C the following new chapter:

CHAPTER 490-D

JUDICIAL BRANCH FAMILY DIVISION

490-D:1 Judicial Branch Family Division Established. The general court hereby organizes, constitutes, and establishes the judicial branch family division. 490-D:2 Jurisdiction. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary and except for the limited need to allow an existing case to proceed with the same judge who had presided over it before the implementation of the judicial branch family division, following implementation of the division at a division site in accordance with RSA 490-D:5, jurisdiction over the following matters shall be exclusively exercised through the judicial branch family division as procedurally jurisdiction was previously exercised in the superior, district, and probate courts:

I. Petitions for divorce, nullity of marriage, alimony, custody of children, support, and to establish paternity.

II. Actions for support or custody for children of unwed parties.

III. Actions under RSA 169-B, relating to delinquent children except for concurrent jurisdiction with the district court to enter temporary detention orders under RSA 169-B:11, III and 169-B:12, IV(b).

IX. The termination of parental rights.

X. The change of names of persons who apply therefor in matters relating to jurisdiction in paragraphs I-IX.

490-D:3 Equity Jurisdiction. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the judicial branch family division shall have the powers of a court of equity in cases where subject matter jurisdiction lies with the judicial branch family division. Suits in equity where subject matter jurisdiction lies with the judicial branch family division including, but not limited to, petitions for divorce, nullity of marriage, alimony, custody of children, support, and other similar proceedings may be heard upon oral testimony or depositions, or both, or when both parties consent, or service having been made and a notice of the time and place of the hearing having been given, when both parties appear. Such suits may be heard by any justice of the judicial branch family division at any time, but nothing contained in this section shall be construed as limiting the power of the judicial branch family division to have issues of fact framed and tried by a jury, according to the rules in equity, or the course of such proceedings at common law.

(Deputy Speaker Weyler in the Chair)

HB 616-FN-L, relative to the education property tax and the education equity index. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Robert K. Dodge for the Majority of Finance: The committee voted to adopt a compromise Education Funding Plan. The bill utilizes the "education equity" index proposed by the Governor to target state aid to communities that need the most help. The formula uses: (1) the statewide average equalized valuation per pupil divided by the equalized valuation per pupil for the municipality; (2) statewide median income divided by the municipality's median income; (3) students in grades 1-12 eligible to receive free or reduced meals; (4) the number of children using English as a second language; (5) statewide average test scores; and (6) statewide graduation rate. This plan includes $48 million in transition grants to ensure a responsible and predictable transition. As the transition grants decline, one half of the difference between the current and previous year will be added to the Education Equity Index funds, further showing the state's commitment to education. Vote 12-9.

Rep. Marjorie K. Smith for the Minority of Finance: There are any number of reasons to oppose HB 616-FN-L as it passed the Finance Committee but in this space today we will mention only three. 1) An overwhelming majority of the House Education Committee appeared before the Finance Committee asserting that the bill as amended by the Finance Committee ignored the central elements of education policy as stated by the House Education Committee. 2) By placing an overwhelming emphasis in the formula on equalized valuation, this bill ends up being a property tax relief bill rather than an educational policy bill. 3) By omitting any reference to special education costs the bill ignores a significant factor in how local school districts allocate their resources.

Majority Amendment (1156h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Persons and Property Taxable. RSA 76:3 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:
76:3 Education Taxes.

1. Beginning July 1, 2005, and every fiscal year thereafter, the commissioner of the department of revenue administration shall determine an average tax rate that is sufficient to fund average per pupil cost of all municipalities pursuant to RSA 198:40 multiplied by the statewide average daily membership in residence. The rate calculated shall be uniform on each $1,000 of the value of taxable property of all persons and property taxable pursuant to RSA 72 and RSA 73, and except property subject to tax under RSA 82 and RSA 83-F.

II. Municipalities may assess local property taxes necessary to fund school district appropriations not funded by the state education base grants, transition grants, and state education assistance grants, paid from the education trust fund under RSA 198:39, or by other revenue sources.

III. The commissioner of the department of revenue administration shall use the most recent available equalized property tax assessment data in calculating the tax rate under paragraph I.

2 Persons and Property Taxable; Commissioner's Warrant. RSA 76:8 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

76:8 Commissioner's Warrant.

I. The commissioner of revenue administration shall annually calculate the cost of education in a municipality pursuant to RSA 198:40.

II. Municipalities are authorized to assess local property taxes necessary to fund school district appropriations in excess of base grants, education assistance grants, and transition grants.

3 New Sections; Education Equity Index. Amend RSA 198 by inserting after section 40 the following new sections:

198:40-a Education Equity Index.

I. Beginning July 1, 2005, and every fiscal year thereafter, the department shall determine an education equity index (EEI) for each municipality that had any resident pupils during the applicable determination year as follows:

(a) Each municipality's education equity index shall be computed by dividing 0.925 by the sum of:

(1) 0.4 times the statewide average equalized valuation per pupil divided by the equalized valuation per pupil for the municipality;

(2) 0.2 times the statewide median household income divided by the municipality's median income;

(3) 0.095 times the percentage of the municipality's pupils in grades 1-12 eligible to receive a free or reduced price meal during the determination year as reported to the department divided by the statewide percentage of pupils in grades 1-12 eligible to receive a free or reduced price meal during the determination year as reported to the department;

(4) 0.005 times the percentage of the municipality's pupils in grade one through grade 8 identified as having limited English proficiency and receiving at least 5 hours per week of special instruction in English during the determination year as reported to the department divided by the statewide percentage of pupils in grades one through 8 identified as having limited English proficiency and receiving at least 5 hours per week of special instruction in English during the determination year;

(5) 0.15 times the statewide average test score divided by the municipality's average test score; and

(6) 0.075 times the statewide graduation rate for the determination year as reported by the department divided by the municipality's graduation rate for the determination year as reported to the department, where each municipality's graduation rate shall be equal to the graduation rate for the particular high school attended by the municipality's resident pupils that attend high school.

(b) For the fiscal years beginning July 1, 2005 and July 1, 2006, the department shall determine the education equity index for each municipality within 15 days after the effective date of this section.

(c) Beginning July 1, 2007, and every fiscal year thereafter, the department shall determine the education equity index for each municipality not later than October 1 in the calendar year preceding the beginning of the fiscal year for which the education equity index is calculated.

II. In determining the education equity index for any municipality that sends pupils to more than one school or school district, the department shall consider only data from schools or school districts within this state attended by 5 percent or more of the municipality's resident pupils, and the department shall determine each value necessary to calculate the education equity index for such municipality by weighting the corresponding values for each school or school district to which the municipality sends pupils by the number of resident pupils from the municipality that attend such school or school district. If a municipality sends all of its resident pupils that are relevant to the determination of any value necessary to calculate the education equity index for such municipality to one or more schools not operated by any school district, then the municipality shall be assigned the statewide value for such value.

198:40-b State Education Assistance.

I. Beginning July 1, 2005, and in the first year of each biennium thereafter, the department shall determine the amount of state education assistance under this section, if any, for a municipality, except for municipalities where all school districts therein provide education to all of their pupils by paying tuition to other institutions, as follows:

(a) The state shall distribute state education assistance to municipalities pursuant to RSA 198:42 in an aggregate amount equal to the total amount of state education assistance grants determined for the fiscal year pursuant to subparagraph (b).

(b) The annual amount of state education assistance shall be distributed among the municipalities as state education assistance grants as follows:

(1) For each municipality with an education equity index for the applicable biennium year less than 1.2, the department shall determine a number of education equity units equal to the number of resident pupils in the municipality during the applicable determination year multiplied by the excess of 1.2 over the municipality's education equity index for such biennium. Each other municipality shall be assigned zero education equity units for such biennium.

(2) Each municipality shall receive a state education grant for such fiscal year equal to the total amount of state education grants for the fiscal year multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of education equity units determined for such municipality for the applicable biennium, and the denominator of which is the total number of education equity units determined for all municipalities for such biennium.

II. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2006, and for the second year of each biennium thereafter, the department shall determine the amount of state education assistance under this section, if any, for a municipality, except for municipalities where all school districts therein provide education to all of their pupils by paying tuition to other institutions, as follows:

(a) The state shall distribute state education assistance to municipalities pursuant to RSA 198:42 in an aggregate amount equal to the total amount of state education assistance grants determined for the fiscal year pursuant to subparagraph (b).

(b) Each municipality shall receive a state education assistance grant for such fiscal year equal to the total amount of state education assistance grants for the fiscal year as determined pursuant to paragraph III below multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of education equity units determined for such municipality for the applicable biennium, and the denominator of which is the total number of education equity units determined for all municipalities for such biennium.

III. (a) For the biennium beginning July 1, 2005 and ending June 30, 2007, the amount of state education assistance shall be $289,438,147, to be distributed as determined in this section using the education equity index in RSA 198:40-a.

(b) For the biennium beginning July 1, 2007, and every biennium thereafter, the amount of state educational assistance to be distributed to a municipality under this section for the biennium shall be adjusted as follows:

(1) Determine the sum of the percentage change in the state average daily membership in attendance plus the average annual percentage rate of inflation for the immediately preceding 4 calendar years based on the northeast region consumer price index for all urban consumers, as published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, United States Department of Labor.

(2) Multiply the sum obtained in subparagraph (b)(1) by 2.

(3) Add one to the product obtained in subparagraph (b)(2).

(4) Multiply the sum obtained in subparagraph (b)(3) by the amount of state educational assistance calculated for a municipality for the previous biennium.

IV. For municipalities where all school districts therein provide education to all of their pupils by paying tuition to other institutions, the amount of state education assistance for each such municipality shall be the lesser of the following:

(a) The amount calculated in accordance with paragraph I or paragraph II of this section, as applicable; or

(b) The total amount paid for education expense as determined by the department.

198:41 Base Education Cost; Base Grant; Transition Grant.

I. A municipality's base education cost shall be determined by multiplying the state average per pupil cost, pursuant to RSA 198:40, by the average daily membership in residence in the municipality.

II. A municipality which cannot raise sufficient revenue at the average rate established under RSA 76:3 to fund its base education cost shall receive a base grant from the education trust fund established in RSA 198:39, in an amount sufficient to fund its base education cost.

III. Transition grants shall be paid from the education trust fund and shall be determined as follows:

(a) For the 2006 and 2007 fiscal years, a municipality shall receive a transition grant for the amount that the state base grant and the state education assistance grant under RSA 198:40-b is less than 90 percent of the amount received in the 2005 fiscal year.

(b) For the 2008 fiscal year, and every fiscal year thereafter, a municipality shall receive a transition grant which is not less than 90 percent of the amount received in the preceding fiscal year. Provided, however, that after fiscal year 2008, if for a municipality the transition grant is equal to or less than $100 per pupil, then the transition grant shall terminate.

(c) For the 2006 fiscal year, each municipality shall be eligible to receive a grant amount for such fiscal year not to exceed 110 percent of the adequate education grant determined for such municipality for the 2005 fiscal year, under the version of RSA 198:41 in effect on July 1, 2004. For the 2007 fiscal year, and for every fiscal year thereafter, each municipality shall be eligible to receive a grant amount for such fiscal year equal to 110 percent of the state education assistance amount determined for such municipality for the immediately preceding fiscal year.

(d) Beginning in the 2007 fiscal year, and every fiscal year thereafter, the commissioner of the department of education shall determine if the amount needed to fund transition grants under RSA 198:41 for the current fiscal year is less than the amount needed to fund transition grants in the preceding fiscal year. Fifty percent of any such savings identified shall be used to supplement existing funding of education equity index grants under RSA 198:41, III and shall be distributed to municipalities based on the education equity index set forth in RSA 198:40-a.

5 School Money; Distribution Schedule. Amend the section heading of RSA 198:42 and RSA 198:42, I-II to read as follows:

198:42 Funding Distribution Schedule [~~of Adequate Education Grant~~]; Appropriation.

I. The [~~adequate education grant~~] base grants determined in RSA 198:41, state educational assistance grants under RSA 198:40-b, and transition grants under RSA 198:41, III shall be distributed to each municipality's school district or districts legally responsible for the education of the pupils who attend approved public schools within the district or in other districts or who attend approved programs for educationally disabled children, as the case may be, from the education trust fund in 4 payments of 20 percent on September 1, 20 percent on November 1, 30 percent on January 1, and 30 percent on April 1 of each school year; provided that for a dependent school district, the [~~grant~~] base grants determined in RSA 198:41 shall be distributed to the municipality, which shall appropriate and transfer the grant funds to its dependent school department.

II. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2004, and every fiscal year thereafter the amount necessary to fund the grants under RSA 198:41 is hereby appropriated from the education trust fund created under RSA 198:39 to the department. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant from the education trust fund to satisfy the state's obligation under this section. Such warrant for payment shall be issued regardless of the balance of funds available in the education trust fund. If the balance in the education trust fund, after the issuance of any such warrant, is less than zero, the commissioner of the department of administrative services shall inform the fiscal committee and the governor and council of such balance. This reporting shall not in any way prohibit or delay the distribution of [~~adequate~~] education grants.

6 Additional Education Expenditures. Amend RSA 198:43 to read as follows:

198:43 Additional Education Expenditures. School districts are authorized to develop additional educational programs [~~beyond those required for an adequate education~~] and to raise and appropriate amounts necessary for such programs.

7 School Money; Maintenance of Local Control. Amend RSA 198:48 to read as follows:

198:48 Maintenance of Local Control. Distributions under RSA 198:42 are based on [~~adequate~~] education costs determined in RSA 198:40 and are independent of how the municipalities decide to spend the distributions or other funds they may raise for education. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, nothing in this subdivision is intended in any way to limit or control how school districts operate or spend their budgets except that [~~adequate~~] education grants must be expended for educational purposes. [~~Adequate~~] State education grants [~~and hardship grants~~] shall not be considered unanticipated funds under RSA 198:20-b.

8 State Treasurer; Application of Receipts. Amend RSA 6:12, I(b)(65) to read as follows:

(65) Money received under RSA 77-A, RSA 77-E, RSA 78, RSA 78-A, RSA 78-B, RSA 83-F, ~~[RSA 198:46]~~ and from the sweepstakes fund, which shall be credited to the education trust fund under RSA 198:39.

9 School Attendance; Duty of Parent; Compulsory Attendance. Amend RSA 193:1, I(c) to read as follows:

(c) The relevant school district superintendent has excused a child from attendance because the child is physically or mentally unable to attend school, or has been temporarily excused upon the request of the parent for purposes agreed upon by the school authorities and the parent. Such excused absences shall not be permitted if they cause a serious adverse effect upon the student's educational progress. Students excused for such temporary absences may be claimed as full-time pupils for purposes of calculating state aid under RSA 186-C:18 and ~~[adequate education]~~ grants under RSA 198:41.

10 Subdivision Heading Amended. Amend the subdivision heading preceding RSA 198:38 to read as follows:

State Aid for ~~[Educational Adequacy]~~ Education; Education Trust Fund

11 School Money; Education Trust Fund. Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 198:39, I to read as follows:

I. The state treasurer shall establish an education trust fund in the treasury. Moneys in such fund shall not be used for any purpose other than to distribute ~~[adequate]base, education assistance, and transition~~ education grants to municipalities' school districts pursuant to RSA 198:42[; ~~and to provide low and moderate income homeowners property tax relief under RSA 198:56-198:61~~]. The state treasurer shall deposit into this fund immediately upon receipt:

12 Charter and Open Enrollment Schools; Funding. Amend RSA 194-B:11, I to read as follows:

I. There shall be no tuition charge for any pupil attending an open enrollment or charter conversion school located in that pupil's resident district. Funding limitations in this chapter shall not be applicable to charter conversion or open enrollment schools located in a pupil's resident district. For any other charter or open enrollment school authorized by the school district, the pupil's resident district shall pay to such school an amount equal to not less than 80 percent of that district's average cost per pupil as determined by the department of education using the most recent available data as reported by the district to the department. For any charter school authorized by the state board of education, the pupil's resident district shall pay tuition beginning July 1, 2004 and every fiscal year thereafter, in an amount per pupil equal to the amount determined in RSA 198:40, I. Tuition amounts shall be prorated on a per diem basis for pupils attending a school for less than a full school year. To the extent permitted by law, tuition payments shall coincide with the distribution of ~~[adequacy]~~ grants under RSA 198:42 or on such other terms as are mutually acceptable.

13 School Performance and Accountability; Local Education Improvement Plan. Amend RSA 193-H:4, I (b) to read as follows:

(b) If a school or school district has been designated as in need of improvement, then the school or school district may request assistance from the department ~~[of education]~~ and may request funding from the performance improvement fund established in RSA 193-H:4-a. The department shall provide technical assistance to those schools that request assistance under this section.

14 New Paragraph; School Performance and Accountability; Local Education Improvement Plan. Amend RSA 193-H:4 by inserting after paragraph IV the following new paragraph:

V. Three years following the designation, a school or school district which is still not making satisfactory progress in implementing the plan required under subparagraph I(a) shall receive, in the next fiscal year, 95 percent of the education grant to which it is entitled under RSA 198:41. For each year thereafter in which such designation persists, a school or school district shall receive, in the next fiscal year, 95 percent of the education grant to which it is entitled under RSA 198:41.

15 New Section; School Performance and Accountability; Performance Improvement Fund. Amend RSA 193-H by inserting after section 4 the following new section:

193-H:4-a Performance Improvement Fund. There is hereby established in the department a performance improvement fund which shall be administered by the commissioner. The purpose of the fund is to provide funding for approved improvement plans required under RSA 193-H:4, I. Approved improvement plans shall be funded to the extent of available funds in a fiscal year.

16 Appropriations to Education Trust Fund. No unexpended general fund moneys appropriated to the education trust fund shall, under any circumstances, lapse to the general fund.

If the New Hampshire supreme court declares any provision of sections 117 of this act to be unconstitutional under either the New Hampshire constitution or the United States Constitution, then sections 1-17 of this act are hereby repealed on the date such unconstitutionality is declared.

19 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 2005 at 12:02 a.m.

(Speaker Scamman in the Chair)

Rep.W. Packy Campbell offered floor amendment (1186h).

Floor Amendment (1186h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the education property tax and the education equity index.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Section; Cost of an Adequate Education. Amend RSA 193-E by inserting after section 3 the following new section:

193-E:3-a Cost of an Adequate Education.

I. The risk of a community's ability to provide an adequate education and the fiscal capacity of a community to provide an adequate education along with the cost of an adequate education varies from community to community.

II. The state underwrites and guarantees an adequate education by targeting aid to communities based on fiscal capacity and educational risk factors. In addition, the state authorizes local municipalities to collect property taxes to fund educational opportunities.

III. The cost of adequacy varies based on the changing variables in the education funding targeting formulas. The state meets its obligation to provide for the opportunity for an adequate education through the use of base grant calculations along with education equity index grants.

2 Persons and Property Taxable. RSA 76:3 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

76:3 Education Taxes.

I. Beginning July 1, 2005, and every fiscal year thereafter, the commissioner of the department of revenue administration shall determine an average tax rate that is sufficient to fund average per pupil cost of all municipalities pursuant to RSA 198:40 multiplied by the statewide average daily membership in residence. The rate calculated shall be uniform on each $1,000 of the value of taxable property of all persons and property taxable pursuant to RSA 72 and RSA 73, and except property subject to tax under RSA 82 and RSA 83-F.

II. Municipalities may assess local property taxes necessary to fund school district appropriations not funded by the state education base grants, transition grants, and state education assistance grants, paid from the education trust fund under RSA 198:39, or by other revenue sources.

III. The commissioner of the department of revenue administration shall use the most recent available equalized property tax assessment data in calculating the tax rate under paragraph I.

3 Persons and Property Taxable; Commissioner's Warrant. RSA 76:8 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

76:8 Commissioner's Warrant.

I. The commissioner of revenue administration shall annually calculate the cost of education in a municipality pursuant to RSA 198:40.

II. Municipalities are authorized to assess local property taxes necessary to fund school district appropriations in excess of base grants, education assistance grants, and transition grants.

4 School Money; Determination of Average Per Pupil Cost. Amend RSA 198:40, I(b) to read as follows:

(b) The department shall identify those school districts where ~~[40 to]~~ 60 to 80 percent of the elementary pupils enrolled in the grades tested on the day testing began, achieved a scaled score, in the statewide educational improvement and assessment program administered pursuant to RSA 193-C, in all areas tested, equivalent to performance at the basic level or above. From these school districts, the department shall then identify those school districts that have the lowest cost per pupil as calculated pursuant to subparagraph I(a) and which represent, as nearly as possible, 50 percent of the average daily membership in attendance at the elementary level of the school districts identified.

5 New Sections; Education Equity Index. Amend RSA 198 by inserting after section 40 the following new sections:

198:40-a Education Equity Index.

I. Beginning July 1, 2005, and every fiscal year thereafter, the department shall determine an education equity index (EEI) for each municipality that had any resident pupils during the applicable determination year as follows:

(a) Each municipality's education equity index shall be computed by dividing one by the sum of:

(1) 0.25 times the statewide average equalized valuation per pupil divided by the equalized valuation per pupil for the municipality;

(2) 0.2 times the statewide median household income divided by the municipality's median household income;

(3) 0.095 times the percentage of the municipality's pupils in grades 1-12 eligible to receive a free or reduced price meal during the determination year as reported to the department divided by the statewide percentage of pupils in grades 1-12 eligible to receive a free or reduced price meal during the determination year as reported to the department;

(4) 0.005 times the percentage of the municipality's pupils in grade one through grade 8 identified as having limited English proficiency and receiving at least 5 hours per week of special instruction in English during the determination year as reported to the department divided by the statewide percentage of pupils in grades one through 8 identified as having limited English proficiency and receiving at least 5 hours per week of special instruction in English during the determination year;

(5) 0.15 times the statewide average test score divided by the municipality's average test score; and

(6) 0.075 times the statewide graduation rate for the determination year as reported by the department divided by the municipality's graduation rate for the determination year as reported to the department, where each municipality's graduation rate shall be equal to the graduation rate for the particular high school attended by the municipality's resident pupils that attend high school.

(b) For the fiscal years beginning July 1, 2005 and July 1, 2006, the department shall determine the education equity index for each municipality within 15 days after the effective date of this section.

(c) Beginning July 1, 2007, and every fiscal year thereafter, the department shall determine the education equity index for each municipality not later than October 1 in the calendar year preceding the beginning of the fiscal year for which the education equity index is calculated.

II. In determining the education equity index for any municipality that sends pupils to more than one school or school district, the department shall consider only data from schools or school districts within this state attended by 5 percent or more of the municipality's resident pupils, and the department shall determine each value necessary to calculate the education equity index for such municipality by weighting the corresponding values for each school or school district to which the municipality sends pupils by the number of resident pupils from the municipality that attend such school or school district. If a municipality sends all of its resident pupils that are relevant to the determination of any value necessary to calculate the education equity index for such municipality to one or more schools not operated by any school district, then the municipality shall be assigned the statewide value for such value.

198:40-b State Education Assistance.

I. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2005, and for the first year of each biennium thereafter, the department shall determine the amount of state education assistance under this section, if any, for a municipality, except for municipalities where all school districts therein provide education to all of their pupils by paying tuition to other institutions, as follows:

(a) The state shall distribute state education assistance to municipalities pursuant to RSA 198:42 in an aggregate amount equal to the total amount of state education assistance grants determined for the fiscal year pursuant to subparagraph (b).

(b) The annual amount of state education assistance shall be distributed among the municipalities as state education assistance grants as follows:

(1) For each municipality with an education equity index for the applicable biennium year less than 1.2, the department shall determine a number of education equity units equal to the number of resident pupils in the municipality during the applicable determination year multiplied by the excess of 1.2 over the municipality's education equity index for such biennium. Each other municipality shall be assigned zero education equity units for such biennium.

(2) Each municipality shall receive a state education grant for such fiscal year equal to the total amount of state education grants for the fiscal year multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of education equity units determined for such municipality for the applicable biennium, and the denominator of which is the total number of education equity units determined for all municipalities for such biennium.

II. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2006, and for the second year of each biennium thereafter, the department shall determine the amount of state education assistance under this section, if any, for a municipality, except for municipalities where all school districts therein provide education to all of their pupils by paying tuition to other institutions, as follows:

(a) The state shall distribute state education assistance to municipalities pursuant to RSA 198:42 in an aggregate amount equal to the total amount of state education assistance grants determined for the fiscal year pursuant to subparagraph (b).

(b) Each municipality shall receive a state education assistance grant for such fiscal year equal to the total amount of state education assistance grants for the fiscal year as determined pursuant to paragraph III below multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of education equity units determined for such municipality for the applicable biennium, and the denominator of which is the total number of education equity units determined for all municipalities for such biennium.

III. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2005, and for each fiscal year thereafter, the department shall determine the amount of state education assistance under this section as follows:

(a) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2005, the amount of state education assistance shall be $267,000,000, to be distributed as determined in this section using the education equity index in RSA 198:40-a.

(b) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2006, the amount of state education assistance shall be the amount of assistance under this paragraph for such fiscal year multiplied by the sum of one plus the percentage change in the state average daily membership in attendance plus the average annual percentage rate of inflation for the immediately preceding 4 calendar years based on the northeast region consumer price index for all urban consumers, as published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, United States Department of Labor.

IV. For municipalities where all school districts therein provide education to all of their pupils by paying tuition to other institutions, the amount of state education assistance for each such municipality shall be the lesser of the following:

(a) The amount calculated in accordance with paragraph I or paragraph II of this section, as applicable; or

(b) The total amount paid for education expense as determined by the department.

198:41 Base Education Cost; Base Grant; Transition Grant.

I. A municipality's base education cost shall be determined by multiplying the state average per pupil cost, pursuant to RSA 198:40, by the average daily membership in residence in the municipality.

II. A municipality which cannot raise sufficient revenue at the average rate established under RSA 76:3 to fund its base education cost shall receive a base grant from the education trust fund established in RSA 198:39, in an amount sufficient to fund its base education cost.

III. Transition grants shall be paid from the education trust fund and shall be determined as follows:

(a) For the 2006 and 2007 fiscal years, a municipality with an education equity index which is less than or equal to 0.92 shall receive a transition grant for the amount that the state base grant and the state education assistance grant under RSA 198:40-b is less than 95 percent of the amount received in the 2005 fiscal year. For each one-hundredth of one point increase in a municipality's education equity index, such municipality's transition grant percentage shall decrease by one percent.

(b) For the 2008 fiscal year, and every fiscal year thereafter, a municipality with an education equity index which is less than or equal to 0.92 shall receive a transition grant of 95 percent of the amount received in the preceding fiscal year. For each one-hundredth of one point increase in a municipality's education equity index, such municipality's transition grant percentage shall decrease by one percent. Provided, however, that after fiscal year 2008, if a municipality's the transition grant is equal to or less than $100 per pupil, then the transition grant shall terminate.

(c) Beginning in the 2006 fiscal year, and every fiscal year thereafter, the commissioner of the department of education shall determine if the amount needed to fund transitions grants under RSA 198:41 for the current fiscal year is less than the amount that was needed to fund transition grants in the preceding fiscal year. Any savings identified shall be used to supplement existing appropriations for the education equity index grants distributed to municipalities under RSA 198:40-a.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraphs (a) and (b), in any fiscal year, the transition grant percentage assigned to a municipality shall not be less than the transition grant percentage assigned to such municipality in the preceding fiscal year.

7 School Money; Distribution Schedule. Amend the section heading of RSA 198:42 and RSA 198:42, I-II to read as follows:

198:42 Funding Distribution Schedule [~~of Adequate Education Grant~~]; Appropriation.

I. The [~~adequate education grant~~] base grants determined in RSA 198:41, state educational assistance grants under RSA 198:40-b, and transition grants under RSA 198:41, V shall be distributed to each municipality's school district or districts legally responsible for the education of the pupils who attend approved public schools within the district or in other districts or who attend approved programs for educationally disabled children, as the case may be, from the education trust fund in 4 payments of 20 percent on September 1, 20 percent on November 1, 30 percent on January 1, and 30 percent on April 1 of each school year; provided that for a dependent school district, the [~~grant~~] base grants determined in RSA 198:41 shall be distributed to the municipality, which shall appropriate and transfer the grant funds to its dependent school department.

II. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2004, and every fiscal year thereafter the amount necessary to fund the grants under RSA 198:41 is hereby appropriated from the education trust fund created under RSA 198:39 to the department. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant from the education trust fund to satisfy the state's obligation under this section. Such warrant for payment shall be issued regardless of the balance of funds available in the education trust fund. If the balance in the education trust fund, after the issuance of any such warrant, is less than zero, the commissioner of the department of administrative services shall inform the fiscal committee and the governor and council of such balance. This reporting shall not in any way prohibit or delay the distribution of [~~adequate~~] education grants.

8 Additional Education Expenditures. Amend RSA 198:43 to read as follows:

198:43 Additional Education Expenditures. School districts are authorized to develop additional educational programs [~~beyond those required for an adequate education~~] and to raise and appropriate amounts necessary for such programs.

9 School Money; Maintenance of Local Control. Amend RSA 198:48 to read as follows:

198:48 Maintenance of Local Control. Distributions under RSA 198:42 are based on [~~adequate~~] education costs determined in RSA 198:40 and are independent of how the municipalities decide to spend the distributions or other funds they may raise for education. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, nothing in this subdivision is intended in any way to limit or control how school districts operate or spend their budgets except that [~~adequate~~] education grants must be expended for educational purposes. [~~Adequate~~] State education grants [~~and hardship grants~~] shall not be considered unanticipated funds under RSA 198:20-b.

10 State Treasurer; Application of Receipts. Amend RSA 6:12, I(b)(65) to read as follows:

(65) Money received under RSA 77-A, RSA 77-E, RSA 78, RSA 78-A, RSA 78-B, RSA 83-F, [~~RSA 198:46~~] and from the sweepstakes fund, which shall be credited to the education trust fund under RSA 198:39.

11 School Attendance; Duty of Parent; Compulsory Attendance. Amend RSA 193:1, I(c) to read as follows:

(c) The relevant school district superintendent has excused a child from attendance because the child is physically or mentally unable to attend school, or has been temporarily excused upon the request of the parent for purposes agreed upon by the school authorities and the parent. Such excused absences shall not be permitted if they cause a serious adverse effect upon the student's educational progress. Students excused for such temporary absences may be claimed as full-time pupils for purposes of calculating state aid under RSA 186-C:18 and [~~adequate education~~] grants under RSA 198:41.

12 Subdivision Heading Amended. Amend the subdivision heading preceding RSA 198:38 to read as follows:

State Aid for ~~[Educational Adequacy]~~ Education; Education Trust Fund

13 School Money; Education Trust Fund. Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 198:39, I to read as follows:

I. The state treasurer shall establish an education trust fund in the treasury. Moneys in such fund shall not be used for any purpose other than to distribute ~~[adequate]~~base, education assistance, and transition education grants to municipalities' school districts pursuant to RSA 198:42, ~~[and]~~ to provide low and moderate income homeowners property tax relief under RSA 198:56-198:61, and to fund the performance improvement fund established in RSA 193-H:4-a. The state treasurer shall deposit into this fund immediately upon receipt:

14 Charter and Open Enrollment Schools; Funding. Amend RSA 194-B:11, I to read as follows:

I. There shall be no tuition charge for any pupil attending an open enrollment or charter conversion school located in that pupil's resident district. Funding limitations in this chapter shall not be applicable to charter conversion or open enrollment schools located in a pupil's resident district. For any other charter or open enrollment school authorized by the school district, the pupil's resident district shall pay to such school an amount equal to not less than 80 percent of that district's average cost per pupil as determined by the department of education using the most recent available data as reported by the district to the department. For any charter school authorized by the state board of education, the pupil's resident district shall pay tuition beginning July 1, 2004 and every fiscal year thereafter, in an amount per pupil equal to the amount determined in RSA 198:40, I. Tuition amounts shall be prorated on a per diem basis for pupils attending a school for less than a full school year. To the extent permitted by law, tuition payments shall coincide with the distribution of ~~[adequacy]~~ grants under RSA 198:42 or on such other terms as are mutually acceptable.

15 School Performance and Accountability; Local Education Improvement Plan. Amend RSA 193-H:4, I (b) to read as follows:

(b) If a school or school district has been designated as in need of improvement, then the school or school district may request assistance from the department ~~[of education]~~ and may request funding from the performance improvement fund established in RSA 193-H:4-a. The department shall provide technical assistance to those schools that request assistance under this section.

16 New Paragraph; School Performance and Accountability; Local Education Improvement Plan. Amend RSA 193-H:4 by inserting after paragraph IV the following new paragraph:

V. Three years following the designation, a school or school district which is still not making satisfactory progress in implementing the plan required under subparagraph I(a) shall receive, in the next fiscal year, 95 percent of the education grant to which it is entitled under RSA 198:41. For each year thereafter in which such designation persists, a school or school district shall receive, in the next fiscal year, 95 percent of the education grant to which it is entitled under RSA 198:41.

17 New Section; School Performance and Accountability; Performance Improvement Fund. Amend RSA 193-H by inserting after section 4 the following new section:

193-H:4-a Performance Improvement Fund. There is hereby established in the department a performance improvement fund which shall be administered by the commissioner. The purpose of the fund is to provide funding for approved improvement plans required under RSA 193-H:4, I. Approved improvement plans shall be funded to the extent of available funds in a fiscal year.

18 Repeals. The following are repealed:

I. 2004, 195:3 and 2004, 200:27, relative to the education property tax.

II. 2004, 200:16-200:23, relative to contingent applicability.

If the New Hampshire supreme court declares any provision of sections 118 of this act to be unconstitutional under either the New Hampshire constitution or the United States Constitution, then sections 1-18 of this act are hereby repealed on the date such unconstitutionality is declared.

20 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 2005 at 12:02 a.m.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Replaces the education property tax with a provision requiring the commissioner of the department of revenue administration to establish a tax rate sufficient to fund state education assistance payments.

II. Distributes state education assistance in the form of state education grants, which are determined on a municipality-by-municipality basis under a formula that calculates a municipality's need for assistance based on a broad range of factors, including fiscal capacity, resource challenges, performance, and student population, with the state education grants being adjusted in future years by the consumer price index and changes in statewide pupil population.

III. Provides that for the 2006 and 2007 fiscal years, a municipality shall receive a total grant equal to a percentage of the total grant received in the 2005 fiscal year, and for the 2008 fiscal year, and every fiscal year thereafter, a municipality shall receive a total grant which is equal to a percentage of the total grant received in the preceding fiscal year. Any savings realized from funding transition grants shall supplement existing appropriations to the education equity index grants to municipalities.

IV. Repeals the statutory provisions authorizing excess education property tax payments.

V. Sets forth the state's responsibility relative to the cost of an adequate education.

VI. Repeals the law and moderate income homeowners property tax relief program.

Rep. W. Packy Campbell spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Reps. Stephen L'Heureux and Carter spoke in favor.

Rep. Dumaine requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

DEBATE ON HOUSE BILL 616

CLERK'S NOTE

(References made in the following debate to Senate Bill 302 refer to (Chapter 200 Laws of 2004))

Debate on Majority Committee Amendment

Rep. Daniel Eaton: Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the amendment before you at the present time. I feel badly about that because it's from my own Finance Committee. If you look at the committee report, you'll see that Finance on this issue was well divided. About a month ago, this floor passed House Bill 616 by an overwhelming margin from the Education Committee on to the Finance Committee. The Finance Committee ran the bill every direction you could run it, up and down, we do have enough spreadsheets, you can save the money, we can redecorate this Hall with ease and have room to do the balcony. The problem is when we get done with the spreadsheets, what Finance passed out to you here today has no resemblance in any way shape or form to what the Education Committee passed to us.

During the deliberations there were multiple competing ideas and spreadsheets. The amendment before you passed the Finance Committee at least three, possibly four times on a divided vote and it died at least three or four times. This thing had so many deaths I was about ready to call my brother and invite him to join House Finance instead of Senate Finance to give it the proper burial it should get. It has been divided from the get-go. What you finally wound up with is Senate Bill 302 in sheep's clothing. The bill before you right now does not change the status quo. It keeps the wealthy towns wealthy. It keeps the poor towns poor. It puts a cap of 110% on what the poor towns can get from what they're getting today and it keeps a cap of 90% of what the wealthy towns are going to get from what they're getting today.

It is not what the people asked you to do. They asked us, at least my constituents did, I'm assuming yours did the same, they asked us to come here and solve education funding once and for all so they can get it off their backs and get it off our backs and be able to move on to the other issues of the state. The amendment before you at the moment insures that this is an ongoing perpetual issue. You will be back in two years, if you're lucky, or maybe it you're unlucky, depends on your attitude. You will be back in two years redoing this exact same formula.

There is another alternative. Should this amendment fail, there is another amendment available. There are spreadsheets in the back, the amendment is printed in your calendar. That amendment falls more along the lines of House Bill 100 in formulas that were introduced earlier and has been retained by the Education Committee. It immediately shifts money to the poorer towns. It immediately shifts money away from the wealthier towns and it sets a formula of minimal transition and as that transition depletes all of it goes into a formula to continue giving money to the poorer towns.

If you want to keep the status quo, if you want to stay on track with what we have been doing for the last decade which is putting a chink in the armor but never sealing it up and getting the deal done, if you want to keep this as an election issue for the next decade, I encourage you to vote for the amendment on the floor right now.

If you want to get the job done, and if you want to put in an education funding system that has breadth and life and can continue on so we don't redo this issue every 18 months or two years, then I urge you to vote against the pending motion and look at the next amendment up on deck. There will be a couple other folks who will be more than happy to answer any questions. I hope you look at the numbers and I urge you to vote this motion down.

Rep. Hughes: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With that warm welcome, I'd like to give you a brief overview of our bill, House Finance Committee. The bill that was approved is an amended version of House Bill 616, the education funding plan that was passed by the full House two weeks ago. It incorporates the central themes of the original bill. The amendment plan provides for a total state grants $460 million, compared to $454 million in '05. The plan relies on the 28-cent cigarette tax that you thankfully passed this morning. The distribution formula is similar to that contained in the earlier House approved plan. That plan was recommended by the House Education Committee. It began with an adequacy amount of $3,580 and $5.60 per thousand of equalized property value. That's a measure or a test of a town's ability to raise enough property taxes to fund the adequacy amount.

Please understand that is not the state-wide property tax. As in the original plan that we passed a few weeks ago, the state-wide property tax is eliminated. Therefore there is no provision for property tax relief because we do not have the tax. The previous speaker just mentioned that this was similar to 302. This is a good example of why it is so dissimilar from Senate Bill 302. Senate Bill 302 had a property tax and it had over 50 donor towns. This bill has none and it has no property tax.

Those municipalities that cannot raise the adequacy amount on their own, at $5.60 per thousand, would receive baseline education grants. That grant would be put in there to makeup the shortfall. It is the first source of funding in this plan. On your spreadsheets, if you look at them, you arrive at your base grant by taking your per pupil amount and subtracting the equal value calculation, that's line 3 and line 4, and they equal line 6 in your sheet which is called base grant. The total amount of the base education grant is $122.7 million. That's approximately 26% of the total funds of this bill.

The second source of funding, $289 million or 63% of the bill, would be distributed on an education equity index formula. You'll hear this often times referred to as the EEI formula, education equity index. This, too, is new to this House. It was passed here a few weeks ago. It comes originally from the Governor's plan, HB 100 when he started talking about an education funding plan. It's completely different than Senate Bill 302. The formula compares each municipality to state-wide averages in six different areas. These comparisons are weighted and compared against state-wide averages. I will run through them now with their averages: 1) median household income, that comprises 20% of the weighting; 2) equalized property value is 40%; 3) free and reduced lunch eligibility is 9.5%; 4) English as a second language .5%; and 5) test scores is 15%; and 6) graduation rates are 7.5%. One factor that was originally contained in the Governor's plan, the college matriculation rate, has been eliminated from the EEI. To get to the EEI equity unit, which is your line 7, you would add up those six figures and then divide them into .925 and I'm going to leave it at that. It goes on and then if you go through the formula, you will see what the state education assistance grant is in line 8.

A third source of funds is included in this bill and those are transition grants. There are $48 million in transition grants or 11% of the total. If a municipality would receive in fiscal year 2006 less than 90% of what it received in 2005, it would be getting an additional grant to bring it up to 90%. Each year thereafter, each municipality would similarly be guaranteed at least 90% of its previous year's grant. There is also a ceiling and each municipality's total grant would be limited to 11% of the previous year. Finally each year beginning in 2007, as the total amount needed for fund transition grants is less than the amount for the preceding year, as we're going down, 50% of those savings would be flowed back into the formula and added to the amount available for distribution under the EEI formula. Also any funds that come into the education trust fund from the general fund would no longer lapse back into the general fund. If there was a surplus they would stay in the education trust fund. And that is how this formula works.

It's a good bill and both committees, I might add, the Education Committee and the Finance Committee did their work and did a good job. They worked openly, they looked at many, many bills. They allowed time for input, they had open hearings and due deliberation on all the bills. This particular bill, I feel the Finance Committee bent over backwards to allow everybody to present their best thoughts on education funding. Three or four times, we took this bill and reconsidered it, so as to allow those that said, "Gee, I got a better idea," to come in and give their idea. And every time we ended going back to this formula because in every one of those plans there seemed to be some kind of what I would call a "fatal flaw."

This morning earlier we heard about constitutionality. It seems in this House that when anybody doesn't like any bill, they say that, "Well, it must be unconstitutional." It leads me to think that we must have more lawyers in this New Hampshire legislature than we have in the New Hampshire prison system. And in the prison system every prisoner's a jailhouse lawyer. The only people that can decide whether this is constitutional is the Court. It is our job to legislate. Legislators legislate. We do what's best for our state. The Governor can govern and the Supreme Court can adjudicate. And that's what we have to do, is our best job to legislate.

This is a real education bill, it's not a shadow of something we've had before. It's funded with real money, and fits into a real budget that we've passed. This works with the $460 million that we have into it. And it's a real bill, with real money for real New Hampshire children, and towns and municipalities that need this assistance.

I hope you'll support the committee and the work that we did to bring this bill to you. It's a good bill and it deserves your consideration.

Rep. Peter Allen: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Thank you for taking my question, Representative. My question is, what relationship does the $3580 adequacy allowance have to the cost of an adequate education?

Rep. Hughes: Thank you. $3580 figure is arrived at by taking the figure we currently use in Senate Bill 302, which has been used for this year, and adding to it the rate of inflation. Thank you for the question.

Rep. Peter Allen: Are you telling me that you believe that an adequate education only costs $3580 a year per student?

Rep. Hughes: What I'm telling you sir, is that is what we are funding for the state portion of adequacy, for the state portion of the state's responsibility to education. That's a base figure to come off of.

Rep. Peter Allen: Am I wrong in believing that the courts found that it was the state's responsibility for funding an adequate education?

Rep. Hughes: As I stated before, that's a very debatable issue and until any of these bills wind up in court, you don't know what the court is going to do.

Rep. Carter: I thank the distinguished member from Newcastle and my friend for yielding to the question. If I may ask, Representative, isn't it so that when you have a plan that uses an EEI value to distribute aid and then aid is established at a certain level to a community based upon its need, and then you put a 10% cap on aid to that community such that the community then receives less than the EEI formula told you that it was entitled to, that you completely thwart the policy of the bill you have offered here today?

Rep. Hughes: Thank you, Rep. Carter. No, I don't believe you do. The fact of the matter is we handle transitions both ways. There are towns that are receiving funds, there are towns that are taking funds, and it is a transition, and it goes out over a period of years. Every year we are reducing certain towns by 10%. Those other towns that may not get as much money this year, the fact of the matter is that if they are truly deserving, this formula because of inflation and because of the 50% of recapture from the transition fund will be getting plowed back into EEI and they will certainly catch up in time. Thank you.

Rep. Ward: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Honorable colleagues, I stand here opposed to the Finance amendment to House Bill 616. I would first like to state that I appreciate the hard work the Finance Committee has done and I respect the Finance Committee tremendously. They are the people who have to make the tough decisions every session in Concord. But, I do believe the Finance Committee makes drastic changes to the education funding policy that the Education subcommittee and Education Committee came up with. Drastic changes were done to the distribution in the formula, and drastic changes were done in the policy. Let me be clear. The Education funding subcommittee is strongly opposed to this amendment. Let me also be clear. The Education Committee as a whole is strongly opposed to this amendment. We worked nights, weekends for weeks trying to find an adequate, constitutional and fair education funding plan.

The Finance Committee amendment does accomplish a number of things for the benefit of wealthy communities. It reduces the base grants by $31 million which this base grants are put in place to distribute money to the poorest communities in the state. The Finance Committee also reduces the per pupil spending from $4,474 to $3,580. I do not believe that is an adequate amount. The Finance Committee also increases the transition money to transition towns by $8 million.

The Finance Committee also reduces the amount of money the poorest communities can get by capping it at 10%. As Representative Carter stated earlier, I believe this is unconstitutional. Limiting the amount of money that poorer communities need to fund an adequate education severely undercuts and denies what the Supreme Court stipulated when they did their last Claremont decision. The effect of these changes is clear. They take money away from the poorest communities and give them to the rich communities. The Finance Committee increases approximately $5 million to the four richest communities in New Hampshire, while taking away approximately $5 million from the four poorest communities in New Hampshire. Berlin, Lisbon, the poor plaintiff towns are losing in this formula.

Honorable colleagues, our fine Speaker called 302 a criminal act. Well, fellow Representatives, we are codifying this criminal act if we support the Finance Committee amendment. Thank you for your time and your patience. I will take no questions.

Rep. Dodge: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I didn't realize that I was such a criminal today by taking all this money away from everybody. Back on March 23 by a vote of 241 to 121, you sent this bill to Finance and when we got it into Finance, it came with a price tag of $497 million. Well, to be very, very specific about it, ladies and gentlemen, we just don't have $497 million and the best we could do was $460 million.

When we considered this we had people come in from all areas, the Governor's people came in three or four times, members of the Education Committee came in a few times, some of them, I'm not going to get into whether or not they had a legal meeting or not, but it doesn't make any difference. At any rate we had so many spreadsheets, as my good friend, the Representative from Stoddard says, we could line this whole Hall. However, in the final end of it, as my good Representative from Newcastle has said to you, this is the very best we could do with the resources that we had available to us. We urge the House to consider what we have accomplished relative to education funding. We know it is not a perfect bill, however, it is a vast improvement on Senate Bill 302 and bears no resemblance to 302.

We have eliminated the broad-based state-wide property tax. We have done away with donor towns. We have negotiated in open and public meetings held by both the Education and the Finance Committee. We had no closed door sessions. Nothing. As a matter of fact, the mere fact that we told you, we considered this bill five times, basically for reconsidering so other people could put their bills in it and every time we came back to this one here.

House Bill 616 provides a responsible transition in order that we may move forward as a state with a true education funding plan that is fair, and is equitable and we urge you to please support the Finance Committee and thank you very much.

Rep. Marjorie Smith: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the committee amendment. There are a number of reasons to oppose the committee amendment, actually there are myriad of reasons to oppose the committee amendment and I wrote about them very briefly in my blurb and I'm sure you've all read the blurb and memorized it so I don't have to repeat it.

But the issue that I'd like you to focus on is that frequently things are not what they seem. Sometimes we label something one way when it really means something else. We sat here this morning and discussed Ways and Means revenue estimates as if the Ways and Means Committee opens its wallet, pulls out all the bills and the coins and adds up what they have, and then says, "this is how much money we have." We listened to the chairman of the Election Law Committee and others talk about how perfect the Ways and Means Committee is. Now, those of us who serve on other committees know that we're not perfect, so why would we expect the Ways and Means Committee to be perfect? In fact, the Ways and Means Committee's estimates from last year were off by $100 million, and yet, we voted as if the Ways and Means's estimates were exactly on target and have always been.

We have the same problem here in this bill. We call this bill an education bill. This bill has nothing at all to do with education. It has everything to do with property tax relief and property tax relief that is not addressed in the best possible way to solve the problems caused by our reliance on property tax. In this bill an effort was made to combine two very, very different plans. As a result the bill really doesn't resemble any animal that any one of us is familiar with.

The first half of this bill is based by and large on equalized property valuation. In the second half of the bill, there is a formula and what I would like to say is that 40% of the second half of the bill is based on property valuation. In fact, it's actually a little more than 40% because we removed some other factors. You look at this bill and look at where the money goes. You look at the problems that you have in your local school districts. I would imagine your local school districts talk to you about concerns about special education as committed as we all are. Mr. Speaker, my mother told me never to talk when someone else was speaking.

Deputy Speaker Weyler: House will be in order, please give your attention to the speaker, anyone of us could be in that position as some point.

Rep. Marjorie Smith: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. When we hear from our school districts, we hear that they are committed to delivering appropriate education services to every child and we hear that in some districts there is a struggle to meet special education costs. There's no mention anywhere here of special education. We know that there are school districts that cover a very large geographic territory, where every child is bused, many children bused long distances. There's nothing in this bill that deals with that. When we look at what our local districts ask for, the questions they raise, we do not see those questions answered in this amendment. If we want to address the inequities that are caused by excessive reliance on property taxes, then I think we ought to call a spade a spade and do that. If we want to address the problems of how to establish a state definition of an adequate education and then find a fair and equitable way to honor that definition, then I think we ought to do that. When my colleague stands up as says we only have $460 million, and therefore, we have to cram whatever we can into that pot, we have to deal with the reality that $460 million is what we are willing to spend. If that's what we're willing to spend, fine, then we ought to find a way to spend that money in the most fair and equitable way. And Mr. Speaker, the Finance Committee amendment does none of those things. Thank you.

Rep. Kurk: Thank you, Representative Smith. Do both the Campbell amendment and the Finance Committee amendment have the same base amount of $3,580 to determine that part of the $460 million that's distributed through the first part of the formula?

Rep. Marjorie Smith: Mr. Chair, I was not given the privilege of seeing this amendment until this morning, the Carter amendment, although I was told I would receive it two days ago. So I am not in a position to answer anything about the Carter amendment. I'm addressing now only the issue before us which is the Finance Committee amendment.

Rep. Chandler: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Members, I do rise in support of the committee amendment. I find it a little ironic that I am up here on the same side of the education funding issue as the member from Newcastle. (Some of you may get that and those who don't I'll explain it to you afterwards.) I've been unfortunately involved in this education funding dilemma in a variety of roles for far too many years, but nonetheless, that's what we've been elected to be here to do. A little over four years ago, when I was in my former position, I was asked the question "Was I going to solve the education funding permanently in this state?" I said, "We'll solve it for two years. And in two years we will solve it again." And I took a lot of flack for that, newspaper editorials and everything, but we're still here doing it and I will guarantee you that no matter what we do today, we will be back doing it again and I think we should. I think every time, in my opinion, despite what others have felt, and I think this is the thing, that every time that we have dealt with this issue we have made improvements to it. I think that is a good thing. But if anyone thinks that no matter whether this version passes, the other version passes, or whatever passes, people aren't going to be back here either next year or in two years to try and make changes to it, they are living in a different world than I am, I think. So I think we need to consider that. The idea is to try to make it as good as we can. I think the Finance Committee amendment does that. The one thing I've always tried to do in whatever position I've had in dealing with education funding is try to be fair to the communities involved. The one thing when we started the donor town issue, when this whole thing first started, my goodness, that's all I did was represent donor towns, I think, but there were a lot of others other than the ones I represented. I tried to do a phase-in. I thought that was the proper way to do it, spread out the impact whether it be over two, three or five years for the donor towns. Didn't work. I felt then, and I feel now that would have been the fairest thing to do. Conversely, the fairest thing to do, we can talk about the wealthy communities, the so-called wealthy communities, and we know who they are, the poster children for this, but the fact of the matter is there are poor people in those wealthy communities, too, and if their taxes are going to be affected, we have to take consideration of that. I believe the fair thing to do is to phase out, I guess, what the wealthy communities were getting. We need to target more money to the poorer communities. This amendment will do that. But we also have to be careful to what we're doing. Communities have passed budgets, they've made long-term plans. Just let's be fair, let's ease into it, be fair to those people. That's why I support this amendment and I would ask you to do the same. Thank you.

Debate on Floor Amendment (1186h)

Rep. W. Packy Campbell: Mr. Deputy Speaker, I move Ought to Pass on HB 616 amendment 1186h. This amendment is consistent with House Bill 616 as passed by this House. This amendment seeks to equitably share the burden of state-wide education while maintaining the concept of targeting money to the neediest communities in our state. This bi-partisan amendment is supported by a super majority of the Education policy committee. This bill offers us an opportunity to send on to the Senate a bill based on principles, not on political expediency and vote counting.

This bill takes the original policy as contained in House Bill 616 and fits it into a $460 million box. In doing so, targeted aid is being reduced by some $33 million, about 7%. Transition grants are lowered by 11%, from $44 to $40 million. The end result being that all communities would share, all communities would share in the burden of the shortfall. Additionally, we take the policy committee's position and we vary your transition grant based on your factor in the formula. Your EEI factor is what determines your transition grant, not the political necessity of securing votes from towns.

I wish to emphasize that the amount of money any given town is reduced, on average, is really just a small portion of their overall municipal tax rate. For example, let's look at Bedford. That great town would see a net loss in funding of $1,855,000. Although a large sum, that figure is just 65 cents on their tax rate, which is just a 4% increase in their local tax rate to stay even. Amherst loses a large number as well, $1,800,000. That's just 6% difference in their 2004 tax rate.

On the flip side, Berlin with a tax rate of $47.09 per thousand evaluation, sees additional aid under this version of $3,101,000 which represents a reduction in tax rate disparity, disparity by about $10.93, or a 23% reduction in their tax rate. How many of my fellow members here today represent towns and cities with tax rates of $36 or $47?

Let's look at our friends from Hooksett, a good middle-tier town which loses $706,000. That figure represents 58 cents on their tax rate of $22 per thousand. That's a 2.5% increase. I think that makes sense to provide the aid to the needed places. My good friends, percentage changes of 2.5% to 6% on local tax rates are not going to bankrupt our municipalities or change the political landscape of any such municipality. It will allow us to abide by our constitutional, moral, and I say just generally, policy obligation to ensure that every community can provide for an adequate education to every child in the state. This amendment varies transition based on your EEI score, recycles 100% of the reductions in transition grants back into targeted aid where it should be.

It defines for the first time the cost of an adequate education. Defines it. It says we fund an adequate education by targeting base grants and EEI's and then we fund it. We, the legislature, have the obligation, the responsibility to say, "This is the cost of adequacy and this is how we fund it." Ladies and gentlemen, all I want to do is tell you what we're going to do, say what we're going to do and then do what we said. That's all we have to do. Is it perfect? No, it's not, it's not perfect. Do I think that I ran the spreadsheets that would cover the whole hall, the gallery and the rest of the building, I ran them 900 ways to Tuesday and I looked at them in all kinds of different ways. I think this bill in and of itself is just another spreadsheet. Throw your spreadsheets out, please. Throw 'em out. But pass this bill on to the Senate because it's based in principle, the principle that the neediest communities get the money. Do I think the Senate is going to add special ed? Maybe they should. Thank you, for these reasons I urge on behalf of the majority of the members of the Education policy committee to support the floor amendment to House Bill 616. Thank you.

Rep. Rowe: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I thank the Honorable Representative. Small town, 11,000 population, promised $4,545,000 this year. The voters of this small town relied upon that. Under your bill they're going to get $2,203,000. They're going to lose $2,342,000. This is a town that has low-income elderly, low-income single parents, low-income working families. You're cutting it by almost 60%. Is that fair?

Rep. Campbell: Representative, in order to answer that question, I would need to know what town. I didn't catch that.

Rep. Rowe: These are the figures on your spreadsheet, irrespective of the name of the town, it is the town of that population.

Rep. Campbell: Representative, I would just say in general the towns that lose money have billions of dollars in equalized assessed value for their communities and they are able to withstand these costs at very low percentage increases in their taxes in spite of how high they are. Thanks for the question.

Rep. Stephen L'Heureux: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, the Education Committee worked long and hard on a number of bills. In addition, in the last few weeks, a core group of Education members worked on this amendment. At that point, when some of these spreadsheets started coming out, a lot of us had numerous questions as to which one was the right bill to pass. At this point in time, this is the right amendment to pass. The majority of the Education Committee believes that and I urge you to pass it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Carter: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I would like to begin by extending my thanks to the leadership of the House for your position at this time. I know everyone has worked very hard in Finance and Education, and in this House in general, to bring forth a bill that can work for all the people of the state of New Hampshire. It's been a long journey for many. Everyone has worked hard. It's very rewarding for me to be able to be here and to be able to offer this plan and backed by so many members of this House. Please vote "yes" here when we get this opportunity very shortly. We will then have a solid bill that we can take forward to the Senate and a bill that we can be proud to defend in Committee of Conference. I thank you all very much for the opportunity and please vote "green."

Debate on HB 616 as amended

Rep. Boehm: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Fellow representatives. I represent Hillsborough District 27 which includes Litchfield, Pelham and Hudson. I'm also vice-chairman of the Litchfield School Board. I'm speaking against this bill as amended because when we started this procedure the town of Litchfield, for example, with SB 302 and the original HB 616, would get $1.00 decrease in our $20.00 tax rate. Now, we're getting with the Finance committee initial bill was zero. Now with this amendment we're going to lose a dollar, our tax rate is going up $1.00. I find this strange, this municipality that has a tax rate of $13, is getting an increase in revenue. Yet, two of our towns, Litchfield and Pelham which have tax rates of more than $20, and in the process of building schools because we are growing communities in the southern tier, have a $20 tax rate and we're losing money. And in both of our towns we are losing a dollar on the tax rate.

Some things that I don't think are right in HB 616. We have a portion of the bill that rewards the bad, we're giving money to towns that do poorly in education rather than dangling a carrot to them and saying, "Hey, if you do better, we'll give you more money," which is a better way of doing it. Also, we have some municipalities that I look at as double-dipping. One of the things that should be in the bill, in the formula, is how much money do these towns get in Title I grants. Title I grants are for the, depending on how much people you have in your town that have minimum income or eligible for reduced or free lunches, yet, we're funding that also. OK, we should offset that amount that municipalities get by Title I grants. So, I appeal to you, this is not fair. One thing that also needs to be, I believe, in the bill, is for growing towns. What about a formula? OK. We have a $20 tax rate in Litchfield. We are a residential community. We do not have any industry or any commercial, and it's not because we don't want it, we have land zoned for that purpose, but it is our location. We don't have major highway. As luck would have it, many years ago they decided to build the highway and the railroad tracks on the other side of the river. So, we're suffering. We would have had a circumferential highway ten years ago, but President Clinton saw that we weren't gonna get that. So now we're stuck with land zoned for commercial, light industrial, but we can't build anything because we don't have the infrastructure. So, it's not that we don't want aid in our property tax, it's just that we're not in the right place to get it. So, it's not fair to hurt property poor towns with this bill and we are really hurting with this because we are in the process of trying to build a new school because we're growing. With this bill we're guaranteed next year, if this passes and goes through the House, we will not be able to build a new school because we are not going to get the grant that we had budgeted for, the amount of money that we had budgeted for, we're going to get basically $2.00 less than what we budgeted for. So, please vote "no" on this. Thank you.

Rep. Pratt: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I take no pleasure in rising now to oppose the work of both the Education and the Finance Committees. I know how hard many have worked, the long hours, and I appreciate that work and that effort. But I hope by the time I'm done, at least the gentleman from Newcastle will have some sense of why some of us believe so passionately that this bill does not meet the constitutional requirements of this House or of this State.

Mr. Speaker, 50 years ago, the executive and the legislative branches of the states across the south, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, others, were engaged in a process of massive avoidance of the requirements imposed upon those governments by the Supreme Court of the United States. Mr. Speaker, today, the executive and legislative branches of the state of New Hampshire are engaged in a similar effort of avoidance of the requirements imposed upon us by the Supreme Court of our state. And I want to develop this analogy a little bit so that you understand at least where I'm coming from. We all know that after the Civil War the South developed gradually a program called "separate but equal," and that eventually it even had constitutional approval. We also ought to know that beginning in the 1930's and moving right through the 40's and the 50's, the courts of this land began to tell the states of the south, "If you are going to live by that formula, you must live by both sides of it. If you are going to have separate, you must have equal." And we all know that the states of the South could not, would not and did not hear the warnings of the court. And so, in 1954, the Supreme Court brought down the hammer, and it did not say my friends, "From now on, you must have equality." It said something far different. It said, "From now on, the doctrine of separate but equal no longer holds in this land." Radical, radical difference. And it was that difference that all these legislators and executives in the South were trying to avoid in the days and years following Brown.

Now it also happened, my colleagues, that across the land in the North, people began to look at education and how we deal with it. Increasingly, they discovered that if a kid comes from a rich school district, he or she has a pretty good chance of having a decent education. And if a kid comes from a poor district, on average, he or she is going to get the short end of the stick. So lawsuits began to be filed from one end of this nation to the other and in every case, every case where those lawsuits reached the highest court, the court found that educational funding based on local jurisdictions could not stand and had to be changed to a state-wide basis.

New Hampshire came late to this discussion, as we do with many discussions. But in 1981, the case was filed in this state and started its way through the courts. And in recognition of that, in 1985, the legislative and executive branches came to a solemn agreement – which I always thought they named after some mystical Swiss mountain – and in that agreement they agreed that they would top off the local districts so that every student in New Hampshire would have an opportunity for an adequate education. And the ink wasn't dry on that agreement, as we all know, before we started not to live up to it, biennium after biennium after biennium. And in 1991, in Claremont I, the Supreme Court of New Hampshire sent a shot across our bow, in the same way that the courts had sent shot after shot across the bows of the South prior to Brown, urging us to live up to what we had agreed to do. And we did not, would not and could not. And so, in 1997, the hammer came down. And just as Brown stood "separate but equal" on its head and said, "No more, never again," so the Supreme Court of New Hampshire radically altered education in this state.

I want to try and state in layman's language the two fundamental changes as I see them that came out of the Claremont II decision. The first. Prior to Claremont II, a student in New Hampshire was a Walpole student first, or a Dover student first and a New Hampshire student second. After Claremont II, a student in New Hampshire was a New Hampshire student. No longer was our responsibility as the town of Walpole to do the best we could for our kids. Now we were all in it together. They were all our students and we had the duty to ensure that all of them got an adequate education.

The second thing that it did, equally important, was to stand the funding on its head and I want to thank my colleague from Dover for the analogy. Prior to Claremont II, it was the duty of the town and the locality to "fill up the tank" and our obligation, as we said in Augenblick, was to top it off. If you could fill it only halfway, we'd put the other halfway in.

After Claremont II, it is the duty of the state to fill that tank and the towns, if they have the funds and can see fit, can upgrade from regular to diesel, or regular to supreme or whatever, but the duty was ours, is ours, today, and that is a state-wide duty.

When we do what we do today, and let me make very clear, the bills, and it didn't really matter to me which amendment came before you because they both in essence do the same thing. They are both saying, "Cross my heart, hope to die, this time we really will do targeted aid right. I promise you." And of course even as they are saying it, they happened to figure out that they needed to drop $37 million from the formula. What we are doing is wrong. It violates the Claremont II decision. At least if we're doing it, let's be clear we know what we're doing.

And finally, Mr. Speaker, as long as I've got the podium, I'd like to say a word to those folks who are part of our government, who labor across the river. That word is, "Stay strong, stay strong!" What you said in Claremont II in my judgment was absolutely right. It might bring us kicking and screaming into the third millennium but it needs to be done. Some day millions of students, probably unknowingly, will thank you for the courage and the wisdom which you had.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Vaillancourt: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'll try this microphone this time. It is with a great sense of sadness that I rise to speak against this because what I told you three weeks ago when I spoke against the bill on its way to Finance, I wish I could say that everything I said was wrong and that Finance has managed to correct all the little errors with this and pull the miracle, the rabbit, out of the hat and make it better. They haven't done that, unfortunately. And as the previous speaker alluded to, the amendment that just passed is pretty much the same as Finance except that it gets aid to the towns that need it most, Claremont, Franklin, indeed Berlin, indeed Keene, by removing that 10% cap. So I think it's slightly better than the Finance Committee one, although the four major errors that I sadly pointed out three weeks ago are still there.

This bill could not be accomplished without a new tax. No big deal for me, I favored raising the cigarette tax. In fact, I would have put a beer tax on it, so that's not a problem for me. Second problem, they had to make major changes for the worse in the bill we sent over. The hardship portion was removed, about $22-23 million a year, $45 million removed. So they added $87 million in new taxes, they removed $45 million in a vital provision, I mourn that. I think we could add it back in. Rep. Bickford and I have an amendment that would do that. Of course, you would have to raise the rooms and meals tax by 1% to do that, I don't think there's the will for that, so I won't even offer it. The second problem that made it get worse in the intervening time. Third problem, and if I could live with the first two, I can't live with this one, is the unconstitutionality of this bill. Previous Representatives said that it is not for us to decide on constitutionality. I happen to have in my hand a resolution which neither the majority, nor the minority appears willing to endorse. It say if we pass this we will send it on to the Court for a ruling. Nobody wants to do that. Fine. I was willing to put my principles aside and say that if you agree to do that, I'll agree to support something even though I believe it's unconstitutional. But since there is no willingness to do that, I will not support something that I believe is unconstitutional. It's worse than that. We talk about state-wide property tax and donor towns, and we've had to live with that in years gone by. A lot of people say that it's only a $20 million shell game, we move the shells around for only $20 million. What we have done with this bill, if we pass it today, is take a $20 million problem and make it six times as bad. If you take the spreadsheet that I'm sure you have, that is from the House Finance 616 Amended and it would be the same part to the version that is already passed, if you look in Column 6 you see the "base grant." There are a lot of towns that have no number in there because what that base grant is, let's take the first town Acworth, for example. Acworth needs to raise $521,000, they can only raise $382,000, so they should get $139,000 – fair, good, equitable. Go down to the first town where there is no number in there, that would be Alton at 691 students, $3,580 per student, Alton needs to raise $2.47 million, in other words $2.5 million for that amount.

Rep. Carter: Point of Order, Mr. Speaker. I believe the Representative is referring to a spreadsheet which is not under consideration at this point by this House.

Rep. Vaillancourt: The numbers are the same for the bill that you just passed, so the spreadsheet, as far as this goes, is indeed the same.

Rep. Carter: Further point of order, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Carter: The numbers are not the same. The $3,580 is an incorrect figure and he is looking at a spreadsheet not relative to the amendment that has been passed.

Rep. Vaillancourt: May I suggest that both bills have a dummy state-wide property tax, and this is where we are perpetuating fraud on the people of this state, if we pass this. We are raising $716 million to define adequacy. We're not just picking that 716 out of the air. We're doing it by assuming that we're using a $5.60 tax. This is where the fraud will never pass constitutional muster. What we are saying to the court is that we are no longer calling it a "state-wide property tax" but you know it really is one. That's why I say that when you do that, it is nothing short of fraud. It's worse that what we have because we're just blatantly doing it. I will go back to my example now, Mr. Speaker, if I may.

Because both plans raise that base money, and both plans have the same equalized assessment per town, the same number of students, so Alton which needs to raise $2.47 million can actually raise $6.89 million which means Alton gets to keep $4.4 million. In other words, under the old plan, that would be a state-wide property tax which would come back to the state. If you add up all those little blank lines in Column 6, you don't get $20 million, you get $122,515,000 that we are forgiving. Like the ABC Plan asked us to do, forgive more than they were willing or able to raise. So we're committing a massive fraud on the people by passing this bill, even though it's a better bill than the one we defeated with Finance. In a sense, Mr. Speaker, it's not perfect either, because let's go to the spreadsheet the Representative, the sponsor of this bill just passed out. Not only does Alton get to keep $4.42 million, that we should be getting back, but Alton under this actually receives a grant. Unlike the Finance Committee plan which was voted down, Alton, certainly one of the wealthiest towns in the state, now gets $90,000. Bartlett, which was a donor town, now gets $203,000. Portsmouth, instead of giving $8 million which they would if you did the math as I just did earlier, Portsmouth now gets to keep over a million dollars. This is fraud, fraud, and double fraud and shame on us if we approve it.

Now earlier in the day, we were told that if we didn't approve the budget, we were in big trouble. We had nothing to fall back on. If we don't approve this, I'm sad to say, because I don't want to fall back on current law, but I would rather fall back on constitutional, current law than go ahead with this piece of unconstitutional garbage which I believe is going to waste more time. So, although current law isn't perfect, do you know, it's really not all that bad. If you were at a hearing in January, we already do targeting with current law. According to the figures for next year with current law, Berlin gets $5,616 per student, Bedford gets $1,289 per student. That's five times more for the Berlin student than the Bedford student. And Manchester, just to be honest with you, is right about the middle, $2,985, the middle is $2,442. So we already do targeting. Currently law is not perfect but it is not as bad as what we would replace it with. So to avoid the fraud, I sadly say, what I told you four weeks ago is right. I wish it weren't, but it is. I had my bike in Montreal over the weekend, spending a lot of time riding and every now and then I would stop and look at these figures, and every time I looked at them, especially when I got the calculator out, they came up making less sense. And when I found the $122 million that towns raise that they don't need, that they should give back, I don't need to send this to the Court. If we pass this, I know it will be struck down because somebody else will do that job. I'm not going to vote for something I deem unconstitutional. No, I'm not a lawyer, but I can use a calculator, and I can read and when it says that if the tax on the property is used, even though you change the name of it, by some kind of fraud, it still means that it must be fair and proportionate and it is not. Unless you want to go to an income tax, you are going to have to keep that state-wide property tax. Thank you.

Rep. Gibson: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Is the member from Manchester aware that many cities and towns across this state have already set their budgets based upon what we passed last year and that if we adopt this House Bill 616, anything but constitutional bill, that we would in many towns cause a property tax increase on the second part of the tax bill coming in December?

Rep. Vaillancourt: Yes, but the towns that are going to do better won't be complaining. The Berlins, Keenes, Claremonts won't be complaining when they get more than they thought they would be getting. What your question gets to is if it's equitable to have towns thinking at this point that what they have already done is accurate. And I think the point you are getting at is that it would be a shock. It would indeed be a shock, in some cases good news, but in many cases bad news. Thank you.

Rep. Casey: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Thank you, colleagues. I can't possibly rise to the lofty words of the prior two speakers but I have something much better than that. I have brevity. I rise to support the Eaton-Carter #1186h and I rise to do so for four very important, crucial reasons. Number one – fairness. Number two – fairness. Number three – fairness. Number four – fairness. This bill is fairer because it is closer to the version that passed out of the Education Committee, nearly unanimously. It is fairer because it meets the education policy goals of giving more money to the poorer communities, in need communities and moving it away from wealthier communities. It is fairer because all un-needed transition revenue money is rolled back into education assistance and then distributed back to towns. Now this is over a period of time, not this next year, but over time, to be used for education, all of the money. It is fairer because the transition grants are indexed to the EEI, thus creating a sliding scale for those transition grants. It is an excellent public policy. It is a formula that can fluctuate with revenue. It is good House policy that we can send proudly to the Senate. And I ask that you support the committee and their bipartisan vote for this bill.

I should also point out to you because so much as been said about its constitutionality, that the Attorney General has indicated that she can defend this approach on a good faith basis. That's all we can ask. All else is conjecture. Any bill that comes through this House and through the Senate will be put to that scrutiny and we do not know the result of that. So, therefore I ask you, please support this bill and press the green button.

Debate on Reconsideration

Rep. Kurk: Yes, Mr. Speaker, I would like to offer a motion for reconsideration on our last vote on House Bill 616, and having voted with the prevailing side I believe I'm in a position to so move.

Speaker Scamman: That is an appropriate motion.

Rep. Kurk: May I speak to my motion?

Speaker Scamman: You may speak to your motion. The motion is Reconsideration.

Rep. Kurk: I voted on both sides of this issue as many of you have and I don't mean just today. This is a very difficult issue for all of us. Today I voted in favor of the Finance Committee amendment because I felt that in order to be fair to everyone in this state, we couldn't take down the losers by kicking their chairs out from under them. That isn't fair. I voted in favor of the Carter-Campbell-Eaton amendment because I thought perhaps we should have some House position. I'm having second thoughts about that because we do have another House position and that position is current law. Now, that is not my first choice. I thought the Finance position is better. But it is my second choice. And so, I would ask you to vote "yes" on reconsideration, so we can take the appropriate action on the motion that we just passed by three votes. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Marjorie Smith: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Here we are again. The Representative from Weare, would you help me understand why you would think we would have the current law as the underlying issue when it would be my sense that we could end up with HB 616 as it passed the House several weeks ago at a vote of roughly 240 to 120. If we worked our way backwards again, as we did so inelegantly this morning, wouldn't we end up by removing the amendment and being left with the bill that the Education Committee thought was the right bill and that in fact, for every two of us here voting for it, only one voted against it. Thank you.

Rep. Kurk: That you, Rep. Smith for the question. I believe that is a possible outcome. I think what we need to do is have that discussion which I don't think we had as a result of our last action which is why I urge reconsideration.

Rep. Marjorie Smith: Thank you. Could I ask one more question? Is it not true that one way for us to save enormous amounts of money would be to vote down 616 in any way, have 302 as it is now written and with any subsequent amendment, would that not in the end mean that we would have to spend very little given that in the manner that 302 was passed, again inelegantly, last year, there is a serious error in how it is worded?

Rep. Kurk: I don't think I know the full answer to that question. I have my opinion but I don't think it is informed enough to state it to the House and ask members to rely on it. So I'll respectfully decline to answer that. I would say this. We do have a financial problem if we simply do nothing on this bill. If we do nothing on this bill, if we kill 616, as I understand it, the cost of 302 is something like $505 million. We just passed the budget with money to fund education at $460 million. The budget probably would be out of balance at that point, but you could argue, as we have in the past, that our obligation under our rules is for the Finance Committee to present to this body a balanced budget. There is no rules obligation on this House to send a balanced budget to the Senate. There is a statutory obligation on this House to adopt a final budget that is balanced. If we were to pass 616 as it came from the policy committee, we would also be in a shortfall. The cost of that bill as I understand it is $497 million, and again, we passed a budget that provides for education funding at the $460 million level. This is a dilemma especially for someone like me. But I think that we need to sit back for a moment and reconsider what we've done to decide if we want to establish the policy that is contained in the Carter-Campbell-Eaton amendment, whether we want to revisit the policy contained in the Finance amendment, or whether we want to do the other two options, the ones suggested by Rep. Smith, or the one that I had suggested. But I think that we need to take a moment to make those decisions in a more thoughtful manner and frankly, we don't have a lot of time. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Mirski: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In all the years that I've had some association with this place, this is the first time I think that we've had a proposal on the table which actually treated poor towns fairly. So I think that we ought to take the opportunity and go with this. It's the right thing to do. I ask you to vote against the motion of reconsideration.

Rep. Soltani: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I have a lot of respect for my colleague from Weare and I have listened to him quite a bit and he has changed my mind on a number of issues, but he did not on this issue. If anything, he strengthened my position that I will again vote to pass this bill as it stands. We must pass a bill that funds education and pass it over to the Senate or have a Committee of Conference.

If we do not, we revert back to current law. The current law has not been digested or has been torn apart and looked into by either our policy committee or our Finance Committee. Current law will leave us in a huge deficit. This one has been played with, this one is the one that they have proposed. This is the one that came out of the policy committee and the policy committee is the body that had hearings on the issue. The Education Committee found it to be equitable and found it to treat students appropriately. I cannot imagine not having a House position when we go to education funding. And the current law, we don't even know if it would stand the holes that it has. It has been taken to court. There were some issues with it and we will make it worse even if we leave it alone and pass it along. I urge a "no" vote on reconsideration. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Wendelboe: Thank you to the good member from Epsom. Representative, if you knew that current law continues the state-wide property tax and also continues donor towns, would that be another reason to vote "no" on reconsideration?

Rep. Soltani: Current law is bad in every way imaginable. And this, if anything, is not perfect, is not great, it's not even good, but it's a lot better than current law. Thank you.

HB 691-FN-L, relative to the medicaid program. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Neal M. Kurk for the Majority of Finance: This bill passed the House following a 16-3 recommendation from the Committee on Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs. HB 691 reinforces the state's commitment to make home- and community-based care (HCBC) more readily available to those seniors who are eligible for Medicaid long-term care services. Currently, not all Medicaid eligible seniors are properly assessed to determine if they could be cared for more effectively in their homes and communities. HB 691 corrects that by providing for a uniform, more comprehensive assessment system with involvement from the Oversight Committee on Health and Human Services. The Finance Committee amendment adds a two-year sunset to the assessment system, so that the legislature has the opportunity to evaluate its effectiveness. The bill also closes several loopholes in financial eligibility to help prevent individuals from hiding their assets to become Medicaid eligible. This would be accomplished by requiring the state to request federal waivers that would (a) lengthen the so-called "look back" period on transfer of assets to others for less than their fair value, while "grandfathering" such transfers made in accordance with current law on or before March 14, 2005, and (b) begin the "penalty period" of ineligibility for Medicaid services resulting from such transfers at the time of application for Medicaid services. A third federal waiver would encourage personal responsibility for long-term care by eliminating the asset test for Medicaid eligibility for those persons who purchase a conforming long-term care insurance policy and whose long-term care costs exceed the policy coverage. This legislation also allows the state to expand the types of assets available for recovery for Medicaid expenses, which are currently exempt. Finally, a commission is established to study the mental health service delivery system. The Finance Committee amendment gives nursing homes, and in particular county nursing homes, greater financial protection. Medicaid rates for nursing home services provided by county and private nursing facilities may not be reduced during the biennium. County and private nursing facilities will receive all funding from the Medicaid Quality Incentive Program (MQIP). The counties may participate in the revised assessment system and also in pilot programs providing for case management services. After considerable discussion with the Department of Health and Human Services and others, the Finance Committee determined that the bill, as amended, will allow fewer people to receive care in nursing homes and more people to receive care in assisted living facilities and in their homes and communities. It will not change the overall cost of long-term care services. These changes will be reflected in the state budget, which also makes provision for infrastructure development through inflationary increases to nursing homes and rate increases for mid-level and home- and community-based care. Although some were concerned that the long-term impacts could not be quantified, resulting in a decision at one point to retain the bill, at the end of the process the majority of the Finance Committee believes we need to pass this bill to bring financial integrity to the program so that Medicaid is used by the truly poor for whom it was established. Vote 13-9.

Rep. Sharon Nordgren for the Minority of Finance: The Minority of the Finance Committee does not support the Ought to Pass as Amended motion on HB 691. This bill, if passed, would require a federal waiver and the financial implications are unclear. The majority recommends the passage of this bill despite the complete lack of any information about the impact of the extended "look back" and other provisions on the middle class. The section of HB 691 promoting the purchase of long-term care insurance by those who can afford such insurance leaves a huge loophole for the wealthy. Those who purchase up to 3 years of long-term care insurance are exempt from the "look back" process. This bill is not in proper form to be passed to the Senate. The financial impact of HB 691 is at best a state of confusion

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Purpose and Intent.

I. The general court recognizes that the demand upon the medicaid system will increase sharply in the near future due to the rapid aging of the population and the increasing numbers of citizens 85 years of age and older. These facts coupled with an anticipated federal reduction in medicaid funding requires a more cost-effective system to ensure that the state has the ability to meet the needs of its citizens while providing quality care to medicaid recipients.

II. The purpose of this act is to carry out the proposals contained in the plan for the modernization of the medicaid program administered by the department of health and human services as it relates to the provision of long-term care. This act is written to strengthen the commitment of the state to its people, for the provision of long-term care within an established continuum of care of home and community-based care, intermediate or mid-level care, and nursing facility care. The plan provides for a basic health care system for elderly or disabled persons who are poor, are without the means for obtaining long-term care services, and who are in need of transitional or long-term support in order to achieve or maintain an identified degree of independence, self-sufficiency, health, or quality of life. The plan also provides a new emphasis on maintaining our elderly in home and community-based care through the empowerment of consumer choice. A basic intent underlying this proposal is that medicaid funding is reserved for those qualified individuals who need it and those who are not eligible are excluded.

2 Long-Term Care; Eligibility for Nursing Facility Services. Amend RSA 151-E:3, I(a) to read as follows:

(a) Clinically eligible for nursing facility care because the person requires 24-hour care for one or more of the following purposes, as determined by ~~the department~~ registered nurses employed by state or county government using an assessment tool:

(1) Medical monitoring and nursing care when the skills of a licensed medical professional are needed to provide safe and effective services;

(2) Restorative nursing or rehabilitative care with patientspecific goals;

(3) Medication administration ~~[or instruction and supervision of self-medication for discharge purposes only]~~ by oral, topical, intravenous, intramuscular, or subcutaneous injection, or intravenous feeding for treatment of recent or unstable conditions requiring medical or nursing intervention; or

(4) Assistance with 2 or more activities of daily living involving eating, toileting, transferring, bathing, dressing, and continence; and

3 Long-Term Care; Nursing Facility Services. Amend RSA 151-E:4 to read as follows:

151-E:4 Consumer Choice. A person who has been determined to be medicaid eligible for nursing facility services in accordance with RSA 151-E:3 shall have the right to receive nursing facility services; however, the person shall be offered and may choose to receive services in a less restrictive setting if such services are available and do not result in costs to the state and counties in excess of the limitations set forth in RSA 151-E:11, II. Such choice shall be ~~[subject to limitations imposed by federal and state laws and regulations]~~ offered in accordance with state laws and federal regulations. The department shall take into consideration the family and community supports available to the person, the family's desire and ability to care for the person, and shall ensure that all consideration and support is offered to the family to maintain the person in home and community-based care. Nothing in this section is intended to require the provision of financial assistance or supports by a family member.

4 Eligibility for Assistance; Asset Transfers. Amend RSA 167:4, I(b) to read as follows:

(b) In the case of an applicant for public assistance or medical assistance who has made an assignment or transfer of ~~[property]~~ assets to an individual for less than fair market value within ~~[36]~~ 60 months or in the case of ~~[payments from]~~ transfers of real estate, or transfers of assets to a trust or portions of a trust that are treated as assets disposed of by the individual within [60] 120 months immediately preceding the date of application or while the application is pending, or in the case of a recipient of public assistance or medical assistance who makes such an assignment or transfer while in receipt of the assistance, the assistance sought shall only be granted or continue to be granted in accordance with rules establishing restrictions and eligibility criteria for such cases as adopted by the commissioner of the department of health and human services under RSA 541-A, subject to applicable federal regulations and waiver approval, if any, and review by the oversight committee on health and human services, established in RSA 126-A:13. The oversight committee on health and human services shall make a report to the legislative fiscal committee which shall have final approval authority.

5 Eligibility for Assistance; Medicaid. Amend RSA 167:4, IV(c) to read as follows:

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, for purposes of medicaid eligibility, investment in life insurance policies with cash surrender value in excess of $1,500 shall be limited to policies that ensure payment to the state of New Hampshire of all the proceeds of the policy in excess of amounts spent on burial up to the total of medicaid expenditures made on behalf of the individual.

(d) Contingent upon federal approval, the commissioner shall establish a program to eliminate the resource ceiling for applicants and recipients of medical assistance at the institutional level of care if the applicant or recipient benefits from or will benefit from a conforming long-term care insurance policy. The commissioner shall establish criteria for conforming long-term care insurance policies which, at a minimum, shall provide benefits for at least 36 months of nursing home payments at the average private pay rate for county nursing home facilities, an annual benefit inflation factor of at least 5 percent compounded annually, and coverage for home and community-based care equivalent to the benefit provided in a nursing facility. The estates of recipients of medical assistance for institutional level of care for whom the resource ceiling has been eliminated, shall be exempt from recoveries pursuant to RSA 167:13 and RSA 167:14.

(e) The commissioner of the department of health and human services shall adopt rules, pursuant to RSA 541-A, relative to the proper administration of this paragraph.

6 Recovery for Assistance Furnished. Amend RSA 167:13, I to read as follows:

I. Except as provided in paragraph II, if at any time during the continuance of assistance, the recipient or the husband or wife of the recipient becomes possessed of any property or income in excess of the amount stated in the application, it shall be the duty of the recipient within 10 calendar days to notify the commissioner of the department of health and human services of the receipt or possession of such property or income. On the death of a recipient of old age assistance, aid to the needy blind, medicaid for employed adults with disabilities, or aid to the permanently and totally disabled, the total amount of assistance paid under this chapter or RSA 161 shall be allowed as a claim against the estate of such person after payment of the charges in the priority set forth in RSA 554:19. No lien filed in accordance with RSA 167:14 shall be extended to enforce recovery nor shall any sale be forced against the real estate of a recipient of old age assistance, aid to the needy blind, medicaid for employed adults with disabilities, or aid to the permanently and totally disabled while it is occupied as a home by a surviving spouse. The federal government shall be entitled, as long as required as a condition to federal financial participation, to such proportion of the net amount collected from the estate of a recipient of old age assistance, aid to the needy blind, medicaid for employed adults with disabilities, or aid to the permanently and totally disabled as the federal participation bears to the total amount of assistance granted said recipient.

7 Assistance; Claims and Liens. Amend RSA 167:14, I to read as follows:

I. The estate of every recipient and the estate of a recipient's spouse, if any, owned severally or as joint tenants, shall be liable for all financial old age assistance, aid to the needy blind, or aid to the permanently and totally disabled granted to the recipient; provided, however, that the estate of a recipient's spouse shall be liable only for such financial assistance as was granted to the recipient during the time that the recipient and the recipient's spouse were neither legally separated nor divorced. After providing all owners of the real property known to the department with prior notice and an opportunity for a hearing, the commissioner of the department of health and human services shall file with the register of deeds of the county in which the recipient, or the spouse of the recipient, if any, owns real property, notice of the lien. Such notice of lien shall contain the names of the recipient and the recipient's spouse, if any. All such liens shall continue during the lifetime of the recipient and of the spouse of the recipient, if any, and until enforced as provided in this section, unless sooner released by the commissioner of the department of health and human services.

8 Recovery of Assistance. Amend RSA 167:14-a, I and II to read as follows:

I. Any person who is a recipient of financial assistance, medical assistance, old age assistance, aid to the needy blind, medicaid for employed adults with disabilities, or aid to the permanently and totally disabled shall, by his acceptance of such assistance, be deemed to have assigned any claim or right of action against any person or party to the commissioner of health and human services, to the extent that such assistance is furnished.

II. Whenever a recipient of financial assistance, medical assistance, old age assistance, aid to the needy blind, medicaid for employed adults with disabilities, or aid to the permanently and totally disabled shall have a legally cognizable claim against any person or party for expenses or support and the department of health and human services has already furnished assistance to such recipient, the amount of assistance furnished may be recovered in an action brought in the name of the state from such person or party against whom the recipient has a legally cognizable claim for expenses or support.

9 New Paragraph; Recovery of Assistance; Estates of Recipients. Amend RSA 167:14-a by inserting after paragraph V the following new paragraph:

VI. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, for purposes of recovering the costs of medical assistance, the estate of a recipient shall include all property, real or personal, which at the time of a recipient's death was held by the recipient in joint tenancy with rights of survivorship, tenancy in common, life estate, living trust or other arrangement, without regard to the date that such title or interest was established. No sooner than 45 days from the death of the recipient, the department shall provide the other joint owner or owners notice of the department's claim. Within 30 days of the receipt of notification of the department's claim, the joint owner or owners shall acknowledge receipt of the department's claim and either tender an amount equal to the deceased recipient's interest in the identified property and/or financial instrument to the state of New Hampshire toward the deceased's medical assistance bill, but such amount shall not exceed the total amount of medical assistance provided to the deceased recipient, or enter into a binding agreement to make such payment as soon as is practicable. If the joint owner or owners refuse to acknowledge receipt of the department's claim or to tender payment or fail to fulfill the agreement to pay without good cause, as required by this paragraph, the commissioner may bring an action in superior court to compel such payment. Nothing in this paragraph shall be interpreted or applied so as to violate RSA 167:16-a, IV or 42 U.S.C. section 1396p(b)(2)(A) prohibiting recovery when the recipient is survived by a spouse, minor children, or disabled children.

10 Prescription Drugs; Organization of Drugs. Amend RSA 318:42, XIII to read as follows:

XIII. A nurse licensed under RSA 326-B, who is an employee of a ~~[home health care or hospice agency]~~ health facility licensed pursuant to RSA 151:2 and is acting in the course of employment, from organizing the prescription and nonprescription drugs of clients into containers designed to aid clients in carrying out a prescriber's directions, provided that the organizing of drugs is documented in the client's nursing record and that the original prescription containers remain in the client's possession.

11 New Subparagraph; Confidentiality of Records; Disclosure to Department of Health and Human Services. Amend RSA 21-J:14, V(d) by inserting after subparagraph (7) the following new subparagraph:

(8) An officer or employee of the department of health and human services in the performance of duties under RSA 167:14-a, V, which disclosure shall be limited to the report of the trust and a copy of the trust document, including any list of beneficiaries, filed in accordance with RSA 87:20.

12 New Section; Medicaid Waivers. Amend RSA 126-A by inserting after section 4-a the following new section:

126-A:4-b Medicaid Waivers. The state shall enter into medicaid waivers from the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, subject in each case to a review by the oversight committee on health and human services, established in RSA 126-A:13, which shall make a report to the legislative fiscal committee which shall have final approval authority. The waivers shall:

(a) Allow the state to begin the penalty period of ineligibility for medicaid services due to transfers of assets for less than fair market value as of the date of application for medical assistance or as of the date that the applicant, but for the transfer of assets for less than fair market value, meets all of the criteria for eligibility for medical assistance, whichever is later.

(b) Allow the state to eliminate the resource ceiling for applicants for medical assistance and to exempt them from actions for recovery against their estates for the cost of medical assistance they receive when they have a long-term care insurance policy that meets the standards established by the legislature and the state.

13 Long-Term Care; Cost Controls; Limitation on Waiver Slots. Amend RSA 151-E:11 to read as follows:

151-E:11 Program Management and Cost Controls.

I. The department shall designate in its operating budget requests specific class lines for nursing facility, mid-level, and home-based care provided for in this chapter. These class lines shall reflect, and the requesting documentation shall include, the anticipated number of persons to receive services. HOUSE JOURNAL No. 14

Wednesday, May 4, 2005

The House assembled at 1:00 p.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

Prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain, Reverend Dr. Marguerite Gage from St. James United Methodist Church in Merrimack.

Most gracious and loving God, we come before You seeking Your blessing and guidance. Be present with this House of Representatives. Be present in their conversations, discussions, debates and votes. Guide every person to seek the common good. Give those who have been elected to represent the citizens of New Hampshire the courage of their convictions, yet keep their hearts open to new ideas and new directions.

We belong to You, O God, and we belong to each other, brothers and sisters in a family which reaches out across party lines, across district lines, across state lines, across national borders. Grant this Body eyes to see everyone they represent as Your beloved children made in Your image. Help them to find ways to do justice, to love kindness and to walk humbly with You.

May we all be better citizens of this world and good stewards of this corner of Your creation, New Hampshire, which You have entrusted to our care. May we value its natural beauty, resources and people. We pray for a world united towards living together in peace. Until that day, we pray for the men and women of our armed forces who stand in harms way so we might not have to. Protect them, keep them from harm and bring them home as soon as they safely can. Be with their families, comfort them while they are apart.

We ask Your blessing upon Governor John Lynch, Speaker of the House Douglas Scamman, all who serve this day and the work they are empowered to do.

We lift this prayer to You, as well as the unspoken prayers of our hearts, which we bring before You now in a moment of silence. Hear our prayers, we humbly pray. Amen.

Rep. Franklin T. Tilton led the Pledge of Allegiance.

The National Anthem was sung by Bethany Wheeler, 11th grade home-schooled student from Milford, and sister of Rep. James Wheeler.

SB 112-FN, establishing a committee to study viatical settlements. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Tara G. Reardon for Commerce: The committee heard testimony regarding emerging interest in both viatical settlements and life settlements of life insurance policies. Although NAIC model legislation is available, some work is required to draft appropriate legislation. The committee and interested parties all agreed a study committee is the best way to come up with legislation. Vote 14-1.

SB 150-FN, relative to application fees for certain bank incorporations. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Stephen B. Stepanek for Commerce: This is a housekeeping bill which adjusts filing fees for banks so they are consistent with the filing fees of other business entities. Vote 18-1.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

SB 48-FN, prohibiting unlawful peering into the dwelling place of another. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Laura C. Pantelakos for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill was presented to protect individuals in their homes from those who we recognize as "Peeping Toms." The bill clarifies that an individual who knowingly enters a person's property without lawful authority for the purpose of peering into a dwelling place in reckless disregard and infringing upon the inhabitant's privacy is guilty of a misdemeanor. The committee amendment has the support of the Merrimack County Attorney and the New Hampshire Attorney General's Office. Vote 14-0.

Amend RSA 644:9, IV-V as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

IV. A person is guilty of a misdemeanor if such person knowingly enters any residential curtilage, as defined in RSA 627:9, I, or any other private place as defined in paragraph II of this section, without lawful authority and looks into the residential structure thereon or other private place in reckless disregard of infringing on the inhabitant's right of privacy.

[FV] V. Paragraphs I and II shall not be construed to impair or limit any otherwise lawful activities of law enforcement personnel, nor are paragraphs I and II intended to limit employees of governmental agencies or other entities, public or private, who, in the course and scope of their employment and supported by articulable suspicion, attempt to capture any type of visual image, sound recording, or other physical impression of a person during an investigation, surveillance, or monitoring of conduct to obtain evidence of suspected illegal activity, the suspected violation of any administrative rule or regulation, a suspected fraudulent insurance claim, or any other suspected fraudulent conduct or activity involving a violation of law, or pattern of business practices adversely affecting the public health or safety.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill prohibits a person from knowingly entering any residential curtilage or any other private place, without lawful authority and looking into the residential structure thereon or other private place in reckless disregard of infringing on the inhabitant's right of privacy.

SB 106-FN, making unauthorized recording in a motion picture theater a crime. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Laura C. Pantelakos for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: The committee heard testimony from the Motion Picture Association concerning the unauthorized recording of motion pictures within theaters. Many times the pirated copy of a newly released film appears simultaneously and before the film is offered in a DVD version. This illegal recording costs the industry an estimated $3.5 billion. The committee agrees with the Senate that this type of activity should be a crime within the State of New Hampshire. Vote 14-1.

SB 156-FN, relative to criminal trespass. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. William V. Knowles for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill was introduced to increase the penalty for destruction of property of another when the damage is in excess of $1,000. The Senate version of the bill made it a class B felony. The amended version makes it a misdemeanor for the first offense and a class B felony for any subsequent offense, if the person knowingly or recklessly causes damage in excess of $1,000 to the value of the property of another. Vote 15-0.

Amend RSA 635:2, II as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. Criminal trespass is a misdemeanor for the first offense and a class B felony for any subsequent offense if the person knowingly or recklessly causes damage in excess of $1,000 to the value of the property of another.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes criminal trespass as a misdemeanor for the first offense and as a class B felony for any subsequent offense if a person knowingly or recklessly causes damage in excess of $1,000 to the value of the property of another.

SB 53-FN, relative to increased funding for publication of certain materials by the department of environmental services and changing the title of chief operations officer to chief financial officer in the department of environmental services. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Ken Hawkins for Executive Departments and Administration: After hearing testimony, the committee felt that changing the title of chief operations officer to chief financial officer should be submitted to the Hay Study. The change is not necessary as it could potentially cause the current position to be downgraded. It also could lead to having two positions in the department in the future: one a COO, the other a CFO. This bill was amended to eliminate the title change, but authorizes increased funding for the publishing of certain materials by the department of environmental services to allow DES to provide documents in paper, electronic or other media. It will also allow for a charge so that there is no cost to the state for producing these documents. In the past only printing on paper was allowed. There are many instances where DVD, etc. would enhance the geological formations and allow better use of land. Vote 15-0.

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to increased funding for publication of certain materials by the department of environmental services.

Amend the bill by deleting sections 2-4 and renumbering the original section 5 to read as 2.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill authorizes increased funding for the publishing of certain materials by the department of environmental services.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

SB 55, relative to the New Hampshire film and television commission and state promotional initiatives. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Anne-Marie Irwin for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill adds members to the New Hampshire Film and Television Commission. Under RSA 21-K:23, this commission already exists. The only change is to expand membership and to encourage the use of New Hampshire talent whenever possible. Vote 13-0.

SB 41, relative to penalties for certain OHRV violations. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. David L. Smith for Fish and Game: This bill corrects the omission in RSA 215-A:5-b of a fine relative to snowmobile operation on open water. The fine is to be $200.00. Also the additional actions that would require a violator to participate in an OHRV training program - operating while intoxicated or under drug influence, refusal of consent, endangerment of person or property damage, failing to yield right-of-way, and operating on open water - are added. The bill is supported by the Fish and Game Department and was unanimously supported by the committee. Vote 12-0.

SB 98-FN, relative to issuing duplicate registrations for off highway recreational vehicles. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Bruce D. Heald for Fish and Game: The purpose of this bill is to allow for a duplicate OHRV registration for lost, stolen, mutilated, or destroyed registration. This document may be replaced by a duplicate registration upon payment of a fee of $5.00 and completion of an affidavit setting forth the circumstances of the loss or destruction of the registration. The committee heard testimony on this bill and there was no opposition. This bill is the request of the Fish and Game Department. Vote 12-0.

SB 105, granting the executive director of fish and game authority to promote hunting, fishing, and wildlife-related activities. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. John F. Klose for Fish and Game: This bill enables the director, with the approval of the commission, to promote hunting and fishing activities within the state. This can include joint activities with other profit and non-profit organizations. The director may, from time to time, reduce the fees (or waive) for certain types of licenses. The original bill was too broad in scope, and moved to establish programs to accomplish the above. The bill as amended simply enables the director to do these things, which was the intent of the Fish and Game Department, who requested the bill. Vote 12-0.

Amend RSA 214:9-f as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

214:9-f Promotion Activities; Reductions in Fees Authorized. The executive director, with approval of the commission, may take such marketing actions to promote fisheries and wildlife resources, and attract hunters and anglers to the state as deemed necessary, which may include the reduction or the waiver of the fees for certain types of licenses for specified periods of time to promote license sales for hunting, fishing, and trapping in the state. This may include coordination of activities between the public and private sectors and utilization of promotional advertising, exhibits, brochures, technical assistance, and expertise as necessary to develop and promote hunting, fishing, and other wildlife-related activities within the state.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill allows the executive director of fish and game to promote hunting, fishing, and wildlife-related activities, by marketing actions, private sector cooperation, or reductions or waivers of fish and game license fees.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

SB 88, relative to emergency medical transportation. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT Rep. James R. MacKay for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill, unanimously supported by the committee, supplements existing statutes regarding inter-facility transfers of patients. In the event, a licensed emergency medical services provider is not available within 30 minutes, then a registered nurse certified in emergency nursing, an emergency physician, or an emergency physician's assistant can take the place of an E.M.T., provided that each is certified in advanced cardiac life support and has completed a bureau of emergency medical services inter-training module. Vote 18-0.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Paragraph; Emergency Medical and Trauma Services; Exception. Amend RSA 153-A:16 by inserting after paragraph II the following new paragraph:

III. If a physician determines that an inter-facility transfer of a recognized critical access hospital patient is urgent and the availability of 2 licensed emergency medical services providers exceeds 30 minutes, then a registered nurse certified in emergency nursing, an emergency physician, or an emergency physician assistant may act as the responsible provider for the patient during the transfer, provided that each is certified in advanced cardiac life support and has completed a bureau of emergency medical services inter-facility training module.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

SB 108-FN, relative to newborn screening tests and fees for newborn screening tests. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Deborah J. Hogancamp for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill, as amended, establishes in statute a Newborn Screening Advisory Committee within the Department of Health and Human Services. Newborn screening tests have been performed in New Hampshire for more than 15 years, and screen for a variety of metabolic disorders. The disorders range in severity and consequence, and if left undiagnosed or untreated, result in severe retardation or death. The advisory committee includes a member of the Health and Human Services Oversight Committee as well as representation of health care subspecialties, and members of the community. The advisory committee evaluates and makes recommendations on the newborn screening testing panel as knowledge, technology, and testing procedures become available and affordable. This bill emphasizes prevention, early diagnosis and treatment, which will save lives and reduce disabilities in our children. Vote 15-0.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Newborn Screening Tests. Amend RSA 132:10-a to read as follows:

132:10-a Newborn Screening Tests Required; Newborn Screening Advisory Committee.

I. The physician, hospital, nurse midwife, midwife, or other health care provider attending a newborn child shall test a newborn child for metabolic disorders. Such tests shall include, but not be limited to, phenylketonuria, galactosemia, homocystinuria, maple syrup urine disease, and hypothyroidism. Additional disorders shall be added to the newborn screening panel based upon, but not limited to, the following considerations:

(a) The disorder is well-defined with a known incidence.

(b) The disorder is associated with significant morbidity and/or mortality.

(c) The disorder can be detected with a screening test that is ethical, safe, accurate, and cost-effective.

(d) Effective treatment exists for the disorder, and that early treatment, meaning before the onset of symptoms, is more effective in improving health outcomes than later treatment.

II. *Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner of the department of health and human services shall establish fees, pursuant to RSA 541-A, to be paid by hospitals for the tests required under paragraph I. III. The department of health and human services shall establish a newborn screening advisory committee which shall include a member of the oversight committee on health and human services, established in RSA 126-A:13, and representation from health care subspecialties, as determined by the department.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

II. Grants rulemaking authority to the commissioner of health and human services to determine how the fees for such tests are to be determined.

III. Requires the department of health and human services to establish a newborn screening advisory committee.

SB 119, establishing a committee to study exempting acute care rehabilitation from the nursing home moratorium. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Peter L. Batula for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill is to form a committee to study exempting acute care rehabilitation from the nursing home moratorium. There is a Certificate of Need Board (C.O.N.) that meets regularly to review and make decisions on what is best for New Hampshire as it pertains to duplications of medical services, etc. It is empowered to make a decision regarding whether or not to permit new medical facilities or services with the objective to help keep medical costs down. This bill was an attempt to promote a piece of legislation which would have overturned a C.O.N. decision, which would have interfered with the work of the C.O.N. board. The committee was unanimous in its decision not to interfere with the nursing home moratorium currently in law. Vote 15-0.

SB 171, establishing a committee to study HIV/AIDS service delivery. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. James R. MacKay for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill was unanimously and vigorously supported by the committee. H.I.V./A.I.D.S. continues to be a serious health problem in New Hampshire. There are indications that the virus is increasing and affecting a number of our citizens. There are ominous signs that there will be decreasing federal financial support for New Hampshire. In addition, New Hampshire has not provided fiscal support in the past. Due to the critical nature of the illness, New Hampshire requires a critical review of the public health delivery system. This bill provides for this study. Vote 15-0.

SB 216, establishing a commission to study area agencies. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Hilda W. Sokol for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill establishes a commission to study the operations of the 12 area agencies which serve clients with developmental disabilities. The commission will examine the services provided by these agencies and the efficiency with which such services are delivered. The commission members will also look into ways the area agencies may be able to operate more cost effectively under the umbrella of the Community Support Network. Members of the committee will include legislators, a designee of the Department of Health and Human Services, representatives from the area agencies, the New Hampshire Developmental Disabilities Council, the Disabilities Rights Center, as well as members representing persons with developmental disabilities and the business community. Vote 13-0.

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing a commission to study area agencies and their role in providing services to New Hampshire.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Statement of Purpose. The general court recognizes that a thorough examination of the operation of New Hampshire's 12 area agencies is necessary to identify administrative and operative efficiencies which may be available for adoption either through private action on the part of such agencies themselves, through state action by rule or statute, or through a combination thereof. Therefore, the general court hereby establishes a commission to identify the essential operations of the area agencies and to also identify ways in which such agencies may operate more efficiently and cost effectively; provided, that it is not the intent of this act to eliminate area agencies, set the number of area agencies, or compromise the services provided by such agencies.

2 Commission Established. There is established a commission to study the 12 area agencies that administer programs and services for persons with developmental disabilities and acquired brain disorder.

3 Membership and Compensation.

I. The members of the commission shall be as follows:

- (a) Two members of the senate, appointed by the president of the senate.
- (b) Two members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house.
- (c) The commissioner of the department of health and human services, or designee.
- (d) One representative of the New Hampshire Developmental Disabilities Council, appointed by the council.
- (e) Two representatives of area agencies, appointed by the Community Support Network, Inc.
- (f) Two public members representing persons with developmental disabilities and acquired brain disorder and their families served by the area agencies, one of whom shall be appointed by the president of the senate and one of whom shall be appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives after consultation with the statewide family support council.
- (g) A representative of the Disabilities Rights Center, appointed by the executive director.
- (h) Two representatives of the business community, neither of whom shall have any affiliations or interests in developmental disabilities, appointed by the governor.

II. Legislative members of the commission shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the commission.

4 Duties. The commission shall conduct a broad examination of New Hampshire's 12 area agencies. The commission's study shall include, but not be limited to a review of the efficiency of the services provided by such agencies and the delivery system of such services. Specifically, the commission shall examine whether there are ways in which the area agencies may operate more efficiently and cost effectively without compromising the services provided by such agencies.

5 Chairperson; Quorum. The members of the commission shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the commission shall be called by the first-named senate member. The first meeting of the commission shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. Eight members of the commission shall constitute a quorum.

6 Report. The commission shall report its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the senate president, the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate clerk, the house clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before November 1, 2005.

7 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

SCR 4, supporting federal funding for Lyme disease research. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Susan Emerson for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: The committee heard testimony from the State Lyme Disease Association, Lyme disease sufferers, the State Epidemiologist, and a family practice physician certified in environmental medicine. There was unanimous support for continued federal funding for Lyme disease research. Lyme disease is a complex disease which needs more research to develop sound policy to prevent the continued spread of this disease in our state. This resolution supports Federal funding for research, early detection, testing, and educational awareness of Lyme disease, a significant public health issue in our state. Vote 15-0.

SB 37, relative to disclosure of expert testimony. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Gregory M. Sorg for Judiciary: This bill was filed to correct an unintended consequence of the bill enacted on this subject as Chapter 118:I of the laws of 2004. The schedule for disclosures of and by expert witnesses passed in 2004 applied to both civil and criminal cases. The testimony at the public hearing on SB 37 was unanimous that this schedule is impractical for criminal cases, and further, that disclosures in criminal cases conducted pursuant to Superior Court Rule 98 and District Court Rule 210 work very well. This bill, as amended, excepts criminal cases from the expert witness disclosure requirements of RSA 516:29-b III. Vote 15-0.

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

I Disclosure of Expert Testimony. RSA 516:29-b, III is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

III. Except as otherwise stipulated by the parties, or directed by the court, the disclosures required under paragraphs I and II shall be made:

(a) In a civil case, at least 90 days before the trial date or the date the case is to be ready for trial or, if the evidence is intended solely to contradict or rebut evidence on the same subject matter identified by another party, within 30 days after the disclosure made by the other party.

(b) In a criminal case, in accordance with court rule.

SB 59, relative to the general powers and duties of guardianship. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert D. Mead for Judiciary: Per RSA 464-A:25, a guardian of an incapacitated person who has specific powers and duties by order of the court is required to file an annual report with the probate court. The annual report requirement is tracked on the court's data system and flagged on its due date. This amendment, at the request of the administrative judge of the probate court, will allow the court to waive the annual reporting requirement in circumstances where the need for a report is unnecessary due to a recent case review or court hearing. In addition, it would change the every 5-year requirement for a court review of the authorization and duties of the guardian to become an annual review as part of the court's review of the guardian's annual report. Vote 12-0.

SB 60, clarifying probate court procedures in cases involving the Uniform Transfers to Minors Act. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Donald R. Buxton for Judiciary: This bill clarifies probate court procedures in cases involving Uniform Transfers to Minors. There was no opposition to this bill at the public hearing. Vote 13-0.

SB 102-FN, limiting liability for failure to arrest persons under 21 years of age illegally transporting alcoholic beverages. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Gregory M. Sorg for Judiciary: As amended by the Senate, this bill would reverse the rule established by the Supreme Court in the 1986 case of Weldy v. Town of Kingston, 128 NH 325, in which it held that a municipality can be held liable if, after its police have released minors following seizure of alcohol during a traffic stop, they acquire more alcohol and have an alcohol-related automobile accident. The Senate amendment however completely contradicted the intent of the original bill. Consequently, its sponsors testified against it at the public hearing, as did the representative of the New Hampshire Chiefs of Police, all of whom want the police to have no discretion in such matters, but want the police to be required to detain such minors and cause responsible adults to pick them up and take them home. The committee agreed with this position. Vote 15-0.

SB 224, relative to the committee on judicial conduct. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Gregory M. Sorg for Judiciary: This bill was filed at the request of the supreme court to allow a person under inquiry by the Judicial Conduct Committee to provide in his or her defense evidence that would otherwise be required by statute to be confidential. Examples include judicial proceedings involving children in need of services, adoptions, and juvenile justice. This bill, as amended, allows such confidentiality to be breached for the limited purpose of reviewing complaints and conducting hearings before the Judicial Conduct Committee. Vote 14-0.

Amendment (1158h)

Amend RSA 490:30-a as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

490:30-a Access to Information; Hearings on Confidential Cases.

I. In this section, "committee" means the committee on judicial conduct established by rules of the supreme court.

II. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, a person subject to the code of judicial conduct may provide to the executive secretary of the committee, for the use of the members of the committee and its staff and agents in the performance of their official duties, any tapes, transcripts, records of proceedings, information, files, and other documents which would otherwise be confidential. No member, staff, or agent of the committee shall disclose such information except in the course of official duty.

III. In any hearing before the committee, the committee may, by majority vote, conduct the hearing in a session not open to the public with respect to any part of the complaint involving the conduct of a person in a case required by law to be confidential. In such circumstances the committee shall make available to the public a summary of the nature of the complaint, the names of the person complained against, and the complainant, and the decision of the committee.

SB 99-FN, relative to the penalty for failure to file a property inventory form. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Eric G. Stohl for Municipal and County Government: This bill proposes the removal of the appeal penalty of an abatement denial for failure to file a property inventory form in a timely manner. A property inventory form is a document that reports any changes that occurred on a person's property during the preceding year. The committee heard testimony that there are a very limited number of municipalities that continue to use the inventory forms. The municipalities that do use the form appear to be mainly the smaller communities. These communities use this reporting form to alert the governing body to any improvements to property. When the returned form indicates an improvement, the assessor is sent to the property to place a new value. This method is a cost saving to the smaller municipalities that do not maintain a full-time assessing staff. Without this loss of appeal penalty in place, the only penalty left would be a small monetary penalty of no less than $10 or more than $50. With the property taxes being what they are today, the committee feels that keeping the law the way it is now is the best for those municipalities using the property inventory form. Vote 12-0.

SB 126, establishing a committee to study the appeals process in cases between landlords and tenants. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Nancy K. Johnson for Municipal and County Government: The testimony in support of establishing a study committee indicated that the time period it takes to evict a tenant can be extremely lengthy. In late 2003, the New Hampshire Supreme Court decided to accept all appeals: criminal, civil, probate, landlord/tenant, etc. With this decision the court takes 4-6 weeks to accept the appeal, allows 30 days for the appealing party's brief, then an additional 30 days for the opposing brief and then 30-60 days for the court to rule. This could add up to five months to the process. The purpose of the committee established by this bill is to study possible ways to reduce the delays in and length of the appeals process in cases between landlords and tenants. Vote 12-0.

SB 203, relative to leases and contracts for buildings or lands owned by the fish and game department. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. John A. Graham for Public Works and Highways: This bill allows the Executive Director of the Fish and Game Department to execute short term leases for the use of buildings or land owned by the department. The amendment reduces the proposed length of such leases from 2 years to 30 days. It also requires the department to develop a fee schedule for such leases and obtain approval of this schedule from the Long Range Capital Planning and Utilization Committee. Finally, the bill authorizes the Executive Director to assign department housing at no cost to employees who must accept such lodging as a condition of their employment. Vote 15-0.

Amendment (1252h)

Amend the bill by replacing sections 1 and 2 with the following:

1 New Section; Fish and Game; Acquisition of Land; Leases and Privileges. Amend RSA 212 by inserting after section 10-a the following new section:

212:10-b Leases and Privileges.

I. The executive director of the fish and game department may execute leases or contracts for the short-term use of buildings or lands owned by the department. All such leases or contracts extending for a cumulative period of more than 30 days or for a consideration of more than $5,000 shall be approved by the governor and council prior to being effective. All such leases and contracts shall be consistent with the purposes of Title XVIII. All money collected from such contracts and leases shall be credited to the fish and game fund established under RSA 206:33.

II. The executive director of the fish and game department may assign department housing without charge to a classified employee, including only, any or all of the following utilities: heat, fuel, gas, electricity, and water; provided, that said housing is being furnished for the operational convenience of the department, the housing is on state property administered and managed by the department, and the classified employee is required to accept such lodging as a condition of employment.

2 Fish and Game Department; Fee Schedule. The fish and game department shall develop a fee schedule for short-term use of less than 30 days of department buildings and lands authorized to be used pursuant to the authority in RSA 212:10-b, I as inserted by section 1 of this act. Prior to implementation, the department shall submit the fee schedule to the long range capital planning and utilization committee of the general court for its approval.

SB 227, naming a certain bridge in the town of Enfield the Henry P. Brown, M.D. Bridge, renaming the White Mountain Attraction Building as the Dick Hamilton Building, and renaming the Twin Mountain Bridge as the Kenneth B. Jordan Memorial Bridge. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Edmond D. Gionet for Public Works and Highways: Part 2 of the original bill named a building in Lincoln which has been amended to the correct building location, the Town of Woodstock. Testimony and correspondence showed that the land on which the building is located was donated by Norman B. Fadden and was dedicated at the local level by Governor Meldrim Thomson, DRED Commissioner Gus Gilman and former Governor and Presidential assistant Sherman Adams as part of the Bicentennial Celebration in 1976. The committee felt that it was appropriate that the building be named for Norman B. Fadden, and amended the bill to do so. The rest of the bill naming bridges in Carroll and Enfield remains the same. Vote 15-1.

Amendment (1216h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT naming a certain bridge in the town of Enfield the Henry P. Brown, M.D. Bridge, naming the White Mountains Attractions Building the Norman B. Fadden White Mountains Attractions Building, and naming a bridge in the town of Carroll the Kenneth B. Jordan Memorial Bridge.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

However, the design, construction, and installation of any signage or other markers required under sections 1 and 3 of this act shall be approved by the department of transportation.

5 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

- II. Names the White Mountains Attractions Building in the town of Woodstock as the Norman B. Fadden White Mountains Attractions Building.

Rep. Jacalyn L. Cilley for Resources, Recreation and Development: This Commission was established in 2003 by SB 155 with a reporting date of November 30, 2004. The Commission was charged with studying a wide variety of groundwater issues, ranging from fees for water withdrawals to examining the hierarchy of use. This session, the Commission recommended one piece of legislation (HB 215-FN) at the end of its term dealing with reporting requirements. Many issues remain to be addressed, and the Commission members voted unanimously to request this extension to continue its work. SB 142, as amended, extends the term of the Commission to November 30, 2008, provides for interim reports to be submitted and also provides for legislative oversight by the House Resources, Recreation and Development and the Senate Environment and Wildlife Committees. SB 226, relative to the regulation of snowmobiles and off highway recreational vehicles. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Christopher R. Irish for Resources, Recreation and Development: The committee understands there is some confusion regarding current regulations relative to OHRV and snowmobile use in the state. The committee agrees that one way to help clarify OHRV regulation is to separate snowmobiles from under the OHRV designation. This new section RSA 215-C, will begin the process of clarifying the differences between certain types of vehicles and the need for separate statutory regulation of each. This bill adds a new section entitled "SNOWMOBILES" and simply copies existing regulations into the new section. No current authority or responsibility of the Department of Resources and Economic Development or the Fish and Game Department will be changed. Vote 17-2.

SB 152-FN, relative to audits by the department of revenue administration of enhanced 911 charges and relative to the confidentiality of information collected by the department of safety regarding the surcharge for enhanced 911 system. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Roy D. Maxfield for Science, Technology and Energy: This is a housekeeping bill which allows the department of revenue administration to audit telephone companies for enhanced 911 charges when they audit for other state fees. REGULAR CALENDAR

SB 49-FN, including multiple sclerosis in the catastrophic illness program. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Susan Emerson for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: The committee heard compelling testimony to lead the committee to include multiple sclerosis in to the category of "catastrophic illness." The inclusion of multiple sclerosis would be combined with other illnesses including cancer, hemophilia, end-stage renal disease, spinal cord injury, and cystic fibrosis. Those eligible for assistance are those with low income, as are those mentioned above. These expenses would be covered by the catastrophic illness fund currently in the Health and Human Services budget. Vote 13-2. Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 101-FN, relative to developmentally disabled services for persons under 21 years of age. MAJORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Fran Wendelboe for the Majority of Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill would permit a person between 18 and 21 with a developmental disability, who receives special education services, to apply for residential services from an area agency. Several members were concerned about possible unintended consequences. Others expressed concerns that individuals under the age of 21 could potentially rise to the top of the waitlist over others who had been on the list for years. It became apparent that there are some situations that fall through the cracks and the majority of the committee felt this should be looked at by the Legislative Disability Waitlist Oversight Committee. The legislation has a large fiscal note attached and appears to potentially impact areas that may include education costs and the children in need of services statutes (CHINS). The Legislative Disability Waitlist Oversight Committee will bring together all these players and make further recommendation. Therefore, this piece of legislation is not needed for this purpose. Vote 11-6.

Rep. Thomas E. Donovan for the Minority of Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: The minority of the committee, recognizing the emotional aspect of this bill, as it may relate to the developmental disabilities waitlist, also realizes that this issue is much broader than solely the waitlist. Individuals that fall into this category of need in many cases are also eligible for educational services and are potentially eligible for children's services through the Division of Children, Youth and Families. In light of that, the minority felt strongly that this issue needs to be addressed through a more global effort and thus, we are recommending ought to pass.

On a division vote, 206 members having voted in the affirmative and 136 in the negative, the majority committee report was adopted.

SB 163-FN, establishing the New Hampshire pharmaceutical assistance program. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Rogers J. Johnson for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: In December of 2003, the Congress passed and the President signed the Medicare Modernization Act of 2003. This law created Medicare Part D. Medicare Part D will provide prescription drug benefits for all Medicare eligible citizens, including our New Hampshire citizens who are on Medicaid. In order to pay for this benefit, the federal government has mandated that our Medicaid Prescription Drug Benefit rebates, money we receive because we provide pharmaceutical products to this population, is sent to the federal government. This bill will allow the Department of Health and Human Services to recoup these dollars for the state. Vote 16-2.

Committee report adopted.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

SB 183, authorizing licensed medical adult day program facilities to assist clients with medication. MAJORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Joan H. Schulze for the Majority of Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: The majority of the committee realized that this bill is a copy of Section 10 of HB 691, which passed in the House April 20, 2005, and was passed to the Senate. This section of the bill provides a cost savings in that a nurse, licensed under RSA 326-B, employed by a facility in the course of employment can organize the prescription and non prescription drugs of clients into containers designed to aid clients in carrying out a prescriber's directions, provided that the organizing of drugs is documented in the client's nursing record and that the original prescription containers remain in the client's possession. Vote 13-5.

Rep. Hilda W. Sokol for the Minority of Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill insures that adult day program facilities can legally assist their clients with medication by organizing the prescription and non-prescription drugs into containers. Such dispersing of drugs will be done by a licensed nurse and will be documented in the client's nursing record, while the original prescriptions will be kept in the program facility or client's home. This bill should be passed since another bill that contains this provision has passed the House, but has not yet been acted upon by the Senate.

Majority committee report adopted.

SB 182-FN, relative to electronic issuance of warrants. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Donald R. Buxton for Judiciary: This bill allows New Hampshire judges to issue search warrants and arrest warrants by electronic communication and to use an electronic signature. The committee felt that making use of modern technology would speed up the process of obtaining these warrants. Vote 14-2.

Reps. Ulery and Guida spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Buxton spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Reps. Tholl and Sorg spoke in favor.

Rep. Mirski requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being adoption of the committee report.

BILLS REMOVED FROM CONSENT CALENDARSB 70, relative to the powers of special corporations. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. William R. Zolla for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill will allow the special corporations which are non profit corporations contained in RSA 292:1 to modify and expand their mission statements in compliance with the theme of their original mission subject to appropriate authority approval such as the director of charitable trusts, the secretary of state or the attorney general when and where appropriate. It is the intent of this act to allow such organizations to keep up with and accommodate social change while complying with their original basic purpose. Vote 19-0.

Rep. Dalrymple moved recommit to committee.

Adopted.

Recommitted to the Committee on Executive Departments and Administration.

SB 195, relative to the effective date of the law requiring the elimination of certain substances from gasoline supplies and removing a certain requirement relative to opting out of the reformulated gasoline program. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Jim Ryan for Science, Technology and Energy: The committee conducted a hearing on the proposal, but during the course of the hearing learned that HB 58 dealing with the same subject had passed the Senate. Inasmuch as SB 195 seeks the same policy result as HB 58 (that is now fully adopted and awaiting only action by the Governor), the committee recommends that the Senate bill be marked ITL. The committee, however, does wish to note its appreciation to the bill sponsors together with the observation that efforts in both the House and Senate to place a firm date for restricting MtBE have demonstrated significant bipartisan cooperation. Vote 11-0.

Rep. Mary Ellen Martin spoke against.

Rep. Ryan spoke in favor.

Rep. Maxfield yielded to questions.

Rep. Hall moved recommit to committee.

On a division vote, 97 members having voted in the affirmative and 249 in the negative, the motion to recommit failed.

Rep. Mirski requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question now being adoption of the committee report.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Rep. David Smith addressed the House.

Rep. Stone moved that the remarks of Rep. David Smith be printed in the Permanent Journal. Without objection, the Speaker so ordered.

REMARKS

Rep. David Smith: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, on Saturday, April 16th, Sergeant Angelo Lozada, Jr. was killed in Iraq. A front page news story in the Union Leader says today that he was killed by an incoming rocket round. We can at least take a certain amount of solace knowing that his death was quick, instantaneous and he did not suffer. On Tuesday, April 26th he was buried in the New Hampshire Veterans' Cemetery in Boscawen. He was buried with full military honors and among the honors that would have been given to his mother were the Army Commendation medal, the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart. Among those people who hold the Purple Heart the saying is, "Some gave all, all gave some." Mr. Speaker, Sergeant Lozada gave all and in giving his all, he has left behind his mother and three children who live in Nashua. I would like to feel that they are being comforted at this time by friends, relatives, and this body. I would like to have you ask this body at this time, Mr. Speaker, to stand in a moment for a few quiet seconds and recognize the service of Sergeant Lozada and the sacrifice he made for his country. Thank you, my friends. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

HOUSE JOURNAL No. 15

Wednesday, May 11, 2005

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

His Excellency, Governor John H. Lynch, joined the Speaker on the rostrum for the day's opening ceremonies.

Prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain, Reverend We Chang, Associate Pastor of the Wesley United Methodist Church in Concord.

O God, the Giver of life and the Creator of all human kind, we give You thanks for the beauty of this day and the gift of life that You give to us each day. We praise You for our nation, especially for our state, for the riches it has for us and the gifts it showers on us. We especially give You thanks for Your peoples in our state, the hard works that they put each day, the gift of diversity, the different languages and faces and cultural and individual heritages that they bring to us. And for their love for their country and their neighbors and citizens of our state.

Today we pray for those who are called to be leaders in our state. Give them the gift of vision to seek Your justice in the issues of their times, the gift of wisdom to discern the good will for all people, not just for some, the gift of integrity in their words and actions and the gift of courage to stand for what is right in Your sight, not what is popular among people. Bless their hearts with Your compassion that they may see and feel the sufferings of Your people in every corner of our communities. Let their good will and faithful service be Your hands that lift up the weak, protect the poor and free the oppressed. And help them to be the voice for the voiceless, the strength for the powerless and the hope for the hopeless. Keep them and their families in Your care and help them not to lose their higher calling that their politics and policies may be transformed into the genuine service for all people in Your state. Bless the opening of this session and let all the doings, and dealings and discussions and decisions be made in the spirit of cooperation and toward the welfare of all people. Amen.

The National Anthem was sung by Alysia Willey, a Gorham High School senior and New Hampshire Jazz and Classical All-State vocalist.

SB 68, relative to certain costs for the development of a high school in the town of Bedford, removed by Rep. Graham.

SB 219-FN, relative to examinations under workers' compensation, removed by Rep. Infantine.

SB 222-FN, relative to cumulative trauma under workers' compensation, removed by Rep. Infantine.

SB 21, relative to voluntary mediated agreements in adoptions. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. David A. Bickford for Children and Family Law: This bill establishes criteria for the adoption and enforcement of voluntary mediated agreements between birth parents, adoptive parents, and DCYF, in adoptions involving a child who is in the custody or guardianship of the department. The amendment clarifies the intent and purpose of this exception to adoption procedures. The department must state its reasons in writing if it is unwilling to participate in mediation. Vote 15-0.

Amendment (1343h)

Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 170-B:14, II and RSA 170-B:14, II(a) as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing them with the following:

II. In adoptions involving a child who is under either the legal custody or guardianship of the department, a voluntarily mediated agreement shall be enforceable as provided in this paragraph. The purpose of this paragraph is to facilitate the timely achievement of permanency for children who are in the custody or guardianship of the department by providing an option for the parties to enter into a voluntarily mediated agreement for ongoing communication or contact that is in the best interests of the child, that recognizes the parties' interests and desires for ongoing communication or contact, that is appropriate given the role of the parties in the child's life, and that is legally enforceable by the courts.

(a) Prior to the entry of any adoption decree, the department, prospective adoptive parents, and birth parents may voluntarily participate in a court-approved mediation program in order to reach a voluntarily mediated agreement. If the department is the only party unwilling to participate in mediation, the department shall provide a written explanation of its position to the court, the birth parents, and the prospective adoptive parents. Venue for approval and enforcement of such agreement shall lie in a court of competent jurisdiction that would otherwise issue the termination decree under RSA 170-C. Any breach, modification, or invalidation of the agreement, or any part of it, shall not affect the validity of any surrender of parental rights or the interlocutory or final decree of adoption.

SB 86, permitting on-site samples and retail sales by liquor manufacturer licensees. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Jane S. Langley for Commerce: This bill will permit on-site samples and retail sales by New Hampshire micro distilleries as New Hampshire law currently allows for beer and wine. It would permit the micro distilleries to allow tasting and sales on-site, limited to ½ ounce samples, and also limit sales to twelve 9 liter cases of liquor to any one customer in a calendar year. The bill has the support of the NH Liquor Commission, promotes tourism, keeps a rural agricultural scene for the fruits (apple and potatoes) needed to produce the liquor. The licensees will be required to report the sales to the commission and pay a tax on the sales. Vote 17-1.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

SB 12, relative to contracts with non-profit public academies. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Emma L. Rous for Education: This bill addressed a particular funding situation in Bedford and was rendered moot when Bedford passed a bond to build a new high school. Vote 12-1.

SB 40, permitting special school district meetings to be held in conjunction with the biennial election in certain school districts. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Stephen H. L'Heureux for Education: This enabling legislation allows a special meeting of a school district to be held in conjunction with a biennial election. It includes language for this exception to current law only when approved by the court and when a school district has adopted the official ballot referendum form of meeting pursuant to RSA 40:14. Vote 15-0.

SB 45-L, relative to the Hanover school district tax stabilization fund. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. W. Packy Campbell for Education: The committee felt this bill was a housekeeping measure and wanted to support the good people of Hanover in their responsible tax stabilization efforts. Vote 15-0.

SB 141-L, authorizing the establishment of certain reserve funds by the Gorham, Randolph, and Shelburne school districts. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Nancy F. Stiles for Education: All testimony heard by the committee supported SB 141-L which enables the individual districts within the newly formed cooperative to establish and fund reserve accounts for this previously directed purpose. Vote 14-0.

SB 52, establishing the state suggestion and extraordinary service award program. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Ken Hawkins for Executive Departments and Administration: The committee felt that there needed to be a program in state statute that would authorize funds for employee suggestions that save the state money. Current statute has the monies coming from each agency budget and no guidelines on how to approve awards. Testimony was given that one agency saved over $1.5 million because of a suggestion and the employee got a $100 award. This bill establishes a committee and the criteria for making an award. It also establishes that the $10,000 will be included as part of the governor's budget and will not come from the agencies' budget. Vote 10-4.

Amendment (1270h)

Amend RSA 99-E:7 as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

99-E:7 Amount of Monetary Awards.

I. The amount of any monetary award recommended by a committee in regard to any one suggestion or service shall not be greater than $5,000.

II. If an award evaluation committee determines, in its discretion, that an appropriate measure of award would be the amount of any savings or increase in revenue realized by the state as the result of a service performed by an employee, or as the result of a suggestion which has been implemented, the amount of a monetary award recommended by the committee may not exceed 10 percent of the amount of the savings or increase in revenue to the state during the first fiscal year of the implementation of the suggestion, or the fiscal year in which the service was performed, nor may it exceed the amount of $5,000.

III. If a monetary award is issued by the governor and council based upon the amount of savings or increase under paragraph II, an amount equal to the monetary award may, in the discretion of the governor and council, be paid from the budget of the specific department or the departments believed to have received the benefit of the suggestion or service during the first fiscal year of implementation of a suggestion, or during the fiscal year in which the service was performed. Any remaining savings or increases resulting from the suggestion or service shall lapse to the general fund. If the unit from which the award is paid is self-funding, the award shall be paid from the unit's operating budget. The commissioner of a department from which an award is to be paid under this paragraph, shall certify any amounts so appropriated to the director of personnel for transfer and payment to the employee.

IV. If a suggestion which has previously been submitted or nominated for award is again submitted or nominated under RSA 99-E:4, X as the result of larger-scale implementation, the amount of any additional monetary award recommended shall be in such amount as the committee, in its discretion, believes is proper, but shall not, in any event, exceed $5,000.

V. The total amount of monetary awards recommended by the state suggestion and extraordinary service award evaluation committee between October 1 of one year and September 30 of the following year shall not exceed $10,000.

VI. There is hereby established in the office of the governor a special fund in the amount of $10,000, which shall be used for employee suggestion and extraordinary service awards, if any. If the entire appropriation is not used for employee suggestion and extraordinary service awards in any fiscal year, the amount appropriated for the fund in the next fiscal year shall be only such amount as is necessary to bring the total amount of the fund to $10,000.

VII. This chapter shall not be construed to limit the availability of any employee award or recognition not arising pursuant to this chapter

VIII. The governor, with the consent of council, is hereby authorized to draw a warrant for monetary awards under this chapter out of any money contained in the fund established under paragraph VI. The governor and council shall not approve expenditures from the fund in excess of $10,000 in any fiscal year, shall not issue any single award in excess of the amount indicated in paragraph I, or, in case of additional awards under paragraph IV, shall not issue any award in excess of the amount set forth in paragraph IV. In issuing awards or recognition, the governor and council shall not be limited by any recommendation of the state suggestion and extraordinary service award evaluation committee. The decision of whether to issue a monetary award for suggestions and services under this chapter, and the amount thereof, if any, shall, with the foregoing limitations, be solely within the discretion of the governor and council.

IX. Award evaluation committees recommending monetary awards may consider, but shall not be required to make recommendations according to, the following suggested ranges of award for the following types of suggestions or services:

(a) For suggestions to improve government cost savings, $500 to $2,500, or a percentage of the amount of savings as specified under paragraph II.

(b) For suggestions to improve government efficiency, $250 to $1,500, or a percentage of the amount of savings or revenue increase as specified under paragraph II.

(c) For suggestions to increase revenue to the state by a means other than the establishment of a new, or an increase in an existing, tax, $250 to $1,500 or a percentage of the amount of increase as specified under subparagraph II.

(d) For services outside of or beyond the scope of an employee's regular job responsibilities or functions involving circumstances where only immediate action by the employee could avoid or avert probable harm to an individual, to property, or to the financial interests of the state, $500 to $2,500, or a percentage of the amount of increase or savings as specified under subparagraph II above.

(e) For services within the scope of an employee's regular job responsibilities or functions involving the demonstration of abilities or efforts greatly above and beyond any standard of performance expected of the employee, $250 to $1,500 or a percentage of the amount of increase or savings as specified under subparagraph II above.

SB 65, ratifying changes to the state building code adopted by the state building code review board. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Maurice L. Pilotte for Executive Departments and Administration: The committee agrees with this bill which ratifies the changes or updates to the codes included in the state building code adopted by the State Building Review Board during 2003 and 2004 in Administrative Rules BCR300. The testimony received unanimously supported this bill. Vote 14-0.

SB 167, relative to extension of guardianship. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Bette R. Lasky for Judiciary: This bill was introduced as a result of a Probate Court audit to amend the timeframe for the Probate Court to act on an extension of guardianship petition. According to testimony, these extensions are a rare occurrence, but SB 167 gives those who may object to such an extension additional time to do so. Vote 18-0.

SB 168, relative to administration of estates. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. James E. Wheeler for Judiciary: This bill makes simpler the process for administering small estates. Currently if someone petitions for administration of a small estate and later discovers another asset, he or she must file a new petition and if the new asset raises the value of the estate over the $10,000 threshold for small estates, the petitioner must drop the small estate administration and petition for regular administration. This bill eliminates the separate track for small estates but incorporates the benefits of small estate administration, such as not requiring newspaper notice or a bond for those small estates, into full estate administration. The amendment reduces the amount under which newspaper notice is required from $25,000 in the original bill to $10,000 in the current law. Vote 18-0.

Amend RSA 553:16 as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

553:16 Publication of Notice of Appointment. Upon appointment of an administrator ~~or executor~~, the register of probate shall, within 15 days of such appointment, cause notice thereof to be published in accordance with the provisions of RSA 550:10. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no publication of notice shall be required ~~[in the administration of small estates under RSA 553:34]~~ when the estate has a gross value of $10,000 or less.

SB 169, relative to access to confidential court records. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. John B. Hunt for Judiciary: This bill allows the Supreme Court to grant access to confidential court records to any person conducting a "bona fide research or evaluation project." The Supreme Court requested this bill and testified that Health and Human Services has a similar statute. The committee was very concerned about the lack of guidelines for who may be conducting the research project. There were no limits to how many or which cases may be looked at. The only rights for individuals to have their names redacted would be if the researcher wants to use their names in the final report. Because of privacy concerns, the committee voted unanimously inexpedient to legislate. Vote 16-0.

SB 58-FN, making certain changes in the workers' compensation law. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Sharon M. Carson for Labor, Industrial and Rehabilitative Services: This bill makes four basic changes to existing workers' compensation law. It changes the amount insurance carriers and self-insurers pay to the special fund for second injuries, clarifies when a decision of the commissioner or the compensation appeals board becomes final, allows the commissioner to suspend a board member who fails to render a decision in a timely manner as required by statute, and lastly, requires First Reports of Injury to be filed electronically unless it causes a carrier or self-insured employer undue hardship. The committee was unanimous in its decision to support these changes. Vote 15-0.

SB 117-FN, relative to utility property tax appeals. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Harry S. Gale for Municipal and County Government: Currently appeals of valuations and assessments of the utilities tax have been directed to the Board of Tax and Land Appeals (BTLA) or to the Superior Court. Under this bill, initial appeals will be made to the Department of Revenue Administration (DRA) where there is more technical expertise and understanding of assessing procedures. The insertion of an appeal to DRA prior to going to BTLA or Superior Court could reduce the number of such appeals to the Superior Court. It could also reduce the number of issues within appeals. This bill proposes that appeals occur pursuant to the procedure in RSA 21-J, which provides for a petition to DRA for reconsideration, hearing and decision prior to appealing to either the BTLA or Superior Court. It is assumed that this bill will result in approximately half of the appeals being resolved at the DRA level. This bill has widespread support among all the parties involved and strong bipartisan committee support. Vote 10-2.

SB 189, authorizing the use of interest rate swap agreements and other similar agreements by the cities of Manchester and Nashua. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert L. Theberge for Municipal and County Government: This bill authorizes the cities of Manchester and Nashua to enter into certain agreements for managing interest rates, investments, and other payments for bonded indebtedness. The purpose of a swap is to refinance a city's debt, thereby obtaining a better interest rate and as a consequence saving the municipality millions of dollars. The city of Manchester, with the authorization of the legislature, entered into a swap agreement during the early 1990's for the Manchester Airport, which resulted in a savings of $6.0 million for the taxpayers. A swap agreement as proposed in this bill will not affect the State of New Hampshire's bonding rate. Both the U.S. Government Accounting Board (GASB) and the National and Municipal Analyst have a derivative task force/working group overseeing the best practices for directive financial updating and disclosure law. Currently 43 or 50 states have utilized swap agreements to refinance their indebtedness. Some municipalities have taken advantage of the efficient pricing of "swaps" to convert fixed rate bonds into variable rate debt. Express statutory authority to establish an interest rate swap agreement, such as set forth in SB 189, is preferable as it establishes legal certainty and avoids extensive research and analyses necessary to determine whether the authority to enter into an agreement exists. In summary, this legislation, as presented, would provide the cities of Manchester and Nashua with additional methods and increased flexibility in the future when addressing specific risk management situations. With careful planning and policies in place, the cities of Manchester and Nashua may use interest rate swaps to successfully modernize their respective bond indentures, regain financial flexibility and better match their respective debts to finance assets. Vote 12-0.

SB 120, relative to the purchase of rail properties. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Brenda L. Ferland for Transportation: Currently all rail properties that are offered for sale to the state are in writing to the commissioner. This bill amends that practice requiring the commissioner to promptly notify the Governor and Council when an offer has been accepted. The Governor will schedule the offer for consideration by the Council within 90 days of the date on the notice. Vote 11-0.

SB 138-L, relative to motor vehicle liability for municipal workers. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Brenda L. Ferland for Transportation: This bill adds municipal workers to current liability law for permanent, call and volunteer fire fighters and police officers. The law exempts a worker from having his or her insurance rates raised if involved in an accident when operating a municipal vehicle. Vote 12-0.

SB 208-FN, relative to certification of driver education instructors. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert W. Williams for Transportation: In New Hampshire all driving instructors have the same training. This bill allows persons who are not certified secondary school teachers to teach driver education in school programs. There are two kinds of driver education training schools: privately owned and operated driver education schools and publicly operated driving schools. The only difference is that in the secondary school setting the instructors are required to be certified as secondary school teachers. The proposed change in RSA 186:11 is that the driver education instructors in the secondary school setting shall not be required to be certified as secondary school teachers. Vote 13-0.

SB 62-FN, allowing court fees to be paid by credit card. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. John M. Pratt for Ways and Means: This bill allows court fees and fines paid into any court to be paid by credit card. The committee amended the bill by removing a proposed $5 processing fee for each credit card payment. The majority believed that the benefits of credit card payments would more than offset the additional revenues which the processing fee might engender. Vote 22-0.

Amendment (1325h)

Amend RSA 490:26-a as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

490:26-a Court Fees and Fines; Credit Card Payments. The supreme court shall establish by rule an equitable fee schedule for all courts in the state ~~[by January 1, 1982]~~. All court fees and all fines paid into any court may be paid by credit card in lieu of cash payment.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill allows court fees and fines paid into any court to be paid by credit card.

SB 87, relative to extension of tax liens by the department of revenue administration. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Sharon M. Carson for Ways and Means: This bill is at the request of the Department of Revenue Administration. It permits the department to extend an existing lien by an additional six years in order to collect all monies due if the amount owed is not satisfied by the end of the existing lien. The committee felt this was a reasonable request. Vote 21-0.

SB 202, relative to property taxable as utility property. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Susan W. Almy for Ways and Means: When a property converts to utility status (such as a generating plant that comes out of PILOT status or starts up), it is taxed by the state Utility Property Tax at $6.60 and, for the first two years, by the state Education Property Tax, because the latter's formula refers to two-year-old assessment data. The residents of the town end up paying for the double taxation. This bill eliminates the utility's value from the town assessment for Education Property Tax purposes after it is taxable by the Utility Property Tax, wherever this problem makes a significant difference to the taxpayers. Vote 22-0.

SB 212, relative to the railroad tax. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Sharon M. Carson for Ways and Means: This bill was requested by the Department of Revenue Administration and simply puts into statute an existing practice. It allows the Commissioner of Revenue Administration to appraise property held by the railroads and their corporations, establishes a tax collection process, and creates an appeal procedure. Vote 21-0.

REGULAR CALENDARSB 38-FN, relative to school building aid for certain receiving districts. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Mark S. Carter for Education: This bill allows receiving districts providing education to pupils from sending districts to receive annual school building aid under certain conditions. Certain "tuition agreements" are not covered by the multi-district school building aid statute. This bill rectifies this inequity, and was carefully amended in the Senate in cooperation with the Department of Education to address issues that arose with the original bill text. Vote 14-1.

Committee report adopted.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

SB 90-FN-A-L, relative to kindergarten construction aid. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Emma L. Rous for Education: This bill continues the opportunity for towns to implement kindergarten programs by extending the kindergarten construction program and authority to bond for one year to June 30, 2006. Vote 15-0.

Committee report adopted.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

SB 61, relative to judges giving notice of intent to retire, and relative to retired status for judges and assignment of judicial referees. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Gregory M. Sorg for the Majority of Judiciary: This bill, as amended, clarifies the procedure by which full-time judges give notice of their intention to retire. It also authorizes and establishes the rules by which retired full-time judges under the age of 70 may continue to serve on an as-needed basis, as senior active judges, and by which those over the age of 70 may continue to serve, on an as-needed basis, as judicial referees. Vote 16-2.

Rep. Robert H. Rowe for the Minority of Judiciary: New Hampshire has an asset in its full-time judges who retire between the age of 60 to 70 years. Under the former retirement system the retirement pay was substantial and they were expected to sit temporarily as requested. The new judicial retirement is a contributory plan and results in a smaller income. With this bill as passed, the judges under the new retirement system will not be compensated on a per diem basis if they sit. As such, there will not be an incentive for these judges to sit. We will lose a trained cadre of professional judges. For the sake of a per diem income, there would be an incentive for them to sit as requested and a court backlog reduced. The minority amendment will allow full time retired judges to be compensated for their time.

Majority Amendment (1223h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

1 Tenure of Judges; Optional Retirement. RSA 493:3 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

493:3 Optional Retirement. Any supreme or superior court judge, full-time district court judge, or full-time probate court judge who is eligible to retire pursuant to the provisions of RSA 100-C may retire. The judge shall give not less than 30 days' notice nor more than 90 days' notice of the judge's intention to retire to the chief justice of the supreme court or the administrative judge of the judge's court and to the governor and council and the board of trustees of the judicial retirement plan under RSA 100-C. If a chief justice wishes to retire, the chief justice shall give not less than 30 days' notice nor more than 90 days' notice of the chief justice's intention to retire to the senior associate justice of the chief justice's court and to the governor and council and the board of trustees of the judicial retirement plan under RSA 100-C. If an administrative judge wishes to retire, the administrative judge shall give not less than 30 days' notice nor more than 90 days' notice of the administrative judge's intention to retire to the chief justice of the supreme court and to the governor and council and the board of trustees of the judicial retirement plan under RSA 100-C. Retirement shall be effective upon acceptance by the governor and council. The vacancy created by the retirement of a judge shall be filled according to law.

Amend the bill by replacing sections 4 and 5 with the following:

4 New Section; Judicial Referees; Assignment. Amend RSA 493-A by inserting after section 1 the following new section:

493-A:1-a Judicial Referees.

I. Any full-time justice of the supreme, superior, district, or probate court who is mandatorily retired from either regular active service or senior active service upon reaching age 70, and any part-time district or probate court justice who is mandatorily retired upon reaching age 70, shall thereafter be eligible to serve as a judicial referee on the court from which he or she retired or on any other court in which his or her service as a referee is authorized by law.

II. A judicial referee may be assigned to take testimony, receive and review evidence, and make recommendations for findings of fact and conclusions of law in any court specified in paragraph I by the chief justice of the supreme court or superior court, from which the referee retired, or the administrative justice of any other court from which the referee retired. All recommendations of judicial referees shall be approved by a justice in regular active service or senior active service of the court to which the referee is assigned. A judicial referee shall not preside over jury trials and shall not enter final orders in any case.

III. Nothing in this section shall prevent a retired justice of the supreme, superior, district, or probate courts from sitting as a temporary justice of the supreme court when selected to do so pursuant to the procedures specified in RSA 490:3.

IV. A retired part-time district or probate court justice appointed as a referee under this section shall be allowed his or her expenses and a per diem compensation determined by the supreme court upon recommendation by the judicial branch administrative council, established pursuant to supreme court rule.

5 Repeal. The following are repealed:

I. RSA 491:23, relative to appointment of former judges as referees, auditors and masters.

II. RSA 502-A:6-b, relative to retired justices of the district court.

III. RSA 547:19-c, relative to retired justices of the probate court.

Rep. Rowe spoke against the majority amendment and yielded to questions.

Rep. Soltani spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

On a division vote, 288 members having voted in the affirmative and 50 in the negative, the majority amendment was adopted.

Committee report adopted.

Rep. Coughlin declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

Ordered to third reading.

SB 63-FN-A, establishing a court mediation fund to pay the costs of a mediation program in the district courts. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. Rep. Peter S. Espiefs for the Majority of Judiciary: This bill authorizes the establishment of a voluntary mediation program for small claims filed in the district courts and funding to pay the costs of mediation. Small claims are the lowest level of civil case jurisdiction in the district courts. They include claims that do not exceed $5000 and the title to real estate is not involved. In recent years, there has been a great increase in small claims cases. Over 18,000 were filed in 2004. This has created a tremendous strain on the courts' judicial and administrative time and resources and threatens the court's ability to properly handle its heavy dockets of criminal, civil, traffic, and juvenile matters. The mediation program is needed to relieve the growing pressure on the district court trial docket. It will give the litigants who opt for mediation an expeditious, less technical and less stressful solution of their dispute while reserving their right to a trial if not satisfied. It should be noted that a mediated resolution submitted to the court becomes a court order and is legally enforceable. The program will be funded through an increase of $5 to the small claim filing fee (now $55) collected by the court. The resulting fund will be a dedicated fund out of which mediators will be paid a flat fee of $60 per case, regardless of the time involved. Mediation, funded by a filing fee increase, has been used by the NH probate court system for several years and has worked well in reducing the overload in its jurisdiction. Mediation has proven to be a most effective and expeditious alternative in many states. The need for it in the district court system is clear, the funding cost is minimal to the users, and the ultimate savings to the district court system will be substantial. Vote 12-6.

Rep. Tony F. Soltani for the Minority of Judiciary: The minority agrees that mediation is an effective and speedy method of resolving disputes. However, this bill unnecessarily imposes a mandatory $5 fee on those who can least afford it. The mediation program has been successfully operated at superior court through the use of volunteer attorneys who pay to attend the mediation training. Cases involving large sums of money are currently mediated at superior court without charge to the litigants because the mediators volunteer their time. It makes no sense to impose a fee and hire paid mediators for small claims; while a volunteer system is working well for large cases. This is simply an unjustifiable and regressive tax which would enrich only a few who refuse to volunteer. Rep. Soltani spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Hunt spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Dokmo spoke in favor.

Rep. Bettencourt requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being adoption of the majority committee report.

(Deputy Speaker Weyler in the Chair)

SB 75-FN, relative to the statute of limitations for a civil actions based upon a sexual assault case.
OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Maureen C. Mooney for Judiciary: This bill extends the statute of limitations for civil actions involving sexual assault on minors. Many victims suffer extensive psychological, mental, physical and emotional anguish that is not always apparent or discoverable until years after the alleged incident occurs. After careful consideration, the majority of the committee felt this bill incorporates into law a reasonable filing extension in order to justly compensate victims and deter child predators. Vote 12-6.

Amendment (1248h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Section; Limitation of Actions; Sexual Assault and Related Offenses. Amend RSA 508 by inserting after section 4-f the following new section:

508:4-g Actions Based on Sexual Assault and Related Offenses. A person, alleging to have been subjected to any offense under RSA 632-A or an offense under RSA 639:2, who was under 18 years of age when the alleged offense occurred, may commence a personal action based on the incident within the later of:

I. Ten years of the person's eighteenth birthday; or

II. Three years of the time the plaintiff discovers, or in the exercise of reasonable diligence should have discovered, the injury and its causal relationship to the act or omission complained of.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 2005.

Amendment adopted.

Rep. James Wheeler requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being adoption of the committee report.

and the committee report was adopted.

Ordered to third reading.

SB 210-FN, relative to a declaratory judgment to adjudicate constitutional nexus. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Gregory M. Sorg for Judiciary: This bill would add to the statutes a short new chapter, which would confer jurisdiction upon the superior courts to make declaratory judgments on the issue of whether a plaintiff New Hampshire business's contacts with another state were insufficient to justify that state's taxing authorities requiring it to collect and remit sales and use taxes on that state's behalf. The committee majority concluded that the superior courts already have such jurisdiction under their general declaratory judgment authority of RSA 491:22 and that the effect of enacting this bill would be to mislead New Hampshire businesses into believing that they were no longer subject to, and therefore did not have to respond to, suits brought in another state seeking either to enforce collection or to obtain similar declaratory relief, should its taxing authorities "win the race to the courthouse" and file suit in their home state first. No statute passed by the State of New Hampshire can deprive another state of its own jurisdiction over this subject. Moreover, the judicial branch indicated that specifying this authority in a separate statute would invite additional proceedings on this subject at considerable cost in court time, while the Department of Revenue Administration stated that it would invite retaliatory statutes in other states at considerable eventual cost in reduced tax revenues from out-of-state businesses. Vote 12-6.

SB 113-FN, relative to the use of federal funds for technology improvements within the department of employment security. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. William J. Infantine for Labor, Industrial and Rehabilitative Services: The computer system used by the Department of Employment Security is in serious need of upgrade and replacement. This bill allows the department to use funds provided by the federal government through the REED Act funds. Vote 9-6.

Committee report adopted.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

SB 172, establishing a committee to study a medical fee schedule for workers' compensation. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Anthony R. DiFruscia for Labor, Industrial and Rehabilitative Services: The bill is simply a feasibility study concerning a medical fee schedule for workers' compensation cases. Presently, all New England states, except New Hampshire, and forty-one other states have a medical fee schedule. Vote 8-7.

Rep. Holden moved recommit and spoke in favor.

Recommitted to the Committee on Labor, Industrial and Rehabilitative Services.

Rep. Greco declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

SB 164-FN, relative to the disposal of real property purchased with highway or turnpike funds. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. James B. Rausch for the Majority of Public Works and Highways: This bill requires the Department of Transportation to contract with licensed real estate professionals to sell excess surplus commercial and industrial real estate owned by the department. All requests for disposal of surplus commercial and industrial property owned by the Department of Transportation must be reviewed and approved by the Long Range Capital Planning and Utilization Committee prior to submission to the Governor and Council for approval. This bill further requires the proceeds from the sale of the properties to be deposited into either the highway or turnpike fund, depending on which fund was used to originally purchase the property. The legislation additionally makes the state comply with Article 6-a of the NH Constitution by eliminating the approval by the Council on Resources and Development (CORD) for disposal of property that was purchased with state or federal highway funds. Article 6-a states "No part of such revenues shall by transfer of funds, or otherwise, be diverted to any other purpose whatsoever." The CORD process has previously allowed for such diversion of property in violation of Article 6-a resulting in diminishing the funds available for highway and turnpike maintenance and construction. The CORD process is unchanged for all other state owned property, only the property purchased with highway, or turnpike funds is affected. Other agencies, counties, cities or towns have right of first refusal for the property, but must reimburse the highway or turnpike funds for the property value. The House has already passed HB 540 which was identical to SB 164 except it dealt with the disposal of residential property. This legislation, as well as HB 540, is a result of recommendations of the bipartisan committee established in Chapter 262:3, Laws of 2004 charged with reviewing funding of the state's transportation plan. Vote 11-5.

Rep. Bernard L. Benn for the Minority of Public Works and Highways: The minority agrees that non-essential surplus land bought with highway funds must and should be sold at fair market value and the proceeds returned to the Highway Trust Fund. However, the minority has concern about removing the Council on Resources and Economic Development (CORD) from the review process. In the bill, the review and approval is left solely to the Long Range Capital Planning and Utilization Committee prior to its submittal to Governor and Council. Limiting oversight in this way could result in a diminished range of input that might have important environmental or economic consequences to the state and/or communities. No compelling reason was brought forth to remove CORD from the process, although the minority understands that the CORD process may need some improvements to make it more efficient. In addition, some members feel that to save significant money for the Highway Trust Fund, the state should establish a professional real estate office to dispose of these properties rather than contracting with private real estate brokers. One former commercial broker dubbed SB 164 the "Real Estate Broker's Full Employment Act."

Majority committee report adopted.

Ordered to third reading.

SB 145-FN, establishing a medical/vision advisory board. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Jennifer M. Brown for Transportation: This bill establishes a medical/vision advisory board to advise the Director of the Division of Motor Vehicles of the Department of Safety. We felt that instead of having the Division of Motor Vehicles make decisions alone on medical issues, they will have advice from the medical community which will consist of an advisory board made up of two licensed physicians and one licensed optometrist. This bill will sunset in two years. Vote 9-4.

Amendment (1346h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 Repeal. RSA 263:6-b, relative to the medical/vision advisory board, is repealed.

3 Effective Date.

I. Section 2 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2007.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

Amendment adopted.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 18, relative to sales of tickets for pure lotteries by those not employed by the lottery commission. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Benjamin E. Parker for Ways and Means: This bill eliminates the restriction on lottery ticket sales by non-employees. Currently, licensed agents of the lottery can offer lottery tickets for sale from licensed locations and lottery employees can offer tickets at unlicensed locations. The Lottery Commission estimated the annual net profit for allowing non-lottery employees to sell lottery tickets at unlicensed locations at $75,000 before any overhead expense allocation or supervision costs. The majority of the committee believes that extending the right to sell lottery tickets by non-lottery employees to unlicensed locations was not justified by the additional net profit it would generate and would not be an appropriate extension of the retail sale of lottery tickets. Vote 12-8. Committee report adopted.

SB 20-FN, relative to an increase in lottery ticket prices. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Benjamin E. Parker for Ways and Means: This bill allows the Lottery Commission to sell tickets at a price not to exceed $20. Estimated net profits from an offer of a $20 ticket are: $2,125,200 in FY 06 and $2,721,600 in FY 07. These estimates include the effect on sales of existing tickets. The majority of the committee believes that this request for a higher lottery ticket price is an appropriate incremental increase which will enhance the lottery as a revenue source for the state. Vote 12-9.

Reps. Vaillancourt and Pratt spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Parker spoke in favor.

Rep. Camm spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. James Wheeler requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being adoption of the committee report.

SB 219-FN, relative to examinations under workers' compensation. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. William J. Infantine for Labor, Industrial and Rehabilitative Services: This bill requires employees receiving medical benefits to submit to a medical examination if requested to do so by the employer or Commissioner of Labor. Current law only requires such an examination if the employee is receiving weekly compensation payments. This bill also declares that if medical bills for workers' compensation cases are in dispute, the employee must submit to an examination if requested to do so by the employer. If the employee does not comply, his or her right to a hearing shall be suspended until an examination has taken place. Vote 15-0.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Reps. Wendelboe and Morris addressed the House.

Rep. Giuda moved that the remarks of Rep. Wendelboe be printed in the Permanent Journal.

Without objection, the Chair so ordered.

REMARKS

Rep. Wendelboe: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This past week we commemorated the 60th anniversary of Victory in Europe Day. In just a few weeks I'm sure one of our members will speak to remember D-Day. I'm sure many of you remember Alf Jacobson joining us again this year to honor those who served on Iwo Jima. However, recently there was a very bittersweet anniversary that affected the war of my generation and I think it would be somewhat remiss not to make mention of that milestone. This is the third time I've made this address, once every five years, and I will continue to do so as long as I am here.

The anniversary I refer to happened 30 years ago in the fall of Saigon. Even today I can vividly remember watching the news coverage and seeing that last helicopter lift off from the American embassy. And in light of this milestone, I think we should recognize the service and sacrifice of the men and women who did serve in Southeast Asia. In 1975, after the fall of Saigon, there was no joyous victory celebration. There were no tickertape parades. There was no outpouring of national pride and celebration. The honor of one's service and sacrifice should never be diminished by the outcome or the political opinion about any war — past, present or future.

I ask this body to join me in reiterating that our Vietnam veterans are welcome home and that we appreciated the service and sacrifice that they gave, just as their fathers gave in the wars that came before that we often do talk about. I wanted to make sure that this one does not get forgotten. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Dear Mr. Speaker:

Due to a recent change in my employment status, I regret to inform you that I must resign my position as representative for Hillsborough County District 7 effective immediately.

Duties and responsibilities required by my new employment have made it difficult for me to adequately and effectively participate in the legislative process to the extent I had hoped for when first elected. It has been an honor and privilege to serve the citizens of New Hampshire. I hope to have the opportunity to serve again in the future as my professional life permits.

Sincerely, Stephen Baines, Hills 7

SB 77, relative to the review of proposed health care provider contracts. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Stephen B. Stepanek for Commerce: This bill was a good compromise on both sides. The insurance companies will be required to provide a health care provider in writing or in electronic format a complete copy of the proposed contract including all attachments and exhibits. The insurance company shall also make available to the contracting entity in writing or in electronic format the most current provider manual. In addition, the contracting entity may request that a health carrier disclose the fees applicable to specified procedure codes that pertain to the entity's practice or specialty, or a method or process that allows the contracting entity to determine the fees pursuant to the contract. There was agreement on both sides that this piece of legislation would resolve the major issues surrounding contract disclosures. Vote 19-0.

Amendment (1335h)

Amend RSA 420-J:8, VIII as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

VIII.(a) No contract between a health carrier and a participating provider shall contain any payment or reimbursement provision the terms of which creates an inducement for the provider to not provide medically necessary care to covered persons. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the use of payment arrangements between a health carrier and a participating provider or provider group which involve capitation, withholds or other arrangements.

(b) Prior to the execution of a health care provider contract, a health carrier shall furnish to the contracting entity, in writing or in electronic format, a complete copy of the proposed contract including all attachments and exhibits. The health carrier shall also make available to the contracting entity, in writing or in electronic format, the most current provider manual.

(c) The contracting entity may request that a health carrier disclose the fees applicable to specified procedure codes that pertain to the entity's practice or specialty or a method or process that allows the contracting entity to determine the fees pursuant to the terms of the contract. Upon request by the contracting entity, the insurer shall furnish, in writing or in an electronic format, the requested procedure codes within 30 calendar days from receipt of the request.

(d) No provider contract shall allow for a material change in the applicable fee schedule unless notice of such change is given at least 60 days in advance of the effective date.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill requires a health carrier to furnish a provider with a complete copy of a proposed health care provider contract. The bill also requires that a health carrier give a 60-day notice to a provider before there is a material change in the applicable fee schedule.

SB 78, relative to payment of health care providers by health carriers. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Stephen B. Stepanek for Commerce: This bill modifies the health insurance industry's prompt payment law, RSA 415:6h. The committee, the insurance industry, NH Medical Association, the NH Hospital Association, as well as many individual practitioners worked long and hard hammering out the amendment to the bill. All sides compromised and no group got everything it wanted. In the end all agreed we have a good, workable modification to the prompt payment law. Under the current RSA any late payments of claims by the insurance companies will be assessed a 1.5% per month interest cost. A problem arose because the health care provider had to submit in writing a request for the interest payment for each individual claim. This amendment defines clean claims, time limits in which insurance companies must pay these claims and automatic payment of the interest payment to the health care provider if the initial payments are not made within the outlined time schedules. Vote 19-0.

Amendment (1381h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Individual Insurance; Prompt Payment. Amend RSA 415:6-h to read as follows:
415:6-h Prompt Payment Required.

1.(a) Each insurer that issues or renews any individual policy of accident or health insurance providing benefits for medical or hospital expenses for its insured persons shall pay for services rendered by New Hampshire health care providers within ~~[45]~~ 30 calendar days upon receipt of a clean ~~[written]~~ non-electronic claim or 15 calendar days upon receipt of a clean electronic claim.

(b) ~~[H]~~ When the insurer is denying or pending the claim, the insurer shall have 15 calendar days upon receipt of ~~[the]~~ an electronic claim or 30 days upon receipt of a non-electronic claim to notify the health care provider or certificate holder of the reason for denying or pending the claim and what, if any, additional information is required to ~~[process]~~ adjudicate the claim. Upon the insurer's receipt of the requested additional information, the insurer shall adjudicate the claim within 45 calendar days. If the required notice is not provided, the claim shall be treated as a clean claim and shall be adjudicated pursuant to subparagraph (a).

(c) Payment of a claim shall be considered to be made on the date a check was issued or electronically transferred. The insurer shall mail checks no later than 5 business days after the date a check was issued. Failure to mail a check within 5 business days shall constitute a violation subject to enforcement under RSA 415:20.

(d) The insurer's failure to comply with the time limits in this section shall not have the effect of requiring coverage for an otherwise non-covered claim. This section shall only apply to payments made on a claims basis and shall not apply to capitation or other forms of periodic payment.

II. In this section:

(a) "Clean claim" means a claim for payment of covered health care expenses that is submitted to an insurer on the insurer's standard claim form using the most current published procedural codes, with all the required fields completed with correct and complete information in accordance with the insurer's published filing requirements.

(b) "Electronic claim" means the transmission of data for purposes of payment of covered health care services in an electronic data format specified by the insurer and, if covered by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), is in such form and substance as to be in compliance with such act.

III. Any initial clean claim submission not paid within the time periods specified in ~~[paragraph]~~ subparagraph 1(a) shall be deemed overdue. ~~[When a claim is overdue, the health care provider may notify the insurer in writing of the insurer's noncompliance with this section. If the insurer fails to pay the claim within 10 days of receiving the notice, then]~~ In that case:

(a) The insurer shall pay the health care provider or the insured person the amount of the overdue claim [shall include] plus an interest payment of 1.5 percent per month beginning from the date the payment was due; and

(b) The health care provider may recover from the insurer, upon a judicial finding of bad faith, reasonable attorney's fees for advising and representing a health care provider in a successful action against an insurer for payment of the claim.

IV. Exceptions to the requirements of this section are as follows:

(a) No insurer shall be in violation of this section for a claim submitted by a health care provider if:

(1) Failure to comply is caused by a directive from a court or a federal or state agency;

(2) The insurer is in liquidation or rehabilitation or is operating in compliance with a court-ordered plan of rehabilitation; or

(3) The insurer's compliance is rendered impossible due to matters beyond the insurer's control which are not caused by such insurer.

(b) No insurer shall be in violation of this section for any claim submitted more than 90 days after the service was rendered.

(c) No insurer shall be in violation of this section while the claim is pending due to a fraud investigation that has been reported to a state or federal agency, or an internal or external review process.

V. The commissioner may assess an administrative fine against any insurer or may suspend or revoke the license or certificate of authority of any insurer after determining that the insurer has established a pattern of overdue payments and that the contemplated enforcement action would not promote the deterioration of the financial condition of an at-risk insurer. Such fine shall be up to $5,000 per violation, not to exceed $100,000. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to alter the commissioner's authority to investigate or take action, including, but not limited to, action pursuant to RSA 415:20, in response to individual instances of noncompliance.

2 Group Insurance; Prompt Payment. Amend RSA 415:18-k to read as follows:

415:18-k Prompt Payment Required.

I.(a) Each insurer that issues or renews any policy of group or blanket accident or health insurance providing benefits for medical or hospital expenses for its insured persons shall pay for services rendered by New Hampshire health care providers within ~~[45]~~ 30 calendar days upon receipt of a clean ~~[written]~~ non-electronic claim or 15 calendar days upon receipt of a clean electronic claim.

(b) ~~[If]~~ When the insurer is denying or pending the claim, the insurer shall have 15 calendar days upon receipt of ~~[the]~~ an electronic claim or 30 days upon receipt of a non-electronic claim to notify the health care provider or certificate holder of the reason for denying or pending the claim and what, if any, additional information is required to ~~[process]~~ adjudicate the claim. Upon the insurer's receipt of the requested additional information, the insurer shall adjudicate the claim within 45 calendar days. If the required notice is not provided, the claim shall be treated as a clean claim and shall be adjudicated pursuant to subparagraph (a).

(c) Payment of a claim shall be considered to be made on the date a check was issued or electronically transferred. The insurer shall mail checks no later than 5 business days after the date a check was issued. Failure to mail a check within 5 business days shall constitute a violation subject to enforcement under RSA 415:20.

(d) The insurer's failure to comply with the time limits in this section shall not have the effect of requiring coverage for an otherwise non-covered claim. This section shall only apply to payments made on a claims basis and shall not apply to capitation or other forms of periodic payment.

II. In this section:

(a) "Clean claim" means a claim for payment of covered health care expenses that is submitted to an insurer on the insurer's standard claim form using the most current published procedural codes, with all the required fields completed with correct and complete information in accordance with the insurer's published filing requirements.

(b) "Electronic claim" means the transmission of data for purposes of payment of covered health care services in an electronic data format specified by the insurer and, if covered by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), is in such form and substance as to be in compliance with such act.

III. Any initial clean claim submission not paid within the time periods specified in ~~[paragraph I]~~ subparagraph I(a) shall be deemed overdue. ~~[When a claim is overdue, the health care provider may notify the insurer in writing of the insurer's noncompliance with this section. If the insurer fails to pay the claim within 10 days of receiving the notice, then]~~ In that case:

(a) The insurer shall pay the health care provider or the insured person the amount of the overdue claim [shall include] plus an interest payment of 1.5 percent per month beginning from the date the payment was due; and

(b) The health care provider may recover from the insurer, upon a judicial finding of bad faith, reasonable attorney's fees for advising and representing a health care provider in a successful action against an insurer for payment of the claim.

IV. Exceptions to the requirements of this section are as follows:

(a) No insurer shall be in violation of this section for a claim submitted by a health care provider if:

(1) Failure to comply is caused by a directive from a court or a federal or state agency;

(2) The insurer is in liquidation or rehabilitation or is operating in compliance with a court-ordered plan of rehabilitation; or

(3) The insurer's compliance is rendered impossible due to matters beyond the insurer's control which are not caused by such insurer.

(b) No insurer shall be in violation of this section for any claim submitted more than 90 days after the service was rendered.

(c) No insurer shall be in violation of this section while the claim is pending due to a fraud investigation that has been reported to a state or federal agency, or an internal or external review process.

V. The commissioner may assess an administrative fine against any insurer or may suspend or revoke the license or certificate of authority of any insurer after determining that the insurer has established a pattern of overdue payments and that the contemplated enforcement action would not promote the deterioration of the financial condition of an at-risk insurer. Such fine shall be up to $5,000 per violation, not to exceed $100,000. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to alter the commissioner's authority to investigate or take action, including, but not limited to, action pursuant to RSA 415:20, in response to individual instances of noncompliance.

3 Health Service Corporations; Prompt Payment. Amend RSA 420-A:17-d to read as follows: 420-A:17-d Prompt Payment Required.

I.(a) Every health service corporation, and every other similar corporation licensed under the laws of another state that issues or renews any policy of individual or group blanket accident or health insurance providing benefits for medical or hospital expenses for its insured persons shall pay for services rendered by New Hampshire health care providers within ~~[45]~~ 30 calendar days upon receipt of a clean ~~[written]~~ non-electronic claim or 15 calendar days upon receipt of a clean electronic claim.

(b) ~~[If]~~ When the health service corporation is denying or pending the claim, the corporation shall have 15 calendar days upon receipt of ~~[the] an electronic claim or 30 days upon receipt of a non-electronic~~ claim to notify the health care provider or subscriber of the reason for denying or pending the claim and what, if any, additional information is required to ~~[process]~~ adjudicate the claim. Upon the health service corporation's receipt of the requested additional information, the health service corporation shall adjudicate the claim within 45 calendar days. If the required notice is not provided, the claim shall be treated as a clean claim and shall be adjudicated pursuant to subparagraph (a).

(c) Payment of a claim shall be considered to be made on the date a check was issued or electronically transferred. The health services corporation shall mail checks no later than 5 business days after the date a check was issued. Failure to mail a check within 5 business days shall constitute a violation subject to enforcement under RSA 415:20.

(d) The corporation's failure to comply with the time limits in this section shall not have the effect of requiring coverage for an otherwise non-covered claim. This section shall only apply to payments made on a claims basis and shall not apply to capitation or other forms of periodic payment.

II. In this section:

(a) "Clean claim" means a claim for payment of covered health care expenses that is submitted to a health service corporation on the corporation's standard claim form using the most current published procedural codes, with all the required fields completed with correct and complete information in accordance with the corporation's published filing requirements.

(b) "Electronic claim" means the transmission of data for purposes of payment of covered health care services in an electronic data format specified by the corporation and, if covered by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), is in such form and substance as to be in compliance with such act.

III. Any initial clean claim submission not paid within the time periods specified in ~~[paragraph I]~~ subparagraph I(a) shall be deemed overdue. ~~[When a claim is overdue, the health care provider may notify the health service corporation in writing of the health service corporation's noncompliance with this section. If the health service corporation fails to pay the claim within 10 days of receiving the notice, then]~~ In that case:

(a) The health service corporation shall pay the health care provider or the insured person the amount of the overdue claim [~~shall include~~] plus an interest payment of 1.5 percent per month beginning from the date the payment was due; and

(b) The health care provider may recover from the health service corporation, upon a judicial finding of bad faith, reasonable attorney's fees for advising and representing a health care provider in a successful action against an health service corporation for payment of the claim.

IV. Exceptions to the requirements of this section are as follows:

(a) No health service corporation shall be in violation of this section for a claim submitted by a health care provider if:

(1) Failure to comply is caused by a directive from a court or a federal or state agency;

(2) The corporation is in liquidation or rehabilitation or is operating in compliance with a court-ordered plan of rehabilitation; or

(3) The corporation's compliance is rendered impossible due to matters beyond the corporation's control which are not caused by such corporation.

(b) No health service corporation shall be in violation of this section for any claim submitted more than 90 days after the service was rendered.

(c) No health service corporation shall be in violation of this section while the claim is pending due to a fraud investigation that has been reported to a state or federal agency, or an internal or external review process.

V. The commissioner may assess an administrative fine against any health service corporation or may suspend or revoke the license or certificate of authority of any health service corporation after determining that the health service corporation has established a pattern of overdue payments and that the contemplated enforcement action would not promote the deterioration of the financial condition of an at-risk insurer. Such fine shall be up to $5,000 per violation, not to exceed $100,000. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to alter the commissioner's authority to investigate or take action, including, but not limited to, action pursuant to RSA 415:20, in response to individual instances of noncompliance.

4 Managed Care; Prompt Payment. Amend RSA 420-J:8-a to read as follows:

420-J:8-a Prompt Payment Required.

I.(a) Health carriers issuing health benefit plans subject to this chapter shall pay claims submitted by health care providers for services rendered in New Hampshire to covered persons within ~~[45]~~ 30 calendar days upon receipt of a clean ~~[written]~~ non-electronic claim or 15 calendar days upon receipt of a clean electronic claim.

(b) ~~[H]~~ When the health carrier is denying or pending the claim, the carrier shall have 15 calendar days upon receipt of ~~[the]~~ an electronic claim or 30 days upon receipt of a nonelectronic claim to notify the health care provider or covered person of the reason for denying or pending the claim and what, if any, additional information is required to ~~[process]~~ adjudicate the claim. Upon the health carrier's receipt of the requested additional information, the health carrier shall adjudicate the claim within 45 calendar days. If the required notice is not provided, the claim shall be treated as a clean claim and shall be adjudicated pursuant to subparagraph (a).

(c) Payment of a claim shall be considered to be made on the date a check was issued or electronically transferred. The health carrier shall mail checks no later than 5 business days after the date a check was issued. Failure to mail a check within 5 business days shall constitute a violation subject to enforcement under RSA 415:20.

(d) The health carrier's failure to comply with the time limits in this section shall not have the effect of requiring coverage for an otherwise non-covered claim. This section shall only apply to payments made on a claims basis and shall not apply to capitation or other forms of periodic payment.

II. In this section:

(a) "Clean claim" means a claim for payment of covered health care expenses that is submitted to a health carrier on the carrier's standard claim form using the most current published procedural codes, with all the required fields completed with correct and complete information in accordance with the carrier's published filing requirements.

(b) "Electronic claim" means the transmission of data for purposes of payment of covered health care services in an electronic data format specified by the health carrier and, if covered by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), is in such form and substance as to be in compliance with such act.

III. Any initial clean claim submission not paid within the time periods specified in ~~[paragraph 1]~~ subparagraph I(a) shall be deemed overdue. ~~[When a claim is overdue, the health care provider may notify the health service corporation in writing of the health service corporation's noncompliance with this section. If the health service corporation fails to pay the claim within 10 days of receiving the notice, then]~~ In that case:

(a) The health carrier shall pay the health care provider or the insured person the amount of the overdue claim ~~[shall include]~~ plus an interest payment of 1.5 percent per month beginning from the date the payment was due; and

(b) The health care provider may recover from the carrier, upon a judicial finding of bad faith, reasonable attorney's fees for advising and representing a health care provider in a successful action against a carrier for payment of the claim.

IV. Exceptions to the requirements of this section are as follows:

(a) No health carrier shall be in violation of this section for a claim submitted by a health care provider if:

(1) Failure to comply is caused by a directive from a court or a federal or state agency;

(2) The health carrier is in liquidation or rehabilitation or is operating in compliance with a court-ordered plan of rehabilitation; or

(3) The carrier's compliance is rendered impossible due to matters beyond the carrier's control which are not caused by such carrier.

(b) No health carrier shall be in violation of this section for any claim submitted more than 90 days after the service was rendered.

(c) No health carrier shall be in violation of this section while the claim is pending due to a fraud investigation that has been reported to a state or federal agency, or an internal or external review determination pursuant to RSA 420-J:5 or RSA 420-J:5-a-e.

V. The commissioner may assess an administrative fine against any health carrier or may suspend or revoke the license or certificate of authority of any health carrier after determining that the health carrier has established a pattern of overdue payments and that the contemplated enforcement action would not promote the deterioration of the financial condition of an at-risk insurer. Such fine shall be up to $5,000 per violation, not to exceed $100,000. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to alter the commissioner's authority to investigate or take action, including, but not limited to, action pursuant to RSA 415:20, in response to individual instances of noncompliance.

5 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 90 days after its passage.

SB 123, relative to the liability of pet shops for the sale of sick animals. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Stella Scamman for Commerce: This bill allows the purchaser of an animal bought at a pet shop a period of 14 days to seek veterinary care if such animal becomes ill. The pet shop shall be liable for up to $1000 in veterinary fees for each pet animal sold. The concern is that pet stores would have to reimburse the purchaser for expenses that could far exceed the cost of the animal and lead to bankruptcy of the small pet stores. Under the current process, the consumer can go back to the pet store and get full reimbursement for the pet. Vote 18-0.

SB 46, relative to the duties of law enforcement officials upon receiving reports of missing adults. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Gene P. Charron for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: The intent of this bill is to establish uniform procedures for law enforcement officials when receiving reports of missing adults. Most importantly, it provides a consistent approach throughout the state. It also provides for a minimum 72 hour time frame for agencies to report a missing person for entry into the National Crime Information Center known as NCIC. The 72 hours provides local law enforcement the time to investigate circumstances and justification for entry into NCIC. The bill does not preclude entering this information prior to 72 hours based on special circumstances. Vote 16-0.

Amendment (1438h)

Amend RSA 106-I:1, IV as inserted by section 3 of the bill by replacing all after subparagraph (b) with the following:

(c) The circumstances indicate that the person's disappearance may not have been voluntary; or

(d) The person is missing after a catastrophe.

Amend RSA 106-I:2 as inserted by section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:
106-I:2 Procedures.

I. Upon receiving notice of a missing adult, a law enforcement agency shall complete a missing person report by providing identifying and descriptive information about the missing adult within 72 hours to the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) for inclusion in the missing person file of its computerized database.

II. It shall be the duty of the initial investigating law enforcement agency to immediately notify the NCIC when the missing adult is located or returned.

III. The provisions of this chapter are not intended to remove the discretion of a law enforcement agency to notify the NCIC when an adult is missing under circumstances other than those specified in RSA 106-I:1, IV, when the law enforcement agency has reasonable concern for such adult's safety.

Amend the bill by replacing section 4 with the following:

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

SB 56, relative to penalties for eluding pursuit by a law enforcement officer. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. John E. Tholl for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: The committee felt that the bill was confusing and almost impossible to enforce. Part of the bill raises the penalty for increasing speed to 25 MPH or more over a posted speed limit to elude pursuit to the existing class B felony for being involved in an accident causing serious bodily injury during a pursuit. A subcommittee attempted without success to construct an amendment that would have made the bill more workable. Many on the committee felt that in certain cases a felony charge would be appropriate, but SB 56 was not the answer. Vote 15-1.

SB 17, relative to the definition of educational institution for the purpose of higher education loans. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Deanna P. Rush for Education: This bill provides a language change that will result in consistency with the language contained in the charters of the other two New Hampshire Higher Education Assistance Foundation (NHHEAF) network organizations. Current language limits the New Hampshire Higher Education Loan Corporation (NHHELCO) from participating in expanded business opportunities for the NHHEAF network organizations because it cannot purchase loans from out-of-state entities who may wish to contract with the network. This bill allows NHHELCO to enter into purchase agreements with out-of-state lenders and to provide loans to New Hampshire students for postsecondary education institutions outside of New Hampshire and thereby increase NHHELCO's market position. This bill does not require any state financial commitments. Vote 12-0.

SB 91-FN, relative to an increase in the co-payment for participation in the animal population control program. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. James G. Phinizy for Environment and Agriculture: The state animal population control program has been highly successful; however, due to increased costs, which the veterinarians have been absorbing, it is felt by the committee that an increase is in order. Accordingly, the two plans, which deal with adoptions from shelters and individuals who meet criteria, have been increased from $30 to $40 and $15 to $20 respectively. These increases are consistent with responsible animal ownership. Vote 15-2.

Referred to Ways and Means.

SB 187, relative to allowing alternative certified hazardous waste coordinator programs. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Suzanne S. Butcher for Environment and Agriculture: The hazardous waste coordinator program was established in 2003. This bill, supported by the Department of Environmental Services (DES), allows greater flexibility for DES and for businesses in implementing the program, while requiring that they continue to meet the same responsibilities. It allows alternative programs provided they demonstrate equivalent training, continuing education, and management organization to meet those responsibilities. The committee amendment adds that "on-site staffing" must also be equivalent, to ensure that it is clear that the requirement for staffing at each facility is not changed. Vote 17-0.

Amendment (1391h)

Amend RSA 147-A:5, III(a) as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

III.(a) Each hazardous waste generator that generates more than 220 pounds of hazardous waste per month shall have on staff at the facility where the hazardous waste is generated a hazardous waste coordinator certified by the department. The certified hazardous waste coordinator shall be responsible for ensuring that the generator is aware of and in compliance with applicable requirements relating to hazardous waste management, including but not limited to storage, transportation, and disposal. Certification shall not be transferable. Initial certification shall be valid for one year and may be renewed for subsequent one-year terms. The department may charge a reasonable fee to cover expenses for education and training programs that fulfill the initial certification and continuing education requirements. The commissioner may authorize alternative certified hazardous waste coordinator programs provided the program demonstrates equivalent on-site staffing, training, continuing education, and management organization to meet the responsibilities of this paragraph.

SB 19, relative to qualifications to sell lottery, bingo and lucky 7 tickets. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Ken Hawkins for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill changes the language of RSA:21-h,II(e), which currently does not allow persons convicted of a felony, which has been annulled by a court, to ever have a license to sell lottery tickets to apply to the ten years prior to application. Testimony was given that there have been instances where someone was convicted of DWI at 20 or 21 not being able to get a license for their store when they are 40. The lottery commission supported this change. Vote 19-0.

Amendment (1291h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Qualifications to Sell Lottery Tickets. Amend RSA 284:21-h, II(e) to read as follows:

(e) ~~[Persons]~~ Owners of retail establishments who have been convicted of a felony within the previous 10 years which has not been annulled by a court, or a misdemeanor involving falsehood or dishonesty within the previous 5 years which has not been annulled by a court, shall not be allowed to sell lottery tickets in their retail establishment.

2 Bingo and Lucky 7; Licenses; Ticket Sales. Amend RSA 287-E:5, V(c) to read as follows:

(c) ~~[That]~~ Neither the applicant nor any member of the charitable organization who will ~~[be participating in the operation of]~~ operate the bingo games and ~~[sale of]~~ sell lucky 7 tickets has been convicted of a felony ~~[or class A misdemeanor]~~ within the previous 10 years which has not been annulled by a court, or a ~~[class B]~~ misdemeanor involving falsehood or dishonesty within the ~~[past]~~ previous 5 years which has not been annulled by a court, or has violated the statutes or rules governing charitable gambling.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 2006.

SB 153-FN, relative to the administration of certain programs by the department of environmental services. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Ken Hawkins for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill deals with transfer of employees from the Department of Health and Human Services to the Department of Environmental Services. This bill makes clear that Health and Human Services will continue to have responsibility for lead paint poisoning prevention and control. Vote 18-0.

Amendment (1312h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the administration of a certain program by the department of environmental services.

Amend the bill by deleting sections 1 and 2 and renumbering the original sections 3 and 4 to read as 1 and 2, respectively.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill transfers the lead abatement licensing and certification program from the department of environmental services to the department of health and human services which administers the rest of the lead paint poisoning prevention program.

SB 53-FN, relative to increased funding for publication of certain materials by the department of environmental services and changing the title of chief operations officer to chief financial officer in the department of environmental services. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Joseph E. Stone for Finance: This bill authorizes increased spending for the publication of certain materials by the Department of Environmental Services. A non-expiring revolving fund, which shall not exceed $30,000 on June 30 of each year, is established by the Department of Environmental Services. Any monies in excess of $30,000 revert to the General Fund. The second part of the bill amends RSA 21-0:2 and RSA 94:1-a to change a position title from Chief Operations Officer to Chief Financial Officer. Vote 22-0.

SB 43, relative to the administration of estates of persons presumed dead. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Gregory M. Sorg for Judiciary: This bill clarifies and amends current law under which judges of probate legally establish the death and administer the estate of a missing person and reduces from seven to five years the period such a person must be missing before he may conclusively be presumed dead and his estate settled in his heirs or legatees. Vote 15-5.

Amendment (1358h)

Amend RSA 553:19, II as inserted by section 4 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. That the person has been absent for a continuous period of 5 years, during which time he or she has not been heard of or from, and whose absence is not satisfactorily explained after diligent search or inquiry. The individual's death is presumed to have occurred at the end of the period unless there is sufficient evidence for determining that death occurred earlier.

Amend RSA 563:5, V as inserted by section 5 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

V. An individual whose death is not established[;] under the preceding paragraphs who is absent for a continuous period of [7] 5 years, during which time that individual has not been heard from, and whose absence is not satisfactorily explained after diligent search or inquiry, is presumed to be dead. The individual's death is presumed to have occurred at the end of the period unless there is sufficient evidence for determining that death occurred earlier.

SB 28, relative to confidentiality and workers' compensation. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Mary J. Gorman for Labor, Industrial and Rehabilitative Services: The committee believes in the protection of privacy regarding workers' compensation claims and the deliberations of the Public Employee Labor Relations Board. The amendment clarifies that in adjudicatory hearings conducted by the board, the board's deliberative processes shall be privileged and exempt from the public disclosure provisions of RSA 91-A. Vote 15-0.

Amendment (1060h)

Amend the bill by inserting after section 1 the following and renumbering the original sections 2 and 3 to read as 4 and 5, respectively:

2 Records and Reports; Exception. Amend RSA 273-A:16, II to read as follows:

II. Except as provided in paragraph IV, all documents and records of the board shall be public records and shall be kept for a minimum of 10 years.

3 New Paragraph; Records and Reports; Exception. Amend RSA 273-A:16 by inserting after paragraph III the following new paragraph:

IV. In adjudicatory hearings conducted by the board, the board's deliberative processes shall be privileged and exempt from the public disclosure provisions of RSA 91-A. Decisions and orders in these adjudicatory hearings, including any prehearing orders required by RSA 541-A:31, V(d) shall be publicly available, but only after they have been reduced to writing, signed by a representative of the board, and served upon the parties.

SB 143, relative to the adoption and use of impact fees for public open space. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Nancy K. Johnson for Municipal and County Government: RSA 674:21, V defines an "impact fee" as a fee or assessment imposed upon development to meet the needs "occasioned by that development for the construction or improvement of capital facilities owned or operated by the municipality..." Many municipalities already appropriate funding within their budgets to purchase property or easements in order to preserve the open space within their borders. Currently there is a prohibition on using these impact fees for the acquisition of public open space. A municipality has to enact a capital improvements program (CIP), pursuant to RSA 674:5-7, in order to assess any impact fees upon development. SB 143 proposed to remove this prohibition and allow public open space to be part of the CIP. This impact fee would be assessed per housing unit from $250 per unit up to $750 per unit with some reductions if workforce housing is included in the project. There are already effective tools for local land use boards to preserve open space within each development such as cluster development, the transfer of development rights, planned unit development and the village plan alternative. Current use has also been used effectively for the preservation of open space. This open space initiative is for the benefit of all the community's citizens and should be supported by the municipality as a whole and not on the backs of those wishing to build their dream homes. The committee recognizes that the desire for increased open space and the need for increased housing supply need to be balanced and agreed that assessing impact fees on new development was not an acceptable solution. Vote 10-2.

SB 176, creating a public safety exception to a municipality's denial of an appropriation or budgetary item. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Robert W. Brundige for Municipal and County Government: RSA 32:10 was amended in 2003 to ensure that when a voter voted "No" on a separate warrant article, he or she meant "No." This change was in response to the many incidents where local governing bodies of the town and school districts would implement the purpose of the separate warrant article by transferring funds from other line items to pay for the defeated articles in a flagrant disregard of the voters' intent. SB 176 seeks to create a public safety exception to the "no means no" vote by allowing the transfer of funds if such purpose was related to public safety, which was not defined. Many items relating to schools, police, fire and public works departments could be classified as related to public safety. The committee states strongly that the intent of RSA 32:11 which relates to emergency expenditures and over expenditures and the procedures required to expend more than the total amount appropriated by the legislative body cover all the emergency situations that might arise. The process in RSA 32:11 states that the governing body is required to have a public hearing, to receive input from the budget committee, if there is one, and to designate the source of funds to the commissioner of the department of revenue administration or commissioner of education prior to getting approval to expend funds for an emergency situation. The committee strongly agrees that the RSA 32:11 procedure authorizes the expenditure of funds in the event of emergency situations. Vote 12-0.

SB 188, relative to the construction of buildings on properties without street frontage. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Eric G. Stohl for Municipal and County Government: RSA 674:41 deals with when a building permit can be issued once a planning board has been granted the authority to approve or disapprove plats. The concept behind this bill is to allow municipalities the ability to issue building permits on most lots that are serviced by either maintained or un-maintained streets. Notice of the limits of municipal responsibility and liability must be recorded in the county registry of deeds for the lot that is serviced by the un-maintained streets. A recent interpretation of this statute by a municipality resulted in a building permit being denied which initiated the introduction of SB 188. The bill as received by the House would have allowed municipalities to exempt certain structures from the requirements of RSA 674:41. The committee worked on the issue and came up with an amendment that fulfilled the desires of the sponsor of the original bill, and at the same time corrected a deficiency in the statute. Vote 13-2.

Amendment (1364h)

Amend the bill by replacing sections 1 and 2 with the following:

1 Erection of Buildings on Streets; Exception. Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 674:41, II-a to read as follows:

II-a. Municipalities may except any lot, including island lots for islands served exclusively by boats, from the requirements of paragraphs I and II by an affirmative vote of the local legislative body pursuant to RSA 675, first submitted to the planning board for its approval and:

2 Erection of Buildings on Streets; Preemption. Amend RSA 674:41, III to read as follows:

III. This section shall supersede any less stringent local ordinance, code or regulation, and no existing lot or tract of land shall be exempted from the provisions of this section except in accordance with the procedures expressly set forth in this section. For purposes of paragraph I, "the street giving access to the lot" means a street or way abutting the lot and upon which the lot has frontage. It does not include a street from which the sole access to the lot is via a private easement or right-of-way, unless such easement or right-of-way also meets the criteria set forth in subparagraphs I(a), (b), (c), (d), or (e).

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill allows towns to exempt certain structures from the requirement that they be built on streets and clarifies the definition of a street giving access to a lot.

SB 215-FN, creating a committee to study banning the incineration of construction and demolition debris. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Jim Ryan for Science, Technology and Energy: The committee has met on several occasions with respect to several proposed pieces of legislation that attempt to begin a legislative response to the potential harm from incineration of construction and demolition debris (C & D). The bill at hand requires a study, but, as amended, broadens the focus of the study to not only consider the air quality issues relative to C & D, but also issues that relate to solid waste management and C & D. The unanimous vote of the committee reflects a consensus that a broader study is necessary as our public policy evolves to meet the challenges posed by the disposal of C & D materials. Vote 14-0.

Amendment (1238h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT creating a committee to study alternatives for the disposal of construction and demolition debris.

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

1 Committee Established. There is established a committee to study alternatives for the disposal of construction and demolition debris.

Amend the bill by replacing section 3 with the following:

3 Duties. The committee shall study alternatives for the disposal of construction and demolition debris with particular emphasis on the use of wood derived from the construction and demolition waste stream as a fuel for generating electricity and the importation of such wood products in the state.

Amend the bill by replacing section 5 with the following:

5 Report. The committee shall report its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate clerk, the house clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before November 1, 2005.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill creates a committee to study alternatives for the disposal of construction and demolition debris.

SCR 2, relative to reauthorization of the Transportation Equity for the 21st Century Act (TEA-21). OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Kris E. Roberts for State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: The committee believes it is important that the federal government pass the highway bill. The State of New Hampshire needs to know the extent of federal funding available to properly develop its own long-range road, upgrade and construction schedules. Furthermore, since there are requirements for different degrees of matching funding, it also has an impact on the state budget. It is imperative that any administration proposal and congressional legislation reauthorizing TEA-21 maintain the funding mechanism created in TEA-21 that established a direct link between fuel taxes collected at the pump and federal spending on highway, transit and other TEA-21 projects. Vote 11-0.

SJR 2, urging Congress to reject the Streamlined Sales Tax Project. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Kris E. Roberts for State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: The Supreme Court has stated that no state can collect sales taxes on out-of-state sales unless it has a brick and mortar facility in state. This is an attempt to collect sales taxes from NH citizens. NH citizens will receive no benefit from these taxes while placing NH at risk of losing major mail order companies. Vote 11-0.

SB 86, permitting on-site samples and retail sales by liquor manufacturer licensees. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Christine C. Hamm for Ways and Means: This bill extends the opportunity that currently exists for wineries and distilleries to offer samples and on-site sales of their products to include liquor as well as wine. The committee heard testimony from the liquor commissioner that the state will collect an 8% tax on such sales and that the amount of revenue lost to state-owned liquor stores from on-site sales would be negligible. The committee concurs with the unanimous vote of the House Commerce Committee and the Senate Energy and Economic Development Committee that this legislation will promote economic development, particularly for the state's agricultural community. The amendment makes this effective on passage. Vote 19-0.

Amendment (1480h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 2 with the following:

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

SB 150-FN, relative to application fees for certain bank incorporations. OUGHT TO PASS
Rep. Catherine Mulholland for Ways and Means: This bill is effectively a housekeeping bill to bring the application fee for certain bank incorporations into alignment with the fee charged by the Secretary of State to all business corporations under RSA 293-A. Vote 19-0.

SB 152-FN, relative to audits by the department of revenue administration of enhanced 911 charges and relative to the confidentiality of information collected by the department of safety regarding the surcharge for enhanced 911 system. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Sharon M. Carson for Ways and Means: This bill simply allows the Department of Revenue Administration to conduct audits of retailers subject to the enhanced 911 surcharge when these retailers are audited for other state fees and taxes. The results of the audits are then reported to the Department of Safety which is required to keep any privileged information obtained in the audits confidential. Vote 19-0.

SB 165-FN, relative to the collection of tax debts from out-of-state debtors. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Susan W. Almy for Ways and Means: The bill permits the Department of Revenue Administration to contract with private collection agencies to collect debts from out-of-state taxpayers. To do this, it must share confidential data with the agencies. The amendment limits this data to that which is necessary to collect the debt. Vote 21-0.

Amendment 1369h)

Amend RSA 21-J:14, V(f) as inserted by section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(f) Disclosure of department records, files, returns, or information to an authorized vendor of collection services that is a legal representative or agent engaged to collect a debt of the state if the taxpayer whom the information concerns is the subject of an authorized investigation regarding an unpaid tax liability to the state; or the information concerns a transactional relationship between a person who is or may be a party to such proceeding and the taxpayer. The department shall only disclose such information that is directly related to the unpaid tax liability and is necessary to collect such debt. The vendor and its employees having access to this confidential information shall be subject to the provisions of RSA 21-J:14.

REGULAR CALENDAR

SB 30, establishing the Collaborative Practice for Emergency Contraception Act. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Anne-Marie Irwin for the Majority of Executive Departments and Administration: Emergency contraception is a valuable contraceptive option that has the potential to reduce the number of unintended pregnancies and abortions by half. EC is a high dose of regular contraceptive pills that IS effective when taken within five days of unprotected sex, contraceptive failure or sexual assault and is FDA approved for use by all women of reproductive age. It should not be confused with RU-486, the abortion pill. Because EC is most effective the sooner it is taken (preferably within 72 hours), expanding access through collaborative therapy agreements can be crucial in providing access for working women, women with low incomes, victims of sexual and domestic violence, and women in rural areas. Collaborative therapy agreements are voluntary, opt-in agreements allowing willing pharmacists to partner with prescribers to dispense EC behind-the-counter with the trained pharmacist using the provider's prescription power. Six states currently use collaborative therapy agreements to dispense emergency contraceptives. Vote 14-5.

Rep. Nelson S. Allan for the Minority of Executive Departments and Administration: This bill will implement poor public health policy and similar policies have been rejected for the past four years. These powerful drugs are available now by prescription. The Food and Drug Administration has decided to not permit over the counter availability of these powerful drugs. In fact, FDA has evaluated only one drug for over the counter use and this bill does not limit the selection to that one drug. There are no age limitations on use of this drug and no parental notification after providing such to a minor. The collaborative practice portion of the bill provides a fact sheet to be given to the female purchaser with no assurances of ability to read or interpret the medical terminology by her. This bill is poorly labeled as providing contraception drugs, since part of its effectiveness is termination of the conceived fertilized egg by preventing attachment in the womb. Only a few states have started providing these drugs over the counter and no proven reduction in abortions or reduction in the steady rise of sexually transmitted diseases have been shown.

(Deputy Speaker Weyler in the Chair)

Rep. Bettencourt offered floor amendment (1513h).

Floor Amendment (1513h)

Amend RSA 318:47-e, II as inserted by section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. A pharmacist may initiate emergency contraception drug therapy for persons 18 years of age or older, with proper identification, in accordance with standardized procedures or protocols developed by the board, adopted pursuant to RSA 541-A, and an authorized prescriber who is acting within his or her scope of practice.

Amend RSA 318:47-e as inserted by section 3 of the bill by inserting after paragraph VI the following new paragraph:

VII. A pharmacist shall not initiate emergency contraception drug therapy under this section to persons under 18 years of age without the consent of a parent or guardian.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes the Collaborative Practice for Emergency Contraception Act. Under this bill, a pharmacist may initiate emergency contraception drug therapy to persons 18 years of age or older in accordance with procedures developed by the New Hampshire pharmacy board and a physician or other authorized prescriber who is acting within his or her scope of practice. This bill requires persons under 18 years of age to have the consent of a parent or guardian before a pharmacist may initiate emergency contraception drug therapy.

Reps. Bettencourt and Giuda spoke in favor.

Reps. Millham and Houde-Quimby spoke against.

Rep. Bettencourt requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being adoption of floor amendment (1513h).

PROTEST

Pursuant to Part 2, Article 24 of the New Hampshire Constitution, Rep. Bettencourt requested that his protest be entered in the Permanent Journal on Senate Bill 30.

This bill has major health issues that have not been well thought out. It exposes children to a potentially dangerous drug without their parent's guidance or proper medical supervision.

Additionally, the bill is crafted for special interest groups and undermines the valuable bond between a parent and child.

This bill is abhorrent to traditional New Hampshire values.

SB 124, relative to the regulation of real estate brokers by the real estate commission. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Ken Hawkins for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill defines the difference between a principal broker, associate broker and agency broker. It also clarifies in statute the qualifications needed for each of these. It also puts into place the requirement that someone applying for the first time for a broker's license must have a criminal background check. A number of the committee members felt that there should be a background test for everyone not just new applicants. The majority agrees with the real estate commission that there really haven't been enough problems to require background checks on everyone. Vote 10-7

Amendment (1337h)

Amend RSA 331-A:10, II(c)(1) as inserted by section 7 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(c)(1) Has been employed full time by an active principal broker for at least one year in this state within 5 years of the date of application; or

Amend RSA 331-A:17, II as inserted by section 11 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. A real estate principal broker who proposes to use a registered trade name in connection with [the] a business [as] principal broker license or the individual principal broker license shall state that fact on [the application and the license shall be issued in that trade name. If already licensed, the broker shall return the license for appropriate amendment together with notice, in writing, of the broker's intention to use a registered trade name and the appropriate fee] an amendment form, and submit the form along with the appropriate fee, the business or individual principal broker license to be amended, and a trade name registration form. The business or individual principal broker license shall be amended to include the trade name.

Amend RSA 331-A:17, V as inserted by section 11 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

V. The commission shall issue a new license for the unexpired term if the salesperson or associate broker meets all requirements of licensure, upon receipt of a statement from a principal broker, together with the appropriate fee, that such salesperson or associate broker has become affiliated with such principal broker.

Amend RSA 331-A:26, X as inserted by section 18 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

X. Advertising in any manner without stating the broker's legal name as licensed or reasonable derivative thereof, and in the case of a salesperson or associate broker, without stating the name of the principal broker or business name as licensed for whom or under whom the salesperson or associate broker operates.

Amendment adopted.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

Reps. Barody, Cady, DeStefano, Dowling, Daniel Eaton, Mirski, and Phinizy declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

SB 186, allowing probate court judges and district court justices to sit on probate or district court cases. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. John B. Hunt for the Majority of Judiciary: The purpose of the bill was to address a perennial issue of the lack of judges. The bill as amended allows the chief justice, after assessing the caseload needs and requirements under exigent circumstances and consulting with the administrative judges, to assign, from a pre-certified list, a judge to hear cases in either probate or district court on a temporary basis. Currently, district court judges may hear a probate case as a magistrate. The main debate in the committee was over the constitutionality of district court judges ruling on probate cases. Both are appointed by governor and council vote but district courts were a creation of the legislature. The constitution provides the authority to the General Court to "erect and constitute judiciaries and courts of record." Vote 15-5.

Rep. James E. Wheeler for the Minority of Judiciary: This bill allows district court judges to sit in probate courts and probate court judges to sit in district courts. The minority believes this violates our constitution and tramples on the power of the executive to appoint judges. Probate judges were appointed to sit in probate court, district court judges were appointed to sit in district courts, not vice versa. Furthermore, this bill does not address the issue of part time judges of those courts, who are currently prohibited from practicing in any other location of the court they sit on. If they are utilized under this bill will they then also be prohibited in practicing in front of the other court also? That is, if a part time district court judge, who practices probate law when not sitting as a judge, is called to sit on the probate court will he then be prohibited from practicing probate law? If not, that creates a very bad public perception. Furthermore, the constitution requires that judges of probate be the ones to handle all issues relating to the probate of wills and granting of letters of administration. This bill now puts district court judges in that function. For these many reasons, not the least being the unconstitutionality of this bill, we would urge this bill be killed.

Majority Amendment (1296h)

Amend the bill by replacing sections 1 and 2 with the following:

1 New Section; Assignment of Justices. Amend RSA 502-A by inserting after section 5 the following new section:

502-A:5-a Assignment of Judges. After assessing caseload needs and requirements under exigent circumstances and consulting with the administrative judges, the chief justice of the supreme court may assign from a precertified list of judges any district justice to hear cases in the probate court on a temporary basis.

2 New Section; Assignment of Judges. Amend RSA 547 by inserting after section 37 the following new section:

547:38 Assignment of Judges. After assessing caseload needs and requirements under exigent circumstances and consulting with the administrative judges, the chief justice of the supreme court may assign from a precertified list of judges any probate court judge to hear cases in the district court on a temporary basis.

Majority amendment adopted.

On a division vote, 240 members having voted in the affirmative and 93 in the negative, the majority report was adopted.

Rep. Coughlin declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

SB 69-L, relative to certain insurance liens. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Robert W. Brundige for Municipal and County Government: This bill would allow a municipality to assert a lien on a real property owner's interests in any property insurance proceeds that are a result of the damage or destruction of that property owner's real property located in the municipality. The impetus for the filing of this bill was Berlin's experience of an owner of a damaged or destroyed building collecting the insurance payment, leaving the city and the destroyed building behind causing a possible unsightly and hazardous mess that becomes the city's responsibility to clean up. A subcommittee looked at the implications of this bill and determined that it had statewide ramifications and unintended consequences. Some of the issues were: when and how the municipality would place the lien; placing a blanket lien for all buildings in the municipality; who would determine the cost of rehabilitation or razing, the owner or the municipality; and how and when the lien would be released. Based on these questions, the committee does not support SB 69 and recognized that implementing a good downtown development project is a better answer to this situation. The committee has retained HB 657 that deals with revitalization of downtown areas and the committee will consider other avenues to help municipalities deal with damaged or destroyed buildings. Vote 12-3.

Committee report adopted.

SB 180-FN-A-L, increasing certain motor vehicle registration fees and appropriating the funds for local government records management programs. MAJORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Robert W. Brundige for the Majority of Municipal and County Government: Currently town and city clerks receive one dollar to cover the costs of document preparation and administration for motor vehicle registrations and have since the New Hampshire statute was enacted in 1983. Both the local motor vehicle registration fees and the clerk preparation fee of $1.00 are deposited in the municipality's general fund budget. In the 2001 session, the legislature created the local government records management improvement program and the position of the local government records manager, but it did not fund either one. The records to be preserved include all the municipality's forms and information, not just motor vehicle registrations, as determined by the Municipal Records Board. SB 180 is a proposal to increase the administrative cost by one dollar, of which fifty cents would be sent to the state, to fund the New Hampshire local government records management improvement fund established under RSA 5:48 and the other fifty cents would remain with the municipality to support local records management. The majority of the committee determined that by sending half of the increase to the state, in essence making it accruable to the state, that the fifty cents would need to be deposited in the highway fund, based on Part II, Article 6-a of the New Hampshire Constitution and any increase locally would need to offset increases in registration costs, not records management. RSA 162:152 allows for a fee in support of preparation of documents dealing with motor vehicle registrations. The committee recognizes that it is imperative that records be preserved and maintained and this action benefits the whole community. However the cost should be appropriated at the local level utilizing the normal budget process, not by increasing the cost of registering a motor vehicle. Vote 10-5.

Rep. Jessie L. Osborne for the Minority of Municipal and County Government: The minority believes that the State of New Hampshire has mandated that municipalities preserve and maintain records. RSA 261:153 enables the town or city clerk to receive a fee of $1 for the preparation of each application for the registration of a motor vehicle. This fee is not currently being used for records management by most municipalities; rather it is deposited in the general fund. SB 180 would provide an additional $.50 to be collected for the specific purpose of record management and records preservation programs at the local level and an additional $.50 to be sent to the state for records management. Testimony clearly indicated that many municipalities do not have sufficient funds to preserve and maintain records properly. SB 180 addresses the critical need to fund local record management programs.

Rep. Patten spoke in favor.

SB 11-FN, extending the local property tax exemption for wooden poles and conduits. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Shawn N. Jasper for the Majority of Ways and Means: Prior to 1990, telephone poles and conduits, owned by the regulated wireline telephone companies, were taxed only at the state level, never at the local level. In 1990, and because of the potential growth in cellular service (cellular is a non-regulated telephone service), the tax on poles and conduits was repealed and replaced with the Communications Services Tax (CST). The CST taxes all two way communications regardless of the type of technology used to deliver the telephone service. As a result of the repeal of the state pole tax in 1990, the regulated wireline telephone companies experienced lower tax expenses and the Public Utilities Commission immediately ordered them to lower their rates for service. The property tax exemption was created in 1998 to settle electric company tax abatement efforts and every two years since, the legislature has voted to continue the exemption, reasoning that as long as there was a CST, an additional tax on just poles and conduits would be unfair to the industry and its customers. Current law calls for the exemption to expire in June of 2006 and this bill extends the exemption until 2010. A majority of the committee believes that if local communities are allowed to begin taxing poles and conduits, the Public Utilities Commission will allow telephone companies to pass along this new tax to customers through the form of a charge on just the regulated wireline telephone bills. The amount of a new tax is unknown, as is the value of poles and conduits at the community level, but recovery of the new tax could range from $10 to $40 per phone line, per year. As an example, if the new local property tax amounted to $20 million dollars, then with 600,000 regulated wirelines, the additional charge per wireline could be approximately $35 dollars per year per line. It is clear that due to the breakdown of property assessments, the increases in telephone bills for the average wireline business and home owner would far outweigh any potential local property tax savings. Vote 12-9.

Rep. Howie Lund for the Minority of Ways and Means: The minority felt strongly, having heard well-founded testimony supporting the rights of towns and municipalities to tax poles and conduits. The legislature has provided numerous multiple year extensions exempting the telecommunication businesses from this tax. The majority of the states in the US assess a tax on poles and conduits. Some states call it a personal property tax; other states call it a real property tax. Some states tax the items locally and some states tax at the state level. Initially, New Hampshire's Communications Service Tax (CST) was a substitute for the personal property tax that the telecommunication companies were paying. In the latter part of the 1990's the state granted a temporary exemption to all telecoms from having to pay a tax on their poles and conduits. The CST is a consumer based tax collected by the telecommunication companies and paid to the state in the same manner as the rooms and meals tax is collected by restaurants and motels from the consumer and paid to the state. Restaurants, motels and every other for profit business in this state must pay taxes on all of their real estate. The electric utilities pay a local property tax on their poles and conduits. It has only been the telecommunication industry that has had this unique exemption.

Reps. Lund, Butynski and Pratt spoke against.

Rep. Christine Hamm spoke in favor.

Reps. Jasper and Major spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Major requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being adoption of the majority committee report.

SB 85, relative to expenses of operating bingo games. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Kevin. L. Camm for Ways and Means: This bill will allow charities to keep 7 percent of the total amount collected in "winner-take-all" bingo games. Currently a winner in this type of game collects 93 percent of the total amount collected, 7 percent goes to the State. A majority of the committee felt an 86 percent take of the total amount collected would not diminish interest in these games and would provide the various charities with some much needed additional funds. Vote 16-5.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 105, granting the executive director of fish and game authority to promote hunting, fishing, and wildlife-related activities. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Christine C. Hamm for Ways and Means: The committee heard testimony that interest in fishing, hunting and wildlife-related activities is declining in the state and that unless this trend can be reversed, the survival of the department is in danger. This bill, as amended, grants the executive director latitude to pursue promotional activities designed to retain current licensees and to attract new hunters and anglers to the sport. Such activities could include a temporary waiver or reduction of fees, and coordination between the public and private sectors to develop promotional advertising, exhibit, and brochures. A description of such activities shall be included in the department's biennial report. Vote 16-3.

Amendment (1463h)

Amend RSA 214:9-f as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

214:9-f Promotion Activities; Reductions in Fees Authorized. The executive director, with approval of the commission, may take such marketing actions to promote fisheries and wildlife resources, and attract hunters and anglers to the state as deemed necessary, which may include the reduction or the waiver of the fees for certain types of licenses available to the public for specified periods of time and at specified locations, to promote license sales for hunting, fishing, and trapping in the state. This may include coordination of activities between the public and private sectors and utilization of promotional advertising, exhibits, brochures, technical assistance, and expertise as necessary to develop and promote hunting, fishing, and other wildlife-related activities within the state. A description of the reductions, waivers, and activities under this section shall be included in the biennial report of the department under RSA 206:9-a.

Amendment adopted.

SB 93-FN, transferring the electricians' board to the department of safety. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. William R. Zolla for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill establishes a bureau of electrical safety and licensing in the department of safety, division of fire safety, and transfers the electricians' board and administration and enforcement of electricians' licensing to the state Fire Marshall. In so doing, the board, with the approval of the commissioner of safety, is obligated to set rates at 125% of operating expenses of the board for the previous fiscal year. The fees collected shall be deposited in the fire standards and training and emergency medical services fund, established in RSA 21-p:12-d, and used for purposes of operating expenses of the electricians' board. Fees collected in excess of actual operating expenses shall be deposited in the general fund as unrestricted revenue. The electricians' board stated in the fiscal notes that the change is organizational and therefore there will be no increased costs to the state or reduction in the traditional excess percentage contribution to the general fund. Vote 15-2.

Rep. Zolla yielded to questions.

SB 192, relative to service in a war or conflict qualifying for the veterans' tax credit. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. John P. Dowd for Municipal and County Government: RSA 72:28, V describes "service in a qualifying war or armed conflict" which included the dates of the war or conflict. An extensive review of the veterans' tax credits was completed in 2003 by the Municipal and County Government Committee. After enactment of many changes and the ability for a local community to increase the credit up to $500, an inequity was discovered that rendered the military members who served in the Gulf War of 1990 and beyond ineligible for the veterans' tax credit. SB 192 corrects that inequity. The bill further simplifies the definition of a war or armed conflict without having to try to determine which veteran earned an armed forces expeditionary medal or theatre of operations service medal. Through the adoption of this bill, waiting for the governmental process to determine any military medals will not cause any delay in being eligible for the veterans' tax credit. The committee looked at an extensive statistical and historical analysis for each town and county. Vote 14-1.

Rep. Roberts offered floor amendment (1609h)

Rep. Judith T. After these eleven years, the act has been found to be beneficial in many aspects, but there have also been problems with clarity, enforceability and effectiveness. HOUSE JOURNAL No. 17

Wednesday, June 1, 2005

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

Prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain, Reverend Karen D. Maleri, Director of Pastoral Care at Havenwood-Heritage Heights in Concord.

We pray to all that is holy and we ask a blessing on this moment. May each heart, here present, be filled with a sense of all that holiness lavishly imparts. St. Francis of Assisi was quoted as saying, "Preach the gospel often — and use words when necessary." That transformed over time into "Pray often and use words, if needed." Actions can be prayers, and prayers can take action.

For you who serve in the House today as you deal with amendments, expedient legislation and issues that demand ethical solutions, bear in mind the power of prayer. May each one of you draw energy and comfort from prayer, either those said for you or those you pray, through stirring words or through rightful actions. Amen.

Rep. James E. Wheeler led the Pledge of Allegiance.

The National Anthem was sung by Christina Gagne, a sophomore from Concord High School.

Rep. Currier, Sen. D'Allesandro for the Committee

LEGISLATIVE ETHICS COMMITTEE SPECIAL REPORT TO THE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES REGARDING COMPLAINT #2004-2

I. Introduction

The Legislative Ethics Committee received a complaint in October of 2004 regarding the conduct of Representative Gene Chandler with respect to certain gifts made to him in connection with a series of "corn roasts" held each fall.¹ The complaint was made by two other members of the House of Representatives, alleging that the solicitation and receipt of such cash gifts violated the Legislative Ethics Guidelines.²

Following a review of the complaint, the Committee, in accordance with its procedural rules, conducted an extensive preliminary investigation and voted unanimously to initiate formal proceedings to inquire into the complaint. A formal statement of charges and notice of hearing was sent by certified mail to Representative Chandler on November 29, 2004, and a hearing was held before the Committee on May 20, 2005.³ Representative Chandler formally answered the statement of charges, and appeared at the hearing to testify and present other evidence through his counsel.

II. Charges

The Committee charged Representative Chandler with violations of the Ethics Guidelines, including:

Engaging in Prohibited Activities as set forth in Section 4, Paragraph 1, Subparagraph (b), by soliciting, accepting or agreeing to accept gifts with an aggregate value of over $250 from others while knowing or believing that the givers were or were likely to become interested in matters pending before the Legislature.

Engaging in Prohibited Activities as set forth in Section 4, Paragraph III, by using his public position or office to obtain gifts with an aggregate value of over $250 for his private benefit. Failing to comply with the provisions of RSA Chapter 15-B, by disregarding the legal obligation to report gifts in excess of $50 received by him while serving in the Legislature.

All of the above would also constitute a breach of the ethical standards set forth in the Principles of Public Service, I, II and III, as set forth in Section I of the Ethics Guidelines.

¹ At the time of the complaint, Representative Chandler was then serving his second term as Speaker of the House.

² A subsequent complaint was received from a member of the public regarding the same conduct, which was dismissed as being redundant to this complaint.

With respect to the first two specific charges, Representative Chandler's answer, as well as his position as articulated at the hearing, is that the applicable provisions of the Ethics Guidelines are invalid because they are in conflict with certain statutes.⁴

With respect to the third charge, Representative Chandler acknowledges the violation, as demonstrated by his guilty plea to a misdemeanor charge arising out of this conduct, but argues that the penalty imposed in the criminal proceeding is a sufficient sanction rendering unnecessary any further action by this Committee.

III. Findings

The facts underlying the charges in this proceeding are largely undisputed. Representative Chandler has served in the House of Representatives for many terms, rising to a position of leadership and eventually Speaker of the House. For seven years, beginning in the fall of 1998, Representative Chandler solicited and received substantial cash gifts from various businesses, lobbyists, and individuals in connection with an annual corn roast. The corn roast was organized by a committee of Representative Chandler's "friends". The purpose of the fund raiser was to make it possible for Representative Chandler, in light of the time required to fulfill his various leadership positions, to continue to serve in the Legislature. Representative Chandler testified that without additional funds to supplement his income, he would have been unable to financially manage his legislative demands.⁵ Although the price of tickets to the corn roast was $10.00, gifts of larger amounts were encouraged. In fact, gifts of up to $1000 were received.

Prior to the first event in 1998, one of the organizers contacted the Secretary of State to determine whether the committee of friends needed to register or take any other action. The Secretary's response was ultimately set forth in a letter dated July 31, 1998. Although the letter advised that the friends committee need not register or make any report, it did state the following: "Enclosed is a copy of the Gifts, Testimonials, and Honorariums Law and the form that needs to be filed once a year by an individual who gets the net proceeds from an event like you have explained." (emphasis added)

Representative Chandler was made aware of this letter. Despite receiving the proceeds from the corn roasts, he did not interpret the quoted provision as requiring him to report receipt of the funds in accordance with RSA Chapter 15-B, because members of the friends committee did not have to report and he considered himself to be a member.⁶

In 1998, as in subsequent years, the flyers promoting the corn roasts were mailed to registered lobbyists and others having an interest in pending or contemplated legislation, and North Country individuals who knew Representative Chandler. In some years, the flyers included reference to significant legislative issues which would be addressed in the upcoming session. Representative Chandler testified that he was aware of the content of the flyers prior to being sent and that he maintained the mailing list from year to year. The proceeds of the corn roast were turned over to Representative Chandler, who had the sole discretion over how the funds were spent.

The Friends of Gene Chandler Committee had no formal legal identity. There were few, if any, formal meetings of the Committee members. Although it had bank accounts established under its name, the tax identification number was Representative Chandler's Social Security number and he had sole check writing authority. Representative Chandler acknowledged that he was actively involved in the fundraising efforts of the Committee which were directed toward his personal benefit.

Representative Chandler did not conceal the fact that he was engaging in this fund raising activity. The corn roasts were public events which were reported on by the press and the flyers made it clear that the proceeds were to be used for the benefit of Representative Chandler. The Committee found no evidence that Representative Chandler used legislative resources to raise funds or that any donor received any specific benefit as a result of making a corn roast gift.

With the exception of a filing under RSA 15-B in 1999, which was made at the insistence of the then Speaker of the House Donna Sytek, as communicated to Representative Chandler by her

⁵ Representative Chandler has always maintained that these funds were used for personal expenses, such as mortgage payments, transportation expenses, and laundry bills. The point of his assertion is that the funds were not used for luxury purposes, but this does not change the nature of the violations. In fact, it might well be thought that an elected official may be more beholden to those funding his necessary living expenses, than to those who might provide funds for luxury purposes.

⁶ The flyers promoting the annual corn roast generally set forth the membership of the friends committee, but did not include Representative Chandler.

Deputy, Donnalee Lozeau, Representative Chandler did not report receipt of the gifts he received each year, many of which exceeded $250 per donor. In his written and oral testimony, Representative Chandler made clear that prior to these issues arising in the fall of 2004, he was not familiar with the $250 per year per donor limitation set forth in the Ethics Guidelines.

IV. Analysis

After considering the testimony and documentary evidence entered at the hearing, the Committee has determined, by a clear and convincing standard, that each of the charges is true. With respect to each charge, the Committee's analysis is as follows:

1. Prohibited Activities, Section 4, Paragraph I, Subparagraph (b).

Representative Chandler concedes that he solicited, accepted, and agreed to accept gifts with an aggregate value of over $250 from others, while knowing or believing that the givers were or were likely to become interested in matters pending before the Legislature. In addition to his initial response that he was unaware of the $250 limitation, his defense is simply that his activities were otherwise lawful and therefore the guideline provision is invalid because it is inconsistent with RSA Chapter 15-B, as interpreted by a 1998 Opinion of the Attorney General. The Committee disagrees.

First, we deal here with ethics guidelines, rules of conduct adopted by the Legislature to impose limitations on its own members. This Committee was created, and these guidelines proposed and adopted, to provide standards of behavior for legislators in ethical matters, and to increase public confidence in the independence and integrity of the legislative process.⁷ These are not criminal code violations subject to restrictive interpretation and "beyond a reasonable doubt" prosecution by law enforcement authorities. Accordingly, it is not appropriate to engage in complex analysis or technical argument to defend non-compliance with the Ethics Guidelines.⁸

Second, engagement in such a comparative examination of the various statutes, Attorney General Opinion, and guideline provisions does not reveal any such invalidity. RSA Chapter 14-B authorizes and directs the promulgation of ethics guidelines which are "consistent" with other statutes. Although Representative Chandler argues that, given the Attorney General's Opinion that RSA Chapter 15-B implicitly repeals the application of RSA 640:5 (gifts to public officials) with respect to such gifts that are reported, this does not prevent the Legislature from imposing a limitation on its own members with respect to the receipt of such gifts. There was nothing "inconsistent" in doing so, and this initiative constituted an admirable response to public concern about the impact, real or perceived, of such gifts on the legislative process.

It is certainly within the authority of the Legislature to establish higher standards of behavior for its members than the minimum standards of the criminal law. It is also within the authority of the Legislature to expect and enforce compliance with those standards, otherwise, they are meaningless words. It is the responsibility of each member of the Legislature to understand, comply with and defend the standards of ethical conduct which have been properly adopted by the membership.

Accordingly, this charge has been proved as a matter of fact, as a matter of law, and as a matter of general ethical standards expected of members of the New Hampshire Legislature.

2. Prohibited Activities, Section 4, Paragraph III.

Representative Chandler used his public position or office, first when he was a member of the House leadership team, and eventually as Speaker of the House, to obtain gifts with an aggregate value of over $250 for his private benefit. The same analysis applies to this charge as the preceding one, with the additional observation that there is no doubt that the lobbyists and business corporations with regular business with, and interest in the actions of the Legislature, donated these substantial sums of cash to Representative Chandler because of his leadership positions. In addition, notwithstanding suggestions made at times during the course of these proceedings, there was no evidence received by the Committee that any other member of the Legislature engaged in a conscious and concerted effort to solicit cash gifts for personal benefit from individuals or organizations with interests in legislation pending before the Legislature since the adoption of the Ethics Guidelines.⁹ This appears to be an isolated instance, and not indicative of any "culture" in the New Hampshire Legislature.

⁷ The same motivation obviously prompted the adoption of RSA Chapter 15-B in 1987, in particular to require public disclosure of testimonial proceeds.

Finally, in the course of his defense, Representative Chandler seemed to cast blame on the Office of the Attorney General for failing to regularly review RSA 15-B filings in accordance with its obligation under RSA 15-B:6.¹⁰ Through his counsel he also noted that the Office of the Secretary of State made little effort to see that legislators comply with filing requirements. In addition, he pointed out that the Legislature has no "ethics officer". Whether these criticisms are justified or not, they are no defense. It is the duty of each member of the Legislature to understand and comply with his or her ethical responsibilities. Attempting to blame others for one's failure to comply with established ethical standards is inconsistent with the purpose and spirit of the Ethics Guidelines.

Accordingly, this charge has been proved by clear and convincing evidence.

3. Failure to Report in Accordance with RSA Chapter 15-B.

As noted, this violation was the subject of a criminal prosecution, in which Representative Chandler pled guilty. Accordingly, no extended analysis is required to find that the charge has been proved by clear and convincing evidence.

V. Conclusion

Having determined that the specific charges are true by clear and convincing evidence and thus also the breach of ethical standards set forth in the Principles of Public Service, Section 1, Paragraphs I, II, and III, the remaining, and most significant task of the Committee is a recommended sanction.¹¹ These violations are serious in and of themselves, but made even more so because they were committed by a member of leadership, and have caused substantial public concern regarding the independence and integrity of the legislative process. This is not surprising, in view of the large sums paid by those having an interest in the workings of the Legislature to an individual having substantial control over such workings, all without public scrutiny. Accepting Representative Chandler's assertions, it is not, in the view of the Committee, a mitigating circumstance that he was unaware of the guideline provisions, but is more likely an aggravating condition, as these provisions have been reviewed and adopted by the Legislature. To have the leader of the institution claim ignorance of them creates even more cynicism and distrust of the process. The violations create an aura of suspicion as to other public officials, an erroneous and unfortunate assumption, given the hard work done by all other members of the Legislature. If nothing else, the receipt of tens of thousands of dollars in cash gifts from those having a great stake in his legislative action should have raised a red flag sufficient to create an ethical concern.¹² To the contrary, in his testimony, Representative Chandler made clear that, he thought it was legal, and that made it permissible. The Ethics Guidelines establish a higher standard, and the members of the public expect and deserve more.

Based on all of the circumstances, the Committee unanimously recommends that Representative Chandler be expelled from the House of Representatives for the remainder of the 2005-2006 term of office. To do otherwise would demean the ethical standards established by the Legislature for its membership. Representative Chandler chose to solicit and take financial gifts from donors who had business before the Legislature. He may have been unaware of the guideline requirements or he may have disregarded them. Either circumstance is equally egregious. It is an honor to be chosen to serve in the Legislature and one must take his or her ethical duties seriously. That includes knowing and complying with accepted standards of ethical conduct. This is especially true when the member holds the highest leadership position. The Committee recognizes that Represen-

⁹ There are fund raising events which are organized by other legislators, but the proceeds benefit candidates or political committees which have a duty to report both receipts and expenditures.

¹¹ In considering sanction, the Committee is cognizant of Representative Chandler's long service in the Legislature, as well as personal losses he has suffered in the recent past. The focus, however, of the Committee's attention must be the nature of the violations, and their impact on the Legislature and the public.

tative Chandler has had a distinguished public career and that he has many supporters. But, this violation of the ethics guidelines warrants a severe punishment, and he should not be accorded special treatment in its administration.

Dated at Concord, New Hampshire, this 25th day of May, 2005.

Respectfully submitted,
 Edward M. Gordon, Chairman

CENSURE

The Speaker informed Rep. Chandler of the censure by the House.

WITHOUT OBJECTION

Without objection, the Speaker ordered the Ethics Committee Report and entire debate to be printed in the House Journal.

DEBATE ON LEGISLATIVE ETHICS COMMITTEE REPORT COMPLAINT #2004-2

Adoption of the Legislative Ethics Committee Report

Rep. Jasper: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I move that this report be Special Ordered until next Wednesday, June 8th.

Speaker Scamman: The motion before the House is that this Report be made a Special Order next Wednesday on June 8th. Rep. Jasper, you may speak to your motion.

Rep. Jasper: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I think there are several important reasons why we take this action. First of all, there's a lot of information there. The transcripts of the hearing, which I know that many members of the House wish to review, only became available generally yesterday afternoon. These are the transcripts, 163 pages, not something the average person would have time to get through in one night. In order to properly take all of that into context, one also has to look through the Legislative Ethics Committee minutes of October 28 which have the testimony of Attorney Lamontagne. Also it's important to read in context the Legislative Ethics Committee minutes of November 22nd, the testimony of former Rep. Henry Mock. Then one has to read the report of the Ethics Committee. Few, if any of us, and I know that I have not had the ability to do that work yet. So I think in deference to the many members who wish to do that, it's important that we put this off. Second, Rep. Ross, the second member of this body that serves that serves on the Legislative Ethics Committee, is not able to be in town. He's in Texas on business, and he informed the Speaker that would be the case. He requested that this be put off. In my 11 years as a member of this body when a member has made a request because they had a special interest and knowledge in a bill, this body has always granted that request. Now I understand that some people feel that there are special circumstances which should cause us to ignore that and that we need to put this behind us and we need to move on. Well, I recall only a year ago when we had a similar report from the Ethics Committee, on another representative, at that time the committee was ready to go the following week. The Speaker of the House, Rep. Chandler, felt that we should not rush into it. The week following the week that the Committee wanted to have this heard was a vacation week. The following week there was important business that the Speaker felt we should not disrupt by taking up the report. So, in fact, it was four Thursdays after the report was first able to be considered that it was scheduled to be taken up. And I think that we owe no less consideration to that. I would certainly be glad to Special Order it to a different day, if that was the Chair's desire. But I think that it is imperative that Rep. Ross be available to answer questions and to give his side of what went on, and I think it's imperative that those members who wish to have a chance to review this. Thank you, Mr. Speaker and I would request a division on this question.

Rep. O'Neil: Thank you, Mr Speaker, I rise in opposition to the motion to postpone, or to delay. It's been eight months. I think everybody has had ample opportunity to digest this whole situation. The report has been out. It is in the Record as of Friday, that everyone received. The report was online on Friday of this week and people have had ample time and I think it's time to move on. We have a very busy schedule ahead of us in the next week. We have to take up the budget, education funding, House Bill 110, tort reform and the nurse practice act next week. We also have speaking before us next week, the ambassador from Pakistan at 10 o'clock. So it is time for us to move on, I think the subject is before us and I urge you to vote this motion down.

Rep. Buzzell: Thank you, Mr. Chair. I rise in support of the motion. Here we are, we are being judges and a jury of somebody's fate. I think we need to really seriously digest all the facts. I have not read the transcripts. I think we need to look at these transcripts, examine these transcripts, look at these repeatedly before we can come to a true conclusion. I do not know all the facts of this case and I find it highly important that we look at every little aspect of the information before we can come to a conclusion. So, I'm asking you if there are any of you out there like me that are so much on the fence, and are so torn on this issue that I want to have that time to examine all the evidence, then I please hope that you will support the motion to continue this. Thank you.

Rep. Peter Allen: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Thank you, Representative, for taking my question. Isn't it true that we had an Ethics Committee investigate? They did in great detail and they voted unanimously for the result that is in the Report?

Rep. Buzzell: Yes, that is true, it was unanimous.

Rep. Charles McMahon: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, members of the House. I rise in support of the Special Order. I believe that a number of us may, perhaps the majority of us, have not had a chance to see or read the transcripts. I also understand that there are articles that were submitted during the hearings that have data that might be important for us in our very important decision before us. I know that there have been delays and I would urge just one more. I know the representative from Bartlett himself had asked for a delay, as well as the Attorney General's office postponed some of the time of the hearings, and the representative from Bartlett wanted to wait until that information was all in. So, I urge you today to allow the members of the House to have all of the information that they need to make this very important decision that impacts not only an individual but the entire body. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Solomon: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, members of the House. I'm from Canaan, I don't need another tax bill. I take great grievance to the majority leader saying to everybody got their report, their calendar, on Friday. I did not. Mine did not get in the express bag. Due to that I don't see, and now I don't hear, I need some time to digest this report. It's very important, it shouldn't be played down at all. It's our turn to view it. We should be able to do that, digest all that information. So I strongly suggest it gets special ordered. Thank you.

Rep. Sheila Francoeur: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to the motion to special order this. Let's take a look at what we have in front of us, folks. The facts in this case are not disputed.

Rep. Chandler has pleaded guilty in court. We are not here to go over a case trial item by item, by item. We are here to take or reject the recommendation of the Ethics Committee on what the punishment should be from this House. Now, if you haven't read the report, if you don't know what's going on, I can't imagine where you have been since last October when a member of public radio broke the story of the corn roast. And now, maybe you don't subscribe to the Union Leader, or maybe you don't subscribe to the Keene Sentinel, but you cannot turn on WMUR, you cannot pick up a local paper, or talk to your neighbor on the street without knowing what this case is all about. It has taken up our time. It has taken up Rep. Chandler's time and we are here to do the business for the people of the state. It is time that we allow this gentleman to move on with his life and that we move on with the business of the state, and Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Rep. Pratt: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It's rare that I actually speak on behalf of leadership of my party but I do so today. And I want to say first, just so everyone in this room and in the press knows it, that the leadership of my party has made absolutely clear to everyone of its members that the vote on the substance of this issue is a vote of conscience which each member of my party and I hope of both parties will have to undertake for him or herself. There is no whipping in this matter from my side of the aisle.

On the process, however, Mr. Speaker, the leadership of my party does have a position and a very strong one. And as you know, sir, we delivered to you yesterday a letter and I want all the members of the House to know what we said. We wrote on the 31st – Mr. Speaker, We the undersigned, members of the Democratic Leadership Team or ranking Democrats urge you most strenuously to reconsider your decision to hold a vote on the Joint Ethics Committee report on Rep. Chandler at the session this Wednesday. We note first, that the Republican House member of that committee, the gentleman from Peterborough will not be present for Wednesday's session. In our opinion, for him not to participate in the House debate on this matter is unfair to him, it is unfair to the other House member, the gentelady from Madbury, and it is particularly unfair to the entire House. Further, Mr. Speaker, if the matter is considered Wednesday, the House will have had no opportunity, no opportunity to hear from all the members of the Joint Ethics Committee as to how they arrived at their collective unanimous decision on this question or to question them. Nor to hear from the attorney for the representative from Bartlett as to why he considers the punishment excessive and to question him. Lastly, in as much as the report came out just before the long Memorial Day weekend many of us have not have sufficient time to study it, to examine the transcripts upon which it is based and upon which the recommendations contained within it were based, and then to have some time to reflect upon this most important matter before going into debate.

Mr. Speaker, we concluded, we simply do not understand why there is a need for a rush to judgment in this manner and we ask that you postpone the debate and arrange for such a forum, respectfully. Mr. Speaker, I'd only add one word, I heard from some that we don't need to go forward because probably everybody has already made up their mind. Made up their mind, Mr. Speaker? When the report has been out for 72 hours and for many of us, some didn't get the Calendar until Tuesday? Made up their mind, Mr. Speaker? When the transcript wasn't put up on the Internet until yesterday afternoon and it's 160 pages long? Made up their mind, Mr. Speaker? When we haven't even had the debate in this House on it, I certainly hope that's not the case. I certainly hope that this House doesn't follow that old axiom, "My mind is made up, do not confuse me with the facts." Mr. Speaker, this is a significant matter, and I believe we do not have to act with haste. We are not just one of the largest legislatures in the world, but I hope one of the most deliberative. And I would strongly urge a "yes" vote on this motion.

Vote on motion to Special Order ratification of Legislative Ethics Committee report to Wednesday, June 8th roll call Y-149 N-205 – motion failed

Debate on Ratification of Legislative Ethics Committee Report

Speaker Scamman: The Chair would state that I have a very long list of speakers who wish to speak on this. I'm going to read those names before we start. After we go for a while and I believe we are getting redundant, I'm going to ask members to say, "I rise to nonspeak in favor of the motion or against the motion," because I don't think we need to be rehashing things too long but I don't believe that anyone should not be allowed to speak if they feel they need to.

I'm going to read the whole list before we start. Those on the list of ratification would be Reps. Jasper, DiFruscia, Craig, Moore, Weed, DeJoie, Lockwood, Weyler, Robinson. Those on the other side are Reps. O'Neil, O'Brien, Sheila Francoeur, Carolyn Brown, Mirski, King, Rowe, Welch, Bicknell, Stephen L'Heureux, Ulery, Dickinson, Gibson, Goyette, Hess, Major, Patten, Dowd, Drisko, Kennedy, Griffin, John Flanders, Hagan, Dalrymple, Janet Allen, Merrill, Bob L'Heureux, Currier, Stepanek, Charles Clark, Stohl, Hunt, Emerson, MacKay, Phyllis Katsiakores, Hogancamp, Lars Christiansen, Babson, Ingbretson, . . .

The House will be in order. I think it is important that I read this to begin with because when we get to the point I ask if anyone else needs to speak that's been on the list, we can put this list of people in the Permanent Journal. In fact this whole procedure will be in the Journal verbatim. So, I think is important that we do this now and then we won't have to go through the list if there are one or two at some point that want to speak instead of thirty . . . I think I said Ingbretson, Reps. Hinkle, Thomas, Sorg, Emerton, George Katsiakores, Paul Smith, Danforth, Morris, Rausch, James Martin, Easson, Reed, Gale, Maybeck, Calawa, Bettencourt, Bridle, Russell, Chris Christensen, Tilton, Boyce, Itse, Kurk, Pepino, Scamman, Headd, Hirshmann, Wendelboe, Tahir, Eaton and Whalley.

Rep. Jasper: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I can count . . .

Speaker Scamman: Would the members please suspend. I think it is very important that we show courtesy to every member who speaks. The emotions are quite high on both sides. I think both sides need to respect that the other side feels as strongly as they do, they have the right to be heard. I think it would be shameful if we do not do that today and I will certainly intend to enforce that. Rep. Jasper, you may proceed.

Rep. Jasper: Thank you, Mr. Speaker I can count and I can predict what the outcome will be. That tells me I should just sit down and shut up. Thank you so very much for those rumblings . . .

Speaker Scamman: The House will be in order. I just asked you not to jeer, cheer or make comments from the Body. It is inappropriate and I would ask the Sergeant-at-Arms to please keep track if anyone does that in the future, so we can deal with it. Rep. Jasper, you may proceed, and I apologize for the comments.

Rep. Jasper: I am greatly disappointed by the fact that so many members before the debate has even begun have gotten up and left this Hall. This is a momentous decision that we are about to make and for so many members to have decided that they don't even want to listen to the other side speaks poorly of this House. I am standing here because I think regardless of whether there is one single person who wants to listen to what I have to say, the people of the State of New Hampshire ought to have the opportunity to hear. So, if you'd like, you can all get up and leave and I will speak.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the pending motion to adopt or to ratify the report of the Ethics Committee. I had hoped that I had left behind the issue of the charges against Rep. Chandler, and gladly so. With the absence of Rep. Ross today, I looked to see who would be willing to speak in his absence for the Committee, and as I looked I realized that as a former chairman and as a member for over nine years, that responsibility fell in part to me.

I was first appointed as a Speaker's citizen representative to the Ethics Committee by Speaker Burns in 1995. I was reappointed to that position twice by Speaker Sytek, and once more by Speaker Chandler. Upon my return to the legislature, I was appointed by Speaker Chandler as his legislative appointee to the Committee. No member of this legislature has more experience on the committee than do I. As I said, there are more than a few of you who no doubt question why I don't just stay in my seat and vote my conscience. Simply put, it is my conscience and my sense of duty to my oath which compels me to speak. Rep. Chandler and I were friends. I am pained that it is necessary for me to stand here. I am saddened that he has placed us all in the position of having to choose ethics over friendship. But make no mistake, no matter how you try to rationalize your vote, anything less than the expulsion dishonors this body. Good men make bad decisions. In nearly every day which we are in session, we pass judgment on what the penalty for those mistakes will be. The difference is, we don't know those people. We can clearly see the wrong and set the punishment. We have an Ethics Committee precisely because we recognize there are times when we are too close to the situation to be objective. Sadly, the impetus to form the Ethics Committee was the result of an action by a former Majority Leader. Thankfully, he resigned and we were never forced to judge him. He, too, was a good legislator and liked by all. He, too, was my friend. Up until now, the process has served us well, but has never before been put to the ultimate test. We have asked the committee of seven independent people to make recommendations on difficult decisions for us. And they have made the most difficult decision an Ethics Committee can ever make, to recommend expulsion of a member of the legislative body. Adding to that difficulty is the reality that the member was a former Speaker of this House and a current member of leadership and a friend to all. But given the body of evidence, the committee had no choice if our ethics law is to have any meaning.

To paraphrase Chairman Gordon, to do anything less, would be to make our ethics guidelines nothing but words on paper. There are those among us who think the Ethics Committee went too far. Yet who among them is so unbiased as to be able to sit on a jury to hear this case? I would submit that none of them are. Who among them actually heard all the evidence and read all the documentation before rendering their opinion? Probably few, if any.

I've heard members say that Rep. Chandler has paid a high enough price for his mistake. Well, first of all, we are not talking about one mistake. We are talking about a series of violations which occurred over many years. What has occurred cannot honestly be boiled down to one mistake. Members who serve in positions of trust, leadership, have an obligation to set the standards of ethical behavior for the legislature. They also have the resources to get the answers to their questions. Indeed, while he served as Speaker, the Ethics Committee and Rep. Chandler shared the same legal counsel. What becomes clear in reading all the available information is that either Rep. Chandler had no concern for following the laws and guidelines or he purposely didn't want to know. Either is an irresponsible omission.

Essentially, we are in a situation in which our former Speaker has said he never bothered to read the ethics guidelines nor did he have any interest in finding out from those who knew what they were. To go back to the issue of penalty, Rep. Chandler pled guilty to a misdemeanor for his violation of RSA 15-B relating to the failure to report gifts over $50. That is a legal issue separate from these proceedings and covers only a portion of the charges brought by the Ethics committee. To say that his $2,000 fine, 100 hours of community service, giving up the speakership is punishment enough is tantamount to saying that a person who is caught speeding without a license while drunk should face only one of those charges, not all three. We have the power to make that determination but I am sure that few if any of us would vote for such legislation. It is also saying that even though he took more than $12,000 last year alone, above the $250 per donor cap, it's OK for him to keep that ill-gotten gain. I would have expected that someone who truly took responsibility for their actions to have at least have given back that portion which they did not legally receive. At a minimum to the degree that they still had the money.

When these charges were filed with the Ethics Committee, the corn roast had only just taken place. There is no testimony or evidence that any of the donations in excess of the limits were returned, even though a complete list of such excess was provided. There is even a question of the issue of community service. In his testimony before the Ethics Committee, Attorney Lamontagne alluded to Rep. Chandler having worked part of his community service through his work in the House. If in fact this is part of his 100 hours of service, we should all be appalled. These 100 hours of service should be separate and distinct from any time spent in his duties as an elected official. And what of the fine? As Rep. Chandler is allowed to keep the money which he now acknowledges was taken in violation of the guidelines, he is still now $10,000 ahead of what he legally could have received. We know he has legal bills but will this be the new standard in New Hampshire. Will we just let everyone keep their ill-gotten gains to pay their legal bills? And as only one person can be Speaker, is not being Speaker a penalty? Will this be another new standard? If you were Speaker but resigned or lose an election, can you now say you are paying a penalty? It's certainly a loss but no one has a right to that position. It is an honor. It should be earned, but never assumed to be a right.

There was a letter to the editor in The Telegraph which I thought really put things in to perspective. The writer questioned whether anyone who pled guilty to a job-related misdemeanor would still have that job. The answer is obvious. Of course not. Yet the argument is that the voters sent him back knowing the charge, so we can't expel him. As I recall the argument at the time it was that it wouldn't be right for the voters to judge him as they were only unproven allegations. That is true enough. So, now that there has been a guilty plea and a finding of guilt by the Ethics Committee we're told that the voters have already spoken. I'm confused. Are we now to believe that the voters presumed that he was guilty but didn't care? Regardless, the voters may well forgive him his transgressions and re-elect him and I have no quarrel with their right to do so.

But let's be honest about what happened. We need to make our decision based on the evidence, not based on what the voters did or might do in the future. We have responsibility to uphold our ethics guidelines. I have poured through the testimony of Rep. Chandler, his attorney and former Rep. Mock which they gave in October, November and May. It paints a picture of confusion and contradiction. What I believe is that there was no intent to do anything wrong. The problem that I have is I don't think there was any intent to do anything right, either.

The letter from the Secretary of State was clear. Anyone with a fifth grade education could understand it. The recipient of the money had to report it. The timeline in testimony is also clear. Gene Chandler did not become one of his own friends until after the first corn roast, well after the letter was received. It is obvious that Henry Mock did not consider Gene to be a member of the committee when he asked the question of the Secretary of State. If you want to do the right thing, you ask the right question of the right person.

This debate should be about our guidelines, the facts in the case and the appropriate punishment for violating them, not about whom the violator is. If we have that debate, it should be clear that anyone who has violated all three principles of public service should be expelled. There is really no dispute about the facts and as we all know, ignorance of the law is no excuse. As legislators we must find that we each have a responsibility to read the ethics guidelines at least to the degree that we know what activities are prohibited. To do less than that is to be incompetent in our duties. I am not suggesting that we need to memorize them but to be aware that they exist and that when we engage in activities outside the norm, we refer to them for guidance.

Finally, I need to share with you an example of what drives me to speak up today. I have been a fraternity advisor for 17 years at the University of New Hampshire. In that time we have expelled a number of our members. Before our members take their oaths, they sign a covenant spelling out their responsibilities and they are told that if they violate any of them they may be subject to expulsion. A number of years ago a young man was arrested on a misdemeanor charge. Before he even went to court, a trial was held at the Chapter House and even though he was one of the most well-liked members of the fraternity, he was expelled by over the required two-thirds vote. This action banned him from the property. His brothers recognized that their oaths and the reputation of the fraternity were more important than their friendship. He was encouraged to get his life back on track, to apply for re-instatement but for the good of the order, he had to go. The other advisor, some of the brothers and I went to court with him to support him and to show him that on a personal level, we were still his friends. In 17 years the brotherhood has never failed to expel a member who has been so recommended. It is almost more than I can bear to think that the New Hampshire House may have less understanding of the importance about upholding certain standards than a group of fraternity men.

Today we need to take the personality out of the equation. We need to think about what is right and what is wrong. We need to think about the reputation of the institution. We can expel a member and still be his friend. But we cannot ignore our responsibilities to the law without breaking our oaths of office. No one is more important than the institution and no one should expect any of us to choose between ethics and friendship.

I ask you to join with me in standing with the Ethics Committee by voting to adopt their report. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Vaillancourt. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and thank you for your words. I heard an argument in the Chamber just outside the hall that I want to comment on and get your comment on before it went very far. Somebody said, and I just caught a snippet of the conversation, "Oh yes, but remember but what he did as Speaker last year when it came to sending that education funding bill across and all the shenanigans with that." Do you think that anybody that would use that kind of an argument in this issue is thinking clearly as a representative should? And perhaps should not a representative who speaks like that be expelled?

Rep. Jasper: I'll leave that to your judgment.

Rep. O'Neil: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Before I give my remarks I want to address a comment that was made earlier today about Republican leadership. I want to assure everybody here that there was no whipping or arm twisting by Republican leadership on this issue.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in opposition to the recommendation of the House Ethics Committee to expel Rep. Gene Chandler from this distinguished body. To my colleagues in the House, you need only to ask yourself only one simple question today in making your decision. Does the sanction fit the action? In asking yourself that question you will come to one obvious conclusion. The sanction suggested by the Ethics Committee goes far beyond what any reasonable person would call for under these circumstances. Our vote today is not one of guilt or innocence. Rep. Chandler long ago admitted to his transgressions. For the last eight months not only has he had his character questioned publicly almost on a daily basis, but he has been forced to endure all of this public scrutiny while dealing with personal tragedy in his own life.

Is he guilty of an error of judgment? Absolutely. Does he deserve expulsion from an institution that he has devoted more than two decades of his life? Absolutely not. Rep. Chandler admitted his mistakes. And I would like to digress for just one second from my remarks. Rep. Chandler did offer to pay back all of the money over $250 that he collected and that was rejected. I want to make that very clear. He did offer to pay back all of the money over the $250 he collected and that was rejected. The court handed down its judgment and which included a $2,000 fine and 100 hours of community service.

Ladies and gentlemen, Gene Chandler has more than paid the price for his indiscretions that he has admitted to. To me the ultimate test came when the people of his district after hearing all of the accusations and looking at the facts, overwhelmingly re-elected him to represent them in this chamber. Perhaps the true character of the man should show through as you watch how Gene Chandler goes about his duties in this State House. He has continued to serve the people of this state with dignity both as a Representative and Chairman of the Public Works Committee. My fellow colleagues, enough is enough. While we may not condone the actions, it is clear that Gene Chandler has paid the price and then some. The Ethics Committee is talking about expulsion for transgressions that may be deserving of nothing more than a reprimand. His constituents spoke loud and clear at the polls and it is time for us to carry this message forward.

I urge you to vote down this motion so that a motion of an appropriate sanction could be made after this vote. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. DiFruscia: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Today, June 1, 2005, is a very sad and somber day. Those of us who are in the chamber must always remember the words of a very strong Republican, Ronald Reagan, "The silent majority, the people, are listening." And what you do today is historical. And when we took our oath of office, the sacred one, we raised our hands and took the oath, we pledged. We made a pledge that to the best of our ability, agreeable to rules and regulations of the constitution and the laws of the State of New Hampshire that we would abide by them, so help me God. Mr. Speaker, I support the unanimous recommendation of the Legislative Ethics Committee to expel the gentleman from Bartlett from the New Hampshire House of Representatives for the remainder of 2005 and 2006. The decision before us concerns a very serious breach of ethical standards set forth in the principles of public service. Our decision must be based on the serious nature of the violation and not by the sympathy for the ex-Speaker irrespective of political party, leadership position or likeability. It is the responsibility of each and every one of us as a public official to understand, comply with, defend the standards of ethical conduct adopted by the membership of this body. The words of John Adams many years ago in founding the Constitution, he applied the fact that this law, this constitution applies to all of us, not to those who have a special position. He said further that democracy is a government of laws, of laws, and not of men. It appears that it is somewhat ironic when we have seen the former chairman of Judiciary, Henry Mock, who led the charge in this very chamber to impeach judges and they did not commit any crimes. It's ironic that now maybe we have dual standards, and yet this House voted, historically, I might add, to impeach the judiciary. Obviously, ethics was not the issue then was it? And is it not true that ethics and law should apply equally?

The Legislative Ethics Committee was created by this body under the RSAs 14-B:2 to develop standards for the legislative ethics and resolve through procedures established by us, issues, questions or compliance involving legislators and its staff. The matter before us today, after a hearing, an examination of all the facts available, and the ethical guidelines, the committee unanimously found that by clear and convincing evidence, I want to underline that for everyone, clear and convincing evidence, This House impeached judges on a lesser type standard and what standard are you going to apply? You have to ask yourself that question. That the committee unanimously found that using that criteria of a clear, convincing standard that the serious nature of the offense required expulsion. The committee report set forth the charges and recommendations for expulsion in print in the Calendar, not the complete record. I trust, I pray that each and every one of us has at least read the Calendar. Before any disciplinary action may be taken against the gentleman from Bartlett, this report must be ratified by this legislative body. In making your decision whether or not to ratify the recommendation of the Legislative Ethics Committee, I would ask that you consider that the Ethics Committee found that the facts underlining the charges are largely, yes, largely, undisputed. The Committee charges the gentleman from Bartlett with violations of the ethics guidelines including one engaging in prohibitive activity by soliciting, accepting, or agreeing to accept gifts of more than $250 from others, while knowing or believing that the givers were likely to become interested in matters before the legislature.

I ask you. A lobbyist, clearly, clearly, is such a person who by definition has an interest in matters before this legislature. Charge two, engaging in prohibited activities by using his public position to obtain gifts beyond $250 for his private benefit. Not a political contribution, for his private benefit. Clearly, using the funds to clean your laundry and to pay for your private car expense was for private benefit. Clearly, there is basis for a finding. Thirdly, by failing to report gifts in excess of $50 while serving on the legislature. The representative so charged admitted guilt to the lesser offense. The Ethics Committee determined that the specific charges were true again, by clear and convincing evidence.

The Committee concluded that while these violations are serious in and of themselves, that they are made even more so because they were committed by a member of leadership and have caused substantial public concern regarding the independence and the integrity of this legislative process and this institution. And to have the leader of this institution claim ignorance of those rules that were created becomes even more cynical and a distrust of the process. The violations create an aura of suspicion as to other public officials and, erroneously as it may be, and unfortunately as it may be, given the hard work done by all of the other members of the legislature. How often have you talked to your constituents when they have said, "Do you have a 'Friends Committee'?" What does it say to us as an institution, if we do not ratify the Legislative Ethics Committee's recommendations? What it says is that the former leader of the House can take substantial monetary donations from those with business before this legislature and put them to personal use and that is not egregious. That is not egregious. That a person who served in several leadership positions and in the top leadership position was unaware of the legislative ethical guidelines. Is it not egregious and an offense to each and every lawmaker that the former leader of our institution claims ignorance of the law? And is it not even more offensive and egregious that he can justify his conduct as being acceptable because other legislators were conducting similar fund raising activities? The committee went on to say that it is important that the Ethics Committee found no evidence, no evidence of similar fund raising activity by any other legislator. Everyone else followed the rules, but the gentleman from Bartlett simply did not.

What does this conduct convey to the fellow legislators and to the public and to the people we represent? That if you are part of leadership you're entitled to abide by your own set of rules? Is that the message we want to tell our children and grandchildren? Is that the message we want to leave before this House 50 or 100 years from today, when none of us will be sitting here? I hope that we would become more responsible for the recommendations and the consequences for our own actions. That those actions are based on facts and ethical guidelines. It is regrettable that we are here today. We must answer to ourselves, to each other and to the people of the State of New Hampshire that don't sit here right now. But they do sit in judgment and they will. We must therefore respond to the serious ethical violations and their consequences that are based simply on principle, on justice, on law, and not politics. Are the members of this institution to be bound by the standards of ethics or are we not? To do otherwise than to abide by the recommendations of the Legislative Ethics Committee would, in quoting from the Committee's conclusion, "demean the ethical standards established by the legislature for its membership."

I would ask you, before you take your vote, to look at the concluding paragraph by the Committee. And it says, "The Committee recognizes that Rep. Chandler has had a distinguished public career and that he has many supporters. But this violation of the ethics guidelines warrants severe punishment and he should not be accorded special treatment in its administration." He should not be accorded, these are my own words, special treatment by you, nor should he be accorded special treatment by his own constituency once they know all of the facts, and they don't. I hope you vote and push the green button.

Rep. O'Brien: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Honorable members. I rise this morning to oppose the motion to ratify the report of the Legislative Ethics Committee and to ask you to vote against it so that a subsequent motion may be brought. I do so not just because the proposed remedy is disproportional, although that is reason enough. I do so because the proposed remedy exceeds the authority of this body.

Just over 35 years ago the U. S. Supreme Court issued an opinion that bears directly on the issue before us today. The Court was called upon to consider the decision of the U.S. House of Representatives to exclude Representative Adam Clayton Powell after he had first been expelled and then re-elected. Chief Justice Earl Warren in his last written decision reviewed the history of legislatures in this country going back to the colonial assemblies. Based on that history, our history, the Court ruled that it was beyond the power of Congress to exclude someone who meets all the basic qualifications of a member but may have committed wrongs before being elected. My honorable colleagues, the power to expel is the power to exclude. There is no difference. If as was stated in the Powell case, an elected member cannot be denied a seat based on prior misconduct, those prior actions cannot be the basis for expelling that member. To do so is to disenfranchise the voters who send their elective members to this legislature. If the voters of a legislative district, your district or my district or the district of the member from Bartlett, elect a person meeting the basic qualifications of residency to this House, conduct complained of prior to the election should not be and cannot be the basis of exclusion. The heritage of this republic is to show great deference to the popular will and choice of the people. A legislature should not usurp or supplant its institutional judgment for that of the electorate in determining who has the character and the fitness to represent them. If serious misconduct has occurred since the election, by all means refer the matter back to the member's constituents by expelling that member and asking the voters to exercise their judgment in an election. Where the conduct was known before the election, where the voters have exercised their judgment in an election, the choice of the voters to send a member meeting the basic qualifications to this body must be respected. Just two years ago in a report of the Congressional staff to the Congress on the removal of members of Congress, the long and uncontradicted tradition on constraint on the authority to remove elected and qualified members based on pre-existing conduct was once again confirmed. The report explained that in the legislative history in this country expulsion was a method used to protect the integrity and proceedings of the legislature and the legislature's integrity and proceedings are challenged only by what members do since they are seated in the current session. The report also noted that the U.S. House Judiciary Committee had itself stated that the House had no authority to expel based on prior acts because, and I quote, "The effect of such a policy would tend not to preserve but to undermine and destroy representative government." This concept is so well established that over 100 years ago the Speaker of the U.S. House flatly ruled that a member could not be disciplined for an offense that occurred prior to his election. Then Speaker Carlisle said, "This question", and I quote, "has been so frequently decided that it is no longer a matter of dispute."

My fellow members, we may criticize and we may reprimand a member for what he did before this biennium, but if the voters have knowingly sent the member to us and that member meets the basic qualifications of the office we have no constitutional authority to hold ourselves above the right of voters to choose their representation. To do so(tape change) be held unconstitutional. Thank you.

Rep. Craig: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of the Committee's recommendation and I stand before you as the Democratic Leader, but I'm not speaking necessarily as the Democratic Leader. I know I have that title, but I also speak to you as a man, and as a member of this House, and I want to tell you my thought process when I heard this and how I came to my decision.

I think I'm like everyone in here in that I like to go along to get along. I like to be friends, I'd rather be your friend than fight you, that is my nature. I could have gone that way and that would have been the end of it, or I could have said, "I'm a Democrat, this is a no-brainer, he's a Republican," and that could have been the end of it. But that was not the way I was brought up, that's not fair to Rep. Chandler, that's not fair to this House. So what I thought about in making my decision, I first of all was mindful that this is a great institution but it's an institution consisting of people. That means by definition it is full of flaws because people are flawed. Probably a lot of people in here say that I'm the most flawed person in here, but that's the nature of the beast.

I considered Rep. Chandler as a person and I have to tell you that Rep. Chandler has been good to me. You may not believe this but I get a lot of complaints from Democrats about their Chairs and I've never had a complaint from the Public Works Committee. I was mindful of that. I'm mindful that we share a good friend in Henry Mock, who also has been good to me and I've had a lot of experience within this House. So I truly bear Rep. Chandler no animosity. I'm also not unmindful of the personal travails that Rep. Chandler has been through in the last year. I'm not unmindful of the fact that he has pled guilty to misdemeanor charges. I'm not unmindful to the fact, and it is an appealing fact to me, that he has been punished. But I'm also mindful that Rep. Chandler was the leader, he was the Speaker of this House. That means something to me personally. To me, the Speaker sets the tone of this House. His is the face of this House and I want the Speaker to set high standards and live by those standards for himself, for herself and for the House because I am proud to be here and I want to continue to be proud to be here.

I'm not unmindful of the impeachment we had here a few years ago, then it was the Chief Justice accused of maladministration. I had strong feelings about the Chief Justice's personal situation at the time, just as I do today. But I voted to impeach him because I cared more about this institution. I think that the members did the House proud then, no matter the outcome. We did so because we cared more about the institution involved than the people involved. That was our charge then, that is our charge today.

I'm mindful of the committee that came up with this recommendation. I heard the comment that no reasonable people could come up with this conclusion. I'm mindful that that Committee consisted of five Republicans and two Democrats. And you know who was on that committee. I don't know if you know them personally, but I do. I consider every one of them much more than reasonable, but well-respected in this institution, in the Senate, in the New Hampshire Bar and in each of their communities. I'm mindful that those people came up with the unanimous decision. And to be honest with you, I'm mindful of an MUR poll of people out on the streets that resulted in 73% of the people asked were in favor of the Committee recommendation. 22% against and 5% undecided. So I asked myself, "What do they see that we don't see?" The answer is nothing.

I'm mindful of page 10 of the report, and to me, this is the crux of the report, this means a lot to me. They voted for expulsion because to do otherwise would demean the ethical standards established by the legislature for its membership. It is an honor to be chosen to serve in the legislature and each member must take his or her ethical duties seriously. This is especially true when the member holds the highest leadership position. I agree that this is a sad day in many respects. This is a difficult position for each of us to be in and whether we like it or not in the State of New Hampshire, each and every one of our constituents is watching what we do here today. It is up to you, each and every one of you, to decide what we are going to say to them. Thank you.

(Rep. Price in the Chair)

Rep. Sheila Francoeur: Thank you, Madame Speaker. Madame Speaker, I rise in opposition to the recommendation of expulsion by the Ethics Committee. I commend the Committee for their hard work and willingness to serve on a very demanding committee but their recommendation is too harsh. By their own statement, and I quote, "The Committee found no evidence that Rep. Chandler used his legislative resources to raise funds or that any donor received any specific benefits as a result of making a corn roast gift." Rep. Chandler has admitted his guilt in not reporting the funds he received at the corn roast. He received, and unfortunately listened to, bad advice. His guilty plea in court has resulted in a fine and many hours of community service. As was previously mentioned, he has offered to return all the funds over the $250 threshold. In reality, Gene Chandler will be paying for this mistake the rest of his life. And his life has been service to and love of this House. For him to believe that he has brought disgrace to this House is the cruelest punishment of all.

During a very contentious Speaker's race, he was falsely accused of business failures and bankruptcy. Both lies with no merit.

I've watched Gene Chandler during a very painful period of his wife's illness and subsequent death and my admiration and respect for the man continued to grow. Through all this he continued to represent his constituents who continue to re-elect him even with this cloud over his head. He has devoted over 20 years to the citizens of New Hampshire and he has a tremendous love and respect for this institution. We cannot look at the recommendation of the Legislative Ethics Committee without looking at the whole man and his service to this state and this House.

I ask you when you vote today to think of that man. Did he make a serious mistake? Yes, he did. Does it warrant expulsion from this venerable House? No, my friends it does not. I hope that you will join me in voting down the recommendation from the Ethics Committee. Thank you very much, Madame Speaker.

Rep. Moore: Thank you, Madame. Speaker. I rise in support of the decision of the Legislative Ethics Committee regarding the conduct of Gene Chandler. I consider sanctions calling for Rep. Gene Chandler to be expelled from the legislature for the balance of the term 2005-2006, and I approve it, I consider it to be appropriate. I've got a lot of time to think about this because I spent 3 1/2 hours, 3 days a week in dialysis laying on my back, not just watching TV but thinking about things, even the legislature. And I really find this difficult, but still the words expressed in Paragraph V, Conclusions on page on 1287 of the House Record, No 44, of Friday, the 27th of May, they are clear, concise and very explicit.

I expressed all of the statements made by myself to friends and my family in one way or another since last October and I have to agree wholeheartedly with what has been said. There are some words of a personal note. For one, the violations create an aura of suspicion to other public officials and this strikes home because at one time I had a constituent say, "They're in it for all that they can get." Now, he was referring to me in particular, but also a fellow representative who has since passed away. If there are people out there who feel that way about us as members of the legislature, I'm certain this doesn't help matters at all. The conduct of Gene Chandler hasn't helped us at all because if we don't do severe punishment as recommended, unfortunately, it will just increase this feeling among certain people in our constituency. I don't like to have people think I'm dishonest but there are people who do feel that I am, and there are people who felt other members of this body have been dishonest in one way or another. They're in it for what they can get, and that's a helluva statement to make about anyone. And I don't like it and this whole hearing actually points out that there are people out there who feel exactly that way.

And I've also heard the comment, and I think one of the other speakers mentioned, that it was said that other people in the legislature have done the same as Gene Chandler. Well, of course, there's an old expression at home, it's used in conduct of young people and stuff, "What harm is it? What harm is there in it? No one got hurt." Well, even if you heard that other people do the same as Gene Chandler and have done the same as Gene Chandler, the attitude of what harm is there in it is the harm of the whole thing. Because people do feel that just because it's done and no one is hurt, there's no harm in it. Well, there is hurt in this, and there's been a lot of hurt. I feel it personally myself because it isn't just what was done and what punishment has already been meted out, it's the fact that we are responsible people. We are elected to be responsible, we are elected to be ethically correct and proper. Even the suspicion that we are not isn't good. But this has been clearly stated in the Ethics report that they had the evidence, clear and concise evidence that this is what took place, something that was ethically incorrect and we shouldn't really be talking anything except meting out punishment. It's not the man, really. The House needs to restore respect for itself, for us and this doesn't help at all. The honor and respect of this body is at stake. Please consider this, it's not the man, it's the House, it's the General Court of the State of New Hampshire. We have to protect ourselves and protect ourselves with our constituency. As a further comment, I saw the results of a poll taken about this issue, 74% of the people polled agree with the results and the report of the Ethics Committee. That the punishment should be severe and it should be exactly what they recommended. I really feel that I enjoyed my relationship with Gene Chandler, but, like I say, it's not the man. It's what's been done and what must be done to continue and restore the respect and honor of this institution.

I strayed from my notes because I can't read them, to tell the truth. Basically, I'll wrap it up by saying, God bless you and God bless the State of New Hampshire, and God bless America. I'll take no questions and I really support the report of the Ethics Committee. Thank you.

(Speaker Scamman in the Chair)

Rep. Carolyn Brown: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Honorable members. I rise today to speak against the Ethics Committee's recommendation to expel the hardworking, respected, long-serving representative from Bartlett. I speak today for the majority of the voters from Bartlett, Conway, Chatham, Jackson, Harts Location and Hills Location who voted to return Rep. Chandler to serve in the House. The message I bring from the people of District 1 is praise for a job well done for 23 years of service to our community and our state. We stand squarely behind Rep. Chandler knowing he did not file the papers, proper reports, claiming donations raised through the Friends Committee fund raiser. Yet, we are steadfast in our support of him as he has been with the resolve, not only this matter, but meeting the challenges our communities and our state. Today, I ask you to join me and the majority of Carroll County delegation with a "no" vote to expel Rep. Chandler from the House of Representatives. I got an e-mail last night from a local radio station, I know everyone has been doing their polling, and 77% of the people polled stated that they would return Speaker Chandler to the House of Representatives. Thank you.

Rep. Weed: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. My honorable colleagues. I was one of the two who filed the charges through the Ethics Committee for Speaker Chandler. I have to say that I heard the reports on public radio and I read it in the paper, and then I picked up my Ethics Guidelines and I think it took me ten minutes looking at the words that this body passed regarding the ethical standards it holds its members to, to realize that something had happened that was very wrong. So I called up to the State House and I said, "How do I file an ethics charge?" And they said, "Well, maybe you should talk to your party people." So I ended up at the Democratic headquarters, and I have to tell you that I was discouraged by my leadership from filing an ethics charge. And I said,

"Well, look, I think that this is a really important issue." And they said, "Well, OK, we have a form for you, come up and get it." About four days later I was sitting at a meeting in Keene with members of the local Democratic party, and there was a member visiting from Claremont, he said, "Are you aware, Chuck, that there's another member who wishes to file ethics charges?" and I said, "No, I'm not, but I'm sure happy that it's not just me." It turned out to be Ken Weyler. I went home from that meeting and I called Ken, we set up a meeting. I think we must have met for half an hour over breakfast. He outlined his charges, I outlined mine and we went our separate ways and passed our charge letter back and forth by e-mail and I haven't talked with Ken Weyler since about the ethics charge.

I wanted to give you a little bit of background about why I did it. I understand, and I agree with everybody who feels this is a very sad day, but it is a very important day. An important day and people are watching us.

Speaker Chandler and I, I guess, are cohorts in a way. I was elected the same year he became Speaker. He seemed to be evenhanded. He had an interesting sense of humor. He presided over the House very professionally. He seems a very likeable person and I'm very sorry about the recent tragedies in his life. But those are not the issues. One of the more important moral claims made by advocates of American democracy is that we are not a government of persons, but a government of laws and procedures, including high ethical standards for those elected to any office of public trust and service. It is the duty of this body to determine where to draw the line between gross and minor ethical negligence.

I appreciate very much the Legislative Ethics Committee's hard work and its unanimous decision with regard to determining that they feel that it is a gross negligence. And I agree with them.

To help me make my decision, however, I wanted to look at three items that were suggested by people who have studied and written about ethics violations in the past. They are basically: What was the intention and the knowledge of the person who is accused? What is the experience of the person accused? And the last, what is the harm or the potential or probable harm to the community that was created by the unethical behavior? If I looked at the intention and knowledge of Speaker Chandler, the reports and articles we heard last summer and the decisions by the Attorney General and the Ethics Committee included reference about the former Speaker who admitted thinking about and discussing whether or not gifts and testimonials needed to be reported as far back as 1998. We have heard that he and his advisors believed that they did not require regular reporting and financial disclosure. It is clear that his decision to conduct personal fund raising events was not accidental, nor forced upon him. While Mr. Chandler was presiding, I heard from the floor several times each session, reminders to the representatives to fill out the required forms, usually by a member of the Ethics Committee. Notice and reminders were printed regularly in our Calendars. When I heard the radio stories last summer, I re-read our ethics guidelines and these four guidelines just smacked me in the face. I've talked about it and I know we're going to be discussing ethics laws, ethics violations for the whole state in the future. I think that we're very, very serious about that in the Election Law Committee. I heard some statements that these are very ambiguous. That these ethical guidelines are very ambiguous. I would strongly recommend that you go back and read them yourself. But the first one, was particularly strong to me and it's Principles of Public Service number one. It says, "Legislators should treat their office as a public trust, only using the powers and resources of public office to advance public interests, and not to obtain personal benefits or pursue any private interest incompatible with the public good."

There are four very clearly articulated issues that are unambiguous: Prohibited Activities III, Prohibited Activities VII, Section (f) and the last, an Advisory Opinion put out by the Ethics Committee in September 2000. They're there and you may disagree with how ambiguous or unambiguous they are, but to me they were absolutely clear, and I have to say the behavior of Speaker Chandler seemed appalling given these ethics guidelines.

Then I looked at the experience of the actor. When considering whether a breach of ethics is only slight or gross, one must consider the experience. Former Speaker Chandler voted for these ethics guidelines as a representative 14 years ago. He has acted as a mentor to many legislators and was a widely respected source of guidance and procedures of this House. He has a long record of service here both as a rank and file member, and as a member of the leadership. It is clear to me that Rep. Chandler's experience and role and presence should have made him thoroughly aware of these ethics guidelines and of the potential harm that might result from their breach.

Finally, and perhaps the most important, and we heard about this a little bit before, it's almost impossible to gauge, there are going to be conflicting polls happening around the state, but the final consideration is, "What was the harm to the community?" How much harm has been caused to New Hampshire, to the House of Representatives and to you and me as citizens' representatives? Follow-up stories in the media last summer, and continuously since then, related to gifts and testimonials from the Friends of Gene Chandler included interviews with New Hampshire citizens, most who appeared surprised and disappointed. This highlights a problem in New Hampshire of who is able to serve in this volunteer citizens legislature. The great majority of my colleagues are retired, independently wealthy, or have flexible work schedules like me. Apparently, however, according to former Speaker Chandler's lawyer, a few survive on cash gifts and testimonials. If these come from lobbyists with business before the legislature there is no way to avoid the appearance that special interests have purchased influence through the service of their elected representatives. There is no mechanism except conscience and voting records that makes an elected official accountable to the New Hampshire voters. It is logical that if gifts are from those with business before the legislature to the leadership of the House, that communicates a very strong likelihood of special relationships with special interests. It provides the appearance of violation of the public trust. In the 1999 to 2000 session, when Rep. Chandler was told to file and filed the proceeds from the Friends of Gene Chandler Corn Roast, he cast many roll call votes for which he could be held accountable. But between 2001 and 2004 former Speaker Chandler only voted five times while the rest of the time presiding over the House. There's little evidence by which the Speaker can be held publicly accountable for those taking gifts over $50 or over $250 from such organizations as the New Hampshire Medical Society, the New Hampshire Bankers Association, RJ Reynolds, the Auto Dealers, the Homebuilders, the New Hampshire Hospital Association, and Anthem BlueCross BlueShield.

I've observed that former Speaker Chandler ran a very tight ship. By that I mean, I witnessed committee chairs checking with the Speaker by cell phone in ambiguous situations before allowing consideration of many bills. I heard the former Speaker Chandler was very involved in maintaining party discipline. Since discipline and whipping rolls took place out of the public arena in caucuses and in leadership meetings, it is almost impossible to correct the doubts that citizens have developed about quid pro quos or influence peddling.

In conclusion, since Mr. Chandler was aware of and discussed the ethical guidelines apparently believing that they did not apply to gifts and testimonial from Friends of Gene Chandler, his receipt of gifts over $250 at least gives the appearance of providing favors to special vested interests. Speaker Chandler's extensive experience and role as a respected leader make his belief that these guidelines did not apply to him difficult to understand, and strains our credibility. And third, Mr. Chandler's acceptance of $64,000 plus in gifts, many from special interests with business before this House, has damaged the reputation of all elected legislators.

I've one further point. To me, one of the best aspects of New Hampshire's citizen legislature seems to be the collective ability of seeing through self-interest and serving the New Hampshire citizens. I doubt that Speaker Chandler's apology to us about his naiveté, his ignorance or his lack of intention can really fly. As I understand it, he had complied when strongly advised by Speaker Sytek in '99 to fully disclose the proceeds of the Friends of Gene Chandler. The only difference I can see from '99 until today is that the current Speaker himself gets to decide what is ethical and what is not, and that apparently, there is very different environment of ethical standards for contemporary Republicans. As I weigh former Speaker Chandler's behavior, to me it appears to be on the gross negligence side, the egregious negligence side of ethical violations. I urge you to vote in support of the unanimous recommendation of the distinguished and respected members of the Legislative Ethics Committee. Thank you, very much.

Rep. Mirski: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and I do rise to vigorously oppose the recommendation of the Legislative Ethics Committee to expel the member from Bartlett. And really, the reason I rise has nothing to do with the charges particularly, it has everything to do with the right of his constituents to elect to whom they wish to serve them in this Body. That is the higher order of business of the floor this afternoon.

Ethics is a pretty simple thing actually if you think about it and the Representative from Keene covered it pretty succinctly in his first remarks. If you go to the constitution and you just simply read the document you pay attention to those articles which address what disqualifies a member from office. In every case those acts have to do with disenfranchising constituents and what they have to do with is voter fraud. You lose your right to vote if you conduct voter fraud. You can even ... it's impossible to serve here. If you take bribes in the course of trying to become elected or if you take bribes in some other context while serving here, that's an affront to your constituents. That disqualifies you from service. If you take a gift or are granted some money to advance a cause before this legislature, you become an advocate and that disqualifies you from further service. The nexus is the money, the event. Give me money, produce a result. You disenfranchise your constituents. It's all about what you have to do as a representative, it's an absolute requirement, there is no other choice as you must always act on a higher level than your own interest. Your own interest should always be set aside and it makes me think, when I think that as I sat through many sessions here coming now on the 9th or 10th year or something, and I will tell you what I am always surprised by knowing that we have doctors, lawyers, attorneys, members of licensed professions, members of unions, teachers unions, public unions. I listen for recusals every session, members who have connections, family members, spouses, parents, children, grandchildren involved in these activities. When you have a child or a member of your family involved in an activity upon which you're legislating, ladies and gentlemen, that is a financial interest. And I don't hear any recusals in this House. People do not stand up and say, "I have a conflict." Now, anyone who has been around here for any amount of time also knows and has seen legislation filed by various members that clearly advanced the interests of perhaps the corporation they worked for, the agency they worked for, the union they belonged to, etc. So, I'm going to ask you to think about public service and whether or not this body, you need to think about, whether this body is pure enough to make the kind of draconian, accept the kind of draconian recommendation that this Legislative Ethics Committee has put before you.

But coming back to the original point, we have an ethics issue which we need to ultimately need to deal with in this House in a better way in a better way, than we have dealt with it. If you read the guidelines, you will find the first part says one thing, the second part tells you how to get around it. And there's plenty of statute and conflict just internally just within that subject to make it difficult. I'm not excusing anything the past Speaker may have done. I'm not talking to that. I'm saying when you think about ethics in this House, you need to start thinking about a better way to describe and deal with the kind of behaviors that I mentioned a minute ago.

I'd like to return to the remarks of the member from Mount Vernon. It is true that Adam Clayton Powell, that Congress attempted to remove him from office and the Supreme Court said that the constituents' interest overrode whatever subjective interests the members of Congress might have had in removing Powell. We're discussing the subject of past acts the other day, and I said to the gentlemen, "Wasn't it true that John Michael Curley, Curley was elected Mayor of Boston?" "No," he said, "He was elected to Congress while serving in jail in Boston." Past acts are something for constituents to consider but they ultimately make the choice. The reason this document, this constitution we have is written the way it's written is because the folks who wrote it were all rebels at arms at one time. Those folks were going to hang if they didn't win the revolution. They knew what past acts really meant. And those past acts ultimately are given to your constituents at the time you run for election. They consider whether or not they are serious enough to somehow abrogate your service here. If they elect you, those constituents have a right to have the gentleman from Bartlett serve them. They have the right to have the gentleman from Weare serve them, all of us serve them no matter what we have done. So long as they don't violate the qualifications contained within the constitution which again goes back to setting personal interests ahead of the interests of constituents. The gentleman from Bartlett's constituents believe that he places their interests above his own, they sent him here, we cannot expel him. That is not within our authority. Whatever the House does after the fact, with respect to censure, reprimand, anything else, that's our prerogative. We are dealing with our own rules. But by George, we don't have a right to throw any member out for subjective reasons. If it were otherwise, we could eject the gentleman from Bartlett, he could be re-elected; he could come back and go through this whole scenario all over again. That's not the way it works. The past acts occurred before the last election. We have a gentleman sitting representing constituents. We do not have the right to remove him. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. DeJoie: Thank you, Mr. Speaker and I will be brief. Honorable members of the House, throughout our history people have joined together in communities to provide for the greater good. These communities agree on standards of conduct that form the basis of the community. This basis becomes laws and it is these laws that bind our social fabric together. When we fail to enforce our laws equally and without prejudice, we tear at the very fabric of our society. As I stand here today, I am humbled by the honor of being a member of this House. I am in awe of the people who have come before us, the people who have served nobly in this Chamber since it was created many, many years ago. Their respect for this institution and their wisdom for preserving it are enshrined in our constitution and in our laws. They have empowered us with a great responsibility, the responsibility to protect and to preserve this great institution.

Some 14 years ago we again showed our wisdom by creating the Legislative Ethics Committee. This impartial committee comprised by bi-partisan legislators and public members was created to ensure that we behave according to the laws which we create. We are here to validate the job that this committee has done. We are here to ratify not just a majority decision, we are here to ratify a unanimous decision by the Ethics Committee. Like our legal system, our Ethics Committee is based on fairness and equality. It does not matter who you are, we are held as equals before the law. How effective would our legal system be if guilt or innocence were prejudiced based on who you are or what your name happens to be? How will our Ethics Committee be if this were to happen? Our constituents send us here as their representatives to create and uphold the law. When a member's behavior so offends the very laws we create, it paints this House and all its members with the brush of suspicion. This is a mighty House indeed, but it is a fragile institution. The institution must be nurtured and protected as it has been for more than 200 years. Our willingness to hold ourselves accountable to the law is all that stands between the dark cloud of suspicion and bright light of integrity.

Today, we will exercise one of our most important responsibilities. We stand in judgment of a fellow legislator. As we deliberate here today, we are deciding less about an individual and more about preserving the integrity of this House. Some would have you believe that influence peddling is the culture of this House. I say to you that the behavior of a few men does not define who we are. It is the way in which we respond this behavior that will truly define the culture of this House. The future of this institution is in our hands. I pray that we handle it wisely.

Rep. King: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ladies and gentlemen. We heard a lot of learned speeches today. My remarks are going to be based on a way that I've tried to deal with these types of issues in my lifetime. Number one, I recognize my own frailties, and we should all recognize our own frailties. I guess when you get older you accumulate a lot more frailties. The fact of the matter is I think that the way we ought to measure this today is to apply the Golden Rule. It's a pretty basic issue. I think that we ought to think how would we want to be treated if we found ourselves in the same seat that Gene Chandler finds himself in. No question he made mistakes. No question he's already been punished. He's a man that devoted an extensive part of his life to his community and the state and now he's been held up to ridicule. In the newspapers, comments made by people who don't know him, people who already have judgments about what we do here in Concord. The fact is we are talking about a man's life and the decision we make today will have a lasting impression on that. I think the Golden Rule is an appropriate way to look at it. A few years ago I found myself in a like situation. I sat on the other side of the wall and we in the Senate were asked to try the Chief Justice. Again, a man who spent his whole life in the public eye, who made mistakes. I could not vote that day, and I can not vote this day to expel him from his job or to expel Gene Chandler. I think that he's already been punished enough. How many sleepless nights has he had? How many hours has he thought about what transpired? I think one of the things in the report, and I did read it, that says it all to me, and understand this has been going on for weeks and months now, and as much scrutiny given to this as if it would be that we had the ax murderer before us. And it says in this report on page 1286, "The Committee found no evidence that Representative Chandler used legislative resources to raise funds or that any donor received any specific benefit as a result of making a corn roast gift." So, let's take a long serious look at this today and say, "Gene Chandler, you're our friend, we worked hard here, we recognize you've made mistakes like we all do but you are a human being like we all are," and let's apply the Golden Rule. Thank you.

Rep. Lockwood: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is without a doubt the saddest day in the seven years that I have been here. Although our political philosophies didn't always agree, Rep. Chandler has been nothing but helpful, courteous and friendly. I have spent many hours, like I'm sure as you all have, agonizing over the decision we have to make today. My heart tells me one thing while my head tells me another.

In listening to my constituents comments, I realize this is not an issue of personality, but an ethical issue which reflects on the whole political process. Gene does not deserve this, but Rep. Chandler does. I'm going to have to, very sadly agree with the Ethics Committee, all good people who have given long and thoughtful consideration to the issue. I'm sorry but I must vote "yes."

Rep. Rowe: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will be very brief. I have shortened what I am going to say to one or two minutes but I thought one or two of you might like to know how a judge looks at something like this as it goes into the sentencing mode. It is a tradition that's gone back hundreds and hundreds, if not thousands of years. A judge would look at a matter like this and look at it with two principles, two theories. One — the first one is penalty. The penalty has to be sufficient so that the actor will not repeat the crime. And two — message, there must be a message out to the same class of people so that they will not commit the same crime. Those two principles are very simple, very basic and both have to be looked at.

Now, I ask you to consider the first one, the penalty. 1) Gene Chandler has a criminal record, that's first. He's guilty of a misdemeanor. 2) He's been fined by the Court. Two. 3) He's been ordered to serve community service. 4) He's withdrawn from his Speaker's post. 5) He owes tens of thousands of dollars in attorney fees. 6) He's been subjected to nine months of humiliating publicity from newspapers, to television and radio. 7) He's already started paying back the money, over $250,000 it is my understanding, and 8) He must answer to us today. All of these have happened. Now, the message. Has the message gone out to the same classes of people? That's us, or those who are going to run for office. I suspect it has. I know it has. We could have a public hanging right there and it wouldn't be a stronger message going out to members of this legislature not to violate the Ethics laws, the campaign funding, the gift laws, even though a lot of them are ambiguous and contradictory.

So today I'm going to ask you to vote "red." I think enough has been enough. It has been fair and I will not repeat the point as to the fact that this has been appealed to a higher authority, but I do believe it has been appealed to a higher authority and that is the voters of his district. So, I ask you, please vote "red" on this motion. Thank you.

Rep. Hall: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am mindful of the children and youth in our schools and the kind of standards we want to set for our students. We want to teach them how to hold up ethical standards. We do expel some of the students who don't hold up ethical standards. This is an important issue for our whole society and the way the people in our society look at the New Hampshire House. And I urge you to support the Ethics Committee and vote "green."

Rep. Welch: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I don't take this day lightly but I rise to oppose accepting the report in question and I would like to explain why. And I think that we've heard some of the reasons already and this is not redundant, but I believe we are sent here to identify problems and consider solutions to those problems.

This report in my opinion identifies the problem. When we write our statutes they should be clear and should not have to be subject to interpretation. When we talk about how we conduct ourselves as we consider running for public office or as elected office holders, the standards should be so clear anyone can understand it. I further believe that any candidate for any public office or any public office holder should report any and all money, gifts, donations, etc. So long as we have not clarified and simplified our laws that we must go by in such a way, I cannot accept a report such as this.

The problem is simple. There are some of us that lacking the high profile may also be in violation. To make someone a scapegoat to impress our constituents is not the solution. We need to revisit our campaign laws and think about that. If you don't spend $500, you don't have to report what you've collected. Does that make sense? Not to me. We need to revisit the campaign laws and revise the statutes so that the ethics guidelines don't have to have 46 pages. If you receive money as a candidate or an office holder, report it. This should apply to all elected officials at every level of government. I might add, every branch.

Please reject this report so that we can consider another action. Thank you.

Rep. Timothy Robinson: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. There have been so many speakers I going to kind of speak off the top of my head. There are three codes that we live by. There's laws. There's morals. There's ethics. The law has done its duty. It fined the gentleman. It found him misdemeanor, whatever. We have not done anything to the individual. The courts did. If he had not run for office, if he had not been re-elected, he would still owe a fine, he would still owe the 200 hours of public service, etc. I've been holding different public offices since I got out of college in 1958, and out of the Army, and I have never taken any money from anybody except for campaign expenses, and that was very little, because the City Council voted to pay us so much and if I wasn't willing to do the job for that amount of money, I shouldn't have run for the office. I was on the School Board and they voted to spend so much money and if I wasn't willing to serve for that amount of money, I shouldn't have run for the office. This body has voted to pay us $100 a year and we have not seen it clear to raise that amount. And if you're not willing to serve for that $100 plus your mileage, and if you live in Concord I guess that isn't much, with Keene it's about $40 a day, then you shouldn't take the office. I have heard apologists over here say, well, you know if he hadn't taken $250, he wouldn't have had to report it. If he hadn't taken $50, he wouldn't have had to report it. He shouldn't have taken it. I don't care if he reported, I don't care if it was legal. If I worked for a company who lets me take time off to come over here and serve my state, and they came to me and said, "Tim, we're a hospital and we want you to vote a certain way on 214 or we're just going to have to fire you. Now, the fact that you have two kids in school, college, and you've got a mortgage, a car payment, don't let it bother you. Just vote your conscience, but if you vote a certain way, you're out of here." I would go home and discuss it with my wife. I would think about it and I probably would vote the way they wanted. Now, this gentleman has admitted that this is how he earned his living, taking money from lobbyists. What's the definition of a lobbyist? They're hired to present a point of view to sell us on voting in the manner to which their clients are paying them. Now, when they give me money and I am the Speaker of the House, and I say, "My goodness, the tobacco industry that's going to go before a certain committee, I know Joe Jones and he'd make a great chairman and the tobacco industry would love him. Now, Joe Smith, he wouldn't be so good, I think I'll put him on Human Resources somewhere so he won't be on that committee and come out with a decision they might not like." Now, how do I prove he did that? I don't know any way in hell, it's the old "Caesar's wife" – sure, she was chaste, and sure she was loyal to Caesar but she shouldn't be seen flirting with Brutus or Marc Antony or some other Roman who's a known rake. And if one of us is in cahoots and all our social life or all our money comes from lobbyists it shouldn't matter. If these lobbyists were smart, they'd go . . . say, I worked for the tobacco industry, so I go to every cigarette salesman, cigarette retailer, clerk in cigarette stores and I say, "Look, each one of you give this gentleman $50 and we're home free." He hasn't done anything illegal. Isn't that wonderful! Now, does he owe just as much to the cigarette industry? Probably. Is there any way we can prove it? No. Did he break the law? No. Did he do wrong? Yes. Was it unethical? What it comes down to here and what the public is going to say, "Well, they're for sale and we've always known it." And it isn't just in Taxachusetts. It's come up here and it's landed. And what I say is, I'm not interested in the law. I'm interested in are we ethical? You can't pass laws to prevent every breach of ethics or morals. You know it used to be against the law to kiss your wife in public on Sunday, but they found they couldn't enforce it and they did away with it. But it's still probably not a nice thing to do, especially if it's somebody else's wife, and you're in church. But passing a law didn't work. And passing a law saying you will be ethical, good luck. The gentleman has not suffered any punishment at our hands. If he had not run for office, he would still owe the $2,000, he would still owe the 100 hours of public service. Now, if we want him here and we say, "Not only is he here, he's still chairman of a very powerful committee." You on this side have to live with that and if you want to, so be it. I don't and I'm going to vote the man should leave. Ethics, ethics, ethics, ethics. Thank you.

Rep. Patten: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise today in opposition to the Ethics Committee report of expulsion. There's been a lot said about taking the man away from the punishment. Does our justice system remove the man or woman from our consideration when judging or ruling on his or her penalty? The answer is no. Does our justice system listen to the remorse that happens with a man as he has done his mistake? Rep. Chandler abided that he did it. He said up front "Yes, the buck stops here, this happened."

I want to tell you that I stand today with his constituents in Carroll County, District 1, as I stood with him yesterday on the State House steps, and I ask you to vote against the committee report of expulsion. Thank you.

Rep. Pantelakos: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Honorable members of the House. I rise to support the Ethics Committee. I have served in this House with great pride for 24 years. I have watched for nine months with great disbelief that the Speaker of the House that I was a member of being up on charges and found guilty. I thought, "This can't be right. How could he make such a big mistake like this?" A person that I am supposed to ask the question and get a truthful answer. Someone I am supposed to respect because he is the leader of the House. Someone who has all kinds of lawyers at his fingertips. Remember, this has brought disgrace to the other 399 members of this House. Everyone in this House should ask themselves, "Would I do this as a Speaker? Would I bring this disgrace to this House?"

I feel that the gentleman from Bartlett should not have run for re-election and put this House in this position. I realize that he has suffered but that is the penalty you pay when committing a crime. Like or dislike is not an issue here. The issue is, do you have respect for the office you hold? Are you proud to be elected by the people from your district? Do you respect this House?

Maybe the people of Bartlett did stand behind him and re-elect him, but the fact of the matter is, he did wrong. Now it is our job to do the job we were elected to do. Anyone that knows me knows I don't like to lift the carpet and sweep dirt under the rug. If we don't do our job today, we are lifting the carpet and sweeping our dirt under it. I hope you will respect this House and your position as I do and press the green button. Thank you.

Rep. Stepanek: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise today in opposition to the Committee report. I'm going to approach this from a little different angle. In addition to serving in this honorable House, I also served on the New Hampshire Supreme Court Professional Conduct Committee for the last four years. So, I'm very familiar with ethical violations and ethical penalties. The way we do it in the professional conduct committee is we first determine what the violation is and vote on that and then we determine what the penalty is. One of the very important things that we consider when we consider a penalty is was the action a malicious action, was it intentionally done and has the individual accepted responsibility for his actions and shown remorse. In reviewing the committee report which I am very familiar with these type of reports, the committee apparently has considered only the maximum penalty of expulsion. I haven't looked at any of the ... it appears at least on the surface that they haven't looked at any of the other issues or the other penalties that are available to them and they haven't given any real consideration to the fact that this gentleman has shown remorse, has accepted responsibility for his actions, and based on my experience on the professional conduct committee, I believe that we should take that into consideration and therefore, I would urge you all to vote down the committee report so we could consider a lesser penalty and take these other factors into consideration. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Tahir: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Honorable members of the House. It's my fifth year. My first year I was told to sit, relax, listen and learn. I have been studying certain things, I'm a civil engineer, I'm not an attorney. Any time I have a problem or don't understand, I go to Legislative Services, they try to help me the most they can. One of the things I have noticed is this ethical book, the ethics booklet. About half an hour ago with another honorable member of this House, I went to the Legislative Services and I asked them to clarify something because too many things have been talked about. And this is RSA 14-B on page 5, Item (2) it says "Such ratification need not occur during the biennium in which the complaint was submitted, but may be considered and acted upon by the general court in the next succeeding session;" and I was confused as the others were that why were we talking about '98 and 2000? And the answer I got was, "We are confused, we cannot give you anything substantial."

Several honorable members of this House have spoken in favor of the motion. They talked about ethics. What ethics are we talking about? The ethics which we believe. Ethics. We talk about taking campaign contributions. We are the judge of our actions. When was the last time the taxpayers approved for us to take a free lunch, free dinner, and free breakfast? Does that amount to anything? You play poverty at the same time you are taking money, and service and ethics. I spoke with a couple of honorable legislators of the other party during the last one hour in hallways. It seems to me they are bloodthirsty to get this man who has given 22 years of his life. He made mistakes, he admitted to it. We, just spent, this House approved the construction of a YDC center on North River Road in Manchester, $33 million!

What is the intent, as I understand, is to rehab those young men and women who happened to make a mistake. We spent $33 million for the last two years. This gentleman has made a mistake. He has paid the price. Where are we? What we are, we are human beings first, we are Americans next, then we are Democrats, Republicans, Rhinos and Dinos. What I beg you to do is look into your souls and your hearts and see, does this gentleman deserve forgiveness, no matter what religions you follow you are taught and trained to forgiveness. Forgive instead of revenge. Revenge takes us nowhere. Love instead of hatred. Try to capitalize on the experience this gentleman has. I have yet to see in my five years, short period, an honorable member who knows so much about every little, medium-size and large project on the highway, Public Works and Highways Committee. He's very articulate. He's very honorable to me and I will vote to turn this report recommendation down and I will vote to favor him, to keep him in this House as an honorable representative.

In my opinion, this House does not have the jurisdiction or authority to expel a person who has been elected by his loving constituents. Thank you. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Hagan: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Honorable colleagues. I rise to speak today because I had a couple of freshman come up to me early on in the day and say, "So, you're going to support the Ethics Committee, right? You're going to be voting for that." I wasn't going to speak and I decided I better because I don't want anyone assuming I'm going to vote a certain way. I do not support the Ethics Committee recommendation to expel the representative from Bartlett. And I would just quote from Henry Ward Beecher, "Hold yourself responsible for a higher standard than anybody else expects of you. Never excuse yourself. Never pity yourself. Be a hard taskmaster to yourself and be lenient with everybody else." Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Paul Smith: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand before you all today, my honorable colleagues, in the attempt to urge you to vote for keeping Gene Chandler right where he's been voted to be, here in Concord. Some of you will note yesterday there was a rally by North Country residents who voted for Gene knowing full well what was impending against him, urging us to keep him here. I will vote today to do what I've been asked to do by his constituents. Vice versa I will not do what some in this body who have personal vendettas against the man will ask you to do. I say vendetta because there are some in this body who absolutely despise the man who has become a mentor to me, who would gladly give up their own seats if it meant the personal defeat of Gene Chandler.

In the late fall I wrote a letter to incoming representatives because of a smear campaign that was being waged against Rep. Chandler. In this letter I mentioned several facts, chief of which is that Gene Chandler has always stood up and done the right thing. He did it when he stepped away from the Speaker's race, much to my chagrin, and he did it when the former ethics chairman personally co-authored our new sexual harassment policy. Rep. Chandler has pled guilty to a misdemeanor and has been duly sentenced for the monetary error which the ethics charge has been based upon. My friends, this is a charge that stays on his personal record forever. Contrast that with some in this body right now who have had multiple DUIs, who may have served out a term "honorably" even though they did not do so. Look to our own Executive Council. These same allegations abound yet nothing is done. New laws have been crafted and justice has been served, so why add insult to injury by expelling one of the most honored statesmen New Hampshire has ever had. The people of Carroll County knew of this charge being filed against Rep. Chandler but he was still overwhelmingly elected to this term in the New Hampshire House. Who are we to ignore those voters?

I ask you to remember that as you'll hear others who will try to discredit the integrity of Gene Chandler who will only succeed in espousing their own ignorance. Remember you're not answerable not to the Governor, Secretary of State, the leadership of either party, but to the voters and I for one will not ignore the voters of Carroll County. I urge you not to do so either. Thank you.

Rep. Itse: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Honorable representatives. I rise against the committee recommendation. This is not about Gene, Rep. Chandler, it is not about whether he has suffered enough or suffered too much. It is about one thing, and one thing only. It is about the constitution. I'm going to give you a couple of definitions, Black's Law, sixth edition, page 763, "Enclusio unius est exclusio alterius." For those of you like me who did not attend a Catholic school, I will translate: "That which is included, excludes all alternatives." Our constitution gives very specific causes for the removal of a legislator. The inclusion of those causes excludes everything else. The qualifications include things like age, residency, and by extension of voting privilege being convicted of treason, bribery or violating election law and explicitly Part II, Article 96 which is so important, I want to read it to you. "No person shall ever be admitted to hold a seat in the legislature or any office of trust or importance under this government who in the due course of law has been convicted of bribery or corruption in obtaining an election or appointment." Rep. Chandler has done neither. But I want you to think about the fact that the people who founded this state sat there and thought, "OK, what crime is sufficient that we're going to prevent anybody from holding a legislative seat." Did they say murder? No. Of course, back then most murderers wouldn't have been around long enough to hold office. But, did they say robbery? No. Adultery? No. Or any of a long list of crimes against persons. They did not include them and every subsequent constitutional convention either by commission or omission has had the same judgment. Why? Because the will of the voters is sacrosanct in a republic.

If we override the will of the people in electing the representative they choose, we will be giving up our republic. That is what you are charged with, you have to make that decision. Thank you. Rep. Emerson: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and fellow colleagues. I'm here today to speak to you about my friend, Rep. Chandler. I was not a chairman or vice chairman of any committee, I wasn't in leadership and I didn't even have a good parking space, but I want you to know that I was a freshman and he was the kindest, fairest Speaker there was. He went out of his way to be helpful and courteous and friendly. I just want to tell you that Rep. Chandler had his plate full when all this was going on. Being Speaker is a full time job but besides that his wife was dying of cancer, his father was sick and died, he himself had his hip replaced and his mother was desperately ill. That's enough to drive anyone crazy. Hasn't he been punished enough? I want to tell you that I have a quote that I try to live by, "There but by the grace of God go I," or "If you are without sin, you can cast the first stone." Enough is enough. Part I, Article 18 of the New Hampshire Constitution, Punishment to be appropriate with the crime. I hope you vote no on this and thank you.

Rep. Hirschmann: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and that is West Manchester, that's a totally separate place, separate district. I appear before you as a freshman legislator, someone that came to Concord on a white horse, not on a high horse. My horse is just as short as yours. But my interest is in the uniform application of justice in ethics in government. I speak today to say that the scarlet letter had been placed a long time ago on Gene Chandler and by his own admission of fault, he is to be released today in whatever punishment is deemed fit. I do not believe that expulsion from this House should happen. Possibly admonishment. He's already been admonished everywhere possibly know to man in New Hampshire. And possibly censure of some sort. So there has to be some type of amendment that has to happen.

I sit on the Election Law Committee and we are diligently debating the same panel of people or body to look over the other house of government, the executive branch. So I would hope that that comes forward from our committee so that there is uniform application of laws in government that all houses are held accountable. Governor Lynch early this year said he was going to take high ethics, the high road and by God, I want to see that happen.

The senatorial district that I live in or I serve in as, I'm not allowed to say names, Mr. Speaker, so I'll say the seat is number 20 in the Senate, is West Manchester. And I took a look at what the charges are against Gene Chandler. Prohibited activities likely to become before the legislature, business likely to come before us. Well, my senator accepted money from the New Hampshire Gaming Association, Verizon, I think we're talking about poles and conduits here, KeySpan, Concord Bingo, RJ Reynolds Tobacco Company, the medical society, trial lawyers, thoroughbred racing, Bruce Berke, pharmaceutical manufacturers, in fact, just last week Senate Bill 30 by this individual went through about pills going to youths for stopping pregnancies, and the pharmacy association. My point is, I hope this cloud that has been here long before I got here goes away and not on the shoulders of Gene Chandler on the shoulders on everybody in this room that took money from any of these people that voted on any of these issues. If you did, shut your button and run because you're next.

Rep. Jasper: Thank you, Representative, I appreciate you yielding to my question. Are you referring to political gifts or personal gifts, and whether you and I think that there should be a differential, do you understand that we have established in statute and in ethics guidelines the difference between taking political contributions and contributions which may be used for personal benefit?

Rep. Hirschman: Through the fine work of our Election Law Committee and Attorney General Kelly Ayotte, we've already passed out of our committee and through the House to the Senate that no cash gifts should be accepted by any legislator of any house or anyone in government for that matter. As to campaign contributions from the gaming industry, the tobacco industry, Verizon and the rest of them, you should be abstaining from a lot of votes.

Rep. Stephanie Eaton: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Forget-me-nots are for not only beauty but for steadfastness. And the bottom line question today is, "Why are we voting?" Is it to punish or is it to hopefully help to change behavior? I think there are two places that we can probably look. One is to the Bible. You have the Old Testament and you have the New Testament. The Old Testament is pretty rigid, an eye for an eye. The New Testament somehow we learned from the Old Testament, in living that the better way is to have some mercy and have that as part of your justice so that you change behavior and you can work together and go forward. This has been adopted, I believe, by the legal profession as well. Because I remember when you first start to either the lawyers or the judges start to interpret the law, they go strictly by the letter of the book, by the black letter law. However, over time you start to realize that you are dealing, that the book is dealing with people and when you deal with people, it's not perfect.

And with that reality in mind, I think what we need to look to right now is that I witnessed a change in Rep. Chandler over the last months and I believe that there is a change there. Certainly this issue has put us all on notice so that we will not hopefully have to go through something like this. For this stream of logic and this evolvement of wisdom, I hope you will join me in pushing the red button. Thank you.

Rep. Kennedy: I shall try to make this as short as possible. I have the duty this year to serve on the Election Law Committee as one of my predecessors here has said. We've discussed these laws as to who can do what, when, where and how. They're a mess. Anybody who doesn't think so has got a serious, serious problem. Before us came the Attorney General of this state, a very nice young lady. And I asked her a number of questions. One of which was "Is there problem with Mr. Chandler other than breaking the rules we perhaps....there was no indication whatsoever of corruption at all, period. End of it. Two. I then asked her very simply, "If one of our brethren going home had been hit by a car, hurt badly, placed in the hospital, they had no medical insurance to speak of, their homes would have gone, their car was destroyed, would it have been wrong for us to pass the hat to try and help the fallen brother?" She said, "Oh, no that would be fine." I said, "Well, good." And then after about 30 seconds, she is by the way although a very nice young lady, she's also a lawyer, she said, "Well maybe they should set up a trust."

Well, I've know Gene Chandler for a dozen years and I will place my trust there. All I can say is place your trust the same way and so vote it be. Thank you.

Rep. Pepino: Mr. Speaker. Members of the House. I'm just going to give you few little comments, no speech, nothing alone. I'll start at the beginning where the minority said there was no information here. The cameras are here today, it's been in the papers for eight months, we've watched the radio, tv, we've listened to everything. We've got a report today in our journal, we have that. They want a member of the committee here. We don't need a member of the committee. He voted against Mr. Chandler. Now, in the paper last year the first time this appeared, the minority leader at that time says, "This has been going on for decades here," and he dropped it and never said one word after that. Our former senator, which is a congressman now, he said that when he was a senator every time he turned around somebody had a dance or a barbeque over there. Then during the campaign last year for speaker, they had a campaign against our speaker at that time up in the North Country, the papers, the radio, the whole bit. His people still elected him. They were here yesterday. They elected him. So what I'm going to ask you to do is vote with me, press the red button and see what it's all about. That's my comments. Thank you.

Rep. Soltani: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I guess my reputation precedes me and that's not a bad thing. Mr. Speaker, I wanted to speak because I literally made up my mind this morning about this issue. It's a very important task that we are given to unseat a person who is elected by their constituents. But that person has admitted to wrongdoing. Mr. Speaker, in arriving at a decision I had to draw on my personal experiences, on what I know, what I've been trained in. We are not in the guilt or innocence phase. We are in the sentencing phase. Gene Chandler, Rep. Gene Chandler, has accepted responsibility. And now from my vote today on I have to be able to live with my conscience. I have been accused of being harsh in my interpretation of ethics codes. And I have been accused of being harsh in my interpretation and application of the ethics opinions issued by our Ethics Committee in the past. I remain critical. I don't think our ethics laws or opinions are as good as they should be. They are a poor guide. I can stand here today and tell you that since I was elected in 1998 until now, I have not so much as accepted a lunch without paying for it. I have not so much as accepted anything without having paid for it. If I'm invited to a meeting of dentists and they don't tell me what my tab is, I tell them I can't go. That's how seriously I take it.

But let's look at Gene Chandler's predicament now. One. One of the things that we as lawyers look for in the sentencing phase is admission of responsibility, acceptance of responsibility. He has not only accepted responsibility, he has more than accepted responsibility, he has offered to pay back. Two. Cooperation with the authorities. He has pled guilty to a criminal offense. He has paid a fine and he has accounted whatever sources that he had for those monies. Three. Collateral consequences. A man of Gene Chandler's stature, the Speaker of the House, has suffered humiliation for nine months. During the same period he's been under the microscope by the criminal justice system and by the ethics system of this House. He has suffered collateral consequences by a criminal penalty and also, by a lesser penalty which should be imposed. Finally. Is he in need of rehabilitation? I don't think so. He's the last one I would want rehabilitated. And has he served properly? This appears to be the only blemish in his record of 24 years and that should be taken into consideration. The sentence must fit the individual and the offense.

For all these reasons I urge you to vote down the recommendation of the Ethics Committee on expulsion, but accept its recommendation which Rep. Chandler has admitted to violating the code. From that point on we could move to an appropriate measure to be taken as to correction and reprimand, if any is necessary. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Whalley: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Gene Chandler is my friend but I'm not here today to talk to you about friendship because I think are many in the Hall who would consider themselves a friend of Gene Chandler. I have served in this legislature for 13 years and I will tell you that I love this institution and this House even more than I value my friendship with the representative from Bartlett. Some have tried to make this a partisan issue not limited to the people who are sitting in this Hall and I would suggest to you that I would be standing here today if anyone of you or if any member who I have ever served with was in the same predicament as the member from Bartlett under these same circumstances. I did not count how many people spoke today on either side but I know it's been plenty and I'm going to be somewhat repetitious and I apologize.

Over the time that I have been here, we have had, this is the third member who has been brought before the House with an ethics complaint that the House had to decide upon. I think that there are distinct differences between the two members who have come before the House in my time here and Rep. Chandler. Many speakers have hit upon that difference. We have a member who made mistakes and has taken responsibility. He has apologized and I believe he's attempted to remedy the situation and will continue to do that. That is in stark contrast with members who used their office to their advantage, brought before the Ethics Committee and the Ethics Committee making a recommendation to this body because those former members were in denial right up to the last moment. That for me is a huge difference. That for me is why this body should not expel the member from Bartlett. Now, I know there are a number of bills before the Election Law Committee because I happen to serve on that committee. It's interesting to me that those bills were filed this year in this session and I don't recall that we had bills of this nature in the recent past that came before our committee. Those bills were all filed to the best of my knowledge after October. I would suggest to you that in October we began a new chapter in the history of this legislature in October. It was due to the events that surround the representative from Bartlett. I think it's inappropriate here today to try to blame anybody else for Rep. Chandler's actions and he has not attempted to do that in any way. We have significant short comings but that doesn't change the fact that the member from Bartlett made those mistakes. I believe that this legislature will begin to correct those mistakes that we have made in terms of the conflicts and the contradictions that might exist. But they are not excuses. And for me, expulsion is not the appropriate action because we have a member who has taken responsibility and has apologized.

I have wrestled with this as much as anybody. I may be as much a friend to the member from Bartlett as anybody in this Hall and I may be due to my previous position as aware of the events after the fact as anybody. And I have been aware of what the member from Bartlett has attempted to do to resolve the problem. But I know that my respect for this House forces me to take an action and although I think that expelling the member is inappropriate, Mr. Speaker, if this ratification is not adopted by the House, I wish to be recognized to make a motion that the report of the Ethics Committee be accepted and that the action that we take against the member be one of reprimand. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Weyler: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Fellow members. Our form of government can only exist with public trust. The public must believe that our collective decision is in the best interest of the majority of the people. It is that public trust that is our subject here now. Last fall when the years of fundraising first came to light some of the reactions we heard were, "You're all selling us out." I thought it terribly unfair that we all get painted with the same brush, especially when I know the personal sacrifices that most make to be here. Yes, any one of us can make a mistake but generally the more experience we have, the fewer mistakes. But there is not just one error involved, but three specific violations of the ethics rules and you can read them in the report. It is most egregious to the public trust to learn that one of us is soliciting cash from lobbyists. Those lobbyists are hired by business interests. They may want results that while profitable for their employers may be costly to the public.

The committee's recommendation to expel was more than what I thought they might recommend for I did not recall hearing such a report in the past. I have since learned that just last term that recommendation was made on another member's discipline case. Since the member resigned, the report was not published in the Calendar nor was further action taken in the House. It's important that our actions be consistent. Every member should be treated in the same manner. No one of us is above the law nor should any one of us have a hasty action against him.

Penalties are designed to change behavior. Some 10 or 12 years ago a member was censured for abusing his position in attacking a probate judge. It was not effective in changing his behavior. Nor do I believe some minor thing would be effective in this instance. Based upon the member's testimony, which we haven't read, despite his admissions he talked about the laws were in conflict, they were vague, he had bad advice. Yes, there was admission. There was not contrition. Some have brought up the point of the misdemeanor. Does that mean if I get a misdemeanor, I will be thrown out of the House? Let's not equate a speeding ticket or a DUI with this particular misdemeanor. There are laws written very specifically to guide the actions of elected officials and for both that misdemeanor and the ethics charges speak to the betrayal of the public trust. We can have sympathy for a member. We can have compassion for the member. But in the final analysis, we have an oath to serve the people and an obligation to earn their confidence in our government. The people know there has been wrongdoing as attested to by the Attorney General and the Ethics Committee. People know that tens of thousands of dollars were raised from people with vested interests in our actions. The money was raised for the member who had the most influence on our actions. The amounts increased in each succeeding year. A member of the public might conclude that the contributors were pleased.

There's been much discussion about the election in November of 2004 that should have negated all of this action. The action of the Ethics Committee did not take place until after that election. Nor were some of those things brought to light until then. This is the first time the House has formally had an opportunity to take any action to enforce the ethics rules on this member. How will you answer those members of the public? Or the next candidate who runs against you when the question is asked, "Why didn't you take the action recommended by the Legislative Ethics Committee?" Thank you

Vote on adoption of Committee Report with sanction of expulsion roll call Y-172 N-189 – report not adopted

Debate on sanction of reprimand

Rep. Whalley: Mr. Speaker. I move that the House accept the Ethics Committee report and issue a sanction of reprimand against the member from Bartlett, Gene Chandler.

Rep. Jasper: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I recognize that the House by a somewhat narrow margin decided not to endorse the recommendation of the Legislative Ethics Committee and I'm here on somewhat of a fine point. The fine point being in the hierarchy it is expulsion, censure and reprimand. I think that given the fact that in that hierarchy you would be saying that this is the lowest possible penalty and that if it is done again then censure is the next step. I think while most of the members of this House recognize the severity of what went on, censure is the strongest measure that this body can send at this time. I would urge you to defeat this and accept a substitute motion of censure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. DeJoie: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I thank the member for taking my question. For my edification can you explain what a reprimand actually is? As well as what a censure might be?

Rep. Jasper: There really is no good definition. They are both rebukes from the body saying that you created an error but there are no penalties that are attached to either of them, there are no sanctions, if you will. It is merely the hierarchy. Now, there are some in Congress if you are reprimanded, you need not be present. Under censure in Congress, the member has to stand at the well and receive the censure. I don't think we have any procedures in place here. That's really the only difference I am able to find but again, no sanctions attached, merely the hierarchy. If we wish to send the strongest measure that we can now, we will censure and not reprimand.

Debate on amendment for sanction of censure

Rep. Soltani: Mr. Speaker, Thank you. I move to amend the motion to adopt the finding of the Legislative Ethics Committee and impose the sanction of censure on Rep. Chandler. Mr. Speaker, censure is one step below expulsion. Reprimand is generally non-public, although in New Hampshire House we haven't had the occasion to use them very often, it is the message that goes along. A censure is a public, disapproval of the conduct of an individual member. A reprimand is less than that, it is just a reminder not do it again. I think in this sentencing phase, this calls for a censure one step below expulsion but one step above "just don't do it again." Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Rep. Hess: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Fellow members, throughout this body. In the course of 37 years experience practicing law, 7 as a prosecutor, 30 on the other side of the aisle, in the process of serving 2 years as a military judge on foreign soil, one of the things that I know, as does anyone in the practice of law and any jury and anyone who has served on a jury, as I hope many of you have, is that one very critical factor comes into consideration not on the issue of guilt or innocence but on the issue of what is appropriate in terms of punishment. That factor is character. It is reputation. It is a history of positive or lack of public service. It is an indication of willingness to sacrifice for the greater good. It is evidence of standing up and being counted when it would be so easy to do otherwise.

The member from Bartlett has all of those characteristics and many more that do not come to mind at the present time. That is why I rise in opposition to this motion and urge you to vote it down, the amendment, excuse me, so that we can proceed to the underlying motion.

In determining what is appropriate penalty for a transgressor to pay, ethically, morally, legally, traditionally, religiously, we are guided by three principles. The first is punishment. Vindictiveness is another phrase that is used for that or retribution. Retribution, punishment, vindictiveness is the single factor of punishment that we read about in the early books of the Old Testament. It is the oldest and furthest removed of reasons for inflicting a punishment on an individual for transgressions. The honorable member from Amherst has cited seven reasons, seven punishments that Rep. Chandler has already suffered but he neglected to indicate that he will continue to suffer many of those liabilities for the rest of his life. He has been punished more than any of us will ever know.

A second reason to inflict punishment or sanction on a transgressor is as a deterrent so that others do not do the same thing as the transgressor did. Does anyone of us need any more of a deterrent than what has happened in the last eight months to know that this is not going to happen again? That none of us are going to do anything like this again and none of our successors will? The answer to that question I think is absolutely clear and unequivocal.

The third and final reason for imposing sanctions is rehabilitation. Is there anyone in this chamber who really believes Speaker Chandler, Rep. Chandler has not gone through all of the steps of rehabilitation, admission, contrition, I believe, although another member says not. Public steps of apology. Public service and a commitment to ensuring that this will not happen again. Fellow members, I urge you to vote against the pending amendment and proceed with the underlying motion of a reprimand. Thank you.

Chandler I call you here to inform you that the House has accepted the report of the Ethics Committee and they have recommended the penalty of censure. You are hereby censured. Do you wish to say a few words?

Rep. Chandler: No, not at this time, thank you.

Speaker Scamman: Thank you. The Chair would like to say I want to commend you all for being very courteous through the whole process. It was a well-structured debate on both sides. SB 111, relative to persons conducting securities broker-dealer and investment advisor businesses. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Charles L. Clark for Commerce: This bill clarifies the requirements regarding insurance and securities disclosures given to consumers in advertising. Specifically it exempts disclosure in media, television and billboard advertising when no specific product is offered to the consumer. The securities bureau gave assurances that this provision is not intended to apply to retirement plan administration that is required by the federal government. Vote 18-0.

Amendment (1444h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

I Securities; Licensing Requirements; Certain Advertising Excepted. Amend RSA 421-B:6, V(b) to read as follows:

(b) It is prohibited for any branch office or agent of a broker-dealer or investment adviser to conduct a securities or investment advisory business in this state under any name other than that of the broker-dealer or investment adviser with which the branch office is associated or agent is licensed. If more than one business enterprise is conducted from a branch office location, disclosures shall clearly ~~and equally~~ set forth what business activity is conducted by each organization and each licensed agent's relationship to each organization; provided, however, that this requirement shall not apply to television, radio, or billboard advertising that pertains exclusively to a non-securities product.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill prohibits any branch office or agent of a broker-dealer or investment advisor from conducting a securities or investment advisory business under any name other than that of the broker-dealer or investment advisor with which it is associated. This bill also exempts television, radio, and billboard advertising from the requirement that it set forth the business activity conducted and certain agency relationships when the advertising pertains to a non-securities product.

SB 80, permitting the Emerald Lake village district to enact and enforce regulations to protect its public water supply and to have a health officer. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE
Rep. Robert W. Brundige for Municipal and County Government: This bill would allow the Emerald Lake Village District to have authority to institute enforcement of any and all state laws that directly or indirectly protect public water supplies or their groundwater or surface water sources that, in this instance, includes over 1600 acres that is privately owned and outside the village district boundaries. RSA 485:48 sets up the procedures by which the Department of Environmental Services (DES) institutes a wellhead protection program in conjunction with the local community. RSA 483-B sets up procedures for shoreland protection for local land use board's adoption. RSA 485-C sets up the procedures to have the office of state planning assist municipalities to regulate and protect groundwater. This bill as originally proposed would have transferred all this local authority from the town of Hillsborough to the Emerald Lake Village District with no vote of the taxpayers in the town of Hillsborough. This bill also requested authority for the district to enforce state statutes for the control of junk yards and automotive recycling yards per RSA 236:90-129. This bill also sought a health officer position that would be deemed a deputy health officer of the town of Hillsborough with all the powers of a health officer within the Emerald Lake Village District boundaries. RSA 147:1 sets up the procedures where the health officer of a town makes rules and regulations with the approval of the governing body that are recorded by the town clerk and published in a town wide newspaper and posted in two public places permanently. The committee determined that any town health officer may employ as many assistants as deemed necessary per RSA 147:5. The committee feels that the Emerald Lake Village District would only need to place an article on the village district's warrant to appropriate the necessary funds to support the position of a deputy health officer as an employee of the town. This being said the committee feels that the bill is unnecessary. Vote 14-0.

SB 127-FN, relative to the regional community-technical college system's acquisition of the building currently leased from the Pease development authority. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT
Rep. James B. Rausch for Public Works and Highways: Section 1 of this legislation authorizes the Regional Community Technical Colleges to purchase the building at 320 Corporate Drive, Portsmouth, NH from the Pease Development Authority (PDA) for a sum not to exceed $3,800,000. It also stipulates that prior to the building acquisition the PDA and Regional Community Technical College shall enter into a land lease agreement for a term of not less than 50 years for the 13 acres of land associated with 320 Corporate Drive. The annual lease shall be $13,000 per acre and after 10 years will be adjusted by the CPI for each 5 year period thereafter. Section 1, additionally, makes provisions for a building and land lease should the building purchase not occur on or before July 1, 2005. The lease agreement in this case shall be $675,000 per year. It is important to know that the money for the building purchase, land lease and provisional lease should the purchase not occur on July 1st are all in exchange for the state reducing the PDA's debt owed to the state relative to start-up funding costs incurred by the state. That debt balance of interest and principle is currently $21,127,901. Also, the land lease is necessary because federal requirements for support of the airport do not allow for the sale of real estate at the PDA. Section 2 of the legislation transfers the Regional Community Technical College campus from Stratham to Pease on or before July 1, 2009. It also stipulates that the Stratham campus be sold for not less than fair market value. The transfer of the campuses shall have Capital Budget Overview Committee review every 6 months until the transfer is complete. The real estate sale shall be subject to approval of the Long Range Capital Planning and Utilization Committee. Section 5 allows the library construction funds, originally appropriated for Stratham, to be transferred to the Pease campus for the purpose of a library expansion, academic program support and critical maintenance. Section 6 makes specific references to extending three lapse dates to June 30, 2007 for the capital appropriations needed to accomplish the purpose in Section 5. Section 7 allows the Community Technical College to use these funds at their discretion subject to approval of the Capital Budget Overview Committee. The committee felt strongly that moving the Community Technical College from Stratham to Pease and expanding the Pease campus is necessary. Sections 5, 6 and 7 are needed to upgrade the building at Pease as part of relocating the Stratham campus. This amendment in its entirety is structured to accomplish the task of merging two campuses into one for a more economic and efficient community technical college system. This amendment received unanimous support from the committee. Vote 16-0.

Amendment (1570h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the department of regional community-technical colleges acquisition of the building currently leased from the Pease development authority and relative to transferring the Stratham campus of the regional community-technical colleges to Pease.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Acquisition of Property by the Department of Regional Community-Technical Colleges.

Notwithstanding RSA 12-G:8, V or any other provision of law, the Pease development authority shall transfer the building located on the premises at 320 Corporate Drive, Portsmouth, New Hampshire, to the department of regional community-technical colleges and the department of regional community-technical colleges shall acquire the building located on the premises at 320 Corporate Drive, Portsmouth, New Hampshire, from the Pease development authority for fair market appraised value, not to exceed $3,800,000. In exchange, the state shall reduce by $3,800,000 the Pease development authority's debt owed to the state relative to start-up funding costs under RSA 12-G:34; and 1991, 355:110, as amended by 1992, 260:11; 1992, 260:12, as amended by 1993, 358:3; 1994, 415:1; and 1995, 307:10. Prior to acquisition by the department of regional community-technical colleges, the Pease development authority shall obtain required federal approval for the sale proceeds to be used to reduce the Pease development authority's outstanding debt to the state.

II. Prior to acquisition by the department of regional community-technical colleges under paragraph 1, and notwithstanding RSA 4:39-b or any other provision of law, the department of regional community-technical colleges and the Pease development authority shall negotiate and execute a ground lease for a term of not less than 50 years with an option to extend the term of the lease, for the 12.79 acres on which the building known as 320 Corporate Drive is located. In exchange, the state shall reduce by the amount of the lease payments the Pease development authority's debt owed to the state relative to start-up funding costs under RSA 12-G:34; and 1991, 355:110, as amended by 1992, 260:11; 1992, 260:12, as amended by 1993, 358:3; 1994, 415:1; and 1995, 307:10. Ground lease payments shall be calculated as follows:

(a) For years 1 through 10, the annual lease payment amount shall be $13,000 per acre, which also shall be the "base rate" for years 11 through 15 under subparagraph (b).

(b) For years 11 through 15, and for each 5-year period thereafter, the lease payment shall be a fixed annual payment equal to the base rate for the immediately preceding 5-year period, plus a CPI adjustment for the preceding 5-year period, provided that in no event shall the CPI adjustment be calculated based upon a CPI increase of more than 3 percent for any single year, and the aggregate CPI adjustment shall not exceed 12 percent for any 5-year period. The lease payment shall be adjusted as provided under this subparagraph in years 11, 16, and every 5 years thereafter for the duration of the lease term.

(c) In this paragraph, "CPI" means the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers applicable to the Boston area (all items 1982-1984=100), published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Department of Labor.

III. If the department of regional community-technical colleges cannot acquire the building known as 320 Corporate Drive on or before July 1, 2005, then notwithstanding RSA 4:39-b or any other provision of law, and in lieu of the ground lease under paragraph II, the department of regional community-technical colleges and the Pease development authority shall enter into a lease agreement for the entirety of the building and 12.79 acres known as 320 Corporate Drive for the sum of $675,000 per year. The lease term shall be until such time as the acquisition by the department of regional community-technical colleges is complete. In exchange, the state shall reduce by $675,000 per year, starting with the commencement of the lease on July 1, 2005, the Pease development authority's outstanding debt to the state relative to start-up funding costs under RSA 12-G:34; and 1991, 355:110, as amended by 1992, 260:11; 1992, 260:12, as amended by 1993, 358:3; 1994, 415:1; and 1995, 307:10. If the department of regional community-technical colleges acquires the building known as 320 Corporate Drive after July 1 but before June 30 in any fiscal year, the debt reduction due to the authority for the sale of the building shall be reduced by prorating the lease payments made in advance during the fiscal year.

2 Transfer of Regional Community-Technical College Campus from Stratham to Pease. On or before July 1, 2009, the department of regional community-technical colleges shall close the Stratham campus and transfer all educational and administrative functions to either the Pease campus, located at 320 Corporate Drive, Portsmouth or other regional community-technical college campuses. The commissioner of the department of regional community-technical colleges and president of the regional community-technical college at Stratham, or their designees, shall meet with the capital budget overview committee within 6 months of the effective date of this act to review and secure preliminary approval of the exit strategy for the Stratham campus. Officials from the department of regional community-technical colleges shall provide the capital budget overview committee with a progress report on the transfer from Stratham to Pease every 6 months, until the transfer is complete. As part of the relocation process, the Stratham campus shall be sold for not less than its fair market appraised value, subject to the approval of the long range capital planning and utilization committee. Proceeds from the sale shall be used, subject to the approval of the capital budget overview committee, to reduce outstanding state bond obligations for capital projects located on the campuses of the regional community-technical colleges.

3 Department of Regional Community-Technical Colleges to Explore Aviation Programs Meeting Approval of the Federal Aviation Administration. The department of regional community-technical colleges shall explore the possible establishment of a Federal Aviation Administration (FAA)-approved aviation related career program or curriculum at 320 Corporate Drive, Portsmouth, New Hampshire that would assist the FAA in accomplishing its mission and enhance the possibility that such program would yield a favorable decision by the FAA to eliminate or reduce the state's lease obligation at that location.

4 Regional Community-Technical Colleges; Reference Change. Amend RSA 188-F:2 to read as follows:

SB 108-FN, relative to newborn screening tests and fees for newborn screening tests. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Susan W. Almy for Ways and Means: This bill enables adding five tests to the newborn screening panel, at a cost of an additional $17 per newborn, paid by the hospitals, which expenditure is expected to save a great deal more in future medical costs. The hospitals, patient advocates, and the Department of Health and Human Services are in complete agreement on the need for and funding of the tests. The bill also allows DHHS to write rules within the Joint Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules (JLCAR) process to streamline all future test and fee approvals, and this step has been approved already by the House and Senate. This committee amendment addresses the financial mechanism. It specifies a dedicated fund to which the newborn screening fees will be sent, and requires a public hearing before new tests or fees shall be set. The Legislative Budget Office has been alerted so that the final state budget bill will reflect the changes in expenditures and revenues. Vote 16-3.

Amendment (1465h)

Amend RSA 132:10-a, II and III as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner of the department of health and human services shall establish fees, pursuant to RSA 541-A, to be paid by hospitals for the tests required under paragraph I. All such fees shall be paid into the newborn screening fund, hereby established in the state treasury. Moneys from the newborn screening fund established under this section shall be nonlapsing and shall be continually appropriated for use by the department to cover laboratory analysis and related newborn screening program costs under a contract competitively bid and approved by governor and council.

III. The department of health and human services shall establish a newborn screening advisory committee which shall include a member of the oversight committee on health and human services, established in RSA 126-A:13, and representation from health care subspecialties, as determined by the department. Any proposals for recommending new tests or fees shall require a public hearing to be held on the proposal by the newborn screening advisory committee.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 2 with the following:

3 New Subparagraph; Treasury; Application of Receipts; Exception. Amend RSA 6:12, I(b) by inserting after subparagraph 235 the following new subparagraph:

(236) Moneys received from fees charged for newborn screening tests under RSA 132:10-a, which shall be credited to the newborn screening fund.

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

REGULAR CALENDAR

SB 132, relative to the board of marital mediator certification. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Mary Beth E. Walz for the Majority of Children and Family Law: This bill amends the statute governing the Marital Mediator Certification Board by updating technical language and requirements in law. The bill changes the terms of board members to 3-year terms and restores the system for staggered terms. It enumerates the duties of the board. The bill redefines the board's rulemaking authority. The board is authorized to act on its own complaint for disciplinary proceedings. It clarifies appellate procedures. The bill inserts a "good character" requirement for mediators and requires recommendations satisfactory to the board prior to certification. It also allows for more flexibility in meeting the continuing education requirements by permitting 14 hours every three years rather than 8 hours each year. Vote 12-4.

Rep. Daniel C. Itse for the Minority of Children and Family Law: The minority of the committee could not agree with the majority because all certification of course work resides with the board. There is no mechanism for a marital mediation training program offered by an institution of higher learning to offer certification to its graduates. All the power rests with the board.

Majority Amendment (1575h)

Amend RSA 328-C:4-a as inserted by section 6 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

328-C:4-a Duties of the Board. The board shall:

I. Compile and maintain a list of certified marital mediators and certified marital mediator training programs and make such list available to the general public online through the official internet site for the state of New Hampshire.

II. Establish procedures and fees for the applications for certification, reinstatement of certification, and renewal of certification of marital mediators and of marital mediator training programs.

III. Establish eligibility requirements for the certification, renewal certification, and reinstatement certification of marital mediators and marital mediator training programs.

IV. Establish marital mediator training and continuing education requirements.

V. Adopt ethical standards and standards of practice for marital mediators.

VI. Investigate complaints and take necessary disciplinary action as authorized by this chapter.

VII. Establish reporting requirements for certified training programs.

Amend RSA 328-C:5, II(d) as inserted by section 7 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(d) Submission of at least 3 recommendations satisfactory to the board from persons who have participated with the applicant in marital mediation work. These recommendations shall meet any additional requirements established by rules adopted by the board pursuant to RSA 541A. Amend the bill by deleting section 8 and renumbering the original sections 9-16 to read as 8-15, respectively.

Amend RSA 328-C:6 as inserted by section 10 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

328-C:6 [~~Certification-Renewal~~] Continuing Education. [~~Each marital mediator or marital mediation program shall renew its certification with the board once every 3 years.~~] To renew [~~such~~] a certification, each marital mediator shall provide evidence of attendance [~~of at least 8 hours annually in a~~] within the last 3 years of at least 24 hours of continuing education [~~program~~] approved by the board. A certified marital [~~mediation~~] mediator training program seeking renewal shall provide evidence that it has met any reporting requirements established under RSA 328-C:4-a and that each of the marital mediators associated with the program has met the annual continuing education requirements [~~of this section~~].

Amend RSA 328-C:8, I as inserted by section 13 of the bill by inserting after subparagraph (i) the following new subparagraph:

(j) Reporting requirements for certified training programs.

Amend RSA 328-C:11, I as inserted by section 14 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I. The board may establish fees for:

(a) Applications, certification, conditional certification, renewal of certification, temporary renewal of certification, and reinstatement of certification.

(b) The filing of requests for information not governed by RSA 91-A.

(c) The filing of complaints and petitions.

(d) The processing of changes to information of record.

Majority amendment adopted.

Majority committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 44, establishing a study committee on student credit card debt and regulation of credit card solicitation on college campuses. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. James F. Headd for Commerce: This bill is an issue of personal responsibility and it is not within the purpose of the legislature to legislate personal responsibility. There are several organizations which are heavily engaged in the training and education in the use of credit cards. They are all nonprofit and are doing an excellent job. The Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office has an existing, ongoing program educating the youth of our state. Vote 13-5. Adopted.

SB 38-FN, relative to school building aid for certain receiving districts. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Daniel M. Hughes for Finance: This bill allows receiving districts providing education to pupils from sending districts to receive annual school building aid under certain conditions. Current law allows "area schools" receiving districts, cooperative school districts and joint maintenance agreement districts to be eligible for annual grants for a formulated percent of the principal of construction or school purchase loans. Added to the three aforementioned school aid eligibility arrangements would be "tuition agreements" towns. Currently "tuition agreements" are not covered by the multi-district school building aid statutes for increased levels of aid for schools serving the students of several communities. This bill levels the playing field of school finance by allowing "tuition agreement" towns to participate in multi-district school building aid. A ten-year or longer contract would be required and it would also require the receiving town to educate at least 70% of the public school students at a particular grade from the sending district. It would contain provisions for the payment of capital cost of specific capital projects and state in which manner the school building aid is to be credited to the school districts for those years in which the contract is in effect. This bill is economical. It permits increased aid when several districts take advantage of the economies of scale and undertake high school education together. By pooling their efforts, education is provided at a lower cost than would be available otherwise. The state also saves because the state reimbursement requirement would be greater if each town had its own high school. This bill passed the House previously on a voice vote. Vote 13-9.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Rep. Dodge moved that SB 38-FN, relative to school building aid for certain receiving districts, be laid on the table, and the motion failed.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 90-FN-A-L, relative to kindergarten construction aid. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Kenneth H. Gould for Finance: This bill extends the public kindergarten construction program and extends the authority to bond through the fiscal year ending June 30, 2006. State grants to eligible districts that currently do not operate a public kindergarten will cover 75% of actual cost of construction. This bill increases bonded appropriation for this program by $1,000,000. Vote 17-4.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Rep. Dodge moved that, SB 90-FN-A-L, relative to kindergarten construction aid, be laid on the table, and the motion failed.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 163-FN, establishing the New Hampshire pharmaceutical assistance program. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Sharon Nordgren for Finance: This bill was requested by the Department of Health and Human Services in response to the Federal Medicare Prescription Drug Improvement and Modernization Act of 2003. It is enabling legislation that provides for the state to petition the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) for a waiver. Currently the state receives rebates from the federal government for certain prescription drugs. The Modernization Act of 2003 would discontinue the rebates to states. (There is still some confusion about exactly all the ramifications of this Act and the department is still receiving details.) The waiver request would be to continue these rebates to New Hampshire. The bill also allows the state to establish the NH Pharmaceutical Assistance Program. The Modernization Act would transition medicaid clients from medicaid prescription drug coverage to the new Medicare Part D drug benefits program on January 1, 2006. There will be clients that are "dual eligible" as a medicaid/medicare client, but the drugs available through the new plan may not include all drugs needed by some clients. The most vulnerable and fragile psychiatric patients may need a "wrap around" program administrated by the department to ensure their access to specific drugs needed for their critical mental illnesses. Without access to these drugs, many will encounter problems that may result in emergency room visits or other unforeseen crises. The committee therefore, amended the original bill to enable the state to provide a "wrap around" program in the event the waiver isn't approved by CMS. The cost of this program is unclear, but the majority of the committee feels there is adequate funding in the prescription drug lines of the proposed House budget. Vote 13-8.

Amendment (1550h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 Certain Prescription Drug Coverage Required. The department of health and human services shall provide "wrap-around" prescription drug coverage to persons who are "dual eligible" for the Medicare and Medicaid programs. For the purposes of this section:

I. "Dual-eligible" means a person who is eligible for Medicare and Medicaid as defined by the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement and Modernization Act of 2003 (MMA).

II. "Wrap-around" coverage means any pharmaceutical currently covered by the Medicaid preferred drug list which is not covered by Medicare Part D of MMA.

3 Repeal. Section 2 of this act, relative to "wrap-around" prescription drug coverage, is hereby repealed.

4 Contingency.

I. The department of health and human services' initial plan for the New Hampshire pharmaceutical assistance program as authorized under section 1 of this act shall not take effect until it is approved by both the fiscal committee and the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. The department of health and human services shall certify the date both approvals have been made to the director of the office of legislative services.

II. Section 3 of this act shall take effect on the date the pharmaceutical assistance program authorized under section 1 of this act is approved by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, as certified by the department of health and human services to the director of the office of legislative services.

5 Effective Date.

I. Section 3 of this act shall take effect as provided in section 4 of this act.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

Amendment adopted.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 175, requiring insurance coverage for certified midwives. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. James R. Martin for the Majority of Commerce: In 1999, the legislature enacted RSA 326-D establishing the practice of "midwifery" as part of the culture and tradition of the state and establishing the midwifery council to certify midwives. In 2001, the Attorney General prepared an opinion that equated "certification" with "licensure" which opened the way for the reimbursement of midwife services by Medicaid. This bill permits women who have health insurance and who choose to use the services of a midwife certified under RSA 326-D, to be reimbursed by their health insurance carrier. Vote 14-7.

Rep. Jane S. Langley for the Minority of Commerce: Only five states have any sort of insurance mandate covering direct-entry midwives, and one of those, Rhode Island, only mandates reimbursement for services provided in a licensed health care facility. In New Hampshire insurance carriers presently reimburse nurse midwives, as opposed to certified or direct-entry midwives. Nurse midwives practice in licensed facilities and in collaboration with physicians. The major service provided by direct-entry midwives is attendance at home births. Insurance contracts routinely have specific language excluding coverage for planned home births. This issue is further complicated by the fact that appropriate credentialing standards maintained by carriers for other providers would very likely not be met by direct-entry midwives. With these barriers in mind, attempts were made to reach compromise on this very badly drafted bill. However, amendment of the bill was rejected and very serious flaws in this bill have not been corrected. That is why a minority of the committee opposes its passage. The major problems in the bill include: direct conflicts with other statutory standards governing HMO/PPO contract provisions; an illogical requirement that insurers provide coverage for the services of certified midwives in both individual and group policies, even when there is no underlying maternity coverage; and imprecise, blanket language that would prevent HMO plans from holding certified midwives to the basic credentialing standards that all other contracting providers must meet. Those standards include, among others, admitting privileges, or active supervision or collaboration with a physician with admitting privileges, or active supervision or collaboration with a physician with admitting privileges, and adequate professional liability insurance. While supporters of the bill have indicated that something can be "filed in September" to fix these flaws, passage of this bill in its present form should raise very serious concerns on this most important matter. The bill should have been properly amended or, in the alternative, should have been retained to allow for the crafting of a mandate that reflected the compromise that had been under discussion.

SB 36-FN, assessing a fee on all dogs and cats sold at retail that are not sexually sterilized, to be deposited in the companion animal neutering fund. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT
Rep. James G. Phinizy for Environment and Agriculture: As it came to the committee, this bill relied on assessing a fee from an inadequate and unpredictable source, retail sales from pet shops. Realizing the effectiveness and success of the state spay/neuter program and its need to be supported equitably by both cat and dog owners, SB 36, as amended, will derive fees from cat food sales, adoption of cats from shelters, as well as dog licensing. Whereas, dog licensing and dog owners have paid into the fund almost exclusively and while cat owners have been the prime benefactors, now all parties will support the program. Vote 15-3.

Amendment (1576h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT assessing a fee on cats adopted from animal shelters to be deposited in the companion animal neutering fund, increasing the companion animal population control fee, and assessing a fee on cat food to fund the animal population control program.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Cat Adoption Fee. Amend the section heading of RSA 437:13-a to read as follows:

437:13-a Health Certificate and Adoption Fees for Cats.

2 New Paragraph; Animal Population Control Fee Imposed on Cat Adoptions. Amend RSA 437:13-a by inserting after paragraph VI the following new paragraph:

VII. The owner or operator of an animal shelter facility shall collect a $5 fee for every cat that he or she places for adoption. This fee shall be paid to the commissioner, who shall deposit it in the companion animal neutering fund established under RSA 437-A:4-a.

3 Cat Food Fee. Amend the section heading of RSA 437-A:4-a to read as follows:

437-A:4-a Fund Established; Solicitation and Acceptance of Funds; Cat Food Fee.

4 New Paragraph; Cat Food Fee. Amend RSA 437-A:4-a by inserting after paragraph II the following new paragraph:

III. Any person who distributes cat food for subsequent retail sales in this state shall pay a fee at the time of distribution. The fee shall be set by the commissioner in consultation with the pet overpopulation committee established under RSA 437-A:7. The fee shall be adjusted annually to provide a reserve equal to the sum of 2 years operating expenses of the animal population control program. The fee shall be collected by the commissioner and may be invested as provided by law. Interest received on such investment shall also be credited to the fund.

5 New Paragraph; Cat Food Fee; Rulemaking. Amend RSA 437-A:5 by inserting after paragraph II-a the following new paragraph:

II-b. Establishing the fee on the distribution of cat food under RSA 437-A:4-a, III, after consultation with the pet overpopulation committee.

6 Pet Overpopulation Committee; Duties. Amend RSA 437-A:8 to read as follows:

437-A:8 Duties. The primary duties of the committee shall be to study the economic, human, and public health impacts of cat and dog overpopulation in the state and the lack of compliance with dog licensing and rabies vaccination statutes. The committee shall make recommendations to reduce the number of stray and homeless cats and dogs in the state, to reduce the number of healthy cats and dogs killed in animal shelters, and to increase compliance with dog licensing and rabies vaccination statutes. The committee shall make recommendations to the commissioner regarding the cat food fee under RSA 437-A:4-a, III.

7 Companion Animal Population Control Fee. Amend RSA 466:4, I(b) to read as follows:

437:13-a Health Certificate ~~[and Adoption Fees]~~ for Cats.

9 Companion Animal Population Control Fee. Amend RSA 466:4, I(b) to read as follows:

(b) In addition to the sum required in subparagraphs I(a)(1) and (2), each year the owner of each dog shall pay the clerk of the city or town where the dog is registered a companion animal population control fee of ~~[$2.50]~~ 2.

10 Repeal. RSA 437:13-a, VII, relative to cat adoption fees collected by operators of animal shelter facilities, is repealed.

11 Effective Date.

I. Sections 8-10 of this act shall take effect June 30, 2006.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

SB 125-FN, repealing health status and geographic location as small group rating factors, clarifying certain other issues relating to small group insurance, and establishing a reinsurance mechanism. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Stephen T. DeStefano for the Majority of Commerce: This bill is the companion bill to HB 611 that was passed by the House 256-105 in March. Both the House and the Senate versions of SB 125-FN provide for substantial reform of the problems experienced in the small business health insurance market by the passage of SB 110 in 2003 (Chapter 188). SB 125, as did HB 611, eliminates the use of medical underwriting and geographic location from consideration in setting premium rates. The bill also places a band around premium rates charged to individual groups to a 3.5 to 1 ratio. This bill also creates a small employer health reinsurance mechanism that will allow insurers to look at health profiles of individuals within a group after premium rates are set for the purpose of "ceding" high risk individuals into a reinsurance pool. This will encourage new insurers with limited market penetration to participate in the small group market by affording them the opportunity to transfer costs that would be unacceptable in a small group to the reinsurance pool where the costs are spread over the whole market. This will help to relieve the financial burden that small group employers experience when one or two employees experience significant health problems. In order to cede an insured into the pool, the insurer must pay five times the annual insurance premium into the pool and absorb the first $5000 of claims expense. This will cost the insurer up to $30,000 per insured life for the right to cede the risk to the pool, limiting the cost burden to be absorbed by the reinsurance mechanism. The only significant difference in the two bills is in the definition of who participates in the reinsurance pool. In HB 611, the costs incurred by the pool are assessed solely to insurers participating in the small group market. SB 125 expands participation in the pool to all insurance entities that provide coverage in New Hampshire. This spreads the costs associated with high risk individuals over a much broader base, which will help to take pressure off rates in the small business market. Since the underlying concept of insurance is to spread risk over as broad a base as possible, it seems only prudent to spread these costs over the entire market. Vote 12-8.

Rep. Sheila T. Francoeur for the Minority of Commerce: The committee has spent many hours working on this important issue, and we all agree that SB 110, passed in 2003, has problems and needs to be fixed. Everyone agreed in both the Senate and the House that the vast majority of the problems created by that bill existed in the groups of 1 and groups of 2-9. According to the New Hampshire Insurance Department these groups represent only several thousand people out of the 200,000 total in the small group market, or approximately 1%. In order to fix the problem, SB 125 proposes another radical change in our insurance regulations which will have a dramatic impact on the New Hampshire insurance market. SB 125 attempts to fix the problem. The unintended consequences of that are many of the new carriers who have recently come into the state have testified that they will leave. Others, such as AETNA Insurance, who are considering coming into the state, have said they will not. These companies have been offering new, innovative and cost effective plans such as Health Savings Accounts (HSA's). Additionally, the department estimates that over 45% of the small group market will experience a dramatic increase in health insurance rates. Finally, SB 125 will create a reinsurance pool which levies an assessment on every covered life in the state. The fiscal note attached to this bill estimates that this assessment will cost the state employee health insurance plan $250,000 the first year, increasing to almost $500,000 within four years. This assessment would also be levied against all county and municipal insurance plans. Health insurance companies, insurance agents, and small business organizations unanimously agree that the reinsurance mechanism included in SB 125 is too costly and administratively cumbersome. Concerns were also raised about the fact that the reinsurance mechanism in SB 125 is aimed at subsidizing the losses of health insurance companies and not reducing health insurance costs for small businesses. The minority believes that any major reforms to this market should be accompanied by a legislative oversight committee, however, supporters of SB 125 were unwilling to consider any changes to the Senate's version of this bill. The minority amendment will correct the problems created by passage of SB 110 in 2003. It will also attract new insurance carriers to the state while encouraging those currently in the state who offer innovative, creative and affordable products to stay. The end result will be a stable market place serving the people of New Hampshire.

Rep. Sheila Francoeur offered the minority committee amendment (1578h)

Minority Amendment (1578h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT repealing geographic location as a small group rating factor and limiting overall premium rate variability in the small group health insurance market.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Small Group Health Insurance; Definitions Added. RSA 420-G:2, I is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

I. "Actuarial certification" means a written statement by a member of the American Academy of Actuaries or other individual acceptable to the commissioner that a small employer health carrier is in compliance with the provisions of and the rules adopted by the commissioner, based upon the person's examination, including a review of the appropriate records and of the actuarial assumptions and methods used by the small employer health carrier in establishing premium rates for applicable health benefit plans.

I-a. "Case characteristics" means demographic or other relevant characteristics of a small employer group that may be considered by the health carrier in the determination of premium rates for that group.

2 New Paragraph; Definition Added. Amend RSA 420-G:2 by inserting after paragraph II the following new paragraph:

II-a. "Composite billing" means a method of calculating premium rates for small employer groups in which each enrolled employee's rate varies only by the enrolled employee's family composition.

3 Definition Changed. Amend RSA 420-G:2, IX-a to read as follows:

IX-a. "Health coverage plan rate" means a rate that is uniquely determined for each of the coverages or health benefit plans a health carrier writes and that is derived from the [base] market rate through the application of plan factors that reflect actuarially demonstrated differences in expected utilization [or cost] and health care costs attributable to differences in the coverage design and/or the provider contracts that support the coverage and by including provisions for administrative costs and loads. The health coverage plan rate is periodically adjusted to reflect expected changes in the market rate, utilization, health care costs, administrative costs, and loads.

4 Definition Added. Amend RSA 420-G:2, XII-a to read as follows:

XII-a. "List billing" means a method of calculating premium rates for small employer groups in which each enrolled employee's rate varies only by the enrolled employee's attained age and the enrolled employee's family composition.

XII-b. "Loss information" means the aggregate claims experience and shall include, but not be limited to, the number of covered lives, the amount of premium received, the amount of total claims paid, and the claims loss ratio. "Loss information" shall not include any information or data pertaining to the medical diagnosis, treatment, or health status that identifies an individual covered under the group contract or policy. Catastrophic claim information shall be provided as long as the provision of this information would not compromise any covered individual's privacy.

5 New Paragraph; Definition Added. Amend RSA 420-G:2 by inserting after paragraph XII-b the following new paragraph:

XII-c. "Market rate" means a single rate reflecting the carrier's average cost of actual or anticipated claims for all health coverages or health benefit plans the carrier writes and maintains in a market, including the nongroup individual health insurance market and, separately, the small employer group health insurance market, and which is periodically adjusted by the carrier to reflect changes in actual or anticipated claims.

6 New Paragraph; Definition Added. Amend RSA 420-G:2 by inserting after paragraph XIV-a the following new paragraph:

XIV-b. "Premium rate" means the rates used by a carrier to calculate the premium. For group coverage, premium rates shall be expressed as a rate per enrolled employee.

7 New Paragraph; Definition Added. Amend RSA 420-G:2 by inserting after paragraph XV the following new paragraph:

XV-a. "Rating period" means the time period for which the premium rate charged by a health carrier to an individual or a small employer for a health benefit plan is in effect.

8 Premium Rates. Amend RSA 420-G:4, I(a) to read as follows:

(a) All ~~[premiums]~~ premium rates charged shall be guaranteed for a rating period of at least 12 months, ~~[unless otherwise allowed by the commissioner]~~ and shall not be changed for any reason, including but not limited to a change in the group's case characteristics.

9 Small Group Insurance; Premium Rates. Amend RSA 420-G:4, I(e) to read as follows:

(e) In establishing the premium charged, health carriers ~~[providing]~~ offering coverage to small employers shall calculate ~~[a rate]~~ premium rates that ~~[is]~~ are derived from the health coverage plan rate ~~[through the application of rating factors that the carrier chooses to utilize for age, group size, industry classification, geographic location, and health status]~~ by making adjustments to reflect one or more case characteristics. Such ~~[factors]~~ adjustments from the health coverage plan rate may be ~~[utilized]~~ made only in accordance with the following limitations:

(1) ~~[Carriers may use the attained age of covered persons as a rating factor. However, the maximum premium differential for age as determined by ratio shall be 4 to 1 beginning with age 19].~~ In establishing the premium rates, health carriers offering coverage to small employers may use only age, group size, industry classification, health status, claims experience, and duration of coverage as case characteristics. No consideration shall be given to geographic location or any other characteristic of the group.

(2) Carriers ~~[modifying such average premium]~~ making adjustments from the health coverage plan rate for age may do so only by using the following age brackets:

- 0 - 18
- 19 - 24
- 25 - 29
- 30 - 34
- 35 - 39
- 40 - 44
- 45 - 49
- 50 - 54
- 55 - 59
- 60 - 64

(3) ~~[Carriers may use group size as a rating factor. However, the highest factor based on group size shall not exceed the lowest factor based on group size by more than 20 percent; provided that for groups of one, an additional 10 percent rating factor shall be allowed from the highest factor.]~~

~~(4) Carriers may use the small employer group's industry classification as a rating factor. However, the highest factor based on industry classification shall not exceed the lowest factor based on industry classification by more than 20 percent.~~

~~(5) Carriers may use the small employer group's geographic location as a rating factor. However, the highest factor based on geographic location shall not exceed the lowest factor based on geographic location by more than 15 percent.~~

~~(6) Carriers may use the health status of the small employer group as a rating factor. However, the application of a health status factor shall be subject to the following limitations:~~

~~(A) The health status factor may reflect health status of covered persons, the small employer's claim experience, or the duration of coverage since health statements were last provided.~~

~~(B) Variations from the arithmetic average of the highest rate charged to the lowest rate charged shall not exceed 25 percent.~~

~~(C) Upon the renewal of a small employer policy, any increase in the premium rate that is solely attributable to changes in the health status factor from the prior year shall be no more than 15 percent.~~

~~(7) Upon the renewal of a small employer policy, a carrier is prohibited from increasing the premium rate by more than 25 percent of the rate that was charged in the preceding year. Such rate increase limitation shall not include any premium rate increase that is based on a carrier's annual cost and utilization trends or changes in the rating factor for attained age of covered persons.] The maximum premium rate differential after adjusting for all case characteristics as determined by ratio shall be 4 to 1 for a covered person whose attained age is greater than 18. For groups of one the maximum premium rate differential of 4 to 1 may be increased by an additional 10 percent.~~

~~(4) In establishing the premium rates, health carriers offering coverage to small employers may make further adjustments based on health plan membership type.~~

~~(5) The small employer health carrier shall set premium rates to small employers after consideration of case characteristics of the small employer group as well as the health plan membership type.~~

~~(6) Carriers may calculate premium rates using either list billing or composite billing. Carriers shall use the same billing method in all succeeding rating periods unless the carrier has provided the small employer notice of the change in billing method and a renewal quote using the new rating methodology at least 60 days prior to the end of the rating period.~~

~~(7) The percentage increase in the premium rates for a new rating period shall not exceed 15 percent of the premium rates used by that carrier in the preceding rating period. Such rate increase limitation shall not include any premium rate increase that is based on changes in the health coverage plan rate.~~

10 Reference Change. Amend RSA 420-G:4, I(b) to read as follows:

(b) ~~[Base rate]~~ Market rate shall be established by each health carrier for all of its health coverages offered to individuals and, separately, for all of its health coverages offered to small employers.

SB 170, revising the nurse practice act. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Charlotte Houde-Quimby for Executive Departments and Administration: This is a major revision of the nurse practice act, the first major revision in decades. This bill clarifies the parameters of Scope of Practice for all nurses and also clarifies the difference between Advanced Registered Nurse Practitioner (ARNP) categories and Scope of Practice. The committee felt that it was important to assure legislative approval for Scope of Practice. No new advanced specialty categories that have not been approved by a national credentialing body may be recognized by the New Hampshire board without the approval of the legislature. This bill also addresses the separate issue of how advanced registered nurse practice specialty categories are created through national accrediting bodies approved by the New Hampshire State Board of Nursing. Continuing competence requirements were reviewed and delineated. The bill retains the criminal background checks required for New Hampshire nurses but does not require such checks for compact nurses. This differentiation is necessary for New Hampshire to participate in the multi-state nursing compact which was approved in previous legislation. This bill includes a duty to warn and privileged communication requirements for all licensees. Some members of the committee felt that this provision should be restricted (as it is today) to psychiatric ARNPs who have a therapeutic relationship with clients. Vote 14-0.

Amendment (1696h)

Amend RSA 326-B:1 as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

326-B:1 Purpose. In order to safeguard the life, health, and public welfare of the people of New Hampshire and in order to protect the people of the state from the unauthorized, unqualified, and improper application of services by individuals in the practice of nursing, it is necessary that a regulatory authority be established and adequately funded. To further this policy, the practice of nursing shall be regulated through the New Hampshire board of nursing, and such board shall have the power to enforce the provisions of this chapter. Licensees under this chapter are accountable to clients, the nursing profession, and the board for complying with the requirements of this act and the quality of nursing care rendered, and for recognizing limits of knowledge and experience and planning for management of situations beyond the licensee's experience.

Amend RSA 326-B:4, I as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

XIV. Require a registered nurse or a licensed practical nurse licensed in the state of New Hampshire to obtain a multistate license if the registered nurse or licensed practical nurse practices in a remote state.

SPECIAL ORDER

SB 196, requiring a hearing when medical malpractice insurance rates change. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. James F. Headd for Commerce: New Hampshire is a "file and use" state meaning the insurance carrier establishes a date then files for insurance department approval. The carrier that offers medical malpractice insurance coverage traditionally files its new rates with the department two to three months before implementing them. This is done because the carriers do not want to incur the information technology cost to set up and then be faced with the prospect of having to reconfigure. Additionally, a right of appeal already exists in statute for persons or other entities who believe they are being overcharged. The committee felt that there is currently no problem with the way these rates are filed. Vote 16-2.

Reps. Buzzell, Daniel Eaton, and Marshall Quandt spoke against.

Reps. Headd and Sheila Francoeur spoke in favor.

Rep. Buzzell requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being adoption of the committee report.

SPECIAL ORDER

SB 113-FN, relative to the use of federal funds for technology improvements within the department of employment security. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Joseph E. Stone for Finance: There are federal funds made available to this state under section 903(d) of the Social Security Act, 42 USC section 1103d. These funds are to be used under the direction of the NH Department of Employment Security for the purpose of developing and implementing a new automated unemployment compensation benefit system including the upgrade or replacement of critical interfaces. Funds may include providing funds for hardware, software, equipment, staffing, technology maintenance that are in accordance with any user authorized by the United States Congress now or in the future. Vote 22-0
Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 214, relative to screening panels for medical injury claims. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Bette R. Lasky for the Majority of Judiciary: This bill is a measure that would alter the system by which our state's civil justice system processes medical malpractice litigation. The bill, as passed by the Senate and with the amendment recommended by the committee, would create a pre-trial system of screening medical malpractice cases in our superior courts. The screening panel consists of a doctor practicing in the same or similar specialty as the defendant, a judge, and a lawyer. These individuals have the expertise and experience to evaluate the information presented without the expense and time of a "mini-trial." SB 214 as amended preserves the screening panel provided for in the original bill, but streamlines its procedure by limiting evidence at the hearing to offers of proof rather than formal testimony. It creates a true screening panel, designed to separate meritorious from non-meritorious cases, to determine if there is sufficient evidence to raise a legitimate question of liability. If a panel hearing cannot be achieved within 6 months, the case shall be screened by a single justice of the superior court within 45 days who will then determine if the evidence presented is sufficient to raise the question of liability. Any controversy not resolved by agreement of the parties in light of the screening opinion would then be submitted to a mediator for mandatory mediation within forty-five days. If the mediation process is not successful, the parties would then proceed to trial in the normal fashion. In neither instance does the screening panel or screening judge determine anything other than merit or non-merit and does not determine in any way a "winner" or a "loser." There will be no findings admissible to the jury to interfere in any way with the right to an impartial jury. The amendment is the product of extensive study undertaken in response to the numerous questions raised by the bill and by the competing claims of the medical and legal professions concerning it. Over the past three months, the committee has heard scores of hours of testimony and received hundreds of pages of information. Following an initial seven-hour public hearing, the committee scheduled further hearings to which it invited experts in various disciplines implicated in the bill, including representatives of the New Hampshire Insurance Department, the Joint Underwriters Association, the New Hampshire Center for Policy Studies, the Board of Medicine, Franklin Pierce Law Center, and the founder of the former Matthew Thornton Health Clinic. Testimony was virtually unanimous that there are no frivolous lawsuits filed in New Hampshire, that New Hampshire's courts and juries do not award excessive verdicts, and that few non-meritorious suits are filed. Further, punitive damages are prohibited in New Hampshire, and we already have in place a statutory penalty that adequately deters frivolous lawsuits. Finally, even insurance specialists acknowledge that the installation of a Maine screening panel system will not lower medical malpractice insurance premiums, but, at best may stabilize their increase. The Bureau of Insurance of the State of Maine has acknowledged being unable to conclude that its system has been a factor impacting either the cost of health care generally or medical liability insurance in particular. The committee learned that Maine's system is not functioning satisfactorily procedurally in a number of ways. Most significant is that the average wait for assembling a panel is at least 1.7 years because of the difficulty in avoiding conflicts of interest in a state with a relatively small number of physicians in any given specialty and in particular the difficulty of locating physicians qualified to serve who not only do not know the defendant physician or the attorneys involved and who are not insured by the same entity as the defendant physician. Although the Supreme Court of Maine has found its screening panel statute constitutional under that state's constitution, according to NH constitutional experts, it is by no means certain that a similar bill here would pass constitutional muster under the unique terms of Article 20 of our Bill of Rights, which states that the right to trial by jury "shall be held sacred." The bi-partisan majority of the Judiciary Committee believes SB 214 as amended is a reasoned compromise to SB 214 as introduced and is a means toward achieving the right balance for New Hampshire's physicians and its citizens who need access to the courts for wrongful medical injuries. Vote 12-6.

Rep. John B. Hunt for the Minority of Judiciary: SB 214 without amendment, represents a bipartisan, 3+ year effort to help improve the medical liability climate in New Hampshire in order to protect access to critical medical specialty care. We need to keep our medical specialists here and we need to be able to attract and recruit new physicians to the Granite State. In 2003, the NH Legislature created a commission that studied the existing, ineffective pre-trial screening panel law, RSA 519-A. As a result of the commission's work, HB 1413 was introduced in 2004. That bill, based on the 20-year old successful Maine law, was amended and passed by the House; then further amended by the Senate. The bill died in a committee of conference last year. SB 214 is also modeled after the Maine law with improvements and compromises. The supporters believe that SB 214 strikes the right balance of protecting the rights of injured parties while encouraging early settlements to reduce administrative costs which ultimately reduces costs overall. The panel system in SB 214 will weed out non-meritorious claims and get meritorious cases resolved as soon as possible. (Frivolous is not the same as non-meritorious.) As many House members know, a five-member OB/GYN group from Rochester left and moved to Kittery, Maine, last December in part because they could no longer afford the high medical liability premiums in our state. The committee heard anecdotal testimony that other OB/GYNs are now limiting their practices to elective surgery and stopping head trauma care altogether in order to be able to afford their liability premiums. New Hampshire needs to do something NOW. If we pass SB 214 without amendment, the liability companies that insure NH health care providers will immediately have 20 years of actuarial data from Maine upon which to base new rating decisions. We can hit the ground running. The proposed amendment to SB 214 is NOT a compromise; it is a totally new "animal." It represents a gamble for NH. Will the new system it creates actually reduce costs associated with medical liability cases? We don't know, although we do think it is more likely to increase costs than to decrease them, and neither will the liability insurance companies. The supporters of SB 214, without amendment, fear that waiting to see if the SB 214 amendment/experiment affects insurance premiums is time we do not have. It is not fair to the citizens of New Hampshire. SB 214 as it came to us from the Senate offers a quicker and less expensive way to resolve medical liability cases. Two reports from Medical Mutual Insurance Company of Maine show that patients with meritorious cases have their claims resolved sooner and they end up with a larger portion of the settlement. Both plaintiffs and defendants maintain their right to go to a jury trial! The amendment offered on SB 214 has a lower standard of proof and any decision made by the panel or the screening judge is not admissible. What is the point then of making any effort to participate in the process? It just sets up additional steps that offer absolutely no benefit to either the plaintiff or the defendant. The minority believes that one of the reasons that NH's current voluntary pre-trial system (RSA 519-A) does not work is because the panel results are inadmissible! The success of the Maine law is that all parties make their best effort at the panel hearing because unanimous panel decisions ARE admissible. (Split decisions are not admissible.) Without maintaining a higher standard of proof and without admissibility of unanimous panel decisions, we may as well walk away and keep the current ineffective NH law on the books. Some of the opposition to SB 214, unamended, is based on supposed constitutional defects. We believe that SB 214 will withstand a constitutional challenge. The Maine Supreme Judicial Court addressed the issue and upheld the Maine system with recommendations to protect against potential jury confusion. Those recommendations were written directly into SB 214. The system in SB 214, unamended, has been proven effective in meeting the goal of reducing upward rate pressure on medical liability insurance rates by reducing costs. It thus bears a fair and substantial relationship to the legislative goal of ensuring access to medical care that is being hurt by spiraling insurance rates. The right to jury trial simply isn't affected - no claimant, meritorious or not, is prevented from taking a case to jury trial, and juries are not prevented from considering any issue. On the contrary, the jury would be carefully instructed that it is at liberty to give whatever consideration it thinks is appropriate to a unanimous panel decision - it is not bound in any way. One member of the minority of the committee disagrees with the rest of the minority and believes the bill should just be killed. Because only one minority report is allowed under the rules, as a courtesy to him, we are including his position in this report for the benefit of the entire House. This one member believes the bill is unconstitutional because it interferes with the right of an injured person to have access to the courts. The member believes that, under the bill, a plaintiff has an extra hoop to jump through before he or she can get to the constitutional arbiter of disputes, the jury. He believes the bill will increase costs to begin a case, and raise the level that a case must be worth before an attorney can afford to take it on. He be-

Majority Amendment (1656h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Chapter; Screening Panels for Medical Injury Claims. Amend RSA by inserting after chapter 519-A the following new chapter:

CHAPTER 519-B

SCREENING PANELS FOR MEDICAL INJURY CLAIMS

519-B:1 Findings, Purpose, and Intent.

I. This chapter affirms the intent of the general court to contain the costs of the medical injury reparations system. Claims for medical injury should be resolved as early and inexpensively as possible to contain system costs. Claims that are resolved before court determination cost less to resolve than claims that must be resolved by a court. Meritorious claims should be identified as quickly as possible, as should non-meritorious claims. Defendants should consider paying or compromising meritorious claims and plaintiffs should consider withdrawing or compromising non-meritorious claims, as soon as the merits of the claims are known to the parties. Prescreening of claims is intended to help identify both meritorious and non-meritorious claims without the delay and expense of a court trial.

II. The purposes of pretrial screening panels are:

(a) To identify claims of medical injury which merit compensation and to encourage early resolution of those claims prior to commencement of a lawsuit; and

(b) To identify claims of medical injury and to encourage early withdrawal or dismissal of nonmeritorious claims.

519-B:2 Definitions. In this chapter:

I. "Action for medical injury" means an action for medical injury as defined in RSA 507-E:1, I.

II. "Medical injury" means a medical injury as defined in RSA 507-E:1, III.

III. "Medical care provider" means a medical care provider as defined in RSA 507-E:1, II.

519-B:3 Formation and Procedure.

I. The chief justice of the superior court shall maintain a list of retired judges, persons with judicial experience, and other qualified persons to serve on screening panels under this chapter, from which he or she shall choose a panel chairperson under paragraph II of this section. The chief justice of the superior court shall compile and maintain lists of medical care providers and attorneys with litigation experience to serve on screening panels under this chapter.

II. Screening panel members shall be selected as follows:

(a) Upon the entry of a medical injury case, the clerk of the superior court in which the medical injury case is filed shall notify the chief justice of the superior court.

(b) Within 14 days following the return date, the chief justice shall choose a retired judge, a person with judicial experience, or other qualified person from the list maintained by the chief justice to serve as chairperson of the panel to screen the claim. If at any time a chairperson chosen under this paragraph is unable or unwilling to serve, the chief justice shall appoint a replacement following the procedure in this paragraph for the initial appointment of a chairperson. Persons other than retired judges or those with judicial experience may be appointed as chairperson based on appropriate trial experience. If the chief justice appoints as chairperson a person who is not a retired judge or who does not have judicial experience, each side may make one challenge to the appointment.

(c) The chief justice shall notify the clerk of the name of the person designated to serve as chairperson and shall provide the clerk with the lists of medical care providers and attorneys maintained under this section. Upon notification of the chief justice's choice of chairperson, the clerk shall notify the chairperson and the parties, and provide them with the lists of medical care providers of health care and attorneys. The chairperson shall choose 2 or 3 additional panel members from the lists as follows:

(1) One attorney.

(2) One medical care provider. If possible, the chairperson shall choose a provider who practices in the same specialty or profession as the person or entity accused of causing a medical injury.

(3) Where the claim involves more than one person accused of causing a medical injury, the chairperson may choose a fourth panel member who is a medical care provider. If possible, the chairperson shall choose a provider in the specialty or profession of a person accused.

(4) When agreed upon by all the parties, the list of available panel members may be enlarged in order to select a panel member who is agreed to by the parties but who is not on the chief justice's list.

III. The superior court may establish a trial date at a structuring conference, or other scheduling conference, and all interim deadlines as it would in any other case.

IV. The chief justice of the superior court may establish the compensation of the panel chairperson. Other panel members shall serve without compensation or payment of expenses.

V. The clerk of the superior court in the county in which a medical injury case is filed shall, with the consent of the chief justice of the superior court, provide clerical and other assistance to the panel chairperson.

VI. (a) Only challenges for cause shall be allowed.

(b) If a panel member other than the chairperson is challenged for cause, the party challenging the member shall notify the panel chairperson. If the panel chairperson finds cause for the challenge, he or she shall replace the panel member within 7 days of the finding.

(c) If the chairperson is challenged for cause, the party challenging the chairperson shall notify the chief justice of the superior court. If the chief justice finds cause for the challenge, he or she shall replace the chairperson within 7 days of the finding.

VII. The panel, through the chairperson, shall have the same subpoena power as exists for a superior court judge. The chairperson shall have sole authority, without requiring the agreement of other panel members, to issue subpoenas.

VIII. The New Hampshire superior court rules shall govern discovery conducted under this chapter. The parties shall attempt in good faith to resolve discovery issues themselves. The chairperson shall rule on disputes regarding discovery. Any person aggrieved by a chairperson's ruling regarding discovery may appeal to the superior court within 7 days of the ruling, which shall defer to the chairperson's factual findings unless they are clearly erroneous.

519-B:4 Panel Procedures.

I. All documents filed with the court in a medical injury action that are part of the screening process are confidential.

II. Within 20 days of the return date, the defendant or defendants shall contact the claimant's counsel and by agreement shall designate a timetable for filing all the relevant medical and provider records necessary to a determination by the panel. If the parties are unable to agree on a timetable within 60 days of the return date, the claimant shall notify the chairperson of the panel. The chairperson shall then establish a timetable for the filing of all relevant records and reasonable discovery, which shall be filed at least 30 days before any hearing date. The hearing shall be no later than 6 months from the return date, except when the time period has been extended by the panel chairperson in accordance with this chapter.

III. The pretrial screening may be bypassed if all parties agree upon a resolution of the claim by trial or settlement.

IV. All parties to a claim may, by written agreement, submit a claim to the binding determination of the panel. All parties may agree to bypass the panel for any reason, or may request that certain preliminary legal affirmative defenses or issues be litigated prior to submission of the case to the panel. The panel shall have no jurisdiction to hear or decide, absent agreement of the parties, dispositive legal affirmative defenses, other than comparative negligence. The panel chairperson may require the parties to litigate, by motion, such dispositive legal affirmative defenses in the superior court prior to submission of the case to the panel. Any such defense, as well as any motion relating to discovery that the panel chairperson has chosen not to rule on, may be presented, by motion, in superior court.

V. Except as otherwise provided in this section, there shall be one combined hearing for all claims under this section arising out of the same set of facts. Where a medical injury case has been filed against more than one person accused of medical injury based on the same facts, the parties may, upon agreement of all parties, require that hearings be separated. The chairperson may, for good cause, order separate hearings.

VI.(a)(1) On failure of the plaintiff to prosecute or to comply with rules or any order of the chairperson, or if the plaintiff fails to attend a properly scheduled hearing, and on motion by the chairperson or any party, after notice to all parties has been given and the party against whom sanctions are proposed has had the opportunity to be heard and show good cause, the chairperson may order appropriate sanctions, which may include dismissal of the case. If any sanctions are imposed, the chairperson shall state the sanctions in writing and include the grounds for the sanctions.

(2) Unless the chairperson or the panel in an order for dismissal specifies otherwise, a dismissal under this subparagraph is with prejudice for purposes of proceedings before the panel. A dismissal with prejudice is the equivalent of a finding for the defendant on all issues before the panel.

(b)(1) On failure of a defendant to comply with the rules or any order of the chairperson, or if a defendant fails to attend a properly scheduled hearing, and on motion by the chairperson or any party, after notice to all parties has been given and the party against whom sanctions are proposed has had the opportunity to be heard and show good cause, the chairperson may order appropriate sanctions, which may include default. If any sanctions are imposed, the chairperson shall state the sanctions in writing and include the grounds for the sanctions.

(2) Unless the chairperson or the panel in its order for default specifies otherwise, a default under this paragraph is the equivalent of a finding against the defendant on all issues before the panel.

(c) Any person aggrieved by a chairperson's ruling regarding sanctions may appeal to the superior court, which shall defer to the chairperson's factual findings unless they are clearly erroneous.

519-B:5 Screening Panel Hearing.

I.(a) Every action at law for medical injury against a medical care provider shall be screened by the panel. The parties shall present offers of proof and the panel shall determine if the evidence presented, if properly substantiated, is sufficient to raise a legitimate question of liability appropriate for judicial inquiry.

(b) After presentation by the parties, the panel may request additional facts, records, or other information from either party to be submitted in writing.

II. The panel shall maintain a record. Except as provided in RSA 519-B:6, the record may not be made public and the hearings may not be public without the consent of all parties.

III. The chairperson of the panel shall attempt to resolve any differences of the parties before proceeding to findings.

519-B:6 Findings by Screening Panel.

I. At the conclusion of the hearing, the panel shall determine if the evidence presented, if properly substantiated, is sufficient to raise a legitimate question of liability appropriate for judicial inquiry.

II. The panel's findings, signed by the panel members, indicating their vote, shall be sent by registered or certified mail to the parties within 7 days of the date of the findings. The findings, records, and exhibits of the screening hearing shall be preserved and forwarded to the mediator. The findings and record of the hearing shall be preserved until 90 days after final judgment or final resolution of the case, after which time they shall be destroyed.

III. Except as provided in this section, all proceedings before the panel, including its final determinations, shall be treated as private and confidential by the panel and the parties to the claim. The findings and other writings of the panel and any evidence and statements made by a party or a party's representative during a panel hearing are not admissible in court and shall not be submitted or used for any purpose in a subsequent trial and shall not be publicly disclosed, except as follows:

(a) Evidence presented to the panel may be used in subsequent proceedings for purposes of impeachment.

(b) The party who presented the evidence may agree to the submission, use, or disclosure of that statement or evidence.

IV. The deliberations and discussion of the panel shall be confidential.

V. The confidentiality provisions of this section shall not apply if the findings were influenced by fraud.

VI. All actions which continue after the decision of the screening panel shall be mediated within 45 days in a manner established by court rules to promote and encourage an expeditious settlement.

519-B:7 Screening Judge.

I. Every action for medical injury against a medical care provider in which a screening panel directed to be assembled under RSA 519-B:3 which has not held a hearing within 6 months of the return date shall be screened by a single justice of the superior court.

II. The parties shall present offers of proof and the screening judge shall determine if the evidence presented, if properly substantiated, is sufficient to raise a legitimate question of liability appropriate for judicial inquiry.

519-B:8 Procedure.

I. Each screening hearing pursuant to RSA 519-B:7 shall be heard by a single screening judge within 45 days after the lapse of the 6-month period allowable for a screening panel hearing authorized under RSA 519-B:3.

II. At the screening hearing, admissible evidence shall include, but not be limited to, hospital and medical records, nurses' notes, x-rays, and other records kept in the usual course of the practice of the medical care provider without the necessity for other identification or authentication, statements of fact or opinion on a subject contained in a published treatise, periodical, book, or pamphlet, or statements and reports by experts without the necessity of such experts appearing at the hearing. The screening judge may, upon his or her own decision, summon or subpoena any such records to substantiate or clarify any issue which has been presented. If the screening judge or mediator, in his or her discretion, desires expert medical advice, he or she may secure the assistance of a medical adviser who practices in the same specialty as the person or entity named in the suit.

III. All actions which continue after the decision of the screening judge shall be mediated within 45 days in a manner established by court rules to promote and encourage an expeditious settlement.

IV. The findings of the screening judge and all documents submitted during the screening process are admissible in the mediation procedure held pursuant to paragraph III in this section.

V. Findings of the screening judge, and the outcomes of the mediation process under paragraph III shall not be admissible in any subsequent trial, except to the extent agreed on by the parties.

VI. The expenses of the screening hearing and mediation shall be equitably assessed to the parties by the court.

519-B:9 Final Disposition. Upon entry of judgment, settlement, or other final disposition at trial court level, the clerk shall, no later than 15 days after such entry, send a copy of the judgment, settlement, or other final disposition, to the board of medicine. The terms of judgment, settlement, or other final disposition shall not be sealed, pursuant to RSA 507-E:3.

519-B:10 Notification to the Board of Medicine. Whenever the screening judge makes a finding, the clerk of the court shall, no later than 15 days after such finding, send a copy of the complaint and finding to the board of medicine.

519-B:11 Medical Malpractice Panel and Insurance Oversight Committee Established.

I. There is established a committee to study medical malpractice insurance rates in this state and the mandatory panels for medical injury claims process.

II. The committee shall consist of 4 members of the senate appointed by the senate president, and 4 members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives. The house members shall include at least:

The committee's review shall include, but not be limited to, whether medical malpractice insurance premiums have been affected and whether there has been any limitation of, or delay in, access to the courts by injured parties and the reasons for such limitations or delays.

VI.(a) The committee shall make an interim report of its findings about medical liability insurance rates and the mandatory panel process and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate president, the house clerk, the senate clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before December 1, 2008.

(b) The committee shall make a final report of its findings about medical liability insurance rates and the mandatory panel process and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate president, the house clerk, the senate clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before December 1, 2010. The report shall include a recommendation to terminate, continue, or amend RSA 519-B.

519-B:12 Reports.

I.(a) The administrative office of the courts shall collect data on medical injury claims and submit a report on the screening panel process to the committee established in RSA 519-B:11 and to the insurance commissioner on or before September 30 of each year.

(b) The report required by this paragraph shall include the number of medical injury cases filed, pending, and resolved; and the number of panel hearings and the number of panel hearing days during the fiscal year ending on the June 30 preceding the report date.

(c) The report required by this paragraph shall also include, for medical injury cases resolved during the fiscal year:

(e) To the extent possible, the report required by this paragraph shall include comparative data from the previous 5 years.

II.(a) The insurance commissioner shall report to the committee established in RSA 519B:11 annually, on or before November 1 of each year, on the medical malpractice market and the effects of the panel process established in this chapter. Such reports shall include, but not be limited to, the average rates of medical liability insurance for categories of medical providers and specialties identified by the insurance commissioner, the frequency and severity of medical injury claims, and the time for resolution of medical injury claims from first notice to final resolution.

(b) The insurance commissioner may adopt rules to collect the data from insurers necessary to prepare the report required by this paragraph. To the extent the commissioner collects information from insurers regarding individual claims, loss adjustment and other expenses, reserves, indemnity payments, or other financial information that is not otherwise reported to the commissioner and available to the public, such information shall be treated as examination materials, kept confidential, and not be subject to RSA 91-A.

and the majority amendment failed.

Reps. Greco and Marple declared conflicts of interest and did not participate.

Rep. Joy Tilton voted Yea and intended to vote Nay.

Rep. Rowe offered floor amendment (1808h).

Floor Amendment (1808h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to pretrial screening of medical injury claims.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Chapter; Pretrial Screening of Medical Injury Claims. Amend RSA by inserting after chapter 519-A the following new chapter:

CHAPTER 519-B

PRETRIAL SCREENING OF MEDICAL INJURY CLAIMS

519-B:1 Findings, Purpose, and Intent.

I. This chapter affirms the intent of the general court to contain the costs of the medical injury reparations system. Claims for medical injury should be resolved as early and inexpensively as possible to contain system costs. Claims that are resolved before court determination cost less to resolve than claims that must be resolved by a court. Meritorious claims should be identified as quickly as possible, as should non-meritorious claims. Defendants should consider paying or compromising meritorious claims and plaintiffs should consider withdrawing or compromising non-meritorious claims, as soon as the merits of the claims are known to the parties. Prescreening of claims is intended to help identify both meritorious and non-meritorious claims without the delay and expense of a court trial.

II. The purposes of pretrial screening are:

(a) To identify claims of medical injury which merit compensation and to encourage early resolution of those claims prior to commencement of a lawsuit; and

(b) To identify claims of medical injury and to encourage early withdrawal or dismissal of non-meritorious claims.

519-B:2 Definitions. In this chapter:

- I. "Action for medical injury" means an action for medical injury as defined in RSA 507-E:1, I.
- II. "Medical injury" means a medical injury as defined in RSA 507-E:1, III.
- III. "Medical care provider" means a medical care provider as defined in RSA 507-E:1, II.

519-B:3 Formation.

I. Every action at law for medical injury against a provider of health care shall be screened by a single justice, sitting or retired, of the superior court. The plaintiff shall present an offer of proof and the screening judge shall determine if the evidence presented, if properly substantiated, is sufficient to raise a legitimate question of liability appropriate for judicial inquiry or whether the plaintiff's case is an unfortunate medical result.

II. All actions which continue after the decision of the screening judge under paragraph I shall be mediated within 45 days in a manner established by court rules to promote and encourage an expeditious settlement.

III. The screening process is not intended to delay or postpone the trial of a medical injury case. The superior court may establish a trial date at a structuring conference, or other scheduling conference, and all interim deadlines as it would in any other case.

IV. The chief justice of the superior court shall establish the compensation of the medical adviser if he or she is not otherwise compensated by the state of New Hampshire.

V. The clerk of the superior court in the county in which a medical injury case is filed shall, with the consent of the chief justice of the superior court, provide clerical and other assistance to the screening judge and to the mediation judge.

VI.(a) Only challenges for cause shall be allowed.

(b) If the screening judge or medical adviser is challenged for cause, the party challenging the member shall notify the chief justice of the superior court. If the chief justice finds cause for the challenge, he or she shall replace the screening judge or the adviser.

VII. The New Hampshire superior court rules shall govern discovery conducted under this chapter. The parties shall attempt in good faith to resolve discovery issues themselves. The judge shall rule on disputes regarding discovery. Any person aggrieved by a judge's ruling regarding discovery may appeal to the superior court, which shall defer to the judge's factual findings unless they are clearly erroneous.

519-B:4 Procedures.

I. All documents filed with the court in a medical injury action that are part of the screening process are confidential.

II. Within 20 days of the return date, the defendant or defendants shall contact the claimant's counsel and by agreement shall designate a timetable for filing all the relevant medical and provider records necessary to a determination by the panel. If the parties are unable to agree on a timetable within 60 days of the return date, the claimant shall notify the screening judge. The screening judge shall then establish a timetable for the filing of all relevant records and reasonable discovery, which shall be filed at least 30 days before any hearing date. The hearing shall be no later than 6 months from the return date, except when the time period has been extended by the screening judge in accordance with this chapter.

III. The pretrial screening may be bypassed if all parties agree upon a resolution of the claim by trial or settlement.

IV. All parties to a claim may, by written agreement, submit a claim to the binding determination of the screening judge. All parties may agree to bypass the screening process for any reason, or may request that certain preliminary legal affirmative defenses or issues be litigated prior to submission of the case to the screening judge. The judge shall have no jurisdiction to hear or decide, absent agreement of the parties, dispositive legal affirmative defenses, other than comparative negligence. The screening judge may require the parties to litigate, by motion, such dispositive legal affirmative defenses in the superior court prior to submission of the case to the screening hearing. Any such defense, as well as any motion relating to discovery that the screening judge has chosen not to rule on, may be presented, by motion, in superior court.

V. Except as otherwise provided in this section, there shall be one combined hearing for all claims under this section arising out of the same set of facts. Where a medical injury case has been filed against more than one person accused of medical injury based on the same facts, the parties may, upon agreement of all parties, require that hearings be separated. The screening judge may, for good cause, order separate hearings.

VI.(a)(1) On failure of the plaintiff to prosecute or to comply with rules or any order of the screening judge, or if the plaintiff fails to attend a properly scheduled hearing, and on motion by any party, after notice to all parties has been given and the party against whom sanctions are proposed has had the opportunity to be heard and show good cause, the screening judge may order appropriate sanctions, which may include dismissal of the case. If any sanctions are imposed, the screening judge shall state the sanctions in writing and include the grounds for the sanctions.

(2) Unless the screening judge in an order for dismissal specifies otherwise, a dismissal under this subparagraph is with prejudice for purposes of proceedings before the screening judge. A dismissal with prejudice is the equivalent of a finding for the defendant on all issues before the panel.

(b)(1) On failure of a defendant to comply with the rules or any order of the screening judge, or if a defendant fails to attend a properly scheduled hearing, and on motion by any party, after notice to all parties has been given and the party against whom sanctions are proposed has had the opportunity to be heard and show good cause, the screening judge may order appropriate sanctions, which may include default. If any sanctions are imposed, the screening judge shall state the sanctions in writing and include the grounds for the sanctions.

(2) Unless the screening judge in his or her order for default specifies otherwise, a default under this paragraph is the equivalent of a finding against the defendant on all issues before the screening judge.

(c) Any person aggrieved by a screening judge's ruling regarding sanctions may appeal to the superior court, which shall defer to the screening judge's factual findings unless they are clearly erroneous.

VII. All requests for extensions of time under this section shall be made to the screening judge. The judge may extend any time period for good cause, except that the judge may not extend any time period that would result in the screening hearing being held more than 11 months following the return date unless good cause is shown.

519-B:5 Screening Panel Hearing.

I. The screening judge shall maintain a record. Except as provided in RSA 519-B:6, the record may not be made public and the hearings may not be public without the consent of all parties.

II. At the screening hearing, admissible evidence shall include, but not be limited to, hospital and medical records, nurses' notes, x-rays, and other records kept in the usual course of the practice of the medical care provider without the necessity for other identification or authentication, statements of fact or opinion on a subject contained in a published treatise, periodical, book, or pamphlet, or statements and reports by experts without the necessity of such experts appearing at the hearing. The screening judge may, upon his or her own decision, summon or subpoena any such records to substantiate or clarify any issue which has been presented. If the screening judge or mediator, in his or her discretion, desires expert medical advice, he or she may secure the assistance of a medical adviser who practices in the same specialty as the person or entity named in the suit.

III. The screening judge shall attempt to resolve any differences of the parties before proceeding to findings.

IV. The findings of the screening judge and all documents submitted during the screening process are admissible in the mediation procedure held pursuant to RSA 519-B:6, V.

V. The outcomes of the mediation process under paragraph III shall not be admissible in any subsequent trial, except to the extent agreed on by the parties.

VI. The expenses of the screening hearing and mediation shall be equitably assessed to the parties by the court.

519-B:6 Findings by Screening Judge.

I. At the conclusion of the hearing, the screening judge shall determine if the evidence presented, if properly substantiated, is sufficient to raise a legitimate question of liability appropriate for judicial inquiry.

II. The screening judge's findings shall be sent by registered or certified mail to the parties within 7 days of the date of the findings. The findings, records, and exhibits of the screening hearing shall be preserved and forwarded to the mediator. The findings and record of the hearing shall be preserved until 90 days after final judgment or final resolution of the case, after which time they shall be destroyed.

III. Except as provided in this section, all proceedings before the screening judge, including the final determinations, shall be treated as private and confidential by the screening judge and the parties to the claim. The findings and other writings of the screening judge and any evidence and statements made by a party or a party's representative during a screening judge hearing are not admissible in court and shall not be submitted or used for any purpose in a subsequent trial and shall not be publicly disclosed, except as follows:

(a) Evidence presented to the screening judge may be used in subsequent proceedings for purposes of impeachment.

(b) The party who presented the evidence may agree to the submission, use, or disclosure of that statement or evidence.

IV. The confidentiality provisions of this section shall not apply if the findings were influenced by fraud.

V. All actions which continue after the decision of the screening judge shall be mediated within 45 days in a manner established by court rules to promote and encourage an expeditious settlement.

519-B:7 Final Disposition. Upon entry of judgment, settlement, or other final disposition at trial court level, the clerk shall, no later than 15 days after such entry, send a copy of the judgment, settlement, or other final disposition, to the board of medicine. The terms of judgment, settlement, or other final disposition shall not be sealed, pursuant to RSA 507-E:3.

519-B:8 Notification to the Board of Medicine. Whenever the screening judge makes a finding, the clerk of the court shall, no later than 15 days after such finding, send a copy of the complaint and finding to the board of medicine.

519-B:9 Medical Malpractice Panel and Insurance Oversight Committee Established.

I. There is established a committee to study medical malpractice insurance rates in this state and the screening process for medical injury claims process.

II. The committee shall consist of 4 members of the senate appointed by the senate president, and 4 members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives. The house members shall include at least:

(a) One member of the house judiciary committee.

(b) One member of the house health, human services and elderly affairs committee.

(c) One member of the house commerce committee.

III. The members of the committee shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the committee shall be called by the first-named house member. The first meeting of the committee shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. Five members of the committee shall constitute a quorum.

IV. Members of the committee shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the committee.

V. The committee shall review and analyze information provided by the administrative office of the courts and the insurance department related to medical injury liability claim activity in order to determine the effectiveness of the screening process for medical injury claims established in this chapter. The committee's review shall include, but not be limited to, whether medical malpractice insurance premiums have been affected and whether there has been any limitation of, or delay in, access to the courts by injured parties and the reasons for such limitations or delays.

VI.(a) The committee shall make an interim report of its findings about medical liability insurance rates and the screening process and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate president, the house clerk, the senate clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before December 1, 2008.

(b) The committee shall make a final report of its findings about medical liability insurance rates and the screening process and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate president, the house clerk, the senate clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before December 1, 2010. The report shall include a recommendation to terminate, continue, or amend RSA 519-B.

519-B:10 Reports.

I.(a) The administrative office of the courts shall collect data on medical injury claims and submit a report on the screening panel process to the committee established in RSA 519-B:11 and to the insurance commissioner on or before September 30 of each year.

(b) The report required by this paragraph shall include the number of medical injury cases filed, pending, and resolved; and the number of screening hearings and the number of screening hearing days during the fiscal year ending on the June 30 preceding the report date.

(c) The report required by this paragraph shall also include, for medical injury cases resolved during the fiscal year:

(1) The mean and median lengths of time from initial filing to final resolution.

(2) The number and average settlement amount of cases that were resolved prior to the screening hearing.

(3) The number and average settlement amount of cases that were resolved after a screening hearing but before a trial.

(4) The number and average settlement amount of cases that were resolved by or after a jury verdict.

(d) The report required by this paragraph shall also include, for medical injury cases in which a screening judge made findings during the fiscal year, the number of cases that fell into each category of possible results of a screening hearing (for the plaintiff or for the defendant), the status, and, if applicable, the results of the cases in each category.

(e) To the extent possible, the report required by this paragraph shall include comparative data from the previous 5 years.

II.(a) The insurance commissioner shall report to the committee established in RSA 519B:9 annually, on or before November 1 of each year, on the medical malpractice market and the effects of the screening process established in this chapter. Such reports shall include, but not be limited to, the average rates of medical liability insurance for categories of medical providers and specialties identified by the insurance commissioner, the frequency and severity of medical injury claims, and the time for resolution of medical injury claims from first notice to final resolution.

(b) The insurance commissioner may adopt rules to collect the data from insurers necessary to prepare the report required by this paragraph. To the extent the commissioner collects information from insurers regarding individual claims, loss adjustment and other expenses, reserves, indemnity payments, or other financial information that is not otherwise reported to the commissioner and available to the public, such information shall be treated as examination materials, kept confidential, and not be subject to RSA 91-A.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 2006.

and the motion to lay SB 214 on the table failed.

Reps. Greco and Marple declared conflicts of interest and did not participate.

Rep. Ulery offered floor amendment (1821h).

Floor Amendment (1821h)

Amend RSA 519-B:1, I as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I. Availability and affordability of insurance against liability for medical injury is essential for the protection of patients as well as assuring availability of and access to essential medical and hospital care. This chapter affirms the intent of the general court to contain the costs of the medical injury reparations system and to promote availability and affordability of insurance against liability for medical injury. Claims for medical injury should be resolved as early and inexpensively as possible to contain system costs. Claims that are resolved before court determination cost less to resolve than claims that must be resolved by a court. Meritorious claims should be identified as quickly as possible, as should non-meritorious claims. Defendants should consider paying or compromising meritorious claims and plaintiffs should consider withdrawing or compromising non-meritorious claims, as soon as the merits of the claims are known to the parties. Presentation of claims to a medical review panel is intended to help identify both meritorious and non-meritorious claims without the delay and expense of a court trial. It is essential to the effectiveness of the panel process that panel proceedings be confidential. It is equally essential to the effectiveness of the panel process that a panel's findings be presented to the jury in any matter that is not resolved prior to trial. Claims before the panel that suggest the possibility of criminal activity must be presented to the insurance commissioner and the attorney general for investigation. The panel process will encourage the prompt resolution of claims, because both sides will be given an objective view of the merits. If the panel finds that a claim has merit, the defendant will be more likely to pay the claim or negotiate a compromise that is favorable to the claimant. If the panel finds that the claim lacks merit, the claimant is more likely to withdraw the claim or accept a nominal settlement. The panel's screening should be completed within 180 days after the panel receives it, or the case should be dismissed.

Amend RSA 519-B:4, VII(c) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(c) Any person aggrieved by a chairperson's ruling regarding sanctions may appeal to the superior court.

Amend RSA 519-B:6, I(a) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(a) Whether the acts or omissions complained of constitute a deviation from a quantitative, published, or procedural standard of care by the medical care provider charged with that care;

Amend RSA 519-B:6, II as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. The plaintiff shall prove negligence and proximate causation by a preponderance of the evidence.

Amend RSA 519-B:8, I(a) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(a) The findings and other writings of the panel and any evidence and statements made by a party or a party's representative during a panel hearing are not admissible in court and shall not be submitted or used for any purpose in a subsequent trial and shall not be publicly disclosed, except that any testimony or writings made under oath may be used in subsequent proceedings for purposes of impeachment.

Amend RSA 519-B:10 as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

519-B:10 Effect of Panel Findings. Unanimous findings entered by the panel under RSA 519B:6, I shall be implemented as follows.

I. If findings are in the plaintiff's favor, the defendant shall promptly enter into negotiations to pay the claim or admit liability. If liability is admitted, the claim may be submitted to the panel, upon agreement of the parties, for determination of damages. If the claim goes to a trial, the findings of the panel are admissible as provided in RSA 519-B:8, I(b). Failure to enter into good faith negotiations shall result in an award of treble damages to the plaintiff if he or she prevails in a trial. The increase in the damages award shall not be subject to a contingency fee agreement between plaintiff and counsel.

II. If the findings are unanimous in the defendant's favor, the plaintiff shall release the claim or claims based on the findings, without payment, or be subject to the admissibility of those findings under RSA 519-B:8, I(c).

Amend RSA 519-B:12, I(a) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I.(a) The administrative office of the courts shall collect data on medical injury claims and submit a report on the screening panel process to the committee established in RSA 519-B:11 and to the insurance commissioner on or before September 30 of each year. The report shall be a public record.

Amend RSA 512-B:12, II(a) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II.(a) The insurance commissioner shall report to the committee established in RSA 519B:11 annually, on or before November 1 of each year, on the medical malpractice market and the effects of the panel process established in this chapter. Such reports shall include, but not be limited to, the average rates of medical liability insurance for categories of medical providers and specialties identified by the insurance commissioner, the frequency and severity of medical injury claims, and the time for resolution of medical injury claims from first notice to final resolution. Such report shall consider all insurance premium increases in New Hampshire and be based on New Hampshire experience, not the companies' total loss pictures. This report shall be a public record.

Floor amendment (1821h) failed.

Floor Amendment (1760h)

Amend the bill by inserting after section 1 the following and renumbering the original sections 2 to read as 3:

2 New Paragraph; Rate Filings; Temporary Freeze on Medical Malpractice Insurance Rates.

Amend RSA 412:16 by inserting after paragraph XIII the following new paragraph:

XIV. Ordered to third reading.

Reps. Greco and Marple declared conflicts of interest and did not participate.

SPECIAL ORDERSB 121, relative to all terrain vehicle trails and relative to the regulation of off highway recreational vehicles by a political subdivision. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. David H. Russell for Resources, Recreation and Development: This bill provides that a proposed ATV or trail bike trail shall not pass within 400' of a water well supplying a public water system. The bill also establishes a procedure for a proposed trail that will pass through a wellhead protection area. It addresses concerns with MTBE from trails near wells, and opens the 4000' limit to be the wellhead protective area without a specific limit. It also requires the Department of Environmental Services (DES) to show any impact the trail may have as well as the process for the community to appeal to the water council per RSA 21-07 IV. Vote 11-0.

Amendment (1547h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to all terrain vehicle trails.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 ATV and Trail Bike Operation on State Lands; Evaluation Process. Amend RSA 215-A:43, II(1) is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

(1) The proposed trail does not pass within 400 feet of a water supply well for a community water system subject to RSA 485. If the proposed trail is to pass through a wellhead protection area as determined under RSA 485:48, II, the bureau shall explain in writing why no alternative locations on the state-owned property outside of the wellhead protection area are suitable for the placement of ATV or trail bike trails. The bureau shall, at least 45 days before the public meeting required by RSA 215-A:43, III is conducted, forward its written explanation, engineering design plans and associated facilities including parking areas and other trail network support features, to the governing body of a municipality serviced by the well. Such governing body may, within 30 days of receipt of the explanation, request a determination from the department of environmental services of the potential effect of the proposed trail on the quality of water derived from the community water supply well. The department of environmental services shall respond no later than 30 days after the public meeting under RSA 215-A:43, III. The proposed trail may only be constructed in a wellhead protection area on state-owned land if the department of environmental services determines that it is unlikely that the trail and associated facilities including parking areas and other trail network support features will affect the ability of the well to consistently produce drinking water which meets the standards set forth in RSA 485. The determination made by the department of environmental services may be appealed pursuant to RSA 21-O:7, IV within 30 days of issuance.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill provides that a proposed ATV or trail bike trail shall not pass within 400 feet of a water well supplying a public water system. The bill also establishes a procedure for a proposed trail that will pass through a wellhead protection area.

Reps. Rush and DiFruscia spoke against.

Reps. Currier and Spang spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Rush requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

Rep. Phinizz offered floor amendment (1722h).

Floor Amendment (1722h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 2 with the following:

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 2007.

Rep. Phinizy spoke in favor.

Rep. Currier spoke against.

On a division vote, 134 members having voted in the affirmative and 163 in the negative, floor amendment (1722h) failed.

The question now being adoption of the committee report.

Rep. Greco spoke against.

On a division vote, 162 members having voted in the affirmative and 135 in the negative, the committee report was adopted.

Ordered to third reading.

HR 16, requesting that the New Hampshire congressional delegation support optional Social Security personal retirement accounts. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Barbara E. Shaw for State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: The consensus of the committee is that personal retirement accounts are only one part of a suggested social security revision. The bill negates other options. The entire program is still in the discussion stage and other options may still be necessary for a complete final plan. To rule out any viable options at this time is premature. Vote 7-4.

Rep. Coughlin moved recommit to committee and spoke in favor.

Adopted.

Recommitted to the Committee on State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs.

SPECIAL ORDER

SB 63-FN-A, establishing a court mediation fund to pay the costs of a mediation program in the district courts. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Roger G. Wells for the Majority of Ways and Means: The majority of Ways and Means agrees with Judiciary that mediation is a valuable new resource which will be available to small businesses and individuals to settle small claims actions. This bill allows the district court to increase the filing fee in small claims cases by $5.00 in order to provide paid professionals to mediate up to 1400 small claims cases per year. The courts have indicated that this service would be available initially in at least one court in each county and in all district courts in the state within one year. Introduction of mediation would result in reducing the backlog of cases in many courts, providing swifter service not only for those choosing mediation, but for all small claims actions. Vote 13-4.

Rep. Steve Vaillancourt for the Minority of Ways and Means: This bill came to Ways and Means after passing the Senate, House Judiciary, and passing on the House floor two weeks ago. The minority of Ways and Means concurs with everything except the funding mechanism. The minority is convinced that the type of mediation at the district court level that this bill calls for is a good idea. The mediation would most likely relieve the work burden on judges, and the minority also concurs that disputes settled in such a manner would likely lead to prompter collections by the prevailing party. However, the minority takes seriously the role of Ways and Means in assuring that programs which pass this House are properly funded. Quite clearly, for no less than four separate reasons, that is not the case with the $5 increase in the filing fee, up from $55 to $60, being used to pay for mediation. First, as court officials acknowledged, it will not be possible to implement mediation programs in all district courts statewide for as much as a year. Thus, numerous people will be paying the additional $5 but would not be eligible to receive the service in the court of their choice. Secondly, all filers in district court would be required to pay the additional $5 per filing (an estimated 18,000 per year), not simply those who opt to use the mediation service. Third, then there's the matter of cost. Bill proponents note that the $90,000 raised would be used to pay for mediators, who in the trial programs volunteered their time. They would be paid $60 for what will amount to an average of one hour's work. They would not have to be trained lawyers or court personnel, yet simple math reveals that were they to work full time at this job, their salary would amount to $120,000 a year, some $3200 more than district court judges are paid! And they would only handle 1400 of the estimated 18,000 cases filed. Fourth, even more troubling with the funding mechanism for this bill is the inevitable conclusion that must follow, that justice in New Hampshire can be bought and paid for. We are reduced to treating this filing or entry fee as something of a service charge. Instead of paying a judge a salary out of general funds, we are allowing a specially paid mediator to handle the task. Clearly, this is not the purpose of a filing fee, and no matter how noble a cause, this is the wrong direction to go. Some counter that by saying, "It's the New Hampshire way. We've abused filing fees for years and years." It's time to put a stop to this abuse, and the minority strongly believes we should draw the line when it comes to justice. We should no more charge extra for mediation and call it a filing fee than we should charge every parent an enrollment fee to help alleviate teachers salaries when children are enrolled in school.

Reps. Hinkle and Soltani spoke against.

Rep. Wells spoke in favor.

Rep. O'Neil moved the previous question.

Adopted.

Rep. Bettencourt requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being adoption of the majority committee report.

and the majority committee report was adopted.

Rep. Coughlin declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

SB 91-FN, relative to an increase in the co-payment for participation in the animal population control program. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Howie Lund for the Majority of Ways and Means: This bill will increase the animal neutering co-payments by $10.00 for those residents that qualify. Under current law, the animal owner has to provide a co-payment of $30.00 for Plan A (adopted animals) and $15.00 for Plan B (animals owned by people on government support programs). The Animal Control Program has greatly helped in reducing costs to municipalities as it relates to animal overpopulation. This program has been responsible for over 46,000 neutering surgeries over the last ten years. This change in the co-payments will allow for approximately 500 additional neuterings per year. The Department of Agriculture has determined this bill may decrease state restricted expenditures by $45,880 in FY 2006 and each year thereafter. There will be no fiscal impact on county and local expenditures or state, county and local revenues. Vote 11-5.

Rep. Kevin L. Camm for the Minority of Ways and Means: This bill increases the fees for participation in the animal population control program (APCP) by $10 for each dog and cat. The APCP has been highly successful at reducing the number of stray dogs and cats, thus reducing euthanasia. Dog owners have been growling since they solely fund the state portion of the program. Last year those license fees amounted to approximately $300,000. Dog owners have been scratched and clawed enough. This program is utilized 80% by cats to 20% by dogs. The minority believes we should take a bite out of this inequality. Cat owners should bear a fairer burden of the expense of the program. For example an amendment could be prepared that raises the fees only on cats and leaves the dogs alone. The bill should be re-committed to the committee for such an evaluation that strives for equal fiscal treatment, otherwise the bill should be ITL.

On a division vote, 172 members having voted in the affirmative and 109 in the negative, the majority committee report was adopted.

Ordered to third reading.

HOUSE JOURNAL No. 19

Wednesday, June 15, 2005

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

His Excellency, Governor John H. Lynch joined the Speaker on the rostrum for the day's opening ceremonies.

Prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain, Reverend David P. Jones, Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Concord.

Lord, remind us all this day that in the economy of Your desires, the bottom line has nothing to do with numbers and everything to do with people. As these our leaders make choices for us today, give them hearts as open as their minds and ears as open as their lips, for then the budget which comes forth in the days ahead will balance not only dollars and cents, but lives as well. Amen.

Rep. Donald F. Ryder led the Pledge of Allegiance.

The National Anthem was sung by Craig Sanphy, a sophomore at Concord High School.

Rep. Weyler moved that the remarks introducing the two men be printed in the Permanent Journal. Without objection, the Speaker so ordered.

REMARKS

Rep. Buxton: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have the privilege of introducing two brave soldiers to this House. Both men received serious wounds while serving in Iraq and are now home recuperating. First is Sergeant Jon Worall of Brentwood who began his career in the Navy before joining the New Hampshire National Guard. Second is Sergeant Randy Frotton of Newmarket, who with his son, Nick, up in the gallery today, also served as a helicopter pilot and an Army Ranger before serving in the New Hampshire National Guard.

Mr. Speaker, I call upon you and the members of this House, including my fellow veterans, to honor these two heroes and be grateful for their service to our nation. They know that freedom is not without sacrifice.

Speaker Scamman: Over many centuries the people of the United States are very fortunate that we've had men who are willing to go to war, to fight and sacrifice. Many have lost their lives, many as these two men have had serious injuries. We all appreciate what you have done for us. It is very obvious that the House is quite moved that you are here. It's very obvious that we appreciate what was said in the prayer, that we will do our job as we should see fit and we want to thank you for making that possible, that across this country that is still happening in all 50 states and in Washington, DC. I present you with your declarations. Thank you very much on behalf of the citizens of the United States, New Hampshire and of the House.

DEBATE ON HOUSE BILL 616

(Rep. Price in the Chair)

Debate on Concurrence with Senate Amendments

Rep. Stephen L'Heureux: Thank you, Madame Speaker. Madame Speaker, today I ask for your support, the support of my colleagues in the House to concur with the Senate amendments to House Bill 616. House Bill 616 began as did the other nine education funding bills as ideas. Each bill presented a method to fund education in our state. Each bill and their ideas were the bricks that formed the foundation to guiding the principles of an enhanced education for our children. Madame Speaker, from those days when the wind was blowing the large flakes of snow, we as a committee began the debate guiding us to the basic principles of education. It's about policy. What does an education of our children resemble?

School funding moved away from a debate concerning how to distribute available resources towards a real analysis of how a state-wide enhanced education is defined and what the ingredients were. And make no mistake about it, this was a bipartisan effort.

The only legitimate and responsible response to our challenge rested within a commitment to the realities to our schools. How they operate. What it costs to do so. And more importantly, what it costs to change. Recognizing the difficulties faced by communities with low property values, we as a committee chose to target aid to those communities that faced the challenges related to poverty. Specifically, those with a lower than average median income in relation to the state average median income. We chose to recognize populations of students who are eligible for free or reduced lunches. We recognized the unique provision of special education and those with populations of children with limited English proficiency. And we discussed transportation costs in our districts. Those were our principles.

We further recognized that any loss of aid based upon the diverse populations in our state from community to community would be difficult. We believed in transitions grants.

Now it's June and although the weather is cooler today than last week's sweltering heat, these same principles are contained in the amendment before us today. Yes, it seems many hands worked in the crafting of a formula to meet the principles. Each one of those provided more or less aid to a community, yet, the basic principles remained.

Our concerns also included the statewide property tax, the donor and receiver town labels and hardship tax relief for our citizens with limited means to afford to stay in their homes where generations of family holidays have been celebrated. This formula eliminates all but one donor community, although through much deliberation and several attempts at changing the formulas, we were not able to eliminate the statewide property tax, yet. And for now, it is this tax that will fund property tax relief to our neediest citizens.

So Madame Speaker, I urge you today to join me and my colleagues in the House to support a motion to concur. I offer to the body the financial technical expertise of the Chairman of Finance, the distinguished member from Colebrook. I also offer the legalise, nuts and bolts, to the member from Hooksett, who chaired the subcommittee and who has been working on this issue since February. Madame Speaker, this bipartisan effort to identify the honest principles of educating our children needed to begin with a discussion of the policy of education. What we deliver to our children, and what parents and taxpayers can expect from year to year. That is what is important. Demographics and the fluid society we live in will surely change funding amounts but those core principles of what we provide as an educational opportunity should never be forgotten.

Madame Speaker, some in the body today will vote upon a spreadsheet. I urge you and my colleagues to look beyond the spreadsheet filled with mathematical calculations and look towards the principles that guard our children's education. It's time to be statesmen and look forward to a better plan to address our educational needs for the good of the state. This is a better plan. Thank you, Madame Speaker.

Rep. Kurk: Thank you, Madame Speaker. Thank you, Rep. L'Heureux for taking the question. I have two. The first one is there a dollar amount of adequacy aid that this bill determines that each child shall receive?

Rep. Stephen L'Heureux: To answer your question, I'm going refer all the financial, technical expertise to the member from Colebrook, Rep. King, who will be doing a walkthrough step by step of every component of the bill.

Rep. Kurk: Madame Speaker, I wish to defer my questions until I've heard the full presentation. Thank you.

Rep. King: Thank you, Madame Chairperson. Ladies and gentlemen, I'm assuming that you all have picked up the two handouts that are on the table. One is the spreadsheet that shows the distribution of funds. The other is a blueprint of how this plans works. I would like to have an opportunity for the members to have these documents, it appears that a lot of the members do not have the appropriate documents, I think it would be appropriate for them to have them before we have the discussion.

Thank you very much, Madame Chair. Let me start by saying, as the previous speaker said, this process this year started in February with the introduction of House Bill 616 before the Education Committee. The Education Committee listened to the bill, listened to several other bills, a subcommittee spent many hours working on the bill. As you know, it tag-teamed over to the Finance Committee from the Education Committee. Further work was done on the bill. We ended up here in the House, passing the bill over to the Senate. The Senate had hearings on their version of the bill both before the Education Committee and the Finance Committee and ultimately, last week passed their version of House Bill 616.

All during this process, all of the issues we are talking about today were discussed at length. Many of the issues that we are going to be talking about today have appeared in other bills in the past, including two years ago just about now we passed a bill from the House to the Senate, House Bill 608. Many of the components of this bill were in that bill.

I think we need to understand that from the beginning the Education Committees and the Finance Committees, and all the legislature has had some significant goals in mind. Goal #1 is to eliminate donor towns. The donor town issue that came early was an attempt to transfer money from some towns to other towns, and that was not popular. So the goal has been to eliminate donor towns. This bill all but accomplishes that. There is one donor town that may be left if they have the capacity to spend the money, the overage that would go to the state, they can keep that money themselves. Targeted aid. Targeted aid is what this is all about. The Claremont lawsuit came about because there was a recognition in this state that some communities simply did not have the resources to provide a decent education for their children. Under the Augenblick formula which was passed several years ago, it addressed targeting aid. Targeting aid to those towns that needed it. This bill targets, as all of the bills we have discussed in the past and all this year, targeted aid. We need a fair transition for those towns that were receiving money and may be seeing their funding change as we change formulas. So we need to have a transition plan for those towns. We need to recognize that our communities in this state vary in their own individual needs. Some communities, who would appear to those of us who live in the North Country, are relatively wealthy and don't have any need as we see it for money, we recognize that they have other problems that effect their taxpayers. Growth is a significant issue. Growth means more schools. Growth means more roads, more police, more firemen. So I think we have to recognize that the logistics of all our communities. And we have to have a plan that is predictable. We have to find a way that our school districts as they meet to do their budgets can be confident of what they are going to get from state aid.

I think we also as a state legislature need to step back and look at what's happened over the years. Look at how little money the state used to spend on education, part of the Claremont lawsuit. And recognize that we were paying something like 7% of the cost of local education out of state funds. And recognize the progress we made and I think we should stop apologizing for not funding education. Because I think we have reached the point where the total commitment of the state to our local school districts meets the average throughout the country. I think that is a worthy measurement.

This little document here is produced by the Board of Education. You probably all have seen copies of this and if you haven't they are available. I have a few that I would be glad to give to people but they are available. This is the most recent version because it actually has Dr. Tracy, the new Commissioner's name on it.

I think we need to look at what our state is as we set about to try to treat everybody equally. We find out that there are 221 towns and incorporated places in New Hampshire, there are 13 cities, there are 176 school districts administered by 80 school administrative units. Each of these entities is different. Each of these towns is different. We have towns where there is a million dollars in property value to support every student they have to educate. We have town where there is $300,000 worth of property that they can tax to support their kids. We've got towns where the median family income is over $100 million dollars. We've got towns where the median family is a third of that. We all here collectively represent those individual towns and our challenge is to do by right by our citizens that we represent while developing a plan that works for everyone.

We need to look at what we've accomplished over the years. And the other thing we need not to lose sight of is the fact that as we talk about the school funding plan today, we need to know that the state spends a lot of other money on schools that does not often get counted. In 2003-2004 the State of New Hampshire spent $31 millions of state dollars to support school construction. We spent $19 million to support catastrophic aid programs, the catastrophic aid to support those children with the greatest special needs. We spent $1,700,000 on kindergarten programs. We spent $4 million on vocational tuition and transportation – children from one school district that go to a vocational education program at another school. We spent $7 million on career and technical educations and renovation aid. So we spend a lot of dollars that we lose sight of when we talk about educational funding and we need to focus on that.

In 2002-2003 the local taxes supported 43% of the cost of education. The state adequacy aid was over 50%, the federal government put in 5%. So we are getting there. We have reached the point, I think, where we need now to try to fine tune this so that the program will work for tomorrow and for the future.

What this bill does, that you have before us today, it's a bill that has three financial categories. It has the local tax capacity aid which provides grants for those towns who have low property value per student. The total amount of those grant numbers is $143 million. It has a state capacity grant which recognizes another issue for towns. There is $62 million in that. It targets $250 million to the towns with the greatest demonstrated need. It provides over $7 million in lower and moderate income property tax relief. There are 27,000 families in this state that have been receiving tax refunds based on the educational tax. So it retains $7 million dollars. And it has $16 million in it of transition money to help those towns get from the money they received in '05 to '06 and '07. Transition grants are 85%. But when you look at the spreadsheets, you'll see that the funding for the biennium ('06 and '07), the funding is the same, so the 15% reduction from the '05 grants is spread out over two years. It is not 15% each year. So that's what the plan essentially does.

So this long spreadsheet explains how the bill works, how the plan works, and you'll notice that there are towns A, B, C and D. It has been my observations over the years that when you pass out a spreadsheet with 230 towns on it that you soon lose your audience. So I think what we have done here is identify the four significant groups of towns that exist in this state. Town A, and these are real towns, is a town that will receive no grants. Town A is a town that has very high property value per student, it's a town that has high incomes and you will notice if you go all the way across for Town A there's no grant. But this town was donating or contributing over $2 million in previous years. So that $2 million that they used to send to Concord, they are going to get to keep it home. So this is the importance of eliminating donor towns. Towns A and B are towns that fit into the middle range of communities. When we did this bill two years ago, we identified 116 towns that were too rich to be poor and to poor to be rich. Those towns that were in the middle, some of those towns have high property values, lower incomes. Some towns have high incomes, low property values. Most of those towns fall into the southern tier, there are those towns I spoke about earlier that are impacted by growth and other issues. Town D is the poorest town of the state. It's a town that has no property value per student to speak of and very low incomes. So these groups categorize the towns.

The first grants, if you count over to Column 9 it speaks about the per pupil amount. These are the towns receiving $143 million in total in the state. Town B receives $512,000. Town B is a town, if you look at the median family income, has $97,000 median family income against the state average of $57,000. But this town is property poor because it has less than 50% of the per pupil average for the state. So this town receives a small grant under the local tax capacity aid. This town receives no targeting aid. This town also receives a statewide tax and capacity aid of $248,000. On a total aid it receives $757,000 and it's a transition town. Here's a town that has been receiving money, and a matter of fact they received $4 million in '05. They'll be receiving $3.4 million in '06 and '07 and that's 85% of what they received in '05. Town C is another middle range town. It receives no grant because of its property values under the per pupil amount, under Column 9. It receives targeted aid. It receives a very small tax capacity aid. It receives a total aid of $1.8 million. It also receives transition money. The last town is typical of the towns that fit it, that really fall within the 50% of the low range towns. It receives a grant in all three categories.

Now these grants are based on the assumption that we have one statewide school district. That's how this bill starts out in its development. The reason it's done, is that you are able to look at what the towns are spending with local dollars in a given year. You're able to look at the total valuation in the state. From that you can determine how much money would be raised by the town and you can develop a per student cost. The per student cost is $4,122. Now 616 when it started out had a student cost of $4,474 based on the evaluation of tax scores developed by the Department of Education. In addition to the $4,122, you can add the $1,816 to get the total if you want to talk about the total adequacy grant. Just over $6,000. So, I think that what you find is that the state is going to be paying half the cost of total education. All of the towns in the state are compared against the statewide average to see what the fiscal capacity of each town would be, and that determines how you would get a grant. The assumption is, if a town has over 150% of the average property evaluation, they get no grant. If they are less than 150%, they get a pro-rated grant based on where they are in that relationship. That's how those grants are determined.

The targeted aid is based on a percentage of the $4,122. In the past as we have had targeted aid for free and reduced lunches as an example, we have matched it against the number that we've developed from the test scores. This is 95% for free and reduced lunch, 95% of the special ed. That helps take care of the so-called "double-counting." People feel that people get double-counted, this way this takes care of it because you have a certain number of students who don't take advantage of both plans. So the $3,916 and the $3,916 for the special ed and the free and reduced lunch is 95% of the $4,122. English as a Second-Language is $1,000, that's a very conservative number. In 2002 the Department of Education did an analysis of what the average costs were for every student in the state for English as a Second Language and they determined at that time it was $1,700 per student. Transportation is $190 what we need to recognize that is $190 for all twelve grades. I don't know about in your town, but in my town most of the high school students drive to school. So most of them are eligible to be transported on the yellow buses, most of them don't take advantage of it, but even the high school students would be counted to the $190.

The other grant is based on the relationship between the state tax of $2.84 and the equalized value of the town. This is the statewide property tax. The goal of the House when it did its legislation was to eliminate the statewide property tax. We know how that works. The money is collected, retained locally, spent locally, makes no difference to the individual tax payers. The taxpayers in my town have not known since 1999, unless they studied their tax bill, that they were getting two educational taxes. They got the state tax, they got the local tax. If they didn't have a statewide education tax, the local tax would just be that much more. So the only time we had an issue with the statewide property tax was in the donor towns where those towns had to send part of their tax to the state. This is no longer the case. It does increase the state's contribution.

Now, we as a state have decided that we want property taxes to fund education. And why do I say that? I say that because when I finish my legislative career a year from now, I'll have served under four governors. Two Republicans, two Democrats. All very talented people. All very good governors. All with a different philosophy to some degree, except for one thing, they all pledged to veto a sales tax or an income tax. They got elected on that basis. They got elected by good margins. They got elected by their citizens who said we do not want a sales tax or an income tax. And our choice today is a property tax to fund education. You can't sell more beer. You can't sell more cigarettes, although we were able to increase the cigarette tax enough to fund this legislation to pay for the costs. So we're representing what our citizens have told us to do when we use an education property tax to raise the money that we are going to spend on education. Some of us might wish it was different but it is not going to change. Not until the citizens of this state stand up and tell us to change it. We will be spending in this state in 2006-2007 just under $900 million in state dollars to support our local education. $363,000 of that will be the state education tax that is going to be collected locally and spent locally, but it is still a state tax. So I think we need to understand that. $897 million is about 50% of the total cost of education. The states that we compete with around our neighbors and nationally, that's about what states are spending of their dollars to provide K through 12 education. So we now are with the rest of the states in the Union in stepping up and paying education.

We always will debate how the money is distributed. There is no perfect plan. If each one of us could design a plan for our own town, we would have no problems. But we are talking about 234 towns, including the 13 cities and we have to find a way to treat everybody fairly. We also have to understand what the Claremont lawsuit was all about. It was about taking care of those towns who did not have the resources to pay for an education. So we are doing that, we are paying for an adequate education and we're putting $250,000 into what I call an "equality grant." That money goes to towns who really need it. I also think all of us want more than an "adequate education." If you look at Webster, adequate means just barely getting by, the minimum amount. We want more than that for our kids. We want a quality education. We are going to spend $250,000 in this state to bring quality education to the students where it's needed and those are the targeted dollars. So that's why we support this legislation. We do not claim it's perfect but we think it's a good bill. We think it has a chance to live into the future. It's a two-year plan. Because the one problem that our towns have, the way that they have to develop their budgets doesn't fit neatly into the way we operate the legislature. When we first come here in January in a new session, the legislature will have to work on education funding. They'll have to look at the number of students in this state. They'll have to look at the total equalized value. They'll have to plug those into the formula. The first year for their towns is set. They will then make the decision so that when the towns go the next year to do their budget, they will be able to be told what they are going to get for education. That's why it's a two-year funding. We do a biennial budget. We do need to do a biennial budget for our schools, if we want to be able to tell them accurately what they are going to get for dollars. If the legislature decides to change the formula and they get to do it in the first year, when they go home in June they will have done that, still time to put the new formula in place and let the towns know what they are going to get when the legislature comes back in the next January knowing that the towns are going to vote on that budget in March. We couldn't get things done in time this year and our towns, some of them, are under the belief that they are going to get money that they are not going to get because of the bill that we passed that didn't work. The bill we passed last year didn't work this year. That's the current law. If this bill fails, we'll have a current law that will require us to distribute $50 million that we don't have.

The last thing I want to say about this bill, for the first time since we started this process in 1999, we are no longer putting General Fund dollars into supporting education. As you recall, the first time we started down this road we were coming off a year in which the state had a large surplus over $120 million. The legislature in their wisdom took that $120 million and plugged it into the education formula to pay for education. That was one-time money and we have been chasing that money ever since. The last biennium we were spending our General Fund dollars, about $100 million to take care of that short fall. That's gone now. The $84 million from the cigarette tax plus the increased revenues that we've had through the normal process has made it possible for the state no longer to have to spend General Fund dollars for education. Education funding will stand on its own without General Fund dollars. Thank you very much.

Rep. Kurk: Thank you Madame Speaker. Thank you Rep. King for taking the question. Could you explain to me what the per pupil adequacy number is, how it is calculated and how it will change in '08 and '09 assuming this formula lives that long?

Rep. King: If you look at your large spreadsheet, you'll notice where it says "state," and these formulas are built on three years previous data because that's as fast the Department of Education can generate the numbers for a variety of reasons, so we're looking at the '03 numbers. There are 200,153.8 students, so 200,154 students in this state. The local tax assessment was $825 million dollars, that's what the towns spent locally on education. So all of the towns in the statewide school district added together that's what they spent. If you divide those numbers, you'll find that, in order to pay the $825 million on the basis of the cost, it would take the mythical $7.19 property tax. $7.19 property tax generates $825 million, divide the 200,000 into that and you get the $4,122 which is the adequacy number.

So that in the mythical school district that really becomes the cost of an adequate education. Now we all know that towns spend a lot more than that.

There is a copy of this amendment from the Senate that's available that spells this all out in detail. But that essentially how the bill is developed. The original 616 got to its adequacy number a little bit differently. What that did was using the test scores of a sample group of towns, towns where the Department of Education actually determined the basic cost of education for all these towns, it eliminated the towns on the top and the bottom. It took a group of towns and on the per pupil basis they were able to say that the costs were $4,344, very close to this number. This formula that came from the Senate is a little bit different but it's in that range. That $4,344 is developed just like we had developed in the past using test scores. The interesting thing about the test scores is that they went up. We used to use 40% to 60%. We now use 60% to 80% because the test scores are better. So we're doing better at least in that measurement in our schools.

Rep. Weyler: Thank you, Rep. King. In a topic as controversial as this I think it's important that we document our work and since the documents you presented are key to your presentation, my question to you is, Will you take two blank copies, put your signature on them and give them to the Clerk so that they can be entered so they can be entered as part of the permanent record.

Rep. King: I'm glad to do that. I still say the issue is if there is language, if there's a technical problem with the language that we discover down the road, you don't want to have the same problem that we had before. So you want to make sure that the spreadsheets are the actual distribution numbers for the communities, if we do have a technical problem with the language in the enrolled bill process, so we don't have the same problem we now have where we have the language of a bill doesn't match the spreadsheets we passed out two years ago. Yes, I'd be glad to do that.

CLERK'S NOTE

The spreadsheets were presented to the Clerk and placed within the bill file for SB 228.

Rep. Dan Eaton: Thank you, Madame Speaker. Rep. King among the many glaring differences between the plan passed by the House and the plan passed by the Senate leadership, there's one that truly stood out to me and I'm wondering if you could help me understand the financial implications or differences? In each and every plan, work done by the House Education or Finance Committee those bills used 2003 figures for ADMR. And I noticed the Senate Leadership plan used 2002 figures. I'm wondering if you could help me understand what sort of financial implication that would make for places like Manchester, Nashua, Berlin, communities along those lines.

Rep. King: My assumption is – I can't tell you why they did that – I can't tell you as you know I did not offer this bill. It's 80% of what my bill was but it's not the exact bill. My answer to that would be that there may be some variation but it will be throughout the state. So I don't think the individual towns would be severely challenged by that. We know property values are going up 8% or 9% probably something like that I guess. I don't know why the differences, I didn't compare the numbers so I can't answer that question.

Rep. Dan Eaton: Thank you.

Rep. Tim Robertson: Thank you, Madame Speaker. Thank you, Representative. This is not a comfortable question to ask and I hope I can word it such a way that it's simple for you to answer. We all took an oath of office to sit here and part of that oath said the state would fund an adequate education. Do you feel we have answered our oath of office by either this bill or the Senate bill?

Rep. King: I believe that all of the bills we heard, including House Bill 100, will meet that challenge because, as I said earlier, the state is now paying approximately 50% of the total cost of education with state dollars.

Rep. Tim Robertson: And where is the state getting the money?

Rep. King: The state gets the money from state taxes.

Rep. Robertson: Thank you.

Rep. Lasky: Thank you, Madame Speaker. Thank you, Rep. King for taking my question. I'm looking at four towns in the southern tier, Londonderry, Manchester, Merrimack and Nashua. I'm just looking at the bottom lines between FY 2005 actual and what the Senate has passed. I would like to know if the student numbers in those towns, and particularly the education aspects that go along with those student numbers that this plan has been based on, has changed so dramatically that warrants Londonderry to get $3 million less money, Merrimack a million dollars, Nashua $3 million less and Manchester $5 million more?

Rep. King: I would suggest that the numbers probably have changed. I think the reason there's a reduction in numbers is because as the formula works its way through those towns receive less aid because they either have 1) higher property values than state average, 2) higher incomes than state average. I think those are the variables in the bill. We're spending essentially the same amount of money. If you look at some of the poor towns, if you look at Claremont, you look at Berlin, you will find they are getting more money. They are getting more targeted money so I think that is the difference.

Rep. Lasky: Thank you.

Rep. Hall: Thank you, Rep. King for taking my question. Thank you, Madame Speaker. I'm not sure my question should properly be addressed to you, Sir, but my question is, Which one of the options before us, 302 from last year and the House plan and the Senate plan, is most vulnerable to constitutional challenge?

Rep. King: I say they are all equally susceptible to constitutional challenge perhaps for different reasons. I don't think that, as we sat here two years ago and you recall that about the time we passed that bill that we had, 608, overwhelmingly, and the Attorney General sent us a letter late at night saying that it was unconstitutional. I think that its always susceptible to a challenge. The issue has been discussed at length during this year and what we are being told is that as a result of a settlement in Massachusetts where the Supreme Court in Massachusetts overruled a previous decision that the Supreme Court had made there on some new information and the fact that our constitution is very similar to that gives the drafters of these bills a sense of security about its being more constitutional. All of these bills that they didn't have before. Case in point, when we first started this process here in this very chamber, those of us who were drafting legislation had a chance to present an outline of our plans to the House. At that time our Attorney General recounted what he had said and warned us about the issues. Since then, as I understand it, the Attorney General now feels comfortable in defending the bills that have been circulating. And I'm being told by attorneys, and I'm not an attorney, obviously, that the reason for that is they think that the court would have a different way of looking at the process. So, we will never know whether they're constitutional until they go to court but I think they are all equally constitutional or not constitutional. I think there are lawyers that can make the case either way much better than I am. I feel more comfortable based on what I've been told as a result of the settlement of the lawsuit in Massachusetts.

Rep. Rowe: I thank the Speaker and the Honorable Representative from Colebrook. The Honorable Representative said the state is paying 50% of the total cost of education. Does that 50% include monies from the federal government like No Child Left Behind, etc.?

Rep. King: No, it does not.

Rep. Rowe: How much money do we receive statewide total from No Child Left Behind and other federal sources and how are they distributed to the cities and towns?

Rep. King: The statistics from the Board of Education indicate that we receive 5% of our cost from the federal government. How those plans are broken down and how they are distributed, some money goes directly to communities, some money flows through the Department of Education. I can't tell you, but 5% of our cost of education is paid by the federal government. About 50% is paid by the state and the balance is paid by local tax dollars. Those are the statistics that I read off my little card which I've since replaced, if you can believe that.

Rep. Rowe: Thank you.

Rep. Elizabeth Blanchard: Thank you, Madame Speaker. Thank you, Rep. King for taking my question. Yesterday I picked up a complete spreadsheet and the one you've been discussing today with the four towns, I don't want to say hypothetical towns because you said they are real towns, on it have 2002 figures. This one has 2003 figures. Can you explain the discrepancy?

Rep. King: This is another version of the bill. I believe it's the bill that the Senate considered first last week and took no action on. There are thousands of spreadsheets floating around. The ones we are discussing today are the two in the backroom. Those are the two. So that is a previous one that was acted on in the Senate. House Bill 616 is the bill that is the villain in this. 616 was the first bill introduced in the House, the Education Committee and it became the bill that was amended and amended and amended and amended and amended.

Rep. Alger: Thank you, Madame Speaker. Thank you, Representative for taking my question. Representative, you mentioned early on that this bill now includes the low and moderate income tax relief that we've had for a number of years, I was delighted to hear that. I presume that was a Senate amendment, wasn't in the House bill as I understood it, and my question relates to the fact the $7 million – is that about the same amount we had before and is the same formula, so the people use the same formula as we've had last year? Thank you.

Rep. King: The formula is very similar to what's been used in the past. That portion of the bill that was in 616 originally distributed about $143 million through this part of the bill. It's pretty much what the Senate does. There are some modifications but it is essentially the same bill, with just some tweeking along the way.

Rep. Alger: You mentioned $7 million was allocated this year for this bill and as I understand it, am I correct that is about the amount we had to use the last couple of years?

Rep. King: Are you talking about the tax relief?

Rep. Alger: I'm talking about the tax relief, that's all I'm talking about – the tax relief.

Rep. King: Yes.

Rep. Alger: It's the same formula?

Rep. King: None of the House bills had property tax relief in them because they didn't have a property tax. So, yes, the property tax relief in this bill is actually a little bit more than we've been distributing in the past.

Rep. Cady: Thank you, Madame Speaker and Representative King. Rep. King, I think all of us here agree that we need to fund education but we also know the impact on our people in our town when – I think we all know we need to fund education but when this House and that Senate takes an action that will in this bill cause my town to immediately raise the taxes approximately $1.00 per thousand and in the four towns that I represent only one will not have that impact, how do we help our citizens to be actually be taxed fairly when we keep changing it on them when they have already voted a budget in March? We must come up with a bill that will not change it after the fact of the vote in March if we are properly doing our duty. I would like to see your committee somehow fix it so that we don't raise the taxes without them even having a chance to speak.

Rep. King: I agree with your sentiments, and as I tried to say earlier, that is the reason this is a two-year funding bill is to allow predictability going forward. It's unfortunate that the bill that was adopted by this House and by the Senate two years ago, the language didn't match the spreadsheets. We find out now that we're committed to spending considerably more money than we anticipated. I know that when I went to my school districts before the March meeting, I told them there is a problem with educational funding, my recommendation is you budget what you are receiving now, not what the state's told you you're going to get. The Commissioner was required to send out a spreadsheet by November 15th. If any of you have ever seen that spreadsheet when he sent it out, he said this is what you are going to get, but he said look at the footnote. If you read the footnote, what the language interprets in the view of some people is, that the total obligation this state has under the current law is $49 million. Now, obviously that was not the intent. The other extreme is to commit to $50 million more than we intended. There's flaws in the language. That's why Rep. Weyler is concerned about that happening again. We have to make sure, because we look at the spreadsheets, we go back home and say this is what you are going to get. We have to make sure that happens. It's unfortunate that it happened but the bill passed and that's the situation we have. I think that has exacerbated the problem we already have as we try to target more money. That's why there is a hold harmless in there to try to stop the cliff effect. Because every time you change a bill you have a cliff effect. Everybody has to vote their conscience. Some people are going to get more money, some people are going to get less when you change the formula. That can't be prevented. We do need to be able to have some predictability. I think this bill does that by funding it on a biennium basis.

Rep. David Campbell: Thank you, Madame Speaker. I thank the honorable Representative, the Chairman of the Finance Committee, for all his thorough explanations today. I'm from Nashua and out of the Senate passed bill, Nashua doesn't do very well. Under various formulas and depending on other different versions of the bill, other towns and cities either did well or did not do well and we're often forced to vote what's best for our communities. You touched on this a little bit on this in your remarks and this is a simplistic analogy but I liken it to the fact that there are 234 school districts, say 234 one-gallon buckets, we've got about 180 gallons of water to fill them. So matter no matter how you slosh the water around, somebody's bucket is going to be short. Would you agree that what we ultimately have here is a revenue crisis and a lack of water to fill the buckets?

Rep. King: I think I tried to make it clear, I don't agree that we now have a revenue crisis. I think that if the State of New Hampshire pays half the cost of education which this bill does, granted using a state tax – called a "state education tax or a state tax", which some of us would rather replace, but I tried to explain that that's the choice of the citizens. You add the $383 million to all of the other money we are putting in which are true state dollars raised in different ways, we actually are paying half the cost. I think that's adequate and I think that on a statewide basis we no longer need to apologize for what we are spending on education. Thank you for your question.

Rep. Peter Allen: Thank you very much, Madame Chair. We are asked to affirm that about $4,100 would fund an adequate or satisfactory education. At this time in history, $4,100 is less than half of the average cost of a public education in New Hampshire. Is this how little we cherish public education? If we vote this bill down, I gather that an equally inadequate funding plan would take effect. So we have no acceptable choice. My oath to uphold the New Hampshire Constitution was solemnly sworn. I find that I must regretfully and respectfully abstain from voting and I will abide by the rules of the House and leave this chamber when we enter the voting mode.

Rep. James Garrity: Thank you, Representative for taking the question. You did make the point that $4,100 is about 50% of an average cost of an education, but didn't Rep. King just tell us that the state portion of an education is about 50%. So you've got $4,100 that the state puts in, about 50%, and the locality picks up the rest. Isn't that what he said?

Rep. Peter Allen: What is the question?

Rep. James Garrity: Do you think that the state needs to pay all $8,200 of an education and the locality pay nothing?

Rep. Peter Allen: I believe that the courts found that the state is responsible for funding an adequate education for every student in New Hampshire.

Rep. James Garrity: Thank you.

Rep. Carter: Thank you very much, Madame Speaker and distinguished members. I prepared a four minute speech for today and then I took out all the inflammatory language and the sour grapes, so I'm left with a two minute speech, but I do believe it is an important two minutes. The funding plan before us now has two serious deficiencies. First, the targeting formula does not use median household income as a factor. And because we pay our taxes from our incomes and not our property values, the funding formula may not fully claim equity without claiming income as a factor in its workings. The funding plan before us does use median family income as a type of circuit breaker as opposed to a targeting factor, along with equalized assessed value per pupil. If a community has 150% or more of the state average, it loses all targeted aid eligibility. On the flip side, a community with 149% of the state average enjoys all of the targeting benefits of the plan in equal proportion to the poorest communities of the state, while its ever-so-slightly better off neighbor, the neighbor with 150%, gets nothing. The House worked diligently on its version of House Bill 616 and it is the better plan. The actions of the Senate were disappointing on both sides of the aisle. If you put it in software industry terms, we sent the Senate education funding version 2005. Instead of upgrading it, they sent us back an old operating system version 2002. But, and it is a big but, we did get half a loaf from the Senate and for today the half loaf is nourishment enough. Now some have said that, well, that I'm inflexible at times. But I don't have to be hit in the head with a brick to see that when it comes to education funding, a committee of conference would give too much power to too few people with too much bias. We should concur with the Senate amendment to House Bill 616. Thank you.

Rep. Mirski: Thank you, Madame Speaker. On behalf of the alliance and the recommendation of today's pig shoot, that is mainly what I would like to speak to. We have been opposed to the imposition of the statewide property tax since the very beginning and haven't changed that position with respect to the inequity which we believe that tax imposes on the people of this state. It is something which ultimately needs to be removed. And so the recommendation that we are making today to Republicans in particular was to nonconcur and go to the committee of conference. However, some things have changed since the time we prepared this recommendation and I think they're significant. At today's Republican caucus, there was absolutely no objection raised by anyone in leadership with respect to advocating the removal of this tax from the books next year. For my sense of it is that we should have support among Republican leaders in this House for getting rid of this tax beginning next January. So I will tell you that there will be bills, I'm sure that there will be more than one bill, but there certainly will be one bill which will aim to do just that – to get rid of this tax.

If folks who have been here a while will remember shortly after we enacted or continued the statewide property tax as part of the budget bill about four years ago, a significant number of Republicans on this side and all the Democrats voted to repeal the statewide property tax and we did so in this House. At that time leadership was not on board. So this time the situation has changed. I think that there is universal dislike of this tax but at this point in time, we have a commitment on our side I think to work hard next year to get rid of it permanently. I think the stars are in alignment. I would like to invite all Republicans to support the motion to concur on 616 with the idea that we will get busy and fix this terrible tax permanently next year. I think we have an opportunity to do it, we ought to act on it. We should accept 616 as it's been given to us. I agree with the member from Peterborough that sending it to committee of conference where a great deal of mischief could occur would be a bad thing. So please concur with the recommendation and let's get on with it. Thank you.

Rep. Pratt: Thank you, Madame Speaker. I don't think I've used that term since Rep. Sytek was in the Chair. It's good to say it again. Madame Speaker, a long time ago it seems now, when I got here one of the elder members of this House, and I think it was the then gentleman from New London although I could be wrong, said when it comes time for committees of conference, there's one thing that you have to remember above all, "keep your eye on the ball." My colleagues, let's begin by asking what it is that we're being asked to vote on. The question is "Shall we give up the position of the House which we passed in 616 because it is inferior to the position which the Senate has sent us in their version?" That's the issue. Have they given us a better bill than we gave them. All the rest is kind of whatever, but that's the question. My colleagues, I think if you look at the one spreadsheet that for whatever reason we don't have, almost none of them I've seen have, and that is this one which has four columns in it. The first two columns are the amount of money each town will receive under 616 as passed by the Senate and the other two columns are what each town will would receive from 616 as passed by the House. Line by line you go right down and when you look at this, one thing will become absolutely clear. The difference between the House and the Senate version, in the Senate version the rich towns get richer and the poor towns get screwed. I might get called to the well, I got there once before for using inappropriate language but that's exactly what happens. Take a look at this. The House gave the town of Amherst, $2.2 million, the Senate gave them $3.4 million – plus 1.2 million.

At the same time, Bedford – the House gave $1.5 million, the Senate gives $2.8, up $1.3. Berlin, ah, poor Berlin – the House gave $10.1 million, the Senate gives $8.6, down $1.5. You can go through this town by town by town and you're going to find rich towns get more and more and more, and poor towns get less and less and less. And why is that? Why is that? Because the House version went through a public process. It went through a committee process. It was, as the Chairman said, it was a bipartisan product and represented then the best that we had to offer. I disagreed with it on constitutional grounds but it targeted aid in a fair and equitable manner. The Senate version, which unlike the House, was not passed in a nonpartisan or bipartisan manner, but was instead the version of 13 members of one party opposed by all 8 members of another plus courageous members of the majority. It was a totally partisan bill that did not go through the public process, that never saw the light of day and that gave in to special interests. Now, I know, as it happens that there is a little partisanship here. I apologize for that. It is a fact that all the representatives from Amherst, and all the representatives from Bedford, and all the representatives from Hollis except for one I think, and from Seabrook, and from Windham happen to come from one party. It also happens that most of the representatives or a good many of them of the towns that lose in the Senate version came from Winchester, Berlin, Claremont, Charlestown are bipartisan representatives. So there isn't any question that this bill favors the rich and screws the poor. We may want to do that but I hope not. I think the better angels of this House were expressed when we passed 616. I think it's a good bill and for the life of me I can not understand why we would recede from a better bill for a worse one. This is partisan politics at its worst and I think I will frankly state, I think the Senate, and I'll give them credit for this, Senate leadership snookered the Governor last week, and is doing a heck of a job to try to snooker us today.

Rep. Calli-Pitts: Thank you, Representative. Would you believe that I have two technical questions and one is that, I'm looking at a sheet here and I'm looking at the figures, I'm not happy with all the figures but I've been told that on this sheet there is a donor town. And my belief was that one of the things that we were to do was to eliminate the donor towns and I can't find it no matter how hard I look which leads me to distrust the rest of the numbers. So, can you point out to me what I am not finding?

Rep. Pratt: I don't know which sheet you are referring to so I can't say. I do know that the one donor town left as I understand it is the town of Hebron.

Rep. W. Packy Campbell: I thank the good representative from Walpole for finally getting behind the House position. I wish you were with us when we passed it out of the House. I would like to point out a few things about your eloquence. In general as we maybe snookered the Governor, if that bill had passed, the very statements that you are making today would have been 100% correct and actually exemplified much worse. Having been involved in this process, I want to ask you if you are aware that in looking at this bill as passed by the Senate and the House bill as we passed, that the 60 poorest towns for EAV lose $8 million, you are absolutely correct. The Governor's version would have been better than twice that number. I'm glad that we passed a bill that I feel represented the principles of this House. Are you further aware that the top 60 towns in the Senate passed version actually lose $2.8 million versus the House passed version? Would you agree that it is responsible for this House to look not at the individual anomalies that we can all sensationalize, but look at the general principles behind the bills and agree that this bill gets more money to lower, poorer towns and less money to the richer towns?

Rep. Pratt: Let me see if I can try to answer that if I understood you correctly. Because you are far more of an expert on this than I am. I thought that I heard you say that you agreed with me that in the Senate version, the 60 poorest towns do worse than they did in the House version. Was that what I heard you say?

Rep. W. Packy Campbell: What you heard me say was if we were not able through what I consider a minor miracle to pass a different version in the Senate which up until Wednesday of last week looked like we were getting a very different version, we would be in a much worse position. So what I'm saying to you is $8 million over 60 towns is acceptable because percentage-wise the spirit and the principle of the House position is intact.

Rep. Pratt: First of all, don't look to me to be a proponent of the Governor's unconstitutional plan because I never have been. What I'm here today to say is in the choice that we are being asked to make that's what this vote is about. Do you concur with the Senate version or do you refuse to concur and hold to the House position? There isn't any question in my mind, Mr. Campbell, that your version is far superior to the one that the Senate sent us. You are quite correct that the lower towns lose in the Senate version and if targeted aid has a purpose it is not in my judgment to target it to the rich. It ought to be to target it to those where there is most need. I think that at least comes moderately close to a constitutional requirement.

Rep. W. Packy Campbell: Would you believe as someone who as you just pointed out, has been actively involved in this process that I do agree with you that it is black and white. However, the black and white answer is that this is a good bill from the Senate. It is consistent with the principles that we passed, it is consistent with the principles that I fought for. It does have an 85% transition which the House passed bill did not have. We accept that. It is not the 90% transition that we would have been stuck with. It's a movement in the front direction and I would ask you to believe as I believe and I would ask all the members to believe that this is a good bill and it's time to concur and get this behind us.

Rep. Pratt: I'll take it as a question, Madame Speaker, and I will only respond to my distinguished friend, that the issue isn't whether this is a good bill, which I don't think it is but that's a matter of opinion, the issue is which is the better bill that's what questions of concur or nonconcur are about. A or B. And the House passed the better bill. Believe in yourselves. Trust your own judgment, for God's sake, we worked for months on this thing and then the Senate came out of the closet and brought us something that has never had a public hearing, never had any bipartisan ship, trust yourselves and do the right thing.

Rep. Dunn: Thank you, Madame Chairman. Members of the House. I rise to ask you to support the Senate education funding plan. I have three reasons for asking you to do so, but first, I ask you not to vote based on a spreadsheet, but more, vote for the policy that the Education Committee set up. My reason for saying that is really pretty simple. This plan encompasses an entirely new approach to funding education. The bill we pass, concur with today, is not going to be the final word on funding education. We will be at this and at this and at this until we get it right. I was on the subcommittee that wrestled endlessly with the intricacies of funding. We worked many long hours across February and March. On a Saturday morning early in March after leaving Concord late Friday night in a snowstorm, I had a telephone conversation with the chairman of the subcommittee. We were scheduled to meet that morning at 10:00. I told him that I had ten inches of snow in the yard and that it was still snowing hard. He said, "Oh, you Democrats,." But we took that Saturday off. We did work hard and it was after a fashion a completely bipartisan effort once we worked out the philosophical principles. The Senate bill maintains all of those principles but one. That one is the abolishment of the statewide property tax. As far as I know, the Education Committee was unanimously opposed to maintaining the statewide property tax, as is the Governor. Many of you use that in your campaigns to be re-elected. I and others on the Education Committee can accept that now, that is, accept the tax now, because it allows the state to do something our committee and the House Finance Committee could not find the money to do which is to fund a property tax relief program. Any education funding plan will financially penalize the poorest of our property owning citizens. This plan with the statewide property tax helps to protect them. That's an important feature.

Now to my other reasons for you to support this legislation. First, it meets the courts guidance delivered in Claremont II. Statewide property tax money spent locally is state money. There is only one donor town during the first year of the program. There are no donor towns in year two. Second, the state plan distributes $12 million more than any other plan that has been on the table during this session because of the statewide property tax. Additionally, it makes several million dollars available for the poor who are most adversely affected by the statewide property tax. Third, although not every community gets more or even the same funding as in the past, the spread of money is more equitable than in past plans. Meaning that the poorest communities get a little fairer share of the scant money available for one of the most important institutions in our free society. Thank you.

Rep. Vaillancourt: Thank you, Madame Speaker. Sure, you have to tell them that there are seven left just before I get up to speak. Isn't that the way life is. No, I'm not going to ask for a quorum call. I rise to speak in favor of the motion to concur with this and I'll do so on three grounds, or discuss with you three grounds: politics, constitutionality and fairness. I think the three most important words that we can consider as we do our deliberations today are "compared to what." Is this bill perfect, obviously not. Is it good? Compared to what? Well, compared to the House bill is what we are really dealing with today. And unlike the Representative from Walpole, who used an equal amount of passion several weeks ago in opposing the House version, unlike the member from Walpole, I think this is far superior to the House version which I also opposed with passion. I'm not going to speak passionately today because I think what we need is a rational discussion of the issues this afternoon. I think the Finance Committee did a very good job in putting forward the parameters of the bill and the arguments for it. So from a fairness point of view I will come at it from just a slightly different perspective. But first I want to discuss the politics of this. Remember the House bill passed by a margin of three votes. Since then we have learned that no fewer than five members of this House, who were against the bill, voted for it simply so they could be on the Committee of Conference. So in other words it would not have passed, if the House members really had voted the way they felt about this bill. That would have been a good thing because as I said several weeks ago the House version is a travesty. It's an exercise in deceit. It takes a statewide property tax that right now jiggers around $22 million and would have established a statewide property tax that we did not want to admit was that, but instead transferred $125 million. It gave somebody an excuse for getting away with that. So the House bill was a terrible bill. It was unconstitutional. As I look at it, it wasn't really passed by this House. As I told the Senate Finance Committee, I didn't have to vote for the House version that I disagreed with because I never expected to be on a Committee of Conference anyway. So I was unencumbered by that revelation. So as far as I'm concerned the House does not have a position in favor of that bill that passed. Now the second political point has been referred to here today by many speakers and I will quote one of the Democratic leaders from the Concord Monitor, "Yet another backroom deal between House and Senate Republicans." Well, that patently absurd. This is not a backroom deal. This is basically the same plan that was law two years ago. It's basically, what was it? 302? It's almost exactly the same thing. So, it's not a backroom deal that was never screened publicly. This is the plan that we passed two years ago that we wavered on last year only when the Attorney General, Mr. Heed, at the time, sent a letter suggesting that he may not be able to defend it. Again, it again comes down to "compared to what?" Compared to what he wanted last year, we knuckled under because we thought it was unconstitutional because he told us that. Compared to what now? Compared to a governor's plan which is clearly unconstitutional. Compared to the House passed plan which to me is clearly unconstitutional. Compared to what? What we have today is a bill that was in effect, was never challenged for constitutionality, so was in fact constitutional for the time it was in. Now you know me, I'm one of the people who believes very firmly that we should be concerned with the constitution. I voted against the House passed plan and I spoke against the Governor's plan because I was convinced that it was unconstitutional. And I'm not going to deceive you today. This bill, I ask you to concur with because I think that it is marginally constitutional. I think that it could possibly pass constitutional muster. I think that there is better than a 50-50 chance. If I were a justice and this came before me, after listening to the arguments, I would personally rule that it has problems. I think that it is important that you hear this and I've told Senator Gatsas this. I think that he is aware of this and probably the senators who voted for it are aware of this as well. This bill in establishing a $2.84 statewide property tax in my view still creates several donor towns. Now, we've mention the one, that's Hebron. Another one as far as I'm concerned is Waterville Valley. But what this bill does is says that we are going to forgive from being a donor town as long as you spend as much as you can raise with that $2.84 for education. That means that Waterville Valley, for example, avoids being a donor town by spending about $27,000 per student. If I were a justice I would say that's not constitutional that Waterville Valley is allowed to spend $27,000 per student when the state average is about $8,000. What I would have done would have been to cap this and say you become a donor town if you can raise more than the state average, the rest of that you make them a donor town with. That would have created about eight donor towns, Tuftonboro, Center Harbor, Moultonborough, Waterville Valley ... and it would have transferred about $6 million as opposed to the $22 million we did last year and the $125 million the House plan presupposes. That's my feeling. But I'm not a justice and I'm honest enough to say that although I feel that way, I think the justices may rule this constitutional, so I can go along with it. Further I don't know if it is ever even going to be brought before them because, and this is where we come to the fairness. Comments from my friend from Walpole notwithstanding, this is the fairest bill that we have ever dealt with in this House. The fairest bill since I've been working on this for eight years and was on that Division IV with the Representative from Weare when we started dealing with this problem shortly after the Claremont decision. We started to wrestle with how we were going to come up with fairness. Now, in all these spreadsheets you've been given, I want to just deal with a couple of averages for you. This spreadsheet talks about median family income in this state at about $57,000. It uses that to determine which towns can then become eligible for targeted aid. In doing that it only eliminates four towns, as I understand it. They would be Bedford, Hollis, Windham and Amherst. So that's probably a pretty good indication of wealth. Unlike the Governor's plan it does not use that average income built into the formula for what you get. It does what we have done traditionally in the House, it uses free and reduced lunch as that chit that determines how much you will get. So, although it uses that $57,000 to determine whether you make the threshold, it then uses free and reduced lunch. But let's keep in mind that $57,000 state average. The second average that's important is the equalized valuation per pupil. The state average there happens to be about $573,000. What I suggest you do, everybody talks about looking at spreadsheets and everybody tells me, "Oh, you're for this plan because you're from Manchester." That's not true. I was against the Governor's plan even though Manchester did better in that than it does in this. I'm for this plan because when I get a spreadsheet, I don't look necessarily first thing on how my town does, but I compare those averages. Let's just take two towns and run them by you to give you a comparison. Let's take Londonderry and Derry for example. I've given you those two numbers, $57,000 state average income, $573,000 state average equalized valuation per student. Keep in mind one other average, $2,278 is the amount this plan gives to the average student in the state. I get that figure by dividing the total amount targeted, $456 million (that is before you talk about transition grants) divided by the 200,000 students in the state comes out to be, as I say, $2,278. So, now it's important to see if your town gets above or below the $2,278 and then let's try to figure out why on a fairness ratio. And again, let's look at Londonderry and Derry. Londonderry, average income $73,000. That's 27% above the state average. Obviously, when you come to free and reduced lunch students which is going to be a factor in determining your targeted aid, Londonderry is not going to fare very well there since there are not a lot of poor people there. So, keep in mind $73,000 their average income. Their average per pupil equalized valuation is $458,000 which is $100,000 or more below the state average. They've got approximately 80% of the state average. So on the one hand they are 27% over the state average and on the other hand, they're 27% under. So what does that mean for their average student? Londonderry gets $2,262 for the average student. That's almost exactly what the state average is. Almost exactly. And doesn't it make sense that it would be almost exactly, if they are 27% over in one category and 20% under in another category? That points out the equity of this system. Let's go and look at Derry. Remember the state average per student is $2,278. Derry has a state median income of $61,000 which is about 7% over the state average. But on the equalized per pupil valuation there is $342,000 which is 40% less than the state average. So you think Derry should get a big boost. Fairness would indicate that and, in fact, they do. They get $3,634 per student or about $1,400 more than the state average. So, it's fair that Derry get more and Londonderry get less. Shall I run through Nashua and Manchester with you? Now a lot of people say, "Oh, Manchester gets a lot more." You know the reason Manchester gets a lot more in this? Can I use that word screwed? Because we were severely injured in the formula passed by this House and Senate last year in that dreadful committee of conference negotiation. That's one reason going back to "compared to what?" that I would not use a committee of conference. You never know how you're going to be "fill in the blank" by a committee of conference. Compared to what we have before us in the Senate plan today, compared to what we might have, this is a wonderful plan. Not because it benefits Manchester, but because it's fair. Before I go to Manchester and Nashua, let's talk about Berlin. They talk about poor Berlin being hurt by this. Absurd. Berlin gets almost $6,000 per student in this plan. Almost three times the state average. And they deserve it because Berlin's average income is $38,000, as opposed to $57,000 statewide average; and their equalized valuation is $205,000 per student, much less than half of the state average. They deserve the $6,000 per student. But do they deserve $8,000 – $10,000 as the House plan passed? Of course not, because they aren't even spending that. They don't deserve more than they are spending. Let's be serious. Another problem with the House plan remember, we gave Portsmouth, which went from being a huge donor town, we ended up giving them $1 million. Absolute insanity in the House plan. This plan is fair. It takes into account the average per student based on average household income and average per equalized valuation per student. Manchester, for example, has $458,000 equalized valuation per student, $100,000 less than the state average and the Manchester average income is $50,000, or $7,000 less than the state average. So what you would ask is Manchester getting per student. Well, they have 20% less in equalized valuation per student. They have 15% less in average income per student and they are, in fact, still not getting the $6,000 that Berlin is getting. But they are getting $3,142 per student, about $900 more than the state average. It makes perfect sense. And for all of you injured Nashua people, Nashua has $61,000 per income per family, $5,000 more than the state average, and it's equalized valuation is almost exactly the state average. So taking those two factors into account you would think that Nashua might get slightly less than the state average and, in fact, they are. $1,850 per student as opposed to $2,278. If this plan, Madame Speaker, were built strictly for Manchester, and this is the second quibble I have with it, but a quibble I'm going to disregard because it's brilliant other than these two quibbles, the first being the potential constitutionality. If this plan were built just for Manchester, would it have only $1,000 per student on ESL (English as a Second Language)? Now, according to this plan, in the state there are only 3,000 such students, 37% of them are in Manchester. If you were building a plan to benefit Manchester, you wouldn't count each ESL student at a mere $1,000. You would count the same way you do for a Special Ed student at $3,916. By not doing that, Manchester gets $4 million less in this plan than it otherwise would have. Nashua would also benefit if you counted ESL at the full weighting because they have a lot of English as a second language students well. They would get an extra $2 million in this plan. But while I have a quibble with that, while I think ESL deserves more consideration, I have been told by a member from Londonderry that a lot of those big federal dollars we get goes toward ESL so you shouldn't ask for much more. We don't ask for much more with this. We're asking a paltry 25% of what you're giving students with ADMR free and reduced lunch. So compared to what? Madame Speaker, compared to the Governor's plan, this plan is brilliant. Compared to the House passed plan, this plan is brilliant. It is fair to towns as I've just gone through with you. And you can do this with every town. Do it for Merrimack. Do it for Hudson. Sure, they come out less than they did with last year's plan, but they don't get destroyed as the House plan would have it. For those of you who think as the speaker from Walpole said that oh Hudson and Merrimack do rather well with this plan, remember, there is only the possibility of losing only 15%. For those of you who want Bedford to get hurt, come back in four years because they get nothing in four years when this plan is fully phased in and they don't deserve it if you look at the numbers again and find that they've got $91,000 as opposed to $57,000 average income or equalized valuation is about $140,000 more than the state average. This plan is fair and I ask you to concur with it. And I won't speak anymore.

Rep. Shaw: Thank you, Madame. Representative is it true that median income is calculated based on all the people in a city divided by the overall income, so that a place like, say Manchester, counts its prison population in calculating median income, its college students as part of calculating median income and also any residents of the juvenile detention system in calculating median income, is that true?

Rep. Vaillancourt: I do not know the answer to that question and I'm not going to pretend that I do. But even if it were true it wouldn't skew median income all that much on a city with 107,000 people.

Rep. Kennedy: Thank you, Madame. My fellow seatmate and honorable rep, you're a very good man with numbers. Some numbers have just hit me and I'm very unhappy and perhaps you can clarify them. I received outside on the desk the thing that said Fiscal Year '05, Actual Senate '06, '07. I looked at it determining how I was going to vote. One of my friends who happens to be a Democrat had another set of figures and I looked at them and they were entirely different. The figures that they had were those of the House passed for 6 and 7, and the Senate passed in 6 and 7. The difference to my towns are remarkable. What I would like to know is why in the name of God can't we have actual figures that explain what's going on so I don't have to, as a good right-wing Republican, reactionary, I have to go talk to a liberal Democrat to find out what the hell is going on. I am disgusted.

Rep. Vaillancourt: Well, there is always the battle of the spreadsheets and you have to be careful what you are looking at. I have several in front of me now. This plan by the way is not simple. As I said on the House floor last year, the simpler you get, the less fair it's going to get, because life is complex. So, this plan is complex and I think the Finance Committee Chair walked you through the complexities very well. But look at Hopkinton, I assume that's the town you're from. The education funding plan according to the plan that we are looking at today, on the Senate side is $1.6 million for '06 and '07. The Governor, Odell-D'Allesandro plan was less than that at $1.4 million, and the House plan I don't have in front of me at least in that spreadsheet. Maybe it's in another one. So, I can't help you with what the House had given for Hopkinton, but we can look at Hopkinton. And again, this is a good example because it would allow us to run through another example to see if my fairness application worked. Hopkinton has about $12,000 more income per average family, however it has about $60,000 less equalized valuation per student then the average family. So, I would guess that Hopkinton is going to right around that state average of $2,278 per student. And I look at Hopkinton with 1,000 students getting, how much? Well, this should be done individually not waste the time of all of us here.

Rep. David Smith: Thank you, Madame Speaker. I have three promises, I'll be brief; I won't bore you with numbers, and I'll take no questions. I am from Nashua and everyone is going to say he is against this bill because Nashua is not getting what it perceives to be its fair share. A colleague of mine earlier made the comment, "Keep your eye on the ball." I think most of us when we ran for the House last fall campaigned on the basis of trying to put the education funding problem behind us. To put together some sort of a plan that was meaningful, that was permanent and that was going to answer solutions. We have three or four speakers all allude to the fact, my friend from Enfield, other people who have commented, that this is still another interim plan. We'll be back here before two years from now planning again. The people of New Hampshire are overburdened by property taxes. This adds more property taxes to them. When you go home tonight and you drive by schools, think of those schools and think of under-funded programs they have. See the temporary classrooms that are outside and realize that school districts don't dare to make commitments because they don't know from one to two years to the next, how much money they are going to be getting from the state. I don't understand the funding formula. I attended a good number of meetings earlier in the year. I asked for definitions, how things were arrived at and I was never satisfied. What we have heard today is a discussion of income or cash distributions plans, they are not plans that deal with education where the student is the primary focus. We've had two plans put before us where the primary thrust was the student. The Lynch plan and the modified Lynch plan in the Senate. Those are not before us unfortunately. But to sit here and talk about numbers, comparing one town to another, who's getting the better deal, who's not getting a good deal is really almost irrelevant unless you're looking at the student who we truly should be thinking about. Thank you. Thank you, Madame Speaker.

Rep. Flockhart: Thank you, Madame Chair. Honorable members. As a teacher for over 36 years, I have learned that children learn best when they're totally involved. When they are involved mentally, physically, socially. What they also learn more importantly is respect. As those involved in their education make them part of their own learning in that process they recognize and respect their needs as children. We as legislators took the charge to revamp educational funding seriously. Hours, and hours, and hours have been spent in committees and briefings. Education funding is New Hampshire's way of saying how seriously we take the future health of this state. It's the absolute best investment we can make. The process by which this amended plan comes before us today saddens me both as an educator and a legislator. My disappointment is more acute because once again children lose in this equation. It is however with great conflict that I will concur to avoid greater damage to New Hampshire's finest resource, its future, its children. Thank you, Madame Chair.

Rep. Phinizy: Well, thank you very much, Madame Speaker. I also thank the hundred or so very resolute people who are still in the chamber and still willing to listen to the discussion regarding school funding and education funding. Six years ago, seven years ago, I came to this House. Six years ago, seven years ago nothing has changed. Six years ago nothing has changed. I look at what we have today and I see that the three towns that I now represent in the Senate plan, one town loses and two towns benefit. I look at six years ago when I represented six towns, two towns lost and four benefited. Back then I made a pledge that I would not vote to throw two towns or one town out of the lifeboat. The state right now is a lifeboat and what we're being asked today is to sit down and take certain towns, generally the rural, agricultural towns, the agrarian towns, the towns with the smallest tax base and throw them out of the lifeboat. What we're doing is we are basically funding education on the backs of property, we are funding education on those individuals who can least afford, by and large, the ability to pay for the education and what we're doing today is continuing to fund an education process that simply goes along and continues to not address the realistic issue. There have been members in the House today who have spoken very clearly and very emphatically about the question of proper and adequate revenue streams and until we face this problem and we face it properly, we will continue for the next six, seven or eight years to do the same thing. So, I would ask you to vote to nonconcur and I would ask you to vote to turn down once again what is truly an inadequate education funding program. I gave an oath to all the towns that I represent to support them equitably and fairly and I will continue to do that and until such time as we face reality and until we such time as we not continue to do the wrong thing and until such time when we finally realize that we have to look at the proper way of funding this, which would be an equitable income stream which would be an income tax and until we realize that we are penalizing those people, particularly in the smaller counties and towns that can least afford this, we are being totally, totally misled. So I recommend that you turn this program down and I thank you very much for time and consideration.

Rep. Bicknell: Thank you, Madame Speaker. We have heard from many, many people and I'm one of the infamous seven, unfortunately I'm not in Congress. Anyway, Madame Speaker, members of the House, I'm not going to go into figures with you 'cause figures and I don't get along. Math was not my strong suit. History was. This, however, to me, House Bill 616 is a no-brainer. You've heard it before from other members on both sides of the aisle that all this will do is put it back into a group of five or six or seven or eight who will then do what 400 couldn't do. I kind of shy away from something like that. We've heard that the Governor, or least I have heard that the Governor, wants to do away with the SWPT (statewide property tax). We have heard that some of my friends on the right side of the aisle want to do away with the SWPT. Some Democrats, or Republicans rather on the other side of the aisle also want to do away with it. I personally want to do away with it. Organizations who are affiliated in one form or another such as the NHHRA want to do away with it. Yet, this bill that we are going to be voting on today retains that SWPT. However, it does go a step further and it does away with the donor towns with the exception of one. This in essence to me, as one other representative pointed out, is half a loaf. And I don't know about the rest of you but if you're real hungry, a half of loaf is a heck of a lot better than no loaf. That's the way I'm looking at this bill and that's the way I'm asking you to look at the bill. It's a start. Next session, next January, next September, whatever, you have heard leadership say they will work on getting the right formula and the right bill forward. And I say this is a start, this is a start to bring us forward to the constitutional Article 6, where the towns have control of their funding in education. I therefore ask each and everyone of you to vote to concur. I will not take any questions for brevity's sake. Thank you, Madame Speaker.

Rep. Tupper: Thank you, Madame Chairman. Members of the House, I rise today and I wish to address you on what, to me, is more than an adequate flaw in this bill. In all the previous educational bills that were presented to this body, what is "adequate education?"

Where is the definition of this? I can not support nor will I vote for concurrence of House Bill 616. So I commit my vote from a passionate belief that the education our state supports is more than mediocre, and that I must know the true definition of "adequate." Therefore, I can not vote for this bill. Thank you and I will take no questions.

Rep. Hess: Thank you, Madame Speaker. My friends, if this House had $472 million with which to forge an adequate education funding bill before we passed it to the Senate, I am personally, absolutely convinced that we would have forged a bill that would have had substantial majorities in both the Finance Committee and the Education Committee and would have gone to receive a substantial majority in this House. But we didn't think we had $472 million and as a result we went through some of the most acrimonious debates we have had this session over a whole afternoon involving upwards of dozen roll calls. The final margin was a mere three votes. The bill that comes to us from the Senate today is not, in my opinion, a perfect bill. Indeed, I would suggest that of the 424 of us who are members of the General Court, 400 here and 24 on the other side of the wall, it's the first choice of only two. The author and the honorable member from Manchester who spoke earlier in this debate. This is probably not the first choice of anyone else. And why is that? Because, ladies and gentlemen, again it's a compromise. It's a compromise. People give up some things in order to get some things, but everybody is giving up something in order to get something. And everybody is somewhat unhappy, but also, somewhat happy. Now, I'm going to urge you, and I do urge you to concur with the Senate message for several reasons. First of all, these formulas are based on real world, on the ground, real time numbers. They deal with actual spending in education by monies raised at the local property tax, the first prong of the formula. They deal with a statewide property tax that does away with all donor towns with the possible exception of one, if that town chooses not to spend more money on its local education system. It deals with factors that we know cost more to provide. Special Education, unlike the most recent iteration of the Odell-D'Allesandro bill which allocated only one percent, only one percent of target aid to Special Education, this bill provides targeting based upon 25% devoted to Special Education. We know that children on free and reduced lunch tend to be underperformers. It's a measure of wealth in the community. It's a surrogate for median household income. This bill ascribes 25% of the targeting to that factor, 25% of the total $472 million. We know English as a Second Language costs more money to educate people. Indeed, you heard the Chairman of Finance tell you, as I was told yesterday as well by the Department of Education, this costs, the estimate on an average across the state is between $1,500 and $1,700 per pupil to bring a student deficient in English up to speed. This bill allocates additional money to that, $1,000. We know, we know it costs additional money to transport our pupils. And, indeed, the Department of Education has figures which indicate in transporting students in grades Kindergarten through 8, the average per pupil expenditure across the state of New Hampshire is $180. Right on target with the figures that are in this bill. This bill is a targeting bill.

Let's review the goals that all of us had in one way or another. We wanted to target more aid to the towns that need more aid. This bill does that. In a sense, it is 100% targeted because the two bookends of equalized valuation that are involved here are really efforts to bring everybody in the town up to the same level so that they can raise $4,122 per pupil from their tax base. We wanted to eliminate donor towns. This bill does that. We wanted to continue property tax relief for our low and moderate income people. Twenty-seven thousand plus of our fellow citizens took advantage of that program last year and collected refunds on the order of $7.5 to 8 million. This bill retains and restores that program which would disappear under the House version. We wanted to target a high percentage of our aid to special education. As I mentioned earlier, this bill does that. A number of us were concerned that targeting based upon student achievement was actually a disincentive to school districts who did a good job educating their children. This bill removes those disincentives. We are targeting based upon empirical, well-established, well-known factors that indeed increase the cost of education and we are providing aid to our property poor towns so that they can raise the same amount of money as anybody else does at the statewide average.

Now, I would like to ask you a question. Would you take, not would you, let's make it an actual one. Did you, a half an hour before the gate opened at the Kentucky Derby, look at the odds sheet, decide that Giacomo was a good bet and take all the money out of your retirement account and put it on a horse that was rated 50 to 1? I don't think anybody in this room did that. Or, let's go back to January 10th of 2000, two days before the NASDAQ hit its high of 5,100 and change. Did anyone here take all of their retirement money out of their well-diversified portfolio and stick it all in high tech stocks? And lose 80%? The alternative to concur is something you should think about. The chances, in my opinion, of you getting a better bill with nonconcurrency and a committee of conference than what this bill is, is around single digits, maybe stretched to 10%. The chances that you're going to get a bill that's worse than this out of committee of conference, my guess, is about 40%, and you know where the other 50% is? We set up a committee of conference and they can't concur and we are stuck with 302 for another year. Is that what you want? I don't think so. We have a time to put this debate to rest at this time. I know it won't be the end. I knew that when we started this process. I'm sure all of you now know that there is no final permanent solution to education funding in the State of New Hampshire. But we have a chance now, we can do it now with 15 days left in the deadline, or we can wait and try to do it with 15 minutes left in the deadline. In 1999, we did it 30 days after the deadline imposed upon us. This bill is not Cinderella. But also, it is not her nasty, mean stepsisters. And it is not her wicked stepmother. But we've got to pass something before our white stallions turn back into mice, and our schools turn back into pumpkins. I urge you to vote to concur with the bi-partisan speakers who have spoken here today. And, Madam Speaker, I request a roll call.

Rep. Phinizy: ...compromise, and I'm gonna play a little bit, I'm looking at your compromise, (is that better?) and I'm gonna play a little bit of the spreadsheet again and I look at Sullivan County. Sullivan County is a rural, agricultural area and it's got good land and it's got good forests, and it's got good trees, and people come up to hunt and fish and we get a lot of good revenue in this state because of that, yet, I'm looking at tax property values, is this a good compromise that 8 of the towns, most of them with probably not as good property values as the two donor towns that are flat in this county, and then the balance which is three or four of the towns which increase which two of those have good property values. Is this a good compromise when you see 8 out of the 10 or 15 towns go down in funding and then you see two of the donor towns, of course, remain flat because that's what we tried to achieve here, and then 2 out of the 4 or five towns that go up in donations or revenue we seek from the state, have excellent property values and burgeoning property values, is this a good compromise? Does this help the taxpayers of the state? And does this help the taxpayers in those very small, rural, agricultural districts and areas that bring in an awful lot of revenue to this state that they never ever see?

Rep. Hess: Representative, I would suggest this is a good compromise because it does devote about 40% of the targeted aid to equalizing the tax burden both at the statewide level and at the local level so that a minimum of $7.19 a 1,000 will pay for $4,122 per pupil. The other 60% of this funding, $250 million in targeting, is based upon the distributions that actually increase educational costs that we know it. So, yes, I think it is a good compromise because it considers a variety of factors.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS

Rep. O'Neil moved that the remarks of Rep. Alger be printed in the Permanent Journal.

Unanimously adopted.

REMARKS

Rep. Alger: Thank you so very much, Mr. Speaker, Honorable members, I am so pleased and delighted. I did want to come up here and thank you so very, very, very much for all the great cards, letters, e-mails, calls that I received in my afflictions and your recommendations for how to solve my problem. But I did notice that the Supreme Court had outlawed medical marijuana. I also want very much to thank you for the rousing welcome of last week, it was most heartwarming. I also want to mention that in the process of understanding the situation, I noticed that in this House there are quite a number of us who have struggled with the same problem, chemo, and all that. Some personally, some friends and I do recognize their guts, their energy coming back as I hope I can do, but I am going to consult with the doctors.

I must also pay tribute to my dedicated, loving wife of over 53 years, my wife, Judy. She has driven me over 3,000 miles in the last three months back and forth to Dartmouth-Hitchcock, taken over many chores that I used to do or had to do, and now, of course, she has discovered I can make my own lunch again, so I'm in trouble — now I've got to try and stay in bed and pretend I'm sick. I will say, I hope that any of you that to engage in this miserable disease can find yourself a loyal friend or spouse as outstanding as my wife who, by the way, I know the Representative from Enfield would say she would make an outstanding vote in this House were she to come here, so watch out.

Finally, I would say and recommend to all of you a simple concept I decided on when I first ran in 1997 and that is, that for $100 a year I am not going to get mad at anybody. So make your friends, enjoy the place and you will have a wonderful set of friends all across this state. So please, thank you very, very much and have fair weather, good health, good luck and enjoy yourselves. Thank you very much again.

HOUSE JOURNAL No. 20

Wednesday, June 29, 2005

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

His Excellency, Governor John H. Lynch joined the Speaker on the rostrum for the day's opening ceremonies.

Prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain, Reverend Dr. Bruce Boria, Pastor of Bethany Church of Greenland.

O Lord our God, how majestic is Your name in all the earth, when we in awesome wonder consider all the worlds Thy hands have made. We see the stars, we hear the rolling thunder and Thy powers displayed throughout the universe. Our souls are tempted to sing, "How Great Thou Art." When we consider man, that You have stamped on him Your divine image and blessed him with the faculty of a mind and heart, a soul and physical strength, we take a pause and again we are tempted to sing, "My God, How Great Thou Art." And when we think, Lord, that You have considered us worthy of the challenges that face us in this life, burdens that You put on our shoulders and then inspire us, Lord, to go out and use our minds, the compassion in our hearts, the meditations of our souls and the strength of our hands to make certain that all the citizens of this state and families that reside here, they feel something of a love, and a concern, a respect, again Lord, we are tempted to step back and just say, "My God, How Great Thou Art."

So I pray today that Your blessing would be on this House of Representatives, that You would give them wisdom and discernment and understanding that they might cause the citizens of this state to live in harmony with one another and with You, and I pray this in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of His Holy Spirit. Amen.

Rep. Barbara C. French led the Pledge of Allegiance.

LATE SESSION

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Reps. Rosen, Paul Smith and Cady addressed the House.

REMARKS

Rep. Mirski requested that the remarks of Rep. Rosen be printed in the Permanent Journal.
Unanimously adopted.

Rep. Rosen: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I will make this very brief. Just some remarks I had hoped to make about four weeks ago, the beginning of June, but scheduling and other things interfered. I just want to remind everybody that June 2nd, June 3rd and 4th — anniversary of the Battle of Midway, the most significant sea battle that the United States has ever been in and some people would argue the most significant sea battle in world history. Now I know there are some of you in this House of Greek ancestry and they will claim that the Battle of Salamis was more important. That's where the Greeks turned back the Persians and protected Europe and the west as a free part of society. Well, more or less free for most of the time since then.

The Battle of Midway was a terrific battle. A few months after the Japs bombed Pearl Harbor, they reassembled a fleet, many aircraft carriers, many other ships and troop transports, and they tried to take the Island of Midway, the westernmost island in the Hawaiian chain. A terrific battle followed, carrier against carrier. The surface ships didn't get involved. But we won. We lost several carriers, the Japanese lost more, but more importantly, they were convinced that the landing on Midway was going to be a failure and they withdrew. That undoubtedly changed the pace of the war, possibly the outcome. So I thought we should remember it. We did remember D-Day here, but let's remember these battles. This is from an age when we won wars. We haven't done that much lately, so let's remember the Battle of Midway and say, "They did a good job." Thank you very much.

REMARKS

Rep. Bettencourt moved that the remarks of Rep. Paul Smith be printed in the Permanent Journal. Adopted.

Rep. Paul Smith: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and honorable members of this body for indulging me the opportunity to speak. This is the last time I will be speaking to you. It is with a very heavy heart that I will be resigning my seat in the New Hampshire House very shortly and entering a new phase of my life.

The past three years have been amazing. I have learned a great deal about the state that I love, about the many people who make it up and a good deal about myself as well. I've learned that the relationships that we make here mean more than the votes we sometimes grapple with. I have learned that you can have friends up here, regardless of ideology and vote counts, and at the end of the day, if you can still look yourself in the mirror after voting on some tough issues, then you've served your constituents.

My friends, this last week the U.S. Supreme Court made a decision that some may not know or care about but we should all be affronted. If I, as a city developer, drive down a street and find that a street where you live might make a wonderful shoe store, through eminent domain laws, you can be forced out. I won't pretend that I am as smart as some on the Supreme Court, but I can tell you, I appear to be a lot saner than some of them. Parties don't matter in this discussion, my friends. This is a question of where we as a country seem to be heading. For my friends on the left, I will remind you of what the first liberal, John Locke, said that we humans are entitled to — life, liberty and property. My friends on the right, I will remind you that those words seem to appear a few times in our platform. Honorable representatives of the people, I must leave these hallowed halls just when times seem to be getting stranger. I ask you and I beg you, please keep fighting for the right thing for the constituents of New Hampshire. Democrats, Republicans, Libertarians, Greens, this is a message for all of you. Remember the principles this republic was founded on and keep them alive. Our country won't survive otherwise and I urge you to look at all other republics in world history as example.

As many of you know, I championed a bill this year requiring civics education to graduate high school. This House unanimously agreed with the bill and unfortunately, people across the hall prevailed and the bill died. The point is that I testified about entrusting our future generations to civically educated youth and I worry that this won't happen. But you sitting in these seats, you are the key to ensuring my future, while someday my children will secure their own children's futures. There are some in here that I philosophically disagree with, but someday maybe somebody like Rep. Phinizzy and I will sit down and he will help me understand things more from his perspective and I'll learn a thing or two from him. I believe that we can all learn something from somebody in this House and that's why we are all here.

I must conclude by thanking just a few people, and again, I thank the House for its indulgence. Mr. Speaker, you've exceeded my expectations and I compliment you on the often very tough job you grapple with daily. Mr. Minority Leader, it was a pleasure serving on committee with you and I wish to thank you and compliment you for not standing up and trying to make me feel guilty about being a Republican or casting a vote one way or another as some of your predecessor's have done. To my mentors, Henry, Sheila, Gene, Dave, Rogers, Mike and Maurice Goulet, and others who know who you are, thank you for teaching me how to be an effective legislator who tried not to speak too much, except on the things that really count, like adding "Live Free or Die" to the state flag. Madame Clerk, I just want to thank you with a big hug as I leave the podium in a few moments. Madame Sergeant-at-Arms, thank you for keeping me and all the other rabble rousers in the room in line. I want to thank the intelligent and friendly voters of Auburn and Londonderry who have twice sought fit to send me to Concord. To my home town of Auburn, I will miss you with all my heart. I hope that my travels will again bring me back to Concord to serve the people of the state I love so much. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for giving me the chance to address this House one last time. God bless you all.

ADJOURNMENT

The House adjourned to the Call of the Chair.

HOUSE JOURNAL No. 21

Wednesday, November 16, 2005

The House assembled at 1:00 p.m. and was called to order by the Speaker.

Prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain, Reverend Karen Maleri, Director of Pastoral Care, Heritage Heights in Concord.

O life-giving Spirit of warmth and comfort, we believe and trust in You. Warm-winged Spirit, brooding over our State of New Hampshire, help us to commit ourselves to work with You. Let the nakedness of St. Clare, the poor one, disarm us and remind us to warm others. May the justice of Sojourner Truth, the free one, lead us with integrity and focus, and may the power of that which is greater than all of us this day enable us to act on behalf of those who live in fear of the dark and the cold. Amen.

Rep. Carl G. Robertson of Exeter led the Pledge of Allegiance.

The National Anthem was sung by Rev. Dr. Regina Shearer, Director of Academic Administration at Rivier College in Nashua.

COMMUNICATIONS

August 1, 2005

Speaker W. Douglas Scamman

Dear Speaker Scamman:

Effective today I am resigning my seat as State Representative of Hillsborough County, District 10, representing Manchester's Ward 3. I am resigning my seat because I have moved from the District. It has been an honor and pleasure to represent the citizens of Ward 3 and be a part of the New Hampshire House. I would like to thank the entire staff at the House for the courtesies they have extended to me through the last two and one-half terms.

I wish you and all members of the House the best of luck as you finish this current term.

William K. Clayton, Hillsborough 10

August 31, 2005

Speaker Scamman:

It is with great regret that I must tender my resignation from this august body, the New Hampshire General Court, effective immediately. Due to a new employment position, I have moved from my legislative district and pursuant to the New Hampshire Constitution must resign my seat from Rockingham District 3.

The past three years have been enlightening, trying and often emotional, and I would not have done anything differently looking back on my short tenure. I have made wonderful friends on both sides of the center and I encourage all members to do the same. There is a combined wealth of knowledge in the legislature and it would serve us all well if it was put to good use.

I want to thank the people of Londonderry for electing me despite not being from there and I especially want to thank my hometown of Auburn for all that it has done for me for so many years. I wish the Representatives in this hall all the best in the upcoming legislative session and implore you to do what you believe to be right, not what someone with a different license plate than yours suggests. Good luck and God bless.

Paul C. Smith, Rockingham 3

September 12, 2005

The Honorable W. Douglas Scamman, Jr.
Speaker of the House
Dear Mr. Speaker:

It is with great regret that I must resign from the House, effective September 16, 2005. I have thoroughly enjoyed the multi-faceted work of being a State Representative, including introducing many legislative initiatives which passed into law in areas such as forestry, education, recreation, environment and professional engineering. In addition, it has been my great pleasure to assist my constituents in resolving issues of state government. Perhaps most of all, I have met many talented people whose friendship and support have meant a great deal to me. It is now apparent that my affliction has reached the point that will prevent me from participating in the work of the House during the next year. I thank you for your understanding and support.

John R. M. Alger, Grafton 6

September 16, 2005

Honorable W. Douglas Scamman
Speaker, NH House of Representatives
Mr. Speaker:

It is with profound regret that I must step down from the seat as Representative to the General Court, Rockingham District 9, effective September 30, 2005.

It has been a distinct pleasure that I have been given the opportunity to represent the constituents of Rockingham District 9, however, due to circumstances over which I have no control, I must relocate outside of the District.

I shall miss the hallowed halls of the House and I will certainly miss some of the most courteous and dedicated members from both sides of the aisle. I am sure that the State will be in able and good hands as I depart. Many thanks to the leadership and may God bless you all.

Robert K. Dodge, Rockingham 9

The Speaker accepted the resignations with regret.

MEMORIAL REMARKS

Rep. Barker: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Members of the House of Representatives and their guests, our colleague and friend, my mentor and fellow representative in Grafton District 6, John Rodgers Meigs Alger, died on the 11th of October 2005. He was born on the 30th of December 1927. He was quite proud of the fact that he was related to Horatio Alger and Zachary Taylor and was a member of The Society of the Cincinnati, a hereditary, military and patriotic organization formed by officers of the American Revolution. John Alger graduated from MIT with a Master of Science degree in electrical engineering in 1950. He married Judith Harben on the 22nd of December 1951. He worked for the General Electric Company as an engineer and executive for 38 years. He retired from GE in 1988 and he and Judy made their permanent home in Rumney, New Hampshire where John's parents had established a summer home in 1931 on the East Rumney Road.

My grandfather, who was a professor at Boston University, established a presence in Campton in 1906 when he formed the New England Fruit Company in West Campton. In the early 1960's, my wife and I purchased property on the Bog Road in Campton. Bog Road was the name of the continuation of the same road where John and Judy lived in the neighboring town of Rumney. I did not know John or Judy until my retirement from the Air Force in 1975 when they and we became supporters of the Quincy Bog Natural Area in Rumney. It was Judy Alger who got me interested in Granite State Taxpayers Organization and we both became directors. It was the Algers who recruited me to run for this legislative body. They believed that I could win election in 2000 even though the opposition was incumbent Gary Johnson and former Representative Sid Lovett. I remember the Algers' enthusiastic prodding even though I remained skeptical. I had name recognition but no political experience. Judy Alger campaigned for me during the first election in 2000. We won one of the two seats.

I once told John Alger that during the Korean War, Air Force officers were taught that the intelligent and the lazy were the best commanders. The intelligent and the ambitious were the best staff officers. The indolent and the ignorant could be used for menial tasks. It was the ignorant and the ambitious that screwed everything up. I don't know whether this was World War II or World War I when this came up. John remarked that he was a staff officer and I retorted, "John, you are the ultimate staff officer." Indeed, he was. I would ask, "John, make me smart in three minutes. I don't want to hear the rest of it." He would accept the challenge and make the attempt. Enthusiasm and intelligence are what I remember most about John Alger. He referred to himself as a political junkie. He knew his stuff. He did his homework and he would have the charts and graphs to prove it. Occasionally, I would nudge him and advise, "John, their eyes are glazing over. It's time to go." John Alger was enthusiastic about the printed page, e-mails and getting the last vote. He was unimpressed with my opinion that no politician should win by more than one vote.

John liked to have meetings with his constituents. I warned him about Campton voters but I agreed to set up one at the old town hall which had become the Historical Society. It was advertised in the newspaper. It was a beautiful Saturday. I received a couple of calls asking if I would mind if the caller didn't show up. I said, "Not a bit." My wife brought food and drinks and we sat around with the president of the Historical Society and ate cookies and cake. We waited for the masses to show up and see John's charts and graphs. No one showed up. I remarked, "John, this was the best political meeting I've ever attended." Then we went home.

John and I became quite close during the past decade. John Alger was a gentleman, a scholar and always an engineer. He had the engineer's approach to life and death. We both had cancer at the same time. I had renal cancer and he had prostate cancer. We both wondered how long we would last. When my PSA went up, he sent me a raft of paper that contained more than I wanted, needed to know about prostate cancer. I commented to him that maybe if the doctors would stop fooling around with my rear end, the PSA might go down. John found a paper that agreed. The doctors did and it did. John Alger was a great guy and a good friend. He was always helpful and tried to maintain his sense of humor in spite of my frequent jibes. God speed, John Alger. Good-bye, John Alger. Mr. Speaker, may I request a moment of silence in memory of our colleague, John Rodgers Meigs Alger.

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE ON HB 354

To the Honorable Members of the General Court:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of New Hampshire, pursuant to Part II, Article 44 of the Constitution of New Hampshire, on July 1, 2005 I vetoed House Bill 354, an act relative to the review, approval, and adoption of agency rules.

The sponsors of this bill have worked hard to improve the administrative rules process, and I commend them for their efforts. However well intentioned, House Bill 354 has the potential to result in serious unintended consequences, delaying the work of state agencies, increasing inefficiency and causing uncertainty for New Hampshire citizens whose lives are affected by agency rules.

The bill would add another layer of legislative oversight to our already cumbersome administrative rulemaking process. It would allow legislative policy committees –in addition to the Joint Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules – to block agency rules. In some cases, rulemaking could be significantly delayed while the respective legislative policy committees decide whether to block a proposed agency rule.

Our constitution contemplates that our three branches of government should work independently but collaboratively in the best interest of our citizens. I am vetoing House Bill 354 because it creates new layers of bureaucracy that I believe will impede the operation of state government.

I look forward to working with the legislature and state agencies to improve the rulemaking process, making it more efficient and responsive to the needs of our citizens.

Respectfully submitted, John H. Lynch, Governor

The question being, notwithstanding the Governor's veto, shall HB 354, relative to the review, approval, and adoption of agency rules, become law?
 Reps. Dalrymple, Whalley and O'Neil spoke in favor and yielded to questions.
 Pursuant to the New Hampshire Constitution, Part II, Article 44, a roll call, requiring a two-thirds approval, was taken.

Rep. Bettencourt requested Unanimous Consent to address the House.

REMARKS

Rep. Bettencourt: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Fellow representatives, unfortunately I rise before you this afternoon on a sad note. This past September, the Town of Salem and the State of New Hampshire lost one of its best and brightest citizens. We lost one of our heroes. Sergeant Pierre A. Raymond, an Army Reservist and a graduate of Salem High School, died on September 15, 2005 from injuries sustained from an insurgents attack near Ramadi, Iraq just three days before his 29th birthday. Sgt. Raymond was a member of the Salem High School Class of 1994 where he was a member of the school's Color Guard and was a founding member of the school's Diverse Unity Club. What Pierre Raymond will best be remembered for was his warm friendship, his tolerance and acceptance of others and his love of service. His teachers recalled that the only times he needed refocusing in class was when he was involved in helping others. His classmates remember him as having one of those personalities that filled a room with kindness and compassion.

But he also had a seriousness about him that greatly impressed those around him. In his yearbook profile he philosophized, "You never have to worry about people not liking you because you are different, because the truth is everyone is different." Sgt. Raymond was indeed different. His tolerance of others and his leadership crossed cliquish boundries and inspired those around him.

In addition to his mother, Santana, and his father, David, Sgt. Raymond leaves behind a sister and two brothers. May we always be eternally grateful for the sacrifice of Pierre Raymond and all New Hampshire heroes who have given the last full measure of devotion to keep us safe and free. May we hold them and their families in our hearts and in our prayers. Freedom is not easy. It comes with a terrible price and we in New Hampshire have seen our share of that sacrifice. Their duty is done, they have paid the ultimate sacrifice and now we can pray they are home. God Bless Sgt. Pierre Raymond and all of New Hampshire's fallen heroes.

Mr. Speaker, I would request a moment of silence.
